Oakland Woman Dies In Friday Vehicle Crash

An Oakland woman died early last Friday afternoon when her vehicle struck a bridge abutment and landed in a small stream.

Patricia A. Blythe, 34, was pronounced dead on arrival at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the 12:15 accident on the Smouse Road. She was transported by the Southern Rescue Squad.

According to Maryland State Police at McHenry, Blythe was driving a 1988 Subaru GL on the Smouse Road near Landons Dam Road. The vehicle ran off the left side and struck the bridge abutment, then continued over the bridge and landed in a small stream, ejecting the driver.

The accident was investigated by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater.

Mrs. Blythe was born in Johnstown, Pa., on May 1, 1955. She was the daughter of James L. and Mildred Wallace Sr.

She was a secretary at Deep Creek Realty, and was a member of St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland.

Besides her parents, she is survived by her husband, David Blythe, two sons, Scott Blythe and Matthew Blythe, both at home; two sisters, Barbara A. Hull, Johnstown, and Carol J. Deater, Pittsburgh, Pa.; and one brother, James L. Blythe Jr., Johnstown.

Friends were received at the Frank Duca Funeral Home, Johnstown, Pa. A service was held Tuesday at Our Mother of Sorrows Catholic Church by the Rev. Mgr. Linford Greinader.

Interment was in Grandview Cemetery, Johnstown.

THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING! No, the Russians are already here, to compete for the first time in the World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships which will get underway this weekend on the Savage River in Garrett County. Upon arriving Tuesday at Frostburg State University, where they will be housed for the next two weeks, each member of the Soviet team was presented a Whitewater World's t-shirt, which they proudly displayed for The Republican photographer, Craig Phillips. All of the Russian athletes will be competing in the slalom events June 23-25 and will be among the spectators at the wildwater races this weekend. Pictured left to right, kneeling, are Svetlana Nazarenko, Radislar Gorodovoi, and Sergei Rublerski. Standing, same order, are Nikolai Korotkov, Sergei Papush, Vladimir Golodnik, Vladimir Bikadoror, Sasha Bondar, Sergei Kuznetsov, and Anatoli Kuzmin.

Glendale Bridge Project Will Become Reality

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners announced this week that the Glendale Bridge project will become a reality.

The commissioners met with Maryland Secretary of Transportation Richard H. Trainor on Friday to discuss the problems with funding for the project, and received a commitment for an interest-free $1 million loan with a 10-year pay back provision. In addition, the project will be taken on by the State Highway Administration.

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II said, "We are very pleased that the secretary was so generous and gracious to help make the project a reality."

According to the commissioners, the bridge will be built on the same piers, with the same alignment. It will have increased height and will also be twice as wide as the current structure. The bridge will be very similar to the Deep Creek Lake Bridge.

Canoe/Kayak Team Trials Held As Forerunner To World's Event

The 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships will take place over the next two weekends on the raging waters of the Savage River near Big Run State Park. As a lead-in to this event, the United States Marathon Canoe/Kayak Team Trials and the ACA/USCA Middle States Division Marathon Canoe Championships were held Saturday and Sunday on the flat water of the Savage River Reservoir.

The United States Marathon Canoe/Kayak Team Trials were held Saturday and competitors paddled a 23 mile course on the calm waters of the Savage River Reservoir for spots on the U.S. Team that will be competing for the World Cup in Porta, Portugal on July 29 and 30.

There are six categories for the marathon: K-2, the two-man kayak event; K-1, the one-man kayak event; C-2, two-man canoe event; C-1, the one-man canoe event; the individual kayak event for women; and the one-man canoe masters event.

Brian Smiley, Boston, Mass., and Mark Karrasch, Wheeling, W.Va., had the best overall time — three hours, seven minutes and 55 seconds — for all competitors. The two-man kayak team will take their place on the U.S. Team. The runner up team for this event was Fletcher Anderson and Charlie Albright of Colorado, with a time of 3:25.11.

Dr. Swen Johnson, Huntington, W.Va., came in second overall and won the one-man kayak event with a time of 3:15.3. Dr. Johnson competed in many races in South Africa before he immigrated to the United States. Chuck Hewett of Ohio came in second in the one-man kayak event with a time of 3:22.16 and Bill Baker, Green Harbor, Mass., came in third at 3:34.03.

Numerous Items Discussed By Education Board

Numerous items were discussed by the Garrett County Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting last Thursday.

A report was made by a task force which was formed to study teacher evaluation, and drafts were presented explaining the evaluation process. The task force recommended more frequent and detailed evaluations.

A report was also presented by a task force studying southern county elementary school districts. Each school's capacity and projected enrollment was listed, and several problems noted in various schools.

The board approved the site of a building near Loch Lynn School for the new four-year-old program. The building will be available August 1. Funding is available from the state department to assist with this program.

The board also discussed the possibility of satelliting food from Southern Middle School to Broad Ford because of the retirement of the cafeteria manager at SMS. With the satelliting program, only one manager would be needed for the two schools.

A discussion was held with the administration at both high schools involving student vehicle usage at the schools. The board discussed potential problems with the program, and also noted each school's policy for allowing students to bring a vehicle to school.

One item on the agenda was the discussion of the school building program. The board presented several questions to the Garrett County Commis-

Garrett County May Re-Apply For HUD Monies

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski, D-MD, announced Thursday that the Senate has given approval to a measure preserving the right of two Maryland counties, Garrett and Howard, to reapply for funds from the Moderate Rehabilitation Program (MRP). The measure was included in the Fiscal Year 1989 Appropriations Supplemental Bill, which passed the Senate Thursday by voice vote.

"This is good news for both these counties. I'm committed to cleaning up the mod rehab program. But, I don't want to penalize good-guy communities, who have not abused the program, from using it to help the poor," said Senator Mikulski, who worked as chair of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Veterans, Housing and Independent Agencies, to make sure the language was included in the Supplemental Bill.

Earlier this year, both Garrett and Howard Counties had applied for funds from the MRP, but lost their opportunity to receive these awards because Department of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Jack Kemp suspended all program awards. The awards were suspended after a HUD Inspector General report discovered wide spread abuses in the program, which occurred under the Reagan Administration.

While neither county was the target of the Inspector General's report, both were affected because all grant awards, for which contracts had not been signed, were denied funding until Kemp could implement reforms in the MRP. Because of the delays that would result from having to implement these reforms, HUD might not have been able to award funds previously appropriated by Congress for the MRP by the end of the current fiscal year. This would have meant that these funds would revert back to the Treasury, rather than be used for their original purpose.

The Mikulski language, however, will permit HUD to continue to use these funds for the MRP after the end of the current fiscal year. This means that Howard and Garrett counties can reapply for funds, should they so choose, and still be guaranteed that HUD will have sufficient funds available to issue MRP grants. Under

County Commissioners Adopt Budget For FY 1990, Lower Property Tax

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners officially approved the Fiscal Year 1990 county budget at a press conference on Tuesday, announcing that the property tax rate will be $2.28 per $100 assessed value. This figure includes a five-cent fire tax, and is a reduction of two cents from the current figure of $2.30, including the fire tax.

The commissioners also announced the rate for special ad valorem taxes in certain sanitary districts. They are as follows:

Mountain Lake-Loch Lynn Sewer Sanitary District, 41 cents; Mountain Lake-Loch Lynn Water Sanitary District, 84 cents; and Kitzmiller Water Sanitary District, $1.

The total operating budget for the county for the upcoming year will be $19,706,950. The current year's budget is $18,481,550. The operating budget contains nine categories. The breakdown, with the current year's allocations listed second, is as follows:

•General Government: $1,247,800 — $1,144,900. This category includes county commissioners, circuit court, orphan's court, state's attorney, jury and witnesses, election board, county treasurer, legal counsel, civil service commission, planning and zoning, general services, special promotion, and area agency on aging.

•Public Safety: $1,113,100 — $1,000,400. This category includes sheriff's department, fire department (forest fires), volunteer fire departments, volunteer rescue squads, county jail, animal control, and emergency management.

•Public Works: $6,900,000 — $6,782,050. Public works includes sanitary commission, solid waste, and all aspects of the Garrett County Roads Department.

•Health and Welfare: $350,000 — $306,800.

•Education: $8,853,500 — $8,200,000.

•Culture and Recreation: $145,250 — $109,400.

•Public Service: $178,800 — $121,000. This category includes the Agricultural Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service.

•Economic Development and Opportunity: $115,000 — $95,000.

•Miscellaneous: $803,500 — $722,000. This category includes repayment of loan, interest on loan, employee retirement, workmen's compensation, employer's social security, employee's hospitalization, unemployment, corporation taxes, and contingency.

In addition to the operating budget, a total of $1,492,800 was added for capital expenditures. This is an increase from this year's figure of $1,403,300.

The addition of capital expenditures brings the total county budget to $21,199,750, as compared to this year's figure of $19,884,850.

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II said, "I'm very happy to say that we have been able to maintain a downward pressure on the tax rate, which has been the practice of this board for the past seven years. We have attempted to have a very ambitious program this year in many ways."

Commissioner Ernest J. Gregg Jr. noted, "In keeping closely with the constant yield rate figure, the one thing the general public does...recognize is that, for all basic purposes, we're operating county government, again, with the same amount of revenue as we've had in the past few years. However, this year, because of some additional expenditures and capital projects, we've had to draw on some of our allocated surplus for special projects.

"As far as the contribution by the general public, the amount of tax dollars is, essentially, the same as it has been for the past several years."

The commissioners pointed out several important portions of the budget, including the Garrett County Roads Department and the Garrett County Board of Education.

Groves said, "We have maintained an equal, if not greater, amount of money for roads maintenance, including an ambitious paving program. We will be doing more bridges than we've ever done before."

April's State Jobless Rate At 15-Year Low

Maryland employers employed an additional 59,005 workers between April 1988 and 1989, reducing the number of jobless workers to an estimated 94,513 persons — the lowest level since 1974, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED).

Maryland's estimated unemployment rate for April, at 3.8 percent, is down from the 4.0 percent recorded in March of this year and is considerably lower than the 4.5 percent reported for April 1988.

In addition, Maryland's rate remains below the national unemployment estimate which dropped from 5.2 to 5.1 percent in April. In March 1989, Maryland had the ninth lowest unemployment estimate nationally, and of the states surrounding Maryland, only Delaware, at 3.7 percent, reported a lower monthly unemployment estimate.

Garrett County's jobless rate in April was 8.6 percent, compared to 9.9 percent in March and 9.5 percent in April of last year.

"Maryland's employment growth is faring well as seasonal conditions help to support the creation of opportunities for job seekers," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of DEED. "However, we must continue to look for ways to develop even more opportunities to accommodate a continually growing labor force."

COUNTRY CURRENT, a seven-piece specialty unit of the United States Navy Band, will present a free "concert on the grass" at Garrett Community College, McHenry, Saturday, June 24, at 8 p.m. Country Current is recognized for its versatility in country and bluegrass music, from western swing to progressive country. The group has performed with Charlie Daniels, the Statler Brothers, and Juice Newton in tours throughout the country, and has also appeared at the White House, Grand Ole Opry, Wheeling Jamboree, and on the nationally-televised Academy of Country Music Awards program. Persons are encouraged to bring lawn chairs and blankets to the concert. The program will be moved into the GCC auditorium in the event of rain.

LIONS, TIGERS, AND BEARS — Well, at least tigers will be among the performers in the Royal Hanneford Circus, to be hosted in Garrett County this weekend by the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Performances are slated for Saturday, June 17, at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, June 18, for 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. Tickets are available at Shaffer Ford, Hometown Market, and Marvin's Men's Wear in Oakland, and Deep Creek Pharmacy in the McHenry Plaza at a price of $4 for children under 12, $7 for adults, and $22 for a family ticket which will admit two adults and three children. Coordinating the circus promotion and local performances are members of the Harige Clown Unit of the Ali Ghan Temple, Cumberland, most of the members of which are Garrett County residents.

Dinner Benefits Lions' Leader Dog Program

A dinner was held recently at the Grantsville fire hall to benefit the Lions Leader Dog Program. The speaker for the evening was Lion Bill Hadden of the Brookville-Timberlake Lions Club from Lynchburg, Va. Hadden spoke about the Lions Leader Dog School in Rochester, Mich.

He was a self-employed investigator for insurance and banking firms in Lynchburg when he suffered a stroke and became blind and partially paralyzed. After three years of rehabilitation he sought admission to the school's leader dog program. The local Lions Club from Lynchburg provided air fare to and from the school, and when he returned after training, he joined the Lions Club. Since then he has been active in various charitable projects dealing with diabetes, drug abuse, medical insurance coverage and youth athletics programs.

Hadden and his leader dog, Major, now visit Lions Clubs all over the country drumming up support for the school. It costs about $8,000 a session to train dog and student, and while many Lions Clubs send financial aid to the school, Hadden said more money is needed to help meet expenses. There is no cost to the blind person — all costs are paid by the Lions. The training for the blind person lasts 28 days and about four months for the dog. During the first four days there are evaluations to match the person with a dog.

"For those first four days you function on your own in an oriented environment without any means of guidance. In other words, you feel your way down the hall, counting doors in order to get to the dining room," said Hadden.

"This is an effort on the part of the trainer to see just who and what your are. Leader Dog School is not a rehab school. You're there to overcome the immobility of blindness," he added.

According to Leader Dog Chairman, Past District Governor Tom Jefts, for one week, he and Hadden traveled to all four districts of Lions 22-W and visited several schools. All 55 Lions and 15 Lioness Clubs in the district donated nearly $18,000 to the Leader Dog Program. The district received the Leader Dog Gold Award because of 100 percent participation by the clubs.

LION DINNER SUPPORTS LEADER DOG PROGRAM — The Grantsville Lions Club recently hosted a dinner at the Grantsville fire hall to benefit the Lions Leader Dog Program. The program provides financial assistance to blind persons, allowing them to attend the Lions Leader Dog School in Rochester, Mich., where they are trained to use a seeing eye dog. The speaker at the dinner was Bill Hadden, Lynchburg, Va., who was blinded by a stroke, participated in the leader dog program, and then became a member of Lions. Pictured left to right are Region I Chairman Gerry Beachy, Zone I Chairman Oscar Van Scheetz Jr., Zone II Chairman Richard Koch, Bill Hadden and Major, District 22-W Bulletin Editor Mike LeMay, Region III Chairman Clayton "Bud" Hall, and District 22-W Leader Dog Chairman Tom Jefts.

Oakland Man Arrested For Vehicle Theft

Michael Robert Reams, 29, Oakland, was arrested Saturday on a bench warrant in connection with the June 2 theft of a $1,200 Harley Davidson motorcycle. Reams was charged by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department with felony theft and malicious destruction of property of another.

Reams' arrest is the result of an investigation by the Garrett County Sheriff's Department into a theft reported by Dwayne Smith, Crellin, earlier this month. The motorcycle was later recovered near the victim's residence.

Deputy Charles P. Nolan served the arrest warrant.

Reams was incarcerated in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Thefts, D.O.P.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is investigating several incidents involving thefts and property destruction that have occurred recently.

Sandra Faye Guard, Friendsville, reported a June 8 breaking and entering and theft, from which her losses totalled $915. The lock on her storage shed was removed, and a green and yellow John Deere tractor and mower valued at $900 were stolen. The missing lock was worth an additional $15.

According to a report from Deputy Jay B. Sowers, the tractor had a four-inch crack at the front of the hood, which was pop-riveted together. Also, the trim on the seat had previously been removed. There are no suspects at this time and the investigation is continuing.

Albert Foley Orsini, Columbia, reported that a breaking and entering and theft occurred at his residence some time between June 8 and 10, costing him $910 in losses and damages. A person or persons pried open a rear bedroom window and removed a 20" color television set valued at $400 and a VCR also worth $400. A $60 blender was damaged in the incident. A wooden door frame sustained $50 in damages, because a locked door leading to the basement was kicked open. According to Deputy Patrick J. Kelly, the investigation is continuing.

Lynn Robert Patton, Baltimore, reported a breaking and entering and theft that occurred at a Paradise Area residence some time between May 29 and June 9. A locked front door was kicked open and a television set and radio were removed. Losses and damages totalled $235. According to Deputy Denver C. Welch, the investigation is continuing.

Larry Glen Crosco, of Larry's Auto Sales, Oakland, reported a theft that occurred early Saturday morning. A person or persons broke a side window of a 1985 Dodge Colt two-door car and stole an AM/FM cassette player. The floor console was also damaged in the incident. The loss incurred from theft and damages totalled $225. Deputy David M. Stoner investigated the incident

A spokesperson for Eastern Builders, Inc., Mountain Lake Park, reported a destruction of property at their Route 135 location. A bolt was removed from an outer gate some time Saturday or Sunday. Deputy David M. Stoner investigated the incident.

Lena Grace Shahan, Deer Park, reported that a window at her residence had been shattered with apparent B.B. gun shots, around 11 p.m. Saturday night. The window has a replacement value of $50. According to Deputy Patrick J. Kelly, the investigation is continuing.

Ellen Mae Zimmerman, Oakland, reported a broken window at her cabin located in Crellin. She incurred a $20 loss from the incident.

Update On Study Given At Yough Board Meeting

An update on the recreational study on the Youghiogheny River and land being conducted by Pennsylvania State University was given to members of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board at the meeting held last Thursday.

Representatives of Pennsylvania State University (PSU) are back in the field collecting data from rafters and kayakers on the Youghiogheny River. Money was supplied to provide for 20 extra days of surveying to be done and eight of the days have been completed. The remaining 12 will be completed in June and July, to obtain an accurate assessment of river use at low water levels and when releases from the dam are only two hours long.

The emergency assessment draft of use of the river is being revised and new data is being incorporated. The new draft will be presented at the August meeting.

The recreational capacity study will be completed by the end of July.

A survey of land owners has been sent out and received by PSU. According to the representative from PSU, 76 landowners within the Youghiogheny Corridor were sent surveys. Of the 76 surveys mailed, 50 were returned to PSU and 44 were usable. Of the 76 mailed, five were not received by landowners due to invalid addresses. Of the landowners who returned the surveys, 17 are full-time Garrett County residents.

A full report will be given on the land-owners' survey at the next meeting.

John Wilson, Department of Natural Resources (DNR), reported that the DNR is in the process of acquiring the land within the Youghiogheny Corridor owned by PENELEC (Pennsylvania Electric Company) as well as the land owned by the Natural Lands Trust located at Sang Run.

The next meeting of the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board will be held in August, with the time and date to be announced.

Local Thefts Under MSP Investigation

Several local thefts are under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at McHenry this week.

Tfc. L. Rosage is investigating a break-in at the Riverside Lounge, Friendsville.

According to reports, someone entered the establishment last Wednesday between 1:15 and 8:30 a.m. Stolen items include beer, whiskey, and cash, for a total value of $416.73.

The Accident Garage reported a theft which occurred on June 5 or 6.

Tpr. S.W. Vincent, who is investigating, reported that someone opened the hood of a 1971 Dodge Roadrunner and removed a 750 Holley four barrel carburator.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney is investigating a break-in at The Winds/Fox's Pizza Den, McHenry, which occurred between 11:30 p.m. June 7 and 8:30 a.m. June 8.

Chaney reported that someone entered the restaurant and removed an undetermined amount of cash.

PRESENTS FLAG — Lori Minnick, a junior at Northern High School, was selected to represent Garrett County in ceremonies conducted by the National Flag Day Foundation on Monday, June 12. Lori joined representatives from each of the other counties in the state and Baltimore City, along with representatives of the Governors from the other 49 states in Annapolis, to celebrate Flag Day USA. Lori was presented a replica of the flag which flew over Fort McHenry at the time of the writing of the Star Spangled Banner which she, in turn, presented to the Garrett County Commissioners. Pictured left to right are Dr. Jerry Ryscavage, Garrett County superintendent of schools; Commissioner Ernie Gregg, Lori, and Commissioners Elwood Groves and John Braskey.

Food Service Report Presented To Education Bd.

The Garrett County Food Service Task Force recently presented their findings and recommendations to the Garrett County Board of Education.

The task force was established in October, 1987, to study the food service program, analyze information, determine whether the program was performing in an appropriate manner, and make recommendations. Three sub-committees were formed to study the program from financial, legal and nutritional aspects.

The task force consisted of 19 members, including teachers, administration, students, parents, and citizens.

Financial

The sub-committee studying the financial aspect of the food service program analyzed numerous portions of the program, including income, food purchases, food satelliting, administration, salaries, and contracted services.

The committee determined that the school breakfast and lunch programs lost money. However, the food service program overall was turning a slight profit because of a-la-carte sales, which include any part of the regular meal, snack foods, and ice cream. Last year's profit was $23,000.

The food service department also accepts and utilizes all commodities which are provided through the United States Department of Agriculture, thus reducing the cost of operation.

Legal

The sub-committee for the legal aspect of the food service department studied federal and state laws and regulations, board of education policies and procedures, and administration.

The conclusion of the committee, according to the report, was that the department "appears to be in full compliance with all federal and state laws and local policy and procedures."

Federal law determines portion control, offer vs. serve, and food groups inclusive in meals. State law mandates the breakfast program in all elementary schools containing Chapter One services, and also mandates free and reduced price lunches for all eligible children.

The board of education establishes policies for use of cafeteria facilities, bidding procedures, and warehouse and driver services.

Nutritional

Under the nutrional aspect of the food service program, the sub-committee studied law, menu selection, offer vs. serve, nutrition, and a-la-carte sales.

Under the National School Lunch Act and Child Nutrition Act of 1966, federal law establishes that all school lunches will consist of five servings from four food groups. All meals must contain protein, grain, vegetable, fruit and milk. However, the law does not specify nutritional value, and the sub-committee was concerned about this issue.

The general consensus of the committee was that the Garrett County Food Service Department was in compliance with federal and state law. However, the report noted that there "was a strong pre-disposition to wanting to change the menu offerings, as well as a-la-carte items, and substitute more healthful items."

The committee's concerns with the nutritional aspect of the school lunches re-directed the focus of the task force's study to concentrate on how students, parents and staff perceived the school food service program. A questionnaire was distributed by random selection to 10 percent of the county's students, staff and parents.

The conclusion resulting from the questionnaire was that the majority of the people want to see some kind of change in the food service. However, the committee commended the food service personnel, because the quality of the service received an overwhelmingly positive response.

The task force recommended to board members that they consider the adoption of the nutritional program designed by the American Cancer Society called "Changing the Course". The program changes the offerings in the school lunches from those high in sugar and fat to those with much lower content. The program would be implemented gradually over the course of one year.

The board will reportedly be discussing the committee's recommendations, and will take action at their July meeting.

Several Injured In Local Mishaps

Local motor vehicle accidents over the last week resulted in several injuries.

Two persons were injured in a single-vehicle accident last Thursday morning on the New Germany Road.

According to Maryland State Police at McHenry, Robert E. Browning, 41, Oakland, was northbound in a 1984 Dodge Aries, while Darrell E. Paugh, 21, Davis, W.Va., was traveling south in a 1984 Ford truck.

Police said Browning was in a right curve when he crossed the center line. Paugh drove off the right side to avoid a collision. However, the vehicles collided with their left sides.

Browning was taken to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by Maryland State Police Medevac helicopter, where a spokesman reported that he was admitted and later discharged.

Tfc. T.J. Farrell investigated the mishap, and noted that Browning was looking for the volume control knob for his radio, which fell off just before the collision. No charges were reported.

Five people were injured in a two-vehicle accident Saturday on Blooming Rose Road, Friendsville.

According to police reports, Robert E. Savage, 47, Friendsville, was traveling east on the Noah Frazee Road when he failed to stop at the intersection of Blooming Rose Road. His vehicle struck a 1988 Oldsmobile Cutlass driven by Valerie J. Frazee, 26, also of Friendsville, which was traveling north on Blooming Rose Road.

Following the collision, the Savage vehicle continued into a field and struck a fence. The vehicle stopped approximately 100 feet from the point of collision.

Savage was taken to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by Medevac helicopter. A spokesman there reported that he was admitted and later discharged.

Frazee and three passengers, Connie L. Sisler, 22; Brian P. Frazee, 7; and Sami Jo Frazee, nine months; were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Northern Rescue Squad, where they were treated and released.

The incident was investigated by Tpr. R.T. Wilson, who charged Savage with failing to yield the right of way and a seat belt violation.

Also responding to the accident was the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department.

On With The Races . . .

After years of planning, preparation, problem solving, and occasional panic, the big event is finally here. The pomp and ceremony actually began nearly two weeks ago with the launching of the Flotilla which is transporting the International Canoe Federation flag across Maryland, from the state's oldest city, St. Mary's, to the youngest area of the state, Western Maryland. However, tonight is when the excitement will really begin to swell, with the arrival of the flag at Frostburg State University and the opening ceremony for the 1989 World Whitewater Championships.

The significance of this event to Garrett County and the entire state cannot be over emphasized. The publicity about the '89 World's has often included the statement "The World is Coming to Garrett County!", a claim that, in a sense, is accurate. Athletes and coaches from over two dozen of the world's greatest nations have come to compete on one of the finest, possibly the finest, whitewater racing rivers in the world — OUR river, the Savage.

It is significant that this is the first time the world championships have ever been held in the United States. It is significant that a team from the Soviet Union will be competing for the first time in this world event. It is significant that the sport will again be an official Olympic event in the 1992 games. Not only does all of this signficance add to the excitement, but it also instills a genuine sense of pride in those of us who call Garrett County home. It emphasizes that we live in a unique, special place on God's earth. The sport itself is one of grace and beauty, which are also appropriate adjectives to describe the Savage River itself and the wilderness that borders it.

It has also been gratifying and another source of pride that so much of the work being done for the event is by Garrett County volunteers. In fact, were it not for so many local volunteers, who have donated literally thousands of hours of time and effort, there would be no championships here; it is just that simple. The state of Maryland, the major sponsors of the championships, and the International Canoe Federation combined could not have made it a reality without the local volunteers.

Hopefully all of us who come in contact with our foreign visitors will treat them with respect, courtesy, and kindness, so that when they return to their native lands they will speak not only about how impressed they were with the Savage River and the competition, but also the warm hospitality extended to them by the local residents.

Now, on with the races!

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

This is a follow-up on my letter published last week regarding the planned siting of a wastewater storage tank in the Glendale Road area.

I want to thank the Garrett County Sanitary Commission for giving me an opportunity to present my ideas at their meeting on June 6, 1989. The commissioners and administrator are commended for their diligence in pursuing the important tasks involved in the Commission's charter.

There aren't many issues of greater importance than preserving the quality of the environment and the effectiveness of sanitary systems is a cornerstone in this effort.

Regardless of the integrity of original systems and equipment, the bacteriological processes involved with wastewater result in the generation of noxious gases including hydrogen sulfide and corrosive acids including sulfuric acid. The gases do escape the system while the acids corrode process and containment equipment, including concrete storage tanks.

It is prudent to locate storage tanks away from populated areas and remote from feeders to the lake. At proper distancing the earth serves as an effective filter medium to cleanse leakage of its harmful effects. Conversely, the leakage of raw wastewater to the lake would reduce the life-giving oxygen level of the water and increase bacteriological contamination levels.

These are indeed changing times for Deep Creek Lake. The actions and decisions made now will impact the area for decades to come.

Respectfully yours
A.D. Thagard

To the Editor:

Over the past months I noticed many letters from Jerome Walter Cox concerning the issue of abortion.

Fact, even if there are thousands of letters written and the Supreme Court elects to reverse its decision on the "Roe vs. Wade" case, abortions will not be eliminated. The only thing that will be eliminated is safe abortions.

Mr. Cox knows only what he reads in pamphlets and books about abortion. Abortions have been around since the beginning of time. The only thing that's going to happen by making abortions illegal is women will again resort to going to back alley butchers, facing unclean conditions, to terminate their unwanted pregnancies.

If Mr. Cox and the people against abortion would take a closer look at society, how can they condemn a women for her choice?

It was said in the Bible "Let ye who is without sin cast the first stone."

We all have our opinions about issues, but why condemn a person (woman) in this case because of a choice that in medical and health cases can be made no other way?

These people, before they criticize, should place themselves in similar instances, with the strikes against them and see what decision they come up with.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Humane Society, Inc., is in great financial need for our spay/neuter program. We owe three veterinarians many dollars. We cannot keep up with all the bills. People call daily asking for help to spay or neuter their animals. We make an effort to spay/neuter all the animals we adopt and that is well over 100. A few people pay their own, but most cannot afford it.

Some people become desperate — do not want their animal killed at the animal shelter and drop them off. What is abandonment — against the law — and many of the animals starve, are shot or suffer other cruelties.

For instance: A neighbor called saying a dog had been dumped off at the garbage dumpsters, but they could not catch it and it looked like it was going to die. I tried to catch the dog, but apparently it had been so abused it was terrified of people.

Sometimes in desperation an animal has to trust someone and this happened in this particular case.

Harold and Nancy Schmidt from the Cove area stopped to deposit garbage and the dog went to Nancy and she brought it to me.

It was no doubt one of the most pitiful sights I have ever seen. There was not a spot on her body that was not covered with oozing mange sores. Her hair was nearly all out and the nights were below zero temperatures.

She was a female greyhound a once beautiful dog, with beautiful eyes and sweet disposition. She probably didn't weigh 20 pounds.

I gave her a large can of Alpo beef dog food, plenty of water, and called Dr. David Rowe, I knew she could not survive, but I asked him to check her first, save her if he could, because the Schmidt's said they would keep her. If she could not be saved, I asked if he would put her to sleep and bill me. He said there would be no bill. Dr. Rowe has been so great to help us.

The Friends and Schmidts spent about two hours with the dog, petting her, talking to her, letting her know someone cared.

I offered to pay the Schmidts for taking her to Dr. Rowe, but they refused. Nancy said she would stay with the dog until she was asleep and then they would take her to their farm and bury her in their pet cemetery.

This is abuse and the reason. No one wants a female dog. Why? Because they have puppies. 90% of the animals dropped off are females, that is why we need help to keep our spay/neuter program going.

Please help us and save your tax dollars. That is what is being used to slaughter the thousands of unwanted animals.

Thank you.

To the Editor:

The American Life League has put out a piece entitled: "Abortion: It's Costing You Money Today, Tomorrow It Could Cost You Your Life!" It reads as follows:

"Abortion is not a social good. It is a social disaster."

Since 1973, more than 25 million preborn babies have been killed by abortion. The birth rate in the U.S. has fallen far below the replacement level. But far from creating a better society, the birth death is wreaking economic havoc.

Social Security:

For the first time in U.S. History, the number of persons aged 65 and older is greater than the number of persons under age 18. Our future work force has been decimated by abortion.

By late 1991 there will be just over 13 million people in the manpower pool of 17-20 year olds, down from 17.5 million in 1980. This will have a devastating effect on Federal tax levels, the deficit, national defense — AND the future of the Social Security system.

Business Week headlined, "Social Security Has Become A Grant Pyramid Scheme," and author Paul Craig Roberts predicted that in 2013 payroll taxes will have to be 24% of income."

Former Social Security Chief Actuary A. Haeworth Robertson calculated that with current birth rates, total payroll taxes will have to grow to 40%.

No wonder the medical profession is actively proposing that health care for the aged be "rationed." No wonder euthanasia advocates are finding receptive audiences for "living wills" under which the elderly dependent can be starved to death.

Abortion has already killed 25 million preborn babies. How many of our elderly will ultimately be sacrificed to balance the budget?

It's time to stop the abortion distortion!

It's time to stop the killing!

Gov. Schaefer Speaks Out

EUROPEAN TRADE MISSION TELLING MARYLAND'S STORY
by Governor William Donald Schaefer

During the next two weeks, I will be travelling through Europe with other Maryland state officials and business leaders on an "economic trade mission." That title sounds a little dry but it is really a very good description of our trip to Belgium, France, The Netherlands, and West Germany. We are literally undertaking a "mission" to sell Maryland businesses, Maryland products, and Maryland's attractions to the Northern European market.

This will be my fourth trip out of the country since becoming governor two and a half years ago. We have made similar trips to Canada, England, the Soviet Union, and the Far East. And we have returned from each trip with the certainty that we have accomplished something, that we have opened new markets for Maryland products and created new jobs for Maryland workers. Moreover, on every trip, I have been overwhelmed by the warmth and hospitality of everyone we meet when they find out we are from Maryland. It seems that everyone the world over has heard about our great state!

This trip is a very high priority for Maryland. The European market is very, very important to us. Taken as a whole, Europe is Maryland's largest trading partner. Imports and exports from Europe accounted for almost $9 billion in trade activity at the Port of Baltimore in 1987. Even more significantly, the goods and services Maryland firms provided to European customers resulted in more than 17,000 jobs last year.

This is a crucial time in trade relations with European countries. On January 1, 1992, the twelve European nations will consolidate their trade policies to create a single market. The European community will eliminate all internal trade barriers and establish a single set of trade regulations. These changes could have far-reaching effects on Maryland firms doing business with European companies. In my experience, there is no substitute for talking with foreign officials directly. We have scheduled a number of meetings with European community business and trade officials to learn as much as possible about how these changes will affect Maryland firms.

We have a number of special — and productive — activities planned for the trip. While in Belgium, our group will attend a seminar exploring new areas for cooperation between Maryland high technology firms and universities and those in the Walloon region of Belgium.

We will also visit Rotterdam, Baltimore's sister city, to meet with Dutch business leaders and tour the city's port facilities and World Trade Center. Ports are high on our list of attractions in Europe. We will spend a day in Bremen, West Germany, visiting their port facilities. The Port of Baltimore has close ties with Bremen and we want to promote more business between the two port cities.

I am especially looking forward to our visit to the Paris Air Show. Although it is not generally recognized as such, Maryland is a leader in the aeronautical industry. Many Maryland-based companies including Westinghouse Electronics Systems Group, Martin Marietta, Conatec, Inc., and Halethrope Extrusions, Inc. will be exhibiting at this prestigious air show, and we will be on hand to learn more about their activities and promote sales of Maryland-made products.

We are taking a little bit of Maryland with us. While we're in Frankfurt, we will sponsor a real Maryland crab feast for German businessmen and women involved in the tourism and air cargo industry. I can't think of a better way to entice visitors to the state of Maryland than to introduce them to steamed Maryland crabs.

I have described only a small sample of our "mission's" plans. Every day is packed with trips and meetings and briefings, and each event is planned with one goal in mind: telling Maryland's story. If past successes are any indication, that's not going to be a hard job.

As always, I want to hear from you. I hope you will write to me: Governor William Donald Schaefer, The State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

ASK THE SENATOR
by U.S. Senator
Barbara A. Mikulski

"Ask the Senator," is a twice-a-month newspaper column in which the people of Maryland ask U.S. Senator Barbara A. Mikulski the questions uppermost on their minds. Questions selected for use in this column come from the more than 4,000 letters received by the Senator's office each week.

DOING YOUR PART TO PRESERVE THE BAY

Dear Senator Mikulski --

I've always been interested in the environment and especially the Chesapeake Bay. Is there a way I can help to clean it up?

You bet there is! The Chesapeake Bay is one of our most valuable and precious resources. And in order to make sure it remains that way, everyone who uses it -- whether for boating, swimming or enjoying the scenery -- must do their part.

Here are some specific, and easy, ways every Marylander can help:

- Save water - this will reduce the volume of water going through sewage treatment plants.*
- Dispose of products carefully - many household products, and car products, can harm the Bay. Never pour toxic materials, motor oil or any questionable fluids down a drain.*
- Care for your lawn - proper care, such as the right fertilizer, amount of watering, or planting trees that prevent erosion, will help a great deal.*
- Eliminate harmful pesticides - to avoid run-off into the Bay, don't use pesticides near water or bare ground, or when rain is forecast. If you can, eliminate them altogether.*
- Control soil erosion & yard run-off - plant trees, shrubs and groundcover around your yard and reduce the amount of hard surfaces around your home to cut down on the rapid run-off of rain water, which can carry contaminants and erode your soil.*
- Maintain your septic system - if it fails, untreated waste can seep into rivers and into the Bay.*
- Contain chemical spills - if oil, pesticides, or other harmful products spill onto your driveway, do not wash down the area -- find a way to absorb it instead.*

If you want to get even further involved, Governor Schaefer has put together a Saving-the-Bay program. For more information about this write to: One Million Marylanders, Office of Governor William Donald Schaefer, State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

GETTING THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Dear Senator Mikulski --

I was watching the Senate floor debate on C-Span the other day, and I was wondering how I can get a copy of a transcript of the debate?

What you need to get is a copy of the Congressional Record, which comes out every day and is a record of all debate and legislative action on the House and Senate floor.

There are two ways to get the Record. The first is to check your local library. If they don't carry it, or if you want your own copy, it can be ordered from the Government Printing Office at the price of one dollar an issue.

To order the Congressional Record write to: Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402. Make sure you specify which date(s) you need. Happy reading!

Wynne's Way

FATHER'S DAY FAUX PAS

I've always considered myself a creative person. I have come up with ways to open a can without a can opener. I have a personal, mental list of about 40 items you can use if you don't have dental floss, and I could write a cookbook about creative ways to serve goat cheese. I, however, have the imagination of a mold spore when it comes to buying my dad a gift.

There are three gift-giving occasions every year my dad qualifies for: Christmas, his birthday, and Father's Day. To further complicate the matter, there are approximately 12 people in his life who love him and buy him gifts on the aforementioned occasions. Let's see, 12 times 3 equals 36. That's about 36 gifts he receives every year. All 12 people, including myself, have run out of decent gift ideas for him, so that calculates to about 36 unusable gifts per year.

Dad has every tool Sears ever made. He has a pair of PJs for every day of the week. He has six pairs of house shoes (all six were received last Christmas). Over the years he has been presented with every fishing rod and lure imaginable. Last year some desperate gift-giver gave him a fishing rod holder that played "Glow Worm" when the line was tugged. The real joke is that Dad doesn't fish.

I never set off in search of a gag gift for my dad. However, most of the items I have bought him on those special occasions have turned out to be just that.

Several years ago after a long, grueling search through about 15 malls for a special gift for dad I resorted to the despicable . . . a fishing item. Actually it was a t-shirt and matching coffee mug that sported the phrase. "I'm a Bass Man." When he opened it he reacted in his usual manner . . . grateful. In fact, he immediately slipped on the t-shirt and filled his new mug with fresh, hot coffee. The coffee was too hot and cracked the mug. When he took a sip the boiling liquid poured down his chin and onto his new shirt.

Dad jumped up, took a cold water cloth to his new shirt and, after a few seconds of rubbing, the "B" in Bass chipped off.

For his 53rd birthday I gave him a wool sweater and scarf set. I swear to this day I did not know he was allergic to wool. He, however, proudly slipped the set on and paraded in front of the family flash cubes. The Norman Rockwell scene lasted for about 10 minutes, then the poor guy started scratching like a mangy dog in August. For once my weirdo cousin Danny's gag gift came in handy. It was a bottle of Calamine lotion.

The worst present I ever gave Dad will stick in my mind forever. That particular year Dad decided to have a pool installed in his back yard. I was thrilled not only about the pool, but about the fact that a whole new world of gift-giving possibilities has opened up for the Father's Day that was just around the corner.

When his big day finally came I presented Dad with my presents — a 10'x4' air mattress with a built-in pillow and a pair of red swim trunks. To be truthful, I was more excited about his gifts than he was. I had finally pulled it off! I had finally picked the perfect gift for Dad.

After all the gifts had been opened he (and about six other people) blew up the air mattress and he rushed into the bedroom to put on his new trunks. The trunks fit, the mattress was inflated and we all headed to the pool.

Looking back, I blame the tragedy that unfolded that day on my weirdo cousin Danny. He was so loud and obnoxious while we were all swimming, no one could hear the air mattress whistling, warning and unsuspecting Dad that a major leak was in progress.

As the mattress grew smaller and flatter, Dad sunk deeper and deeper in a pool of water that had gone from sky blue to shark attack red thanks to the cheap trunks I had given him.

Everyone tells me not to worry about the gift I give him for Father's Day this year. They all say, "Just give him something from your heart." I personally think an artery would be in very poor taste.

THURS., JUNE 15, 1989

To the Editor:

Why did the politicans of Anne Arundel County reject a federal prison at Fort Meade? Why do the political leaders of Cecil County continue to oppose a federal prison at Bainbridge Naval Station? Why did the majority of people of Somerset County oppose the construction of a state prison at Princess Anne? Then why do the political leaders of Allegany County WANT a federal prison constructed in their county? They suggest economic development and JOBS. True, jobs will be created during construction, that is, if a local contractor wins the bid for construction. Local bidders are not guaranteed that will happen. Administrative jobs will be filled by trained employees already in the federal system. Guards, maintenance employees and other jobs will probably be given to employees already in federal employment seeking lateral transfers. Some positions may be filled by local employment agencies. There is absolutely no guarantee that people unemployed in Allegany County will be hired.

Former Delegate Bill Byrnes and I successfully opposed building a state medium security prison in Green Ridge forest when we served together in the Legislature. I continue to oppose the construction of a prison because of the negative socio-economic impact on the western Maryland region. Once built, it will never go away and tourism and prisons don't mix.

State Approves Monies For Local Fire Departments

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced Board of Public Works approval of $46,877 to help improve trucks used by two volunteer fire companies in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works also is comprised of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Lucille Maurer. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approave major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions and other procurement actions.

"Our volunteer fire companies must meet certain equipment standards in order to provide the proper protection to homes and businesses. These companies do a lot of their own fundraising but the state stands ready to offer assistance as it has in these cases in Western Maryland," Governor Schaefer said.

Approved was a loan of $6,000 and a grant of $5,627 for the Midland Volunteer Fire Company in Allegany County, plus a $35,250 loan to the Kitzmiller Volunteer Fire Department. The loan to Midland is to be repaid over three years, and the Kitzmiller unit is to repay its money over 10 years. Each loan is interest free.

Kitzmiller firemen plan to renovate their rusted, seven-year-old tanker. Also, when filled to its 2,200 gallon capacity, it is difficult for the tanker to climb and descend the hilly terrain near the firehouse.

Plans call for reducing the water capacity and adding a pump and new side cabinets. A new truck with this type of equipment would cost more than $100,000.

Comprised of 34 members, the 54-year-old company serves a mountainous area of about 30 square miles with approximately 1,000 residents. The company has two other pumpers.

Approval of the grant and loans was recommended by the Maryland State Firemen's Association using money from the Volunteer Company Emergency Assistance Trust Fund established and funded by the General Assembly. The fund was created in 1982 to provide grants and loans to volunteer rescue and firefighting units unable to acquire essential equipment.

WELLNESS TOGETHER OFFERS HEALTH CHECKS — "To be as healthy as you can be, you need to find diseases early, often before any symptoms exist. Taking care of yourself includes both regular checkups with your doctor and self-exams you can do at home. In many cases, the sooner you find and begin to treat a disease, the better your chances of getting well." This quote from local physician, Dr. Margaret Kaiser, can be found on the current page of the 1989 Wellness Together Calendar which highlights the Women's Health Check. The Wellness Together Program will be selling the popular Women's Health Check during the entire month of June. The goal of the Wellness Together Program in offering both the women's and men's Health Check is to provide the opportunity for local residents to develop a relationship with an area physician and begin a pattern of annual check-ups. In the photo above, Dr. Kaiser examines Leona DeWitt. Women wishing to register for a Health Check may do so by calling Wellness Together at 334-2155.

Mtn. Lake Park Sewerage Rates To Be Increased

New sewer rates were established at the June 8 meeting of the Mountain Lake Park Mayor and Town Council. The Mayor and Town Council voted to accept the ordinance to raise sewer rates from $1.50 to $1.75 per 1,000 gallons of water usage. There will be a minimum charge of $17.50 up to a 10,000 gallons usage.

Mountain Lake Park and Loch Lynn residents will additionally be paying an ad valorem tax imposed by Garrett County. The increase, according to the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, will be from $.41 to $.84 on each $100 of assessable property located within Garrett County Sanitary District No. 1. According to Mayor David Turney, this county tax covers debt retirement on the Trout Run facility and a new water tank and lines.

Also reported at the June 8 meeting were the findings of the Maryland State Accident Fund. This state-run workman's compensation program recently conducted a Risk Assessment Survey Audit and found very few hazards in the Town's work areas. According to Mayor David Turney, the inspector stated that Mountain Lake Park was the safest municipality that he ever inspected.

The 1989-90 fiscal year budget was approved at the June 8 meeting. According to Mayor David Turney, the Mayor and Town Council was able to maintain the property tax rate — there will be no increase. Residents of Mountain Lake Park will still pay $.49 on every $100 of assessed property value.

An annexation hearing also took place last Thursday. The Mayor and Town Council voted to annex the property owned by Winters Development Company and the Board of Education into the town. This includes the property on which Broadford Elementary and Southern Middle School are located. Also included is the property across Harvey Winters Road which is the planned site of a future residential development.

According to Mayor David Turney, the schools will receive some benefit from this situation because Mountain Lake Park's sewage processing fee is less than the county's.

The annexation is scheduled to go into effect July 24.

The Athletes Have Arrived . . . Let The Whitewater Championships Begin!

Facts And Figures On Whitewater Competition

CLASSES OF RACES
K-1 kayak for one man
K-1W kayak for one woman
C-1 canoe for one man
C-2 canoe for two men

Kayak — Competitor sits in the boat and uses a double bladed paddle.

Canoe — Competitor kneels in a decked boat similar to a kayak and uses a single bladed paddle.

In addition to individual classes, team races are conducted and provide exciting spectator entertainment. Three boats of the same class comprise a team. Team races are particularly interesting as the boats are generally within 15 seconds of each other. Timing is calculated by total elapsed time from the start of the first boat to the finish of the last boat.

The Savage races are run according to International Canoe Federation rules. All competitors compete in one of the four classes regardless of age.

Running order for each classification is determined by previous race results. Generally the racers compete near the end of each class.

THE OLYMPIC SPORTS

Canoe/kayak competition made its Olympic debut as a demonstration sport in 1924 during the VIIIth Olympiad in Paris. Only the U.S. and Canada competed that year, but by 1936 the number of nations participating had jumped to 20 and canoe/kayak was added to the Olympic program permanently. Traditionally, flatwater sprint racing has been the only canoeing discipline on the Olympic program. In 1972, however, whitewater slalom was introduced and despite its positive and enthusiastic reception, it has not appeared since. Finally, at its September, 1988 meeting, the International Olympic Committee elected to bring whitewater slalom back and in 1992, Barcelona will host both flatwater sprint and whitewater slalom canoe/kayak racing.

THE EVENTS

Flatwater Sprint

Races are contested on calm water for distances of 500 or 1,000 meters. In World Championship competition, 5,000 to 10,000 meter races are added to the program. Men compete at all distances in single and double canoes, and single, double and four-person kayaks. Women compete in single, double and four-person kayaks at the 500 meter distance. Paddlers line up at the start of a course containing nine lanes nine meters wide and the first paddler to the finish wins.

Whitewater Slalom

Races are contested on natural rivers or man-made courses of whitewater rapids. For a championship race, a series of 25 "gates" is extended over 600 meters and paddlers must maneuver through all of the gates, which can be either upstream or downstream, without touching. Penalties are added to a paddler's time if a gate is missed or touched. The winner is the boat with the fastest time, including penalty seconds, after two runs. Men compete in single and double canoes, and single kayaks. Women compete in single kayaks.

Wildwater

Although wildwater racing is not on the Olympic program, many of the athletes competing in the Olympic discipline got their start through wildwater paddling. The U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team supports the wildwater program because of its potential as a "feeder" system. Wildwater racers also paddle on whitewater rapids, but the object is speed. The boats are started at fixed intervals and the boat with the fastest time wins. Like slalom racing, men paddle single and double canoes and single kayaks while women paddle single kayaks only.

THE ATHLETES

Elite-level canoeists and kayakers embody the characteristics of the well-defined bodybuilder, the powerful weightlifter and the well-conditioned marathon runner. These athletes are intensely competitive and highly skilled. It takes years of training for a paddler to become internationally or even nationally competitive. Though their backgrounds are extremely diverse, canoe/kayak paddlers all share the same grit, motivation and dedication to sport. They are this country's last true amateur athletes and excellent role models for America's youth.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

The U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team (USCKT) is an independent non-profit corporation established to recruit, train and support athletes to compete in the Olympic Games in flatwater sprint and whitewater slalom canoe/kayak. The USCKT is recognized by the American Canoe Association, the national governing body for canoesport, and the United States Olympic Committee as the organization with responsibility and authority to carry out the national governing body functions which relate to the Olympic canoe and kayak disciplines. The USCKT is sponsored by Champion International Corporation, a paper and wood products company headquartered in Stamford, Conn.

MEMBERSHIP BASE

The USCKT serves a membership of approximately 900 athletes and officials who have a direct interest in the Olympic sports of canoe/kayak. According to a canoeing trade organization, more than 17 million Americans canoe or kayak each year at the recreational level. Currently, no single canoeing organization reaches or serves a significant number of these paddlers. The USCKT is in the process of implementing marketing programs aimed at developing this broad group of canoeing enthusiasts as a support base for Olympic level athletes.

COMPETITIVE HISTORY

Flatwater Sprint

1988 marked the beginning of a new era for U.S. flatwater paddlers. An unprecedented double-gold medal performance by kayaker, Greg "Buck" Barton, led the U.S. Team to its best finish ever in a fully-attended Olympic competition. In the last three years, the U.S. Team has improved its international ranking from 13th to fourth. No other U.S. Olympic sports team can claim that kind of progress.

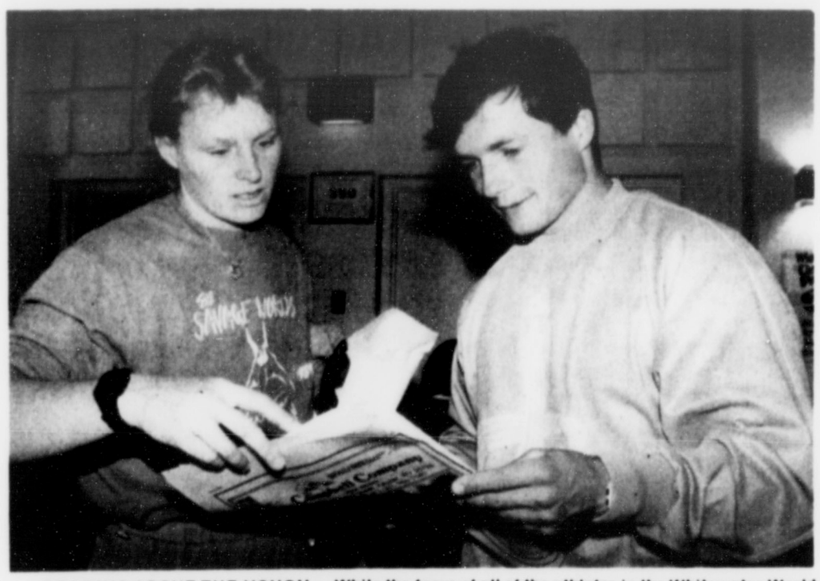
Whitewater Slalom

A bronze-medal performance by Jamie McEwan in 1972 during slalom's first and only appearance in the Olympic Games, marked the beginning of the U.S. Team's rise to the top of the international field. For the last ten years, America's canoe paddlers have dominated World Championship and World Cup competition. More recently, the U.S. has demonstrated medal potential in men's and women's kayak. The 1989 World Championship Team promises to strike precious metal when the World's come to the U.S. for the first time, June 11-25.

THE FUTURE

The USCKT is committed to the development of Olympic canoeing and kayaking in the U.S. and has adopted a long-term strategy of growth that is marketing oriented. The primary goals of the USCKT are: to promote, direct and control amateur flatwater sprint and whitewater slalom at all levels of competition; to develop, train and select the best possible canoe/kayak teams to represent the U.S. in the World Championships and the Olympic and Pan American Games; and to produce educational materials on the sports for coaches, schools and clubs.

For more information on the U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team or the Olympic sports of flatwater sprint and whitewater slalom canoe/kayak racing, contact the U.S. Canoe & Kayak Team, 201 S. Capitol Avenue, Suite 470, Indianapolis, IN, 46225, (317) 237-5690



READING ABOUT THE YOUGH — While the focus of all of the athletes in the Whitewater World Championships is on the Savage River in Garrett County, where the competition will be held, there is also great interest by many of the foreign visitors in Garrett County's other world-class whitewater river, the Youghiogheny. In the photo above, Cathy Hearn, a member of the United States wildwater team, helps Soviet slalom athlete Sergei Rublievski read about the Upper Yough in The Republican Newspaper's special tabloid, Summer Sensations. Svetlana Nazarenko, the only female member of the Russian team, knows some English and was able to read about the Yough for herself. At right, Austria Coach Norbert Podany observes a member of his nation's team, Uschi Profanter, as she does some touch-up work on her wildwater boat. Ms. Profanter was the winner of last year's World Cup in wildwater competition.

WCI Competition Committee Spearheaded By Fetchero, Hough

Mike Fetchero

Dennis Hough

Several years ago the idea of hosting the world championships of whitewater canoeing and kayaking in Western Maryland was nothing more than a pipe dream. This week the dream becomes reality when the 1989 Whitewater Canoe/Kayak World Championships open this evening in Olympic style with ceremonies at Frostburg State University. An athletes parade in Frostburg will proceed the official ceremonies which are set to begin at 7 p.m. in the University stadium. Wildwater competition is set for June 17-18 and slalom for June 23-25 on the Savage River in Garrett County.

Veteran kayakers Mike Fetchero, vice president of the Whitewater Championships, Inc., competition committee, and his assistant, Dennis Hough, have had the awesome responsibility of coordinating the world class races. "We basically run the race," quipped Fetchero when asked what is the main thrust of his committee. He added that he and Hough were among a delegation from the United States that attended the 1987 World Championships in St. Bourg, France, to prepare for this year's event on the Savage River. While in France, the duo took the necessary exams to qualify them to organize the races.

The jobs of the competition committee, with its 340 volunteer members, range from overseeing race details according to International Canoe Federation (ICF) rules to painting more than 85 sets of gates for the slalom course. Fetchero added that, unlike most other volunteer committees working with the world championships event, the members of his group are mainly experienced canoeists or kayakers.

Along with the sources of race-oriented duties, the committee is also responsible for providing safety on the river for racers and others involved in race functions. Fetchero noted that trained safety personnel will be on-site in case of an emergency.

While Fetchero said the most of his committee's work is completed, he added there is still much to do during race weeks, including holding orientation meetings with team leaders.

The committee is also partly responsible for design of the slalom course, a job shared with representatives of the ICF. In addition, the committee has had to recruit nearly every certified judge in the U.S. for the competition, remarked Fetchero.

Hough, who was race chairman for the 1986 U.S. Whitewater Slalom Team trials, shares Fetchero's enthusiasm to see the races get underway. Although organizing a world-class sporting event has meant much time and energy expended, Hough says he adheres to a "never say never" attitude and views the event as not only a challenge, but as a triumph.

Fetchero praised his volunteer committee for their work over the past three years. "This whole thing is about volunteers. Without them it couldn't be done," he said.

An avid kayaker and ICF judge, Fetchero has been involved with whitewater sports for more than 20 years. In addition to racing, he also was guide on the Cheat River, race organizer, and trip leader. A graduate of Towson State University, he now heads up commercial accounts division for a large insurance agency. In his spare time he still enjoy kayaking and playing golf.

Ronald McDonald Visits Schools, Nursing Home

Ronald McDonald, with his friends, the Talking Bookworm and the Talking Dictionary, recently visited Crellin, Route 40, and Red House elementary schools to present "Bookin' With Ron," a special show about the importance of reading.

"Bookin' With Ron" is a national McDonald's program created in partnership with "Instructor" magazine. The 45-minute show is designed for children kindergarten through fifth grade and stresses the importance of reading. "When Ronald McDonald tells a child that reading is important, that child is quite often more excited about reading than if a parent or teacher said the same thing," commented Al Boxley, owner/operator of the McDonald's of Oakland. "And if we reach only one child with that message, then it's worth it."

Ronald McDonald also made a special visit to the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, where he went room-to-room meeting and greeting most of the residents of the home.

The visits to the three schools and the nursing home was sponsored by McDonald's of Oakland. Ronald McDonald will be returning to the Oakland area July 8 when he will be performing a McLots of Fun Show at the store. The performance will be free and open to the public.

Correction Noted

An accident report in last week's issue of The Republican incorrectly stated that John A. Weimer, 29, of Lonaconing, was driving a 1968 International truck when it was involved in an accident. In fact, Weimer was operating a farm tractor. We regret the error.

Railey Finishes Third In Rocky Gap Triathlon

Jim Railey, McHenry, a member of the Garrett Sports League, was the third overall finisher out of 240 participants in the third annual YMCA/Rocky Gap Triathlon held Saturday in Cumberland.

Railey completed the quarter-mile swim, 10-mile bicycle ride, and 2.8-mile run in 48 minutes, 29 seconds. He finished behind Kyle Norris and Dan Besson, of the Baltimore area, who crossed the finish line almost simultaneously with a time of 47:49; however, Besson was declared the winner.

Also representing the Garrett Sports League in the event were: Greg Hough, McHenry, who finished 18th overall and fourth in the 30-35 age class with a time of 52:47; Jeff Gosnell, McHenry, who was 27th overall and fourth in the 25-29 age class with a time of 53:45; Tom Bulhack, McHenry, 31st overall and fifth in the 25-29 class with a time of 54:59; Mike Kozier, Deer Park, 74th, 61:01; Michele Hesen, McHenry, 152nd, 69:03; and Nancy Railey, McHenry, 153rd, 69:03.

Ruth Riemenschneider, Winchester, Va., was the first female finisher, recording a 53:36, while Rebecca Jones, formerly of Cumberland, was second with a time of 53:53. Jones, who won last year's Best of the West Triathlon at Broadford Park near Oakland, has also qualified for the 1989 Ironman Triathlon, to be held in Hawaii this October.

Oakland Splits With Cumberland

Oakland split a doubleheader with Cumberland Sunday afternoon in Pen-Mar League action at Allegany Community College, walloping the host team in the first game, 17-2, but dropping the nightcap, 10-9, when Rick Winebrenner, who was supposed to be intentionally walked in the seventh inning, rapped a pitch into centerfield and scored the winning run.

Ed Wildesen rapped a grand slam for Oakland in the first game and also recorded two other hits, while Darryl Dupert homered and singled, Dean Marsico doubled and singled, and Steve Zumpano singled twice.

Mike Brady and Scott Lohr combined for a six-hitter, with Brady gaining the win.

Cumberland took a 7-0 lead after three innings in the second game, but Oakland came roaring back to assume a 9-8 edge in the top of the seventh. Then with one out, Marshall Wayland scored on a sacrifice fly by Mike Barnhart to tie the game. Dave Yates was on third base when Lohr was instructed to intentionally walk Winebrenner. But Lohr's third pitch came close enought to the plate for Winebrenner to connect, which brough Yates home with the winning run.

Barnhart, who relieved Troy Wagoner in the sixth, was credited with the win.

Wayland paced Cumberland with three hits, while Yates and Bill Malick each finished with two.

Dupert tripled and singled twice for Oakland, Tim McNemar singled twice, and Wildesen added a double.

Oakland will host Keyser in a single game at Garrett Community College this Saturday afternoon and then play a doubleheader at Tri-Towns Sunday.

Garrett Legion Team Captures One Of Three

The Garrett County American Legion baseball team continued its pre-season schedule this past week by playing three games in one day. The local team traveled to to Buckhannon on Saturday and lost the first game, 13-10, to Buckhannon, won the second game, 4-3, over Elkins, and dropped the third contest, 5-4 in eight innings to Elkins. Coach Ed Wildesen's team now has a 4-4 record for the pre-season.

D.G. Largent, who was named Player of the Week for the second straight week, along with Rod Cooper, led the Garrett offense in the first game by scoring three times and recording one hit. Randall Ours added a double and Southern High's Brett Rice also scored three times. Kevin Combs took the loss on the mound.

Cooper paced Garrett's hitting in the second game, rappling a home run and a double and also scoring two runs, while Largent and Ours each recorded a double. Rod Cooper was the winning pitcher and East Preston's Bobby Orr was awarded a save.

In the third contest, Largent recorded a triple, Cooper scored twice, and Ryan Harman added a double. Largent was tagged with the loss on the mound.

Central Garrett, Grantsville Both Drop Two Games

Central Garrett and Grantsville were both whipped twice this past week in Bi-State Pony League action. Central was blanked by Keyser on Saturday, 5-0, and by Westernport on Monday, 14-4, while Grantsville fell to Ellerslie, 10-5, Saturday and to Mt. Savage, 4-3, on Monday. Both teams are 1-3 on the season.

Mike Kesecker led Keyser over Central Garrett on Saturday, firing a one-hitter, striking out 14 batters and walking only three. He also drove in two runs with a base hit in Keyser's three-run second inning.

Chris Younkin was the only Central player to connect off Kesecker, as he rapped an infield single.

In Monday's contest against Westernport, it was another outstanding effort by the opposing pitcher that cost Central the game. Rich Goldsworthy fanned 11 batters and produced two singles, while Brian Kitzmiller and Shane McKenzie each recorded two hits for the winners.

Mike Fike rapped a two-run single for Central.

A grand slam by pitcher Joe Shimko highlighted Ellerslie's win over Grantsville. The local team had jumped out to a 4-2 lead in the first inning behind a two-run blast by Mark Beals, but Ellerslie came back to score six runs in the top of the fourth.

Shimko allowed only one more run after Grantsville's four-run first inning, as he scattered 10 hits and struck out five in going the distance.

Ellerslie recorded four fewer hits than Grantsville, but Shimko's grand slam accounted for most of the gap in the scoring. Larry Kennell had two of Ellerslie's six hits, both singles, while Harrison Foy paced Grantsville's hitting with a double and two singles.

Grantsville held a 3-2 lead going into the bottom of the seventh against Mt. Savage on Monday, but the host team scored a pair in that frame to win its third game in four starts.

Mike Whitehead hit a double and a single for the winners, while teammates Jack Spencer and Glenn Deffenbaugh each recorded two singles.

Jon Houser and Resly Tressler each singled and doubled for Grantsville.

Pat Burke Doesn't Allow Major Disability To Stop His Fishing

by Sandra Cusack

He was visiting Garrett County from southeastern Minnesota. He spends quite a bit of time fishing at Chesapeake Bay and heard about Garrett County, Johnny's Bait House, and Deep Creek Lake from a friend at the Bay. He decided to come to the mountains and test the waters.

So far, he had caught a walleye and a pickerel from one morning of fishing, which isn't too bad when one considers his methods.

His name is Pat Burke and he is from Blooming Prairie, Minn. He's a quadroplegic, meaning that he can't move his arms or his legs and is confined to a wheelchair. Seventeen years ago, he was involved in an accident while constructing bridges for a railroad. The accident severed the spinal cord in his neck.

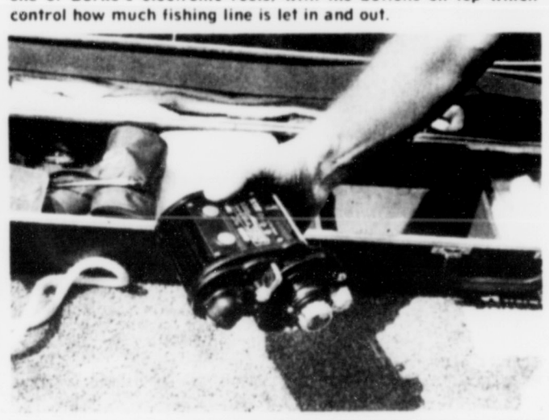
"I was determined that I would fish again. It took me a couple of years to get lined up to go fishing again," said Burke, but he has obviously succeeded.

Burke was the guest of Johnny Marple, owner of Johnny's Bait House, and Chuck McRobie. Burke would be taken out to a medium-sized boat called a pontoon. A pontoon is long and flat, and has large open spaces, perfect for a wheelchair.

"Someone casts the line out for me, then the line just drags along the bottom of the lake," Burke explained his method of fishing. His reel of fishing line is electronic and is controlled by buttons that let fishing line in and out. He controls the line by means of a long stick which he holds in his mouth and uses to press the buttons on the reel.

Then whenever he catches a fish, a friend helps by having a net ready to bring the fish into the boat.

"I WAS DETERMINED THAT I WOULD FISH AGAIN," said Pat Burke after the accident that left him paralyzed from the neck down. Burke said that there is an outfitter in California which provides handicapped equipment, but he adapts equipment to fit his particular needs. Above, Burke demonstrates the special stick he uses to control the electronic reel by pushing the buttons which let the fishing line in and out. The fishing rod and reel are set into a holder that Burke designed. Below, a close-up view of one of Burke's electronic reels, with the buttons on top which control how much fishing line is let in and out.



"THEY'RE REALLY A GREAT BUNCH OF PEOPLE and are usually real helpful," said Pat Burke of his fishing friends. Burke is from Blooming Prairie, Minnesota, and heard about Deep Creek Lake from a friend, who also told him about Johnny Marple, owner of Johnny's Bait House. Marple, along with Chuck McRobie, set Burke up for his recent fishing trip at the lake. Pictured above, left to right, are, Johnny Marple, Pat Burke and Jim Keeler, a friend from Minnesota.

"I designed my rod holder myself, but sometimes I have to hunt around to find reels. I can adapt equipment to fit my needs, but you can also get handicapped equipment," Burke explained. "There is an outfitter in California which provides equipment for handicapped, but it is hard to find what you want sometimes."

The largest fish Burke ever caught was a 46 pound king salmon. He caught the king salmon in Alaska when he was there four years ago. He has visited Alaska three times, along with regular trips to Lake Michigan, Lake Superior, the Chesapeake Bay and now he will probably add Deep Creek Lake to his list.

Burke lives on a farm with his son, Noah, in the southeastern part of Minnesota, where mainly cash crops, such as soybeans, wheat and corn, are grown.

He is the president of Trout Unlimited, a national non-profit conservation group. The group concentrates on research into acid rain and improving stream and river water. His group has been responsible for helping to get handicapped access to streams and lakes in the Minnesota region.

Burke has many friends who are always willing to help whenever he wants to go on a fishing trip. James Keeler, a nearby neighbor, came with Burke on this trip.

"There is usually somebody around to help. Fishermen are usually real helpful; they are a great bunch of people. I called Jim at the last minute to come with me. Another guy was going to come, but he fell and hurt his back and couldn't make it. Jim was really great to help at the last minute," Burke said.

State Turkey Harvest Down, Garrett's Same

The overall turkey kill for the state of Maryland during the spring season (April and May) was down slightly, primarily because of several weeks of almost steady rain. However the kill for Garrett County was identical to the 1988 total of 271, according to the Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

There were 956 birds harvested in the state, compared to 1,020 last year, and Garrett County's 271 was highest among all the counties. There were 259 birds killed in Allegany County, just one more than last year, and Washington County reported a harvest of 206, compared to 242 last spring. Frederick County hunters bagged 112 birds, down from 133 last year.

The 1990 season will be April 18-May 16, the DNR has reported.

"WHAT DO YOU THINK?"

John Smith Of GCC Drafted By White Sox

Another Garrett Community College athlete has been granted an opportunity for a major league baseball career, according to GCC baseball coach, Lawrence Nesselrodt.

John Smith, former three-sport standout at Valley High School, Lonaconing, was drafted by the Chicago White Sox in the sixth round of the 1989 major league draft and, on Friday morning, was signed to a bonus contract by the White Sox. He left Sunday morning for Sarasota, Fla., where the White Sox spring training and rookie league club is located.

The 6-2, 180-pound right-hander was followed by a number of major league scouts this past season, including White Sox scout Alex Cosmidis, who said Smith possesses all the qualities to make it in the majors.

Cosmidis saw Smith throw 13 innings, strike out 21, walk five, and allow only five hits in games against the Community College of Baltimore and Prince George's CC.

"John has good size and showed me a good, quick arm," Cosmidis said. "The two days I saw him he consistently had the velocity on his fastball from 84 to 86 miles per hour, and he flashed a few between 87 and 90. He also throws a very good hard slider, has good mound composure, has very good fielding ability, plus has one of the best pickoff moves to first base that I've ever seen."

Smith started 11 games for the Lakers this past season and went the distance seven times. He pitched 63 innings, allowed only 48 hits and 16 earned runs for a team-low 1.79 ERA. He walked 30 and struck out a GCC-record 79, which placed him 14th among the nation's junior college pitchers.

He also recorded a .388 batting average with 31 hits in 80 at-bats. He struck out only six times, his on-base percentage was .440, and he had 22 RBIs.

He was named GCC's MVP, was named to the Maryland JUCO All-Star team, and was a second team All Region XX as a designated hitter.

Smith is the second GCC Laker to be drafted in two years, as shortstop Benny Shreve was picked up by the Chicago Cubs last year.

Nesselrodt called Smith's signing a "big plus" for the program at Garrett and said it was "a good feeling" to see a local player have an opportunity to "fulfill a dream we all have."

sioners last week concerning this program and the future of renovation, and are awaiting a reply.

Superintendent of Garrett County Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage noted that he has written a series of letters to senators and congresspersons concerning amendments to the Carl D. Perkins Vocational Education Act which would provide for an additional $100,000,000 for renovation to vocational education facilties in those counties with more than 20 percent Chapter I children.

Ryscavage noted that the legislation has moved from the House to the Senate. He said, "It's a long shot, but well worth the effort." He noted that action will probably not be taken at least until next fall.

Ryscavage said, "I'm interested in meeting with the architect to look at the project and see whether there is some way out of this dilemma that we face." He also stated that he is interested in meeting with the IAC to discuss the possibility of completing the Southern renovation project on "some kind of phased-in basis".

Ryscavage noted that he received a letter from numerous staff members at SHS requesting that the board not compromise the project by accepting a lesser amount of money for renovation.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank Frank Lewis, Dr. Porcaro, his surgical team, the third floor nursing staff, and my family and friends for making my stay in Garrett County Memorial Hospital a little easier.

The state and counties are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars to promote tourism, i.e. Rocky Gap golf course and conference center ($11,000,000), Whitewater Races which will continue as an on-going sport long after the World Championships this year, completion of Rt. 48, upgrading Frostburg State to University status, the construction of a tourism informational center and geological study center atop Sideling Hill ($2,500,000) and other promotional schemes.

Little opposition has been expressed to this prison publicly except MAUDE in the Sunday Times, but I do believe that under the surface lies strong opposition. There is a public meeting at Allegany Community College on June 21 at 7 p.m. to present information to the general public. So, come on residents of Allegany County, join ITTSU (IT'S TIME TO STAND UP) and express your feelings, either for or against, at this meeting. Even though I am a resident of Garrett County, I strongly feel this is one economic development project the region doesn't need.

Sincerely,
DeCorsey Bolden
Former Delegate

To the Editor:

MENTAL HEALTH — whose program is it? The "state" (the Governor, Edwards, Bambacus)? says it is the county's, the "county" (commissioners) say it is the state's. Complicated? NO. The state gives the county the money to operate the Mental Health Services but the County Commissioners have direct supervision of the Health Officer and the programs. A way to dodge responsibility? YES, unless we as citizens become aware and informed.

The County Commissioners have stated "we were not aware." How can they be unaware if Dr. Fiscus is one of their Department Heads? The Mental Health Advis ory Committee said they were uninformed. How can they be uninformed if they file an annual report to the County Commissioners and the state on the progress of the Mental Health programs?

Dr. Fiscus said there would be no more personnel changes after the reassignment of Dr. Pope, Scott Ward, and Jean James. Since then, the following people have resigned, retired, or transferred: Laurie Bulka, Brenda Nishan, Mike Kildow, Mary Shrout, Teresa Kitzmiller, Penny Kostka, Dr. Cathy Yura, and Dr. Glen Kashurba. In addition, the following people have been "laid off;" Dr. David Srebalus, Dr. Charles Thatcher, Dr. Rosemary Srebalus, Dr. Michael Yura, Dr. Roy Tunick, and Dr. Robert Marinelli. Seventeen resignations, reassignments, retirements, and lay-offs out of approximately 23 staff, and there are no changes?

Dr. Fiscus said that there would be no changes in services. The 24-hour crisis on-call system to the hospital and citizens was terminated with no notice. The psychological evaluation services to the courts, the local elementary, middle, and high schools, the local county attorneys, the members of the Appalachian Center and Crossroads, and the Department of Social Services, are being discontinued. Services to adults will be dramatically reduced and services to children (while the child experts are being laid off) will be increased. Again, services will not be changed?

School principals, attorneys, judges, professionals, and citizens must become involved! Are we uninformed or have we been misinformed?

Cooperative Extension Service for better living in Garrett County

Extension Agent, Home Economics

NUTRITIONAL ANALYSIS OF YOUR DIET BY COMPUTER

During recent nutrition, diet and disease programs, and Homemakers' Leader training on "Vitamins in Your Diet," most agreed that it is very difficult to know how adequate daily food intake is concerning adequate nutrition.

A periodic menu-entry approach is extremely helpful in evaluating the completeness of specific diets.

Extension Home Economics has a new computer USDA Dietary Analysis Program that provides a quick and easy-to-use nutritional analysis of a reported diet. The program checks for 28 nutrients and food components using up to three days of reported food intakes. The standard output produced by the Dietary Analysis Program consists of a complete list of foods and quantities reported. Bar graphs show the percentage of the user's RDA (Recommended Dietary Allowance 1980) for 15 nutrients. It also shows the percent of calories coming from protein, carbohydrate, fat, saturated fatty acids and alcohol. The printout also reports data for single nutrients and components of interest to the user.

The data base includes approximately 850 commonly used foods. Infant formulas and infant foods are not included.

After filling out the personal food intake form and mailing or bringing it to the Cooperative Extension office, the participant will receive a computer printout detailing: the consumed food items, their nutritional value and comparison with established RDA. Suggestions on how to make healthier food choices and lists of major food sources of the nutrients analyzed in the diet. There will also be packets of informational Extension material and commercial brochures containing recipes.

To receive a menu entry form and for more information, please contact Irmgard R. Koscielniak at the Garrett County Extension Office, 202 S. Third Street, Oakland, Md. 21550 or call (301) 334-1990.

Medical Insurance Options After Job Termination

Most of us rely on group health insurance to ease the problem of increasing medical costs. We may complain that the premium for group family coverage continues to increase while coverage declines, but we pay the bill knowing that group health coverage is the least expensive way to buy health insurance. But what alternatives do we have if we lose our job?

First, check out the possibility of being covered on a spouse's group health insurance. See if and when your spouse could add you to coverage through his/her employer. Many places have limited "open enrollment" periods.

Second, see about converting your group health to an individual policy. Some kind of conversion is usually available. You may be able to keep current coverage, but you can expect to pay the full costs (under group plans, employers pay all or some of the costs). In some cases the coverage on a converted plan will be less. Pay close attention to what will be covered.

Third, comparison shop for the best deal in individual coverage. Individual health insurance is very expensive. Generally, it is wiser to choose a large deductible so as to lower premium costs. It is better to have coverage against very serious medical events and to self-insure against routine medical expenses.

Many group policies offer continued coverage for a limited time period following job termination. For example, you may be covered for an additional 30 days after your last working day. If you are fortunate to secure a job within 30 days, you could have continuous group coverage. The main thing is to know your options and comparison shop.

The above advice also applies to anyone self-employed and in need of medical insurance. Most individual policies are available for self-employed individuals and are sometimes less expensive for self-employed persons than for an individual policy.

For more specific information and comparison charts, please contact our office at 202 South Third Street, Oakland or phone (301) 334-1990.

Oil Recycling Program To Begin In County

A new program is being implemented in Garrett County to improve a collection program for disposal of used motor oil. The program is being implemented by the Garrett County Commissioners in cooperation with the Maryland Environmental Service (M.E.S.).

The program is intended to increase citizens' awareness that used oil is a pollutant and should be disposed of properly, not just poured into sewage systems or into the ground.

Terry Spear has been designated as the County Coordinator for the program by the Commissioners.

Some areas of Garrett County have inadequate collection facilities. Spear will be responsible for establishing a greater number of collection facilities and for providing the public with information on where, why and how to dispose of used oil properly.

M.E.S. operates a toll free number — (800) 492-9188 — to provide information about where and how to properly dispose of used oil. M.E.S. also provides information on state and federal laws governing used oil and information regarding oil recycling companies which pick up quantities of used oil.

Municipalities in Garrett County are encouraged to participate in the program by establishing a collection site. Most of the required equipment, including pick-up service, is funded by M.E.S.

The General Assembly of Maryland adopted legislation to encourage recycling of used oil and prohibit its improper disposal within the state. Improper disposal of used oil can pollute the water, land and air. Used oil should by collected and recycled to conserve a valuable petroleum resource and improve the quality of the environment.

For further information on disposal of used motor oil, contact Terry Spear of the Garrett County Roads Department at (301) 334-3988.

Five Complete GCC Secretarial Internship Course

A secretarial internship program has just been completed by five women in the Secretarial Science curriculum at Garrett Community College, according to Tammy Manthos, coordinator of the program.

Each student worked a minimum of 106 hours in a local business office under the supervision of a professional secretary. During this time the women performed a variety of tasks such as typing, filing, answering the phone, and doing bulk mailing and computer input. Students earn college credit for this work experience.

Students who completed the secretarial internship this year are: Karen Broadwater, who worked with Darlene Tressler in the college admissions office, and received an associate in arts degree in Secretarial Science — medical option; Ethel Fazenbaker, who worked with Kathy Gallagher at the Wisp Resort, and received a secretarial certificate; Deborah Fraley, who worked with Sharon Tasker at Whitewater Championships, Inc.; Lisa McIntee, who worked with Susan Stem, executive secretary at the college; and Julie Warnick, who worked with Karen Niner, legal secretary at Burnett, Eiswert, and Janes, P.A., and received an associate of arts degree in Secretarial Science — legal option.

According to Ms. Manthos, the internship program provided a valuable opportunity for a student to integrate her academic background with professional work experience and to apply skills learned in the classroom while she becomes familiar with how a particular office operates. Anyone interested in hiring a student intern should call Ms. Manthos at 387-6666.

Earn Rotary Scholarships To GCC

Jeannette Wilson

Tracy Shank

Recipents of the two Oakland Rotary Club scholarships given each year to students planning to attend Garrett Community College have recently been announced by Cissy VanSickle, college financial aid officer. Winners of the 1989 scholarships are Jeannette L. Wilson and Tracy Shank, both of Oakland.

Jeannette, the daughter of Mae L. Michaels and John E. Wilson Sr., is a pre-law student at Garrett Community College with plans to become a FBI agent or an undercover narcotics officer. She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and has written poetry for the college arts publication Seedfruit.

Tracy, the daughter of Robert L. Shank, is a 1989 graduate of Southern High School. She plans to enter the Wildlife Management program at Garrett for two years and then transfer to Frostburg State University to pursue a degree in wildlife management.

The Rotary scholarships are given each year to two residents of Garrett County whose selection is based on their academic, attendance, and activity records, as well as financial need.

Earn Diplomas At A-B College

Lori Ann Sisler, Friendsville, and Michael Paul Whitmer, Oakland, were among the 125 graduates of Alderson-Broaddus College who received their degrees in the college's May 14 commencement.

Miss Sisler, daughter of Glavis Sisler, earned a bachelor's degree in nursing, while Whitmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitmer Jr., received a bachelor's degree in biology/zoology.

The speaker for the commencement was Joe Gluck, Morgantown, W.Va., former vice president of West Virginia University and now a student counselor.

Alderson-Broaddus College is located in Philippi, W.Va.

Jobless Rate

Over the month, Maryland's labor force declined slightly by only 21 persons. However, this month's labor force count exceeds the total for the same period last year by 42,503 persons while 16,502 fewer persons are reported on the unemployment rolls.

In Garrett County there were actually fewer persons employed in April than in March (11,652 compared to 11,672); however, the workforce in April was more than 200 lower in April than in March (12,747 compared to 12,951). Of the total workforce, 1,279 persons were unemployed in March and 1,095 were jobless in April.

The increase in the number of people finding work in April coincided with an increase in jobs created in the state, particularly in the nonmanufacturing industries. As springtime expansions occurred, new jobs were found in retail trade establishments such as eating and drinking places. Job opportunities were also evident in construction, trucking and warehousing and real estate, and in amusement, agricultural and hotel services. These gains countered job losses in manufacturing specifically resulting from strike activity at Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Declining unemployment estimates for the state's four regions further illustrate springtime expansions and seasonal hiring activity within Maryland.

In the Baltimore metropolitan area, the estimated unemployment rate fell to 4.2 percent in April, down from March's 4.4 percent.

The estimated unemployment rate in the Maryland suburbs of the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area edged down from 2.8 percent in March to 2.7 percent in April. Prince George's County was the only local jurisdiction in that region to record a higher estimated rate which rose slightly from 3.1 to 3.2 percent despite an employment gain of nearly 400 persons from March to April.

In Western Maryland, the rate of unemployment was estimated at 6.9 percent, down from 7.1 percent reported for March. Of that region's three counties, only Washington County's unemployment rate worsened, rising from 5.5 percent to 5.8 percent. This climb was due to temporary layoffs in the manufacturing industry.

In the Balance of State, seasonal influences favorably affected most jurisdictions, causing the regional unemployment rate to drop from 5.9 percent in March to 5.4 percent in April. However, weather conditions delayed activity in the seafood industry causing Somerset County's already double-digit unemployment rate to climb further by 1.5 percentage point from 12.6 to 14.1 percent.

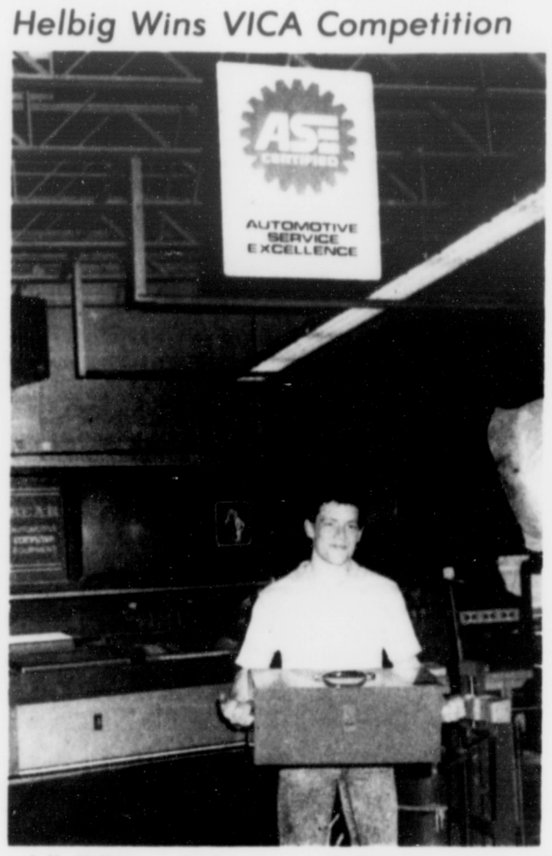
Helbig Wins VICA Competition



Jeff Helbig, a junior at Southern High School, recently traveled to Baltimore with Southern's Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) and won first place, with the prize of a new tool box, in Auto Mechanics Competition in the 16th Annual Maryland VICA Skill Olympics. He will compete in the VICA National Skill Olympics to be held in Tulsa, Oklahoma, later this summer.

Helbig competed against auto mechanics students from high schools and vocational technical centers in Maryland. The students were tested in ten different skill areas, including: alternator testing and repair; air-conditioning system and repair; diagnosing a GM port fuel injection problem and demonstrating familiarity with a fuel injector balance tester; accessing an automobile's onboard computer's memory to retrieve and interpret stored trouble codes; disassembling disc and drum brake assemblies and recording drum diameter, rotor thickness, runout, parallelism and friction material thickness; diagnosing a no-start condition on a fuel injected, computerized automobile; demonstrating skill with precision measuring instruments such as micrometers, calipers, dial indicators, bore gauges and digital multimeters; performing a battery load test and a starter current draw test with the use of specialized automotive electrical test equipment; and a 25 question written test using the same format and covering the same eight areas that the National Institute of Automotive Excellence uses to certify auto mechanics nationwide.

Helbig was very proud when one of the judges, who was a representative of one of the many local automobile dealerships who helped sponsor this part of the VICA Skill Olympics, offered him an employment application from his dealership.

Helbig is the son of Butch and Carolyn Helbig, Deer Park.

Adopt Budget

Under education, the commissioners funded the boards request nearly in total, with a cut of approximately $130,000. They noted that there were "a couple unjustifiable projects that we could not support."

Commissioner John G. Braskey noted that those projects included the "alternative education" concept and the allocation of money for Garrett County students who wish to attend schools outside the county. He said, "We didn't specifically cut that. The board of education has agreed to take a look at that and study that situation."

The commissioners noted that another area of importance was the capital section, which includes several major projects for the county. These projects include the renovation of the Glendale Bridge on Deep Creek Lake, roads and bridge projects, a new landfill facility, and the expansion of the Garrett County Airport.

Dr. Martin To Speak At Heart Assoc. Dinner

Dr. Lisa W. Martin, assistant professor of medicine at the University of Maryland Hospital, Baltimore, will speak at the 42nd Annual Volunteer Awards Dinner of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division on Monday, June 19, 6:00 p.m. at the Holiday Inn of Cumberland.

A recipient of an American Heart Association 1988 research grant, Dr. Martin hopes to develop a new means of determining the degree of blockage in coronary arteries and the amount of blood flow that is able to reach the heart muscle – the myocardium.

A graduate of Radcliffe College of Harvard University, Dr. Martin received her M.D. degree from the College of Medicine, University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., with honors in research. She served her internship and residency at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and a fellowship in cardiology at George Washington University Medical Center, Washington, D.C.

Founded in 1924, the American Heart Association is a community-based organization of 2.4 million volunteers fighting heart disease nationwide. These volunteers helped to raise more than $63 million which was spent on heart and blood vessel disease research in 1987-88 – providing the largest source of funds for heart research outside the federal government. There were 8.8 million Americans who participated in the American Heart Association's interactive professional and public education programs in 1987-88.

"We wish to honor the outstanding job our local volunteers do for the American Heart Association," said John F. McCormick Jr., outgoing division chairman of the American Heart Association-Western Maryland Division.

The volunteer awards dinner is open to the public and reservations can be made by calling the local American Heart Association Office at (301) 724-4011.

Girl Scouts Attend Workshop Series In Columbus, Ohio

Six members of Girl Scout Troop No. 5052, Accident, recently spent a weekend at the Center of Science and Industry (COSI) in Columbus, Ohio.

Over 700 Girl Scouts gathered at COSI for two days of scientific workshops, which involved active participation from troop members. Pat Williamson, co-leader of the troop, accompanied the Accident scouts on their trip, which was sponsored by the Southwestern Pennsylvania Girl Scout Council.

According to Williamson, the Girl Scouts from Troop No. 5052 were enthusiastic about the experience and eager to return next year. Some of the workshops in which they participated included physics demonstrations on light waves and observations of marine life. They received souvenirs of their stay, including a hermit crab, complete with aquarium, food, sand and water. The girls also each returned with a pair of special glasses constructed for a light experiment.

Pat Williamson is co-leading the troop with Doris Cooper, who was unable to make the trip.

PLAQUE OF APPRECIATION — A plaque of appreciation was presented to Joseph A. Peck, above right, for 30 years of devoted service as treasurer of the Crellin Assembly of God by Pastor A. Ray Beahm recently.

Grantsville BPW Meets, Has Report On Convention

The May dinner meeting of the Grantsville Area BPW was held May 15 at the Grantsville Holiday Inn.

Joan Sussman introduced the four scholarship winners: Linda Buckel, Wilma Friend, Kay Perry, and Donna Shafer. Each gave a brief description of herself and her educational goals.

Guest speaker, Mary Strauss, presented information on the significance of the Drane House, Accident, as an historical site and updated the club on the progress of its renovation. A donation will be sent from the club to support this project.

The club also voted to parcipate in Governor Schaefer's "Adopt-A-Highway" program. This will entail the club members patrolling a one- to three-mile stretch of highway, keeping it free of litter.

The 59th Annual Convention of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., was held May 26-28 at Greenbelt. Representing Grantsville BPW were: President Amy Harman, Delegates Lottie Brenneman, Linda Buckel, Ruth DiPaolo, and Sharon Lowery. SINCERE THANKS

Perhaps you prayed or sent food,
Perhaps you sent a lovely card, or sat quietly in a chair,
Perhaps you sent a floral piece, if so we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words, as any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all, just thought of us that day.
Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much whatever the part.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

Treat Dad To A Special Dinner

Make note to prepare a special Dad's Day dinner Sunday, June 18. No other Father's Day gift will be as welcome as this homemade meal featuring an unusual recipe for pork tenderloin fillets.

Slices of pork tenderloin are pounded flat, then marinated in a unique coffee marinade flavored with Worcestershire sauce and garlic for robust flavor. The marinated fillets are browned in butter and simmered until tender. Serve Father's Day Pork Tenderloin topped with a velvety smooth gravy made with the coffee-flavored meat drippings and dairy sour cream.

Sliced carrots and green pepper strips, boiled briefly, buttered and seasoned, make a flavorful vegetable combination with a colorful garnish for the meat serving platter.

Dad's Favorite Salad, an attractive combination of torn lettuce and spinach, sliced raw mushrooms and red onion rings, is tossed with a full-flavored Blue cheese and yogurt dressing.

Spicy Peach Shortcake completes the Dad's Day Menu. The shortcake is baked in a single round layer, then split, filled and topped with an almond-flavored custard. Garnish with peach slices and serve with glasses of cold milk, the perfect way to complete this special Father's Day gift from your kitchen.

FATHER'S DAY PORK TENDERLOIN

2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon instant coffee
1 large clove garlic, crushed
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
2 pork tenderloins (approximately 2 pounds)
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup dairy sour cream
1 tablespoon flour
For marinade:

Combine water, Worcestershire sauce, coffee, garlic, salt and pepper in a shallow dish. Cut tenderloins into 8 portions about 2 inches thick; flatted into patties. Dip both sides in marinade to coat. Place in dish. Cover and refrigerate for several hours or overnight, turning occasionally. Melt butter in a large skillet; brown patties. Cover and simmer 20-25 minutes or until tender. Place patties on serving platter; keep warm while preparing gravy. Combine sour cream and flour, stir into drippings in pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 1 additional minute. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

BUTTERED CARROTS AND GREEN PEPPER STRIPS

½ pound carrots, peeled and sliced into thin coins (approximately 1½ cups)
1 green pepper, cut in julienne strips (approximately ¾ cup)
2 tablespoons butter
2 teaspoons grated Parmesan cheese

Cook carrots in 1 inch boiling salted water in covered 2-quart saucepan for 8 to 10 minutes or until tender. Add green pepper during last 2 minutes of cooking. Drain, toss with butter and cheese. Yield: 4 servings.

DAD'S FAVORITE SALAD

Dressing:
1 carton (8 ounces) plain yogurt
⅓ cup crumbled Blue cheese
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon basil leaves, crushed
Salad:
3 cups lettuce, torn
1 cup spinach, torn
½ cup sliced fresh mushrooms
½ cup red onion rings
For dressing:

Combine ingredients in a small bowl. Refrigerate, covered, 1 to 1½ hours to allow flavors to blend. For salad, place ingredients in a bowl, cover and refrigerate. To serve, pour dressing over greens and toss. Yield: 4 servings.

SPICY PEACH SHORTCAKE

Shortcake:
1¾ cups all-purpose flour
⅓ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 cup milk
Custard:
⅔ cup sugar
¼ cup all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 eggs, beaten
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon almond extract
4 cups (5-6 medium) sliced fresh peaches, sweetened, or 3 packages (10 ounces each) frozen sliced peaches, thawed and drained
For shortcake:

Preheat oven to 450°F. Combine flour, brown sugar, baking powder, cinnamon, salt, nutmeg and allspice in a large bowl. Cut in butter until mixture resembles small peas. Stir in milk just until blended. Turn into a 9-inch buttered round cake pan. Bake 20 to 25 minutes. Cool in pan or wire rack 5 minutes. Turn onto rack and cool completely.

For custard:

Combine sugar, flour and salt in a 2-quart heavy saucepan. Blend in milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil and stir 1 minute, stir a small amount of hot mixture into eggs. Return all to saucepan. Cook over low heat 1 minute. Stir in butter. Cool slightly. Stir in vanilla and almond extracts, cover and cool.

To serve:

Split shortcake in half horizontally. Place bottom half on serving plate, spread about 1½ cups custard on bottom half. Cover with top half of cake, top with remaining custard. Arrange some peaches on top. Spoon remaining peaches over each serving. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

A Father's Love

A father's love is one of life's greatest joys. Though a son or daughter grows up all too quickly, there are wonderful memories of many good times spent together.

Fathers deserve a national day of honor. Look how much they do for their families. They leave home early each morning and come back late, often tired. Their toil in the work places of the world provides shelter, food, clothes, education and a great deal of happiness.

Above all, a real father gives of himself to those he loves through his understanding, kindness, guidance and encouragement. Find strength in the love of our Heavenly Father.

YOU SHOULD CHOOSE ONE PHARMACY

Because today's medicines are so much more potent and so much more specific, it has become very important that a family choose one pharmacy to fill all their drug needs for both prescription and non-prescription drugs. A family should "shop" for a pharmacy they feel comfortable with in much the same manner they "shop" for a physician or dentist.

We hope you will choose our pharmacy for your family. We are dedicated to your better health and concentrate our efforts toward achieving this goal.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

A CHARGE TO KEEP

June 18, 1989

Background Scripture: Joshua 18:1-10, 21:43 through 22:6
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:1-5, 9-11

Of course I've read this passage before. But I must confess that somehow in the past I have consistently failed to appreciate its significance. Actually, it is one of the supreme moments in the life of Israel—at least the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh—for it is the one time in this people's history when, it would seem, they have been completely faithful to God's commands.

Joshua speaks to these people rare words of praise: "You have kept all that Moses the servant of the Lord commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I have commanded you; you have not forsaken your brethren these many days, down to this day, but have been careful to keep the charge of the Lord your God" (Joshua 22:2,3).

A PERSONAL CHARGE

"Careful to keep the charge of the Lord your God"! Can you think of a higher commendation than that for a person, a group, a nation, or a world? What more might you want said of you than that? Can you think of a higher accolade for a church?

Unfortunately, we become so involved in the daily living of life, particularly in meeting its short-range demands, that we tend to forget that each of us has a charge to keep in God's sight. We know God has expectations of other people—Mother Theresa, Albert Schweitzer, Thomas Merton et. al—but we need to be constantly reminded that God also has expectations for each of us.

Some people will retort: "Well, I'm not aware of any charge God has given me!" Probably lots of us feel that way and our lives show it, too. If we are unaware, however, it is not because God hasn't made known his expectations to us, but that we have not paid attention to them. If we want to know what we are charged to keep for God, we can.

ENOUGH SAID

Mother Theresa probably knows precisely what God wants of her in the years just ahead. (I'm assuming that; I don't really know.) In contrast, at this moment I'm not really sure just what it is that God wants of me in the next few years. There seems to be several possibilities. Perhaps you're pretty much in the same situation. But that doesn't mean that we don't have a charge from God. Even in the general terms with which Joshua spoke to the three tribes, there is enough specification of what God wants of me—and you—: "...to love the Lord your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave to him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul" (Joshua 22:5).

Of course, all of us would like things spelled out a bit more than that. I could quibble over just how to "love" God, what "ways" of his in which I need to walk, and specifically which "commandments" upon which to concentrate. Still, if we never get another communication from God than the charge of which Joshua speaks, it is enough to give us a charge that will claim our deepest inspiration, our staunchest faith, our greatest efforts and highest accomplishments.

Norm Crosby has unusual role in new Showtime series

By John Haakenson

He's the possessor of one of those faces you can't forget. If you're older, you probably saw him on The Ed Sullivan Show; if you're younger, you might have seen him hawking beer on TV commercials.

We're talking about Norm Crosby, the Boston-born comedian who, despite never having starred in a network series, nor in motion pictures, has remained one of the most recognizable personalities in show business.

"I have built up a wonderful relationship with audiences in general," Crosby said in a recent interview. In the 1960s, he was frequently on the Sullivan show, and played Dean Martin's "barber" on the singer's variety series. Later, he specialized in guest shots on series like The Love Boat, The Gong Show and Hollywood Squares.

"There wasn't a week that went by that I wasn't on somebody's show," he said.

In 1978, Crosby was given a shot at his own series, the syndicated program The Comedy Shop. Crosby hosted the show, which was a showcase for standup comics. It lasted until 1980. Since then, he's kept busy working nightclubs, cohosting Jerry Lewis' Labor Day telethon, and appearing at charity events. In July, he'll star in the new Showtime series, The Boys.

In The Boys, Crosby costars with Norman Fell, Jackie Gayle and Lionel Stander as members of the Excalibur Club, a private New York City men's club which has seen better days. Unlike the other cast members, Crosby plays himself.

"It's kind of different (playing himself), because the producers don't know what to do with me. It is supposed to be a men's theatrical club, so they wanted someone who is actively involved in a club like that," said Crosby, a longtime Friar's Club member.

But if Crosby fans are expecting a healthy dose of the comedian's famed malapropisms, they'll be disappointed. "The writers kind of felt that if I was sitting in a club with my friends, I wouldn't do that," he said, adding, "I find that I'm getting a lot of straight lines. I'm really not doing the heavy comedy. I don't mind that, although it's not something I'm used to after all these years."

Although he's worked with most of the legends of TV, Crosby is quick to acknowledge what has kept his name familiar to the public: commercials.

"If you're on a commercial, you're on every channel at every hour of the day. It gives you tremendous identification, much more so than on a regular show. I've been able to sustain that recognition factor."

Handymen not always helpful

By Donna Gooch

They may have been called a "handyman," but the following characters weren't always helpful or handy. When called upon to fix a leaky pipe or broken appliance, they would most likely never get around to it or bungle their way through the job. Most toiled in apartment buildings or hotels, but some made their TV living as farm hands. Match the jacks-of-all-trades (but masters of none) and their series.

Blair began her career in the theater, performing with the Stratford Shakespeare Festival and in Joseph Papp productions in New York. Her television credits include the miniseries Hands of a Stranger, Captains and Kings, Wheels, Eleanor and Franklin, Kennedy and the TV movie And I Alone Survived. Her feature films are Altered States, Continental Divide, A Flash of Green and Stealing Home. She is currently starring in The Days and Nights of Molly Dodd on the Lifetime channel. A: A first name is not listed for Pat Buttram's character, Mr. Haney, nor is there a wife mentioned. As for Ralph and Alf, the sister-and-brother carpenter team, you have their first names right but their last name was Monroe.

That film began a decade-long relationship with Roger Corman, with whom Nicholson made 20 low-budget pictures. He became an "overnight" star in 1969 when he won an Oscar nomination for his role in Easy Rider. He was married to Sandra Knight for four years, they had a daughter, Jenny, born in 1964. He also has a son by Susan Anspach. His films are too numerous to list here but they include: The Passenger, The Shining, The Postman Always Rings Twice, Little Shop of Horrors, Reds, The Trip, The King of Marvin Gardens and Drive, He Said.

ON LOCATION

HBO looking for laughs with new basic service

By Steve McGaw

HBO has announced plans for a new, 24-hour all-comedy channel, cleverly called The Comedy Channel. At the recent National Cable Television Association convention in Dallas, I saw, heard and read promotions concerning the new channel (which will be a part of basic cable programming—yea!), and it looks good. What's not as good are HBO president Michael Fuchs' recent comments to The New York Times in which he ventured (in an apparent swipe at MTV) the opinion that The Comedy Channel will succeed, in part, because "Comedy is the rock and roll of the '90s." Well, I like to laugh, Mr. Fuchs, and I'm sure that The Comedy Channel will be executed with the flair and polish that marks all of HBO's projects, but rock and roll is the rock and roll of the '90s. Sure, there's mindless, derivative music out there, but that's nothing new, or peculiar to the late '80s; there are also bands and artists making thoughtful, stimulating music as a soundtrack for these days as well. Anyway, I'm really looking forward to the debut of The Comedy Channel, but I still want my MTV!

Gene Hackman and Amy Madigan (so terrific in Field of Dreams) will star in the action/suspense film Narrow Margin. Peter Hyams (The Presidio) will direct this film about an attorney (Hackman) assigned to escort (and protect) a murder witness on a train trip...

Albert Pyun will direct the planned big screen version of Captain America.

CABLE

Keith Carradine plays Reed, a mysterious stranger, and Karen Allen stars as Mara, his unscrupulous lover in Backfire, Sunday, June 18, on Showtime.

CABLE HOPPING

Cable provides oasis in drought of programs

By Stoney Black

With the May sweeps long over for network television, cable provides the only oasis for quality viewing. This week's pick of classic movies is no exception.

Cary Grant and Constance Bennett are ghosts, but that hardly stops their free-wheeling, fun-loving lifestyle in Norman Z. McLeod's classic, Topper, airing Wednesday, June 21, on Lifetime.

With their friend Cosmo (Roland Young) by their side, the ghosts embark on one wild adventure after another, all geared toward enlivening stuffy Cosmo's droll existence. It's madcap comedy for which movie-makers from Hollywood's Golden Age became famous. Grant, who was quickly establishing a reputation as a consummate comedian, would star with Katharine Hepburn the year after Topper's release in what is considered the greatest comedy of that era, Bringing Up Baby.

Five years after her Oscar-winning success in The Wizard of Oz, Judy Garland would capture the heart of director Vincente Minnelli while the two collaborated on the classic slice-of-life musical Meet Me in St. Louis, offered by TNT on Thursday, June 22.

Set amid the hullabaloo of the World's Fair of 1903, the story examines the strong bonds of an American family at the turn-of-the-century and showcases Garland's voice on many memorable songs.

Frequent Flyer

Newswoman Connie Chung was one of the journalists who contributed anecdotes to the writers of Murphy Brown, in which Candice Bergen stars as a television magazine anchor. One of her tales was incorporated into the script. Chung mentioned that, while jet-lagged, she sat down in a movie theater and tried to fasten her seat belt—a story that provided lines for actress Robin Strasser, who played Murphy's Russian counterpart.

Rain or Shine

On the 17th hole during a very rainy Masters Golf Tournament in April, CBS Sportscaster Verne Lundquist had to make some major adjustments. Lundquist's only protection from the elements was an umbrella. "The problem wasn't getting wet—and I was soaked," Lundquist recalls, "but the water dripping off the umbrella eventually soaked my papers and I was unable to read any of the notes I'd written about the golfers." By the next day the technical crew had erected a tarp to keep the announcer dry throughout the day.

HOROSCOPE

June 18 through June 24

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Your life will calm down soon. It seems every time you make a little headway, you are knocked down again. Don't fret; things will come into focus soon.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Health matters should be one of your main priorities this week. Take time out to give a little of yourself to charity. You may have luck by sticking with the number six.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Take advantage of a great day and have the time of your life. You are always so loyal to your employer, so it is about time to think of yourself and play hooky.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
It is time for you to look for new job opportunities. A friend could lead you on an interesting journey. Keep an open mind and enjoy yourself.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Your attitude needs some serious adjusting if you want to make any headway at work. Make sure family members understand your intentions toward certain opportunities.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
You should be very careful around automobiles this week. Even a car door could be your worst enemy. You may have luck by sticking with the number nine.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Domestic problems will calm down soon. Try to find a way to relieve the stress caused by your work place. Wearing red could increase your chances for a promotion.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
Don't take sides in a conflict that does not directly involve you. Although it is not really your nature, tell others to back off and leave you alone.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
Someone close to you needs your undivided attention. Friends and family will rally around you in the face of adversity.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
The warm weather will make you a little melancholy this week. Family members need a little special attention. Worrying about finances will not make them go away.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Things at work could get pretty tough over the next few weeks. Take time out to do nice things for yourself. Starting a new exercise program could help you handle stress.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
This is a very powerful time for you. Use it wisely. Don't trust anyone at work with deep dark secrets. Pack your bags for the weekend and take a spontaneous trip.

AT A GLANCE

This is the 24th consecutive year that ABC Sports will broadcast the U.S. Open Golf Championship. Eighteen-hole coverage of the last two rounds will be presented live for 4 1/2 hours on Sunday afternoon from the Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y. And to really keep the men of the house home, NBC will telecast live, from ringside at Caesars Tahoe in South Lake Tahoe, Nev., the scheduled bout between champion Tony "The Tiger" Lopez and Tyrone "The Harlem Butcher" Jackson. CBS, not to be outdone, telecasts live coverage of the Detroit Grand Prix, followed by Game Six (if necesary) of the NBA Championships. Who ever said there wasn't anything to watch during the summer months?

Timothy Busfield, who stars as Elliot in thirtysomething, in real life helps children develop their imaginations through a theater he founded.

Children's theater stole Timothy Busfield's heart

By Linda Sparkman

Up until a few years ago, Timothy Busfield gave little thought to becoming an actor. The native of East Lansing, Mich., didn't even decide to attend college until after his 21st birthday.

"After high school, I bounced around a lot," he said. He ended up joining his brother in Tennessee, where he attended East Tennessee State, playing baseball and intending to advance his goal to become a coach.

One dislocated shoulder later, Busfield enrolled in the University's drama department. "I got a part in Robin Goodfellow and did a lot of children's theater," he said. During school breaks he toured Appalachia with friends, putting on theater for children.

Currently seen as Elliot in ABC's highly acclaimed thirtysomething, Busfield has amassed quite a list of credits in the last few years. thirtysomething is Busfield's second series, having played J.T. McIntyre Jr., Trapper's young intern son, on Trapper John, M.D. His guest-starring roles include the series AfterMASH, Family Ties and Paper Chase. He played Arnold Poindexter, the red-headed hypochondriac in the feature films Revenge of the Nerds and Nerds in Paradise.

Ever since his touring days, Busfield had dreamed of having his own children's theater. Recently he saw that dream realized when he founded the Fantasy Theatre, a non-profit company based in Sacramento which tours Northern California schools. He estimates that 150,000 schoolchildren saw and participated in the company's 360 performances in its first year.

Fantasy Theatre is an Equity company, but children become actively involved in the productions through writing plays and through teaching guides Busfield distributes throughout the school system.

"There's no greater thrill," he said, "than seeing a kid believe you're behind a tree when there is no tree or that you're being chased by a wolf when there is no wolf."

C&P To Deliver New Directories Beginning Friday

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland announced it will begin delivering new telephone directories to its subscribers in Garrett County June 16. The delivery period will run through June 20.

The Garrett County Directory includes listings for Accident, Bittinger, Deep Creek Lake, Friendsville, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Oakland and Terra Alta, as well as nearby Bayard, Blaine, Elk Garden, Gormania and Mt. Storm in West Virginia, as well as Garrett County Yellow Pages listings.

According to C&P Manager/External Affairs Nancy Nemith, the outside back cover of the new directory carries a map which defines the area served by the directory.

The directory is one of the first in Maryland to feature a message from Governor William Donald Schaefer about the "One Million Marylanders" campaign to clean up the Chesapeake Bay. A list of 10 ways each Marylander can help clean up the Bay is also included in the Consumer Information Pages of the directory.

The front cover of the 1989 directory is called a "slice of life," and depicts the beauty and diversity of the state through four distinct photographs. Starting from the left, the first picture is the Hooper Strait Lighthouse at the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum in St. Michael's. The second picture was taken at Swallow Falls State Park in Western Maryland. The third picture is of the Maryland Federalist, the flagship of Maryland's celebration of the U.S. Constitution's bicentennial. The last picture is a scene of a typically-crowded beach at Ocean City. The cover photos will appear on all C&P combined (White and Yellow Pages) telephone directories in Maryland during 1988-89.

The Garrett County Directory will be supplemented by an Error Correction List for any incorrect listings which are reported to C&P. Customers have until July 20 to contact C&P's Business Office to report an incorrect or incomplete listing in either the White or Yellow Pages. A list of corrected names and numbers will be printed and sent to all area customers.

The concert is a fund-raiser sponsored by the Mt. Top Crisis Pregnancy Center of Mt. Lake Park.

Champion Tree Survey To End In Two Weeks

Contenders are being sought in the countdown for big tree champions in Maryland. The Department of Natural Resources' Forest, Park and Wildlife Service is winding up a six-month survey as it seeks the largest trees representing each of the more than 140 species of trees in the state. The survey will be complete June 30.

Surveying began in January and citizens have responded with the crucial measurements of height, trunk circumference and crown size. With the end of June, foresters will compare date, verify measurements and ultimately publish a booklet describing the champions. Reigning champion for white oak is the state tree, the Wye Oak. This regal specimen on the Eastern Shore stands at 108 feet in height, has a 32-foot, 2-inch trunk and a 160-foot crown. The Wye is not only the champion white oak of Maryland, but also of the United States; it is more than 400 years old.

"Champion trees are our sentinels; the preservation of them is important not only to history but to the continued health of the environment," Dr. Brown said. "Trees, among their many roles, shelter, shade, house, warm and provide us with tools for daily living. With the recognition of tree champions, we recognize the distinguished role of representative species in Maryland.

"Be on the lookout for possible champions," he continued. "Report your data to the local forestry office. Consult the blue pages of your telephone directory for the telephone number of the local forestry office."

Researcher At WVU To Explore How Coal Burns

Nearly $200,000 from the Department of Energy (DOE) will fund research by Boyd Edwards, a WVU assistant professor of physics, who is working on mathematical descriptions of the processes involved in burning coal.

Dr. Edwards' investigation was one of 32 selected from among 284 proposals submitted for DOE's University Coal Research Program.

The DOE grant is part of a $5.7 million effort to improve America's capability to use coal resources cleanly and efficiently, said Sen. Robert Byrd, who recently made the announcement.

The WVU project was begun with two years of "seed money" from the Energy and Water Research Center (EWRC). The center and the WVU Office of Academic Affairs and Research will provide $64,000 in further matching funds during the next three years, according to officials there.

Using an equation to look at the physical changes that small coal particles undergo at high temperatures, Edwards and his group of scientists hope to apply their understanding to experimental conditions.

"The equation, which my group and I derived, has fascinating mathematical properties," he said. "It's a precursor to work we'll be doing applying it to more complicated systems.

"As coal particles burn, their pores widen and the particles assume a lacy structure that finally breaks. One 40- to 100-micron particle can undergo about 100 fragmentation events before it is finished burning," he added.

The EWRC has been helping Edwards because, at least in part, "he is an enthusiastic spokesperson for his project," said Caulton Irwin, EWRC associate director.

"He's using a super computer," Dr. Irwin said, "and I had his proposals reviewed by the very best people in the country. We came up with good reviews, and that's a very strong sign of support."

Edwards, who came to WVU in 1986 from post-doctoral work at Sandia National Laboratories in Livermore, Calif., said he is doing "paper and pencil calculations" for much of his mathematical work and also is using the computer at the Pittsburgh Supercomputing Center.

"I enjoy this type of work because it addresses interesting fundamental questions of physics and has practical applications of interest to West Virginia," he commented.

His research was featured recently on a West Virginia Public Radio segment of the "Morning Edition" news broadcast.

Donaho Warns About Buying Health Benefits

Maryland Insurance Commissioner John A. Donaho advises Maryland residents to be wary of health benefits associations offering "certificates of coverage." Commissioner Donaho asks citizens to be on the alert for multiple employer trusts which are not insured by an insurance company licensed in Maryland. If they are not licensed in Maryland, they are not under the supervision of the Maryland Insurance Division. Primarily, employers of small firms have been the major target of these so called group health benefits associations.

The Commissioner cautions that individuals and employers who purchase coverage with a non-insured trust are not protected by Maryland insurance laws. Also, in the event that the trust becomes insolvent, the members will not be eligible for benefits under the Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association of Maryland.

Complaints against two non-insured multiple insurer trusts, National Independent Business Association (NIBA) and American Independent Business Alliance (AIBA), both of Wayne, Pa., have recently been received by the Insurance Division. These associations, which are not licensed as insurance companies in Maryland or elsewhere, have insured certificates of health benefits coverage in Maryland and Pennsylvania. Similar complaints have also been received against PARCare in Williamsport, Pa.

Individuals who purchased health coverage through these associations may wish to consider replacement coverage from a licensed insurance carrier as soon as possible.

Anyone who is approached to purchase insurance through a health benefits association which is a multiple employer trust should check with the Maryland Insurance Division to determine whether or not the trust has been filed by a licensed insurer and has received permission to solicit in Maryland. Please call (301) 333-6188 or toll free (800) 492-6116, extension 6188 for further information.

Dr. Steve Herman Instrumental In Planning For '89 Whitewater World's

Dr. Steve Herman, president of Garrett Community College, has been instrumental in facilitating the planning and operations of the 1989 World Whitewater Championships by providing for the housing and logistical support of the World headquarters of Whitewater Championships, Inc. (WCI), organizers of the event, at Garrett Community College. This is according to a spokesman for WCI.

Early in the formulation of plans for the Championships, WCI said Dr. Herman foresaw the immediate and long-term potential promotional and economic benefits that could occur for the college and the county in general. As a result, he arranged for establishing WCI's headquarters on the GCC campus and provided for staff resource assistance in several key positions on the organizing committee. He also personally served as vice president of administration for pre-world Championships events activities that helped shape many policies and practices to be followed for the 1989 World's.

Dr. Herman has served as president of Garrett Community College since 1986. His professional publications include "The Generalist Model: An Innovation in Student Services," Community College Frontiers (1981) and "An Approach to Revitalizing Student Development: Generalist Theory," The Journal of Staff, Program and Organization Development (1987). Dr. Herman is also a board member of the Garrett County Economic Development Commission, the Garrett County Mountaintop Chamber of Commerce, and the Western Maryland Private Industry Council. He and his wife, Gail, reside at Sky Valley.

Northern High Youth To Attend Summer Centers

James S. Thomas, guidance counselor at Northern High School, has been notified of the selection of three Northern students to participate in the 1989 Maryland Summer Centers for Gifted and Talented Students sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Education.

Molly Ramsey, daughter of David and Sara Ramsey, McHenry, will participate in The Lady Maryland Experience. She will explore the nature of man's existence in the Chesapeake Bay region of Maryland aboard the schooner, "Lady Maryland." She will investigate the variety of social, regional, and economic factors, which affect the rural and urban living environment; live as an apprentice crewmember aboard the "Lady Maryland," sailing to different Chesapeake Ports (Baltimore, Annapolis, St. Michael's, etc.), while exploring the Bay, and the surrounding communities; discover and analyze nautical, historic, economic, and scientific data and make projections about the future changes of man's role in the Chesapeake Bay region; stand watches with the crew of "Lady Maryland," and participate in the activities which make shipboard life "exciting and memorable."

Tarin Towers, daughter of Richard and Linda Towers, Grantsville, will participate in the Painting and Drawing Course. She will explore a wide variety of media including pencil, ink, watercolor, and acrylics on canvas. Instructors will provide solid technical training and encourage many to develop independent and personal expression.

Brian Hensley, son of Larry and Virginia Hensley, Grantsville, will be in the Creativity and the Arts Course. He will examine the intuitive aspects of the arts, focus on idea development and the application of those ideas in fresh and original ways. Using a variety of media, discussion, and creative exercises to foster an awareness of the creative process, he will be encouraged to explore his creative potential.

AFTER A LAPSE OF ABOUT 50 YEARS, the Accident Concert Band was re-activated under the sponsorship of the Accident Cultural and Historical Society and began practicing on January 12 under the direction of the Rev. Wilfred Karsten. The band has a history of over 100 years, going back to the time when Accident had two bands, one English and one German. Later the bands were combined into one. The bass drum that is still being used has been played in Accident bands for about 100 years. The present band is composed of two members from the previous band, together with members ranging from elementary school age to senior citizens. The band will perform its first concert for Accident's Fourth of July Homecoming festival during a special patriotic program at 2 p.m. Rehearsals are at 8 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. Anyone wishing to participate is welcome to attend practice sessions. Members shown above are, left to right, front row, Richard Alexander (original band member), Rebecca Fike, Regina Bender, and Cindy Teats; second row, same order, Ralph Miller, Karl Lindner, Connie Savage, Annette Keller, Glen Keller (original band member), and Rosanne Sherwood; and third row, same order, George Keller, the Rev. Wilfred Karsten, and Melvin Schwing. Not present for the photo were Andrei Yelovich, Amber Close, Jamie Settle, Stacy Carlson, Lori Rodeheaver, George McDowell, Kathy McDowell, Elaine McDowell, Tom McDowell, Chris Elliott, and Tammy Woodward.

On Dean's List

The dean's list for the spring term at Bridgewater College has been announced by Dr. Dale V. Ulrich, Acting Dean for Academic Affairs, and the list includes two Garrett County students.

Susan Rebecca Caruthers, a sophomore majoring in business administration and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David K. Caruthers, Oakland, and Richard Lee Ridder, a junior majoring in physics and son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Ridder, also of Oakland, were on the list.

Students on the dean's list have attained a 3.2 or better quality point average of a possible 4.0, and are included in The National Dean's List, a publication citing academic achievement of college students nationwide.

A Father's Day Tribute To The Memory Of
CHARLES RUSH

No one hears the door that opens, when they pass beyond our call,
Soft as the dropping pedals of a rose, one by one our loved ones fall.
But the memory of each loved one, like the fragrance of the rose,
God sent to linger with us 'til our own life's door shall close.

So dearly loved and so sadly missed by his wife, his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

Arts Contribute $357 Million To State's Economy

Maryland Chamber of Commerce Chairman Earle Palmer Brown said last week that the Department of Economic and Employment Development's (DEED) findings on the economic impact of the arts in Maryland confirms that business support for arts and cultural programs pays substantial dividends in economic development.

The first-time study, which was released last Thursday by DEED Secretary J. Randall Evans, found that arts related activities in Maryland contribute $357 million a year to the state's economy.

"The $357 million a year generated by the arts industry is made possible in large part by millions of dollars in private sector contributions to art programs throughout the state," Brown said.

According to the study, every $1 contributed to arts organizations by both public and private sources generates $12.80 in revenue to the state. Of the $55.7 million in annual revenues to the arts industry, 11.4 million, representing 21 percent of total revenues, is contributed by the private sector.

"The business community underwrites and supports major arts and cultural programs, offers local and statewide arts scholarships, sponsors cultural events and encourages employees to volunteer their service to community based programs," Brown said.

"Additionally, business support for the arts enhances Maryland's national and international reputation as a culturally rich state, which is an important factor in attracting and relocating new business to the state."

To showcase the business community's support for the arts, the Maryland Chamber of Commerce hosted a gala evening with guest speaker Beverly Sills, last Friday at the Omni Hotel in Baltimore. More than 600 business executives attended the program which was sponsored by 14 Maryland corporations and the Maryland Arts Council, an agency of the Department of Economic and Employment Development.

A program book, published by the Maryland Chamber of Commerce, was released at the gala. The unique publication includes a compendium of art and cultural organizations in Maryland, a listing of state supported arts programs and DEED's economic impact of the arts study, which was conducted in conjunction with the Maryland Chamber's June 9 arts program.

DNR Police Urge Wearing Of Life Jackets

When boaters leave for a day of cruising, they seldom expect to find themselves in the water. But if they do and they are not wearing a life jacket, their chances of becoming a boating statistic increases.

Inexperienced boaters seldom realize how vulnerable small, open boats are to hazards on the water, says the Maryland Natural Resources Police. "The wearing of a well-fitting, comfortable life jacket is the mark of an experienced boater," said Cpl. Ralph Parker, spokesman for the Natural Resources Police.

"If boaters fall into the water, the life jacket will keep them afloat while they tend to urgent business, such as climbing back into their boats, getting to shore or just keeping still while waiting for help to come," Parker said.

"Most fatal accidents are capsizes or falls overboard," he said. "They happen suddenly, without warning and with no time to get into a life jacket. It won't work, if you don't wear it."

Senior Citizens Are Invited To See Bob Hope

The Area Agency on Aging, Community Action Committee, is sponsoring a bus trip for senior citizens to the War Memorial in Johnstown, Pa., on July 3 to see Bob Hope, live.

The cost of the trip is $35 per person which includes transportation and ticket for the performance.

There will be no stops to eat, so participants are asked to take a bag lunch or to eat at the event.

Senior citizens will be picked up at the Oakland Senior Citizens Center, Center Street, Oakland, at 3:15 p.m., and also at the Flowery Vale Senior Citizens Center, South Street, Accident, at 3:45 p.m.

The deadline for reservations and the $35 fee is 3 p.m., June 19. Reservations may be obtained by calling the Agency at 334-9431.

In Memory Of

CLARENCE "BUD" DEAL

who departed this life on June 14, 1984.

IN THE HANDS OF GOD

And so when death brings weeping and the heart is filled with sorrow.
It beckons us to seek GOD as we ask about TOMORROW
And in these hours of heart hurt we draw closer to believing
That even in GOD'S HANDS is not a cause for grieving
But a time for joy in knowing death is just a stepping stone
To a LIFE that's EVERLASTING such as we have never known

Always in our hearts,
Wife, Alice Deal and Family

CRELLIN STUDENTS RECEIVE AWARDS — Two students at Crellin Elementary School were presented awards by Principal Asa McCain. Billy McCartney received the Woodmen of the World Award for outstanding achievement in history. Billy recently participated in special flag ceremonies in Baltimore. Erin Long received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award and has been notified of acceptance to the Maryland Science Center for Gifted and Talented students. She will attend a light and photography class at the center in July.

Foley Also An Award Winner

There was an omission in last week's pictoral coverage of the Southern High School academic awards. Under the photo of the students who received awards from the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club it should have stated that also not present for the photo was Sean Foley, who was one of two students to receive the drafting award.

Helen M. Friend Becomes Bride Of James E. Meek In March Ceremony

Helen Marie Friend and James Edward Meek Jr. were united in marriage March 25 at Hawley Memorial Church in Blue Ridge Summit, Pa. The Rev. Bob Edmundson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mary Barton was organist and the Rev. Edmundson performed two solos during the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jean Friend, Accident. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Meek Sr., Blue Ridge Summit.

The bride was given in marriage by her family and escorted to the altar by her brother-in-law, Paul Hook, Accident. She wore a gown of white satin and imported reembroidered Alencon lace. The scoop neckline was outlined in pearls with satin bows accenting the shoulders and short pouf sleeves. The bodice featured beaded Alencon lace outlined in pearls and set off with lush diagonal shirring. The gown swept into a cathedral-length train. In her hair, the bride wore a wreath of pearls, silk flowers and blossums accented by a double pearled pouf and a fingertip-length pearl touched veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of 13 white roses featuring baby's breath, ivy, and lace. It was accented by two red roses, a wedding day gift from the groom.

Kimberly Timmons, Upton, Pa., served as maid of honor, and Alison Serafini, Hagerstown, was bridesmaid. Both friends of the bride were attired in identical full-length gowns of mauve satin. Each carried bouquets of mauve and white carnations and mums accented by white roses, baby's breath and ivy.

Serving as best man was Mark Dingle, Hagerstown. Guests were ushered by Stewart Smith, Clear Spring.

Debbis Ainsworth, sister of the groom, attended the guest book.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Hawley House. Cake was served by Irene Miller and Janie Sharp, cousin of the groom.

DEEP CREEK REALTY

COMMUNITY SUPPORT!

Have you ever noticed what happens when members of your community suddenly find themselves in need? Perhaps illness strikes, or fire. The call goes out from friends and family and soon help arrives in the form of comfort, or nourishment or many hands willing to help rebuild.

In real estate there is also such a community. When the decision is made to sell your home, the agent you have chosen takes action to mobilize the entire real estate community to bring buyers for your home.

Naturally, your agent is also working individually to find a buyer for your home. But, at the same time, the agent realizes that other active agents also have contact with ready, willing and able buyers. It is critical to the sale of your home that ALL potential purchasers be exposed to the home during their decision-making process. Obviously, the higher the number of buyers who see your home, the higher the chances of an early sale.

When selecting your agent, consider these points:

•Is the agent known and respected in the real estate community?

•What will be done to arouse the interest and muster the support of this community in the sale of your home?

To insure the sales support of the entire real estate community, ask your agent to explain how that will be accomplished. Peace-of-mind for you and your family will be the valuable benefit.

If you're planning to sell your home soon and would like information on its current value, give us a call at 387-5303, or come by our office located in the McHenry Plaza.

FSU Offering Course Through Univ. Of Conn.

Frostburg State University can arrange for graduate students to take three credits through the University of Connecticut's Confratute '89: Summer Institute on the Gifted and Talented, according to Dr. Gail Herman, an FSU instructor.

Confratute, in its 12th year, consists of a series of one-week courses (strands) and key-note speeches designed to provide classroom teachers, administrators, counselors, librarians, and college instructors with up to date information on educating the creative, talented, and/or high ability learners in our schools. Dates are July 17-28 in Storrs, Conn.

Confratute is directed by Dr. Joseph Renzulli and Dr. Sally Reis, leaders in the field of "creative education without elitism." Keynote speakers include Dr. Anthony Gregorc, learning styles specialist; Dr. Felice Kaufman, a specialist on under-achievement; and Dr. Donald Treffinger, a curriculum specialist in the field of creativity. Other speakers include Zacharie Clements, Sandra Kaplan, Barbara Pilon, and James Curry.

There are over 50 strands or one-week courses to choose from including "Storytelling: When Myth Meets Magic" and "Mime: Developing Nonverbal Communication" taught by Dr. Herman, a consultant assistant professor, who will teach "The Gifted Learner," June 26-July 10, at Frostburg State University. Dr. Herman has been involved with Confratute since its inception and she will also be the coordinator of the FSU students who attend Confratute. She is frequently invited to various conventions and districts throughout the United States to speak on creativity, gifted education, and storytelling. Most recently she gave a presentation for the Council for Exceptional Children in San Francisco on a research project she conducted in West Virginia called "Storytelling as a Reinforcer With Special Needs Students in the Resource Room."

Other strands to choose from include "Ideas for Science Enrichment at the Secondary Level," "Working With Learning Disabled Gifted," "Problem Solving in Math," "Developing Mentorships," "Talents Unlimited," "Developing Personal Creativity," "Thinking Skills" and "The School Wide Enrichment Model." Each participant can choose up to four strands during the two-week period.

For further information, persons may contact Dr. Herman at FSU at 689-4294 or (301) 387-9199. Cost of the Confratute fees (not credits) is $519.00 without room and board. Three credits from FSU costs $252.00 plus applicable fees. Brochures can be obtained from the Department of Education office in FR 202 until June 26 and Diehl Hall 107-108 until July 10.

W.Va. Man Found Not Guilty Of DUI Charge

A Bretz, W.Va., man was found not guilty of driving while under the influence of alcohol and failing to drive to the right of the center line during a jury trial held last week in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Gary J. McCrobie, 42, was found innocent of the charges, which were forwarded from Garrett County District Court.

McCrobie was represented by W. Bryan Hall.

In another case, the judge ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Nancy C. Paugh, 43, Mtn. Lake Park, after she pled guilty to a charge of possession of cocaine. Her $1000 bail was continued.

Not prosecuted were charges of possession with intent to distribute cocaine, possession with intent to distribute marijuana, possession of marijuana, conspiracy, and possession with intent to deliver drug paraphernalia.

The charges were filed following a January 1, 1989, incident in Mtn. Lake Park.

CPSC Strongly Advises Fencing Around Pools

Many of the 330 children under five years of age who drown each year in backyard pools could be saved if homeowners completely fenced in the pool and installed self-closing and self-latching devices on gates.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) said child drownings are the second leading cause of accidental death around the home to children under five years of age.

A CPSC survey of home pool drownings and near-drownings in parts of three states revealed that most of these drownings occurred in a pool owned by the child's family. Almost half the children involved in the accidents were last seen in the house, presumably safe from harm, prior to being found in the pool. In three of every four of these accidents, the children were seen five minutes or less before being "missed" and subsequently discovered in the pool. While there is no substitute for supervision of children, a barrier designed to prevent them from reaching the pool, even from the house, could have prevented many of these accidents.

CPSC said that many communities do have codes or regulations that require fences around residential pools, but they may allow the house to serve as one side of the barrier. However, a fence completely surrounding the pool is better. Fences should be a minimum of four feet high, although fences five feet or higher are preferable.

If the home serves as one side of the barrier, all doors leading to the pool should be self-closing and have self-latching devices beyond the reach of children to prevent them from opening the door and gaining access to the pool.

Homeowners who wish to upgrade the safety of their backyard pool may obtain a free 11-page pool safety checklist from CPSC by sending a postcard to Pool Safety, Washington, D.C. 20207.

Acreage Reports Being Accepted At ASCS Office

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service is now accepting acreage reports for corn, hay, vegetables and other crops. The deadline for certifying these crops is July 17.

ASCS official, William F. DeWitt, says all farmers should file an acreage report, whether or not they are participating in the 1989 programs.

Farmers who file an acreage report and comply with this year's acreage reduction program provisions will be eligible for deficiency payments, price support loans and other benefits, DeWitt said. Farmers who are not participating could benefit by certifying their planted acres because it provides documentation for future records, he added.

The acreage reports may be filed weekdays, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., at the Garrett County ASCS Office.

Directors Prepare For '89 Garrett County Fair

The Garrett County Fair directors held their regular meeting on June 6 at the fair office, with the up-coming 1989 county fair the main topic.

This year, a new dairy barn is being built on the fairgrounds. President Jerry Glotfelty issued a plea for help with the project.

Weekly passes will be on sale again this year for senior citizens and those who do not wish to ride the amusement rides. A deadline of August 14 has been set for purchasing these weekly passes. Passes are available from any fair director.

A policy change has been made this year in the use of loudspeaker paging at the fair. Only fair business and emergencies will be paged, at a cost of $1. Parents who normally have their children paged should plan ahead and set a place and time for the child to meet them, as the paging service will no longer be available for that purpose.

Pony pulls will return to the Garrett County Fair this year. Those interested should check The Republican newspaper for date and time.

The directors report that entertainment for this year's fair, so far, includes: "The Ebenezer Swing Band," "Life Line Gospel Group," "The Hollanders," "Don Gabriel and The Memories," and "Gary Yoder's Country Rock."

The 1989 Garrett County Fair will be held August 13-19.

Farming In Maryland ..... Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

BST: How Will It Affect The Dairy Industry?

Bovine Somatotropin (BST) — is it one of the best things to happen to the dairy industry, or one of the worst? The jury is still out, according to dairy industry spokesmen. It's clearly a biotechnological breakthrough, said Dr. J. Lee Majeskie, dairy specialist at The University of Maryland and member of the national New Dairy Technologies Education Committee. He cautions, however, that the success of BST, and whether its impact on the market and the dairy industry will be good or bad, is up to individual dairymen.

"There will be no great impact on the market," said Majeskie, "unless farmers add cows! BST should be used like any other management tool. Farmers should use it to feed less cows and do a better job — it should be used to get more milk efficiently from what they already have."

Bovine somatotropin increases milk yield and feed efficiency in lactating cattle. These facts are well documented for short and long term studies with differing breeds and under many different management schemes and environmental conditions. Collectively, among the studies conducted by universities and the four companies pursuing the marketing of BST (American Cyanamid Company, Elanco Products Company, Monsanto Agricultural Company, and The Upjohn Company), thousands of cattle have been administered BST with no reports of catastrophic metabolic diseases despite large increases in milk yield.

Researchers feel this is even more impressive considering the fact that feed intake responses to BST are generally five to eight weeks behind the increases in milk yield.

BST, a naturally occurring protein, has been known to scientists for 50 years. It was suspected that BST would increase milk production in dairy cows, but the scarcity and expense of the natural BST prevented definitive experiments. Natural BST had to be extracted from the pituitary gland of slaughtered animals. Then, in 1980 the availability of synthetically produced BST allowed dairy scientists at Cornell University to begin extensive studies to address the relationship between BST and milk production. Work at Cornell and other institutions established that injected BST will increase average milk production per cow by 15 to 40 percent.

Monsanto reports their research to show that only a .2 to .6 percent increase in total milk production will be seen nationally, because all farmers will not use BST.

"BST is not for all people, and not for all cows," said Dr. Majeskie, who stressed again that it is just another management tool, and must go hand-in-hand with nutrition, reproduction, and economic management on the farm. "On a farm with 100 cows, the dairyman will probably be using it on 10," Majeskie said.

One problem for dairymen using BST will be the daily injections required to treat their cattle. Majeskie says that he is not sure how much work has been done in areas of implant research, but he does know that Monsanto is working on a 14-day, slow-release injection. He says, however, that because of the very adequate data collected by the American Cyanamid Company, their daily injection BST could be the first to be approved for the market.

Majeskie says that an attempt is being made to guide dairymen in the process of "gearing up" for BST use. "We're trying to come up with some standard, general guidelines. And in this process of gearing up, the dairymen will become better producers. BST can be for anyone, those dairymen with 40 cows, or those with 400 cows, the response will be the same."

BST, or its effect on the market, is not expected to put any farmers out of business. Majeskie says, "A look at the data since 1970 shows a general trend for dairymen to go out of the business for various reasons. In theory, there will be no extra dairymen going out of business because of this. In fact, it will make them more efficient, better producers."

Research has also shown that the adoption of BST will add no more stress to dairy cows than any other push for higher production, such as lead feeding of three-times-a-day milking. What separates BST from feeding according to production or 3X milking is that it produces an immediate increase in milk yield.

Rumored to be on the market soon, it now appears that late next year may be the earliest that BST will become available for use by producers. Majeskie reported that at a recent meeting of the New Dairy Technologies (NDT) Committee in St. Louis, Mo., the National Health Institute and the four pharmaceuticals involved in the manufacture of BST discussed with the committee pressures they are receiving from many areas — the foremost being consumer perception.

"Producers are concerned," Majeskie stressed. "Will consumers boycott dairy products?" In an attempt to answer this question, the NDT Committee will hold a July meeting with representatives of 30 to 40 different groups to see just what their perceptions of BST are. The Committee also plans to put together an educational package for distribution by December.

"We want to prevent a consumer scare," Majeskie said. "We want them to know that nothing is added to the milk of cows receiving BST." Reports show that there is no difference in the milk from a dairy cow not treated with BST and from one that was treated with BST. Both samples of milk contain proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals, vitamins, water . . . and trace amounts of bovine somatotropin, or BST, the naturally occurring protein hormone found in all dairy cows that helps to regulate their milk production.

"We are trying to educate the public before BST is approved," Majeskie said of the NDT Committee. "BST is completely safe, there is no doubt the FDA will approve it," he continued, but added that with education, once BST is on the market the public will not be affected by possible scare tactics. "BST is the safest, most beneficial biotechnology yet, and biotechnology will be set back quite a bit if it is not approved," Majeskie concluded.

Eli Lilly To Expand BST Research

Eli Lilly and Company and the National Dairy Development Board of India (NDDB) recently signed a "memorandum of understanding" for the development and registration of a range of biotechnology products for use in dairy cattle and buffalo in India.

Included in this agreement is Lilly's bovine somatotrophin (BST), recently registered in the Soviet Union under the trade name Optiflex, and other new agricultural products of biotechnology.

Dairy Situation And Outlook For Spring 1989 Looks Good Overall

General Economic Conditions

A favorable domestic demand for milk and milk products appears to be in store for 1989. The prime reasons behind the strong demand are: 1) real disposable income should be up about four percent, 2) the annual growth rate in the economy should be about four percent and 3) unemployment has dropped over five percent.

Economic conditions in the east should follow the same upward trend as the United States with somewhat more vigor.

The overall outlook for 1989 is strong, based primarily on the continuation of these factors and a stronger export market.

Milk Production

Milk production in 1988 ended in a strong positive upward trend. However, milk produced for market in 1989 may well depend on dairy producers' ability to resist downward pressure from last summer's drought. Also, the milk feed ratio will be below those of 1988, which will discourage additional feeding. However, slaughter cow prices are also ahead of year-earlier levels and could cause some culling of marginal cows.

Milk produced in the eastern states was up in every quarter of 1988 and posted an overall increase over the previous year. Production showed signs of added strength which could push annual production in the region up two percent over last year.

For all of 1989, U.S. milk production is expected to be fairly close to, or greater than, last year's record level of 145.5 billion pounds.

Milk Cow Numbers

Although the decline in the number of milk cows continues, the rate of the decline has slowed. Average cow numbers were down about one percent in 1988 but were offset in total milk production by a strong growth in milk produced per cow. The number of milk cows in the United States currently amounts to 10,243 thousand head and is expected to decline less than one percent during the year.

Milk cow numbers in the east are also trending downward but at a slower rate than nationally. For 1989, the decline should continue, but the percentage change should be smaller.

Milk Output Per Cow

Preliminary data indicates milk produced per cow will average about 14,200 pounds, up 3 percent over the 13,786 produced per cow a year earlier. With declining cow numbers, the increase in output per cow has kept total production moving upward. A low milk-feed ratio has slowed output gains compared to the large surges in the past few years.

Milk Cow Replacement Ratio

The milk cow replacement ratio, (i.e. the number of 500 pound replacements per 100 cows), currently is 39.9. While this is the lowest since 1981, it is still favorable enough to permit producers to add to the milking herd. One negative factor that should encourage producers to add replacements is the high cost of cull cows (cows sent to slaughter). Some producers may elect to replace lower producing cows with fresh replacements.

Since many eastern dairy farmers produce their own milk herd replacements, the milk cow replacement ratio is somewhat stronger in the area.

Commercial Use of Milk

The commercial use of all dairy products during the first quarter of 1988 was not favorable and was well below year-earlier levels. However, whole milk and skim milk usage remained above year-earlier levels. Third quarter sales were up over three percent, with an 8-9 percent increase in October-November, 1988. This strong marketing trend appears to be continuing in the early part of 1989, and is expected to grow.

Feed Costs

Since feed costs represent over half the cost of producing milk, they have a dominating effect on total milk produced. The average value of concentrated ratio feed to milk cows is up $1.50 over year-earlier levels. The increase in feed cost ingredients began in late 1987 and was strongly boosted by the drought condition this past summer.

The cost of feed ingredients generally was somewhat higher in the east than other areas, due primarily to the short supply. Increases in feed costs will have a sizeable effect on milk production for 1989.

Milk Feed Ratio

The milk feed ratio, (i.e. the pounds of concentrate feed equal in value to a pound of milk), has declined rapidly as feed prices have increased. The current level of 1.58, down from a record level of 1.83 in 1987, is the lowest since 1977.

This low level suggests producers will be cautious about increasing feeding rates for at least the first half of 1989.

PRICES

Producer Prices

In the latter part of 1988, producer prices escalated well above year-earlier levels and were the highest since 1984. The increase in farm milk prices resulted from tight market conditions due to relatively low commercial stocks.

During the first half of 1989, farm milk prices are expected to decline, due primarily to seasonal factors and the high year-end prices. In the second half, the price of milk will be a function of the domestic and the international markets.

Prices to dairy producers in the east should follow the same general trend. However, some improvement could be forthcoming in the southeast due to stronger market demands. The average price for producer milk, could, by the end of 1989, average 10-15 cents per cut above 1988.

Minnesota-Wisconsin Price (M-W)

The M-W price increased $2 during June through December 1988, the largest seasonal increase since 1975 and well above year-earlier levels. Strong commercial markets and a seasonal increase was responsible for the rise.

The M-W series is expected to stay above the 1988 level for the first half of 1989 and could average 10-50 cents higher for all of 1989.

Price Support

A temporary 50 cent increase in the dairy support price from April to June will, at least in part, put upward pressure on milk prices. The increase in the support price mandated by law is a result of legislation dealing with the drought of this past summer.

Retail Prices

Although the average U.S. retail price of milk was up about 2.2 percent, it is still below the average of all food products of about five percent annually.

Average retail milk and milk product prices in the east should follow the national trend. Boosted by strong national and regional advertising, promotion, and education programs, the positive upward trend for product sales could be greater in the east.

Retail dairy product prices are expected to peak in early 1989. For the entire year prices are expected to increase an average of 2-4 percent.

Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC)

Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) purchases of butter, powder, and cheese through the price support program amounted to 8.9 billion pounds in 1988. This amount is well above the 6.7 billion pounds produced in 1988.

CCC purchases thus far in 1989 are averaging about the same as last year, but the overall purchase is expected to be below the large amounts acquired in 1988.

SUMMARY

This year promises to provide a favorable setting for the dairy industry. Negative factors in the market are: 1) higher feed costs, 2) strong slaughter cow prices, 3) fewer heifer replacements, 4) a slowdown in the amount of milk produced per cow and 5) a continued decrease in milk cow numbers.

However, the positive factors facing the dairy industry are: 1) somewhat higher producer prices, 2) stronger commercial markets, 3) increased consumption rate, 4) higher Minnesota-Wisconsin (M-W) pricing series, 5) small increase in retail prices, 6) consumers response to regional advertising, promotion, education programs, and 7) lower Commodity Credit Corporation purchases.

Overall, another record level of milk production is projected for the year. While other factors certainly exert an influence, one of the major factors comes as a result of regional and national dairy promotion and advertising programs.

Milk producers in the eastern United States should have another record year in milk production with increases between 1-2 percent. The increased production coordinated with a strong regional advertising and promotion program, should provide viable and strong markets for milk and milk products in the area. Weather conditions, strong markets, increases in population, and higher consumer income in the area will provide the dairy producers excellent market conditions for 1989.

MILK: ONE OF AMERICA'S BEST FOOD BUYS — According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, prices for milk and milk products continue to rise at a slower rate than any of the major food groups reported in the monthly Consumer Price Index (CPI). The graph above shows the average percentage increase of various food groups during 1988. Of the major food categories, milk and milk product prices remained the most stable, posting an increase of 8.3 percent. During this same period, prices for fruits and vegetables rose 38.7 percent; cereal and bakery products, 22.1 percent; food at home, 16.6 percent; and meat, poultry, and fish rose 14.2 percent. Since 1967, when the CPI was developed, milk and milk product prices have risen at a slower rate than other food groups. Based on historical price movements, milk and milk products remain a shopper's best food bargain. Consumers not only receive more value for money spent on dairy foods, but receive the significant nutrition benefits as well.

Planting Progress Continues To Be Limited By Rain

Rains limited planting progress in Maryland for the week ended June 11, and there was an average of 3.2 days suitable for fieldwork, according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. Farmers had prepared 92 percent of the acreage for spring planting. Topsoil moisture was rated as 74 percent adequate and 26 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was 79 percent adequate and 21 percent surplus.

Wheat, oats and rye were rated in mostly good condition. Wheat acreage was 41 percent turning color compared with last year's 26 percent and the 74 percent average. Armyworms continued to infest some wheat fields on the Eastern Shore. Severe lodging in small grain fields was reported in Charles County. Barley was rated in good condition with 92 percent turning color. Harvesting of barley was just begining. Rye was 62 percent turning color. Thirteen percent of the rye was reported harvested, one point behind last year, but eight percent ahead of the average.

Farmers had planted 90 percent of the acreage intended for corn compared with 96 percent in 1988 and the average of 98 percent. Severe infestation of slugs in no-till corn was reported in Garrett County. Soybeans were 43 percent planted, behind last year's 63 percent and the 54 percent average. Tobacco transplanting was 42 percent complete, compared with 80 percent last year and the 70 percent average. Angular leaf spot continued to be a problem in Calvert County. Strawberries were 73 percent harvested, equal to last year but seven percent behind the average. Harvest of green peas was 28 percent complete, 39 percent behind 1988 and 23 percent behind the average. Apples and peaches were rated in fair to good condition with below average fruit set. The first cutting of alfalfa for hay was 80 percent complete, behind 1988's 93 percent and the average of 86 percent. The first cutting of clover and other hays was 48 percent complete, 12 percent behind last year and 22 percent behind the average.

WEATHER

Maryland's weather for the week ended June 9 was warm and wet. Precipitation averaged 2.09 inches. Western and north central Maryland received an average of 1.86 and 2.16 inches, respectively. Southern Maryland west of the Bay received an average 2.58 inches and the Eastern Shore received an average of 1.81 inches of precipitation.

Temperatures averaged 73.2 degrees, 4.0 degrees above the normal for June 3-9 of 69.2 degrees. Minimum temperatures were mostly in the low to mid 60's except western Maryland where minimums were in the 50's. Maximum temperatures were mostly in the high 80's to low 90's, except in extreme western Maryland where highs reached the high 70's to low 80's.

Mountain Fresh Producers Meet

Mountain Fresh Producers Association held its first general membership meeting June 1. Several important topics were discussed, including the election of directors and officers. The 1989 slate consists of: Jim Fearer, of Mt. Lake Park, chairman; Hubert Custer, of Deer Park, secretary/treasurer; Elmer Maust, Accident; Ed Grose, Terra Alta; Bob Cooper, Parsons; and Janie Eskridge, Aurora.

Members who attended filled out product survey forms for the 1989 growing season. Those unable to attend are asked to fill out the survey as soon as they can and return it to the Garrett County Extension Office. Anyone unsure of amounts of produce, may report how many row-feet or number of plants planted and the yield can be estimated. Members with questions may call Mountain Fresh Coordinator Criss Kepple at 334-1990.

Members also received forms to fill out if they want to be included in a "pick your own" and "bulk sales" pamphlet. Mountain Fresh will print these pamphlets and distribute them throughout all three counties. In addition to the information members fill out, the pamphlet will have a map of the three counties so customers can find the location of available produce, according to Kepple.

The pamphlet will note that buyers should "call for availability; and will include information about the tailgate markets. Members were asked to make the directions to their farm as simple and as short as possible to guide customers. The deadline to return the "pick your own" form is June 16 so that they can be printed and distributed, hopefully before the end of June.

At the meeting, members also discussed printing up placemats with information about Mountain Fresh to put into area restaurants.

Several farmers' market locations will be operating this summer, according to Kepple. In Terra Alta the stockyards will be selling on Fridays and in Canaan Valley, the Rotary Club will be buying produce for a farmers' market. In Oakland, Mountain Fresh will have their tailgate market on Saturday mornings in the town parking lot.

Kepple reminds members that it is time to renew their membership for 1989, and that new members are welcome. Dues are $10 for each regular membership, and $5 for a junior membership. Checks should be made payable to Mountain Fresh Producers Association and given to Kepple or Hubert Custer, treasurer.

The U.S. Dairy Industry Is A Changing Industry

The dairy industry has been referred to as a "changing industry" by many economists. Dairy producers have more readily adapted to changing technology than producers of other agricultural products.

Prior to the 1900s, farmers in the southeast, for example, were predominately cotton producers. However, the invasion of the boll weevil in the mid 1900s sent a message to all producers. That message was to look at alternative enterprises as a source of farm income. Many economists believe this gave birth to the commercial dairy industry as we know it today in the southeast. Prior to that time, farmers produced milk for themselves and perhaps several neighbors. There were no formal marketing arrangements in existence, only a handshake and a mutual agreement.

The processing industry began to flourish and increase in numbers. Manufactured dairy products such as ice cream, cheese, and butter began to appear on the commercial market. As a result of the expansion of the dairy industry, economic development began to generate additional income and jobs in the entire southeast.

In the beginning, a major portion of all milk processed for fluid purposes was home delivered by a local processor. These processors grew from servicing one town to another, to an area where today most major processors are regional, and as a result, cover several states on a regional marketing concept.

The method of delivery has changed with the expansion to regional and multi-state processors. Records back to 1968 show that 20 percent was sold on home delivery routes. Prior to that time, even a larger percent was sold through home delivery. Today, less than two percent is marketed to consumers on home delivery routes.

Consumer demand has also dictated a change in the type of container size. In earlier time periods, the glass container was the most predominate. Then, there was a shift from glass to paper cartons. Today, only one percent is marketed in glass, with about 24 percent sold in paper. The remaining 75 percent is purchased by the consumer in plastic containers.

The size of the container has also changed dramatically throughout the years. In the early 50s, when home delivery was highest, the quart size was demanded by consumers. Then, with the introduction of the half-gallon container, a shift from quarts to half-gallons was evident. Today, the gallon is by far the size most used by the consumers and accounts for about three-fourths of all purchases.

Likewise, producers of milk have changed. They have accepted technological changes in milk production. this can be verified by the fact that milk produced per cow has increased from 3,990 pounds in 1964, to 7,180 pounds in 1974, and to 13,802 pounds in 1987 — a 250 percent increase since 1964.

Perhaps the greatest change has been evident in the quality of milk produced. The shift from cans to bulk tanks and the increased emphasis on the quality of milk produced has been remarkable.

Dairy producers have long recognized the value of the advertising and promotion of milk. Legislation, established in 1984 and continued as the result of a referendum by producers, has been a major factor in the marketplace. A downward trend in milk consumption has been reversed and amounted to a record level of 598.2 pounds per capita in 1987.

Potato Leafhopper — Alfalfa

The Potato Leafhopper has been active for the last few days and nymphs should be found in fields. You should be sampling the regrowing alfalfa now. Remember that spring-seeded stands are very attractive to leafhoppers. Since the alfalfa is left uncut it provides a perfect place for leafhopper buildup. The tender growth is highly susceptible to leafhopper feeding injury. Watch your interseeded alfalfa with grain. Many times this alfalfa is forgotten. Decisions to treat can be made prior to the appearance of damage if fields are checked on a regular basis. To assess leafhopper population, take at least five sets of 20 sweeps with a standard 15 inch sweep net in representative areas of the field. Carefully examine the contents of the sweep net and count the number of adults and nymphs per 100 sweeps. Control action is recommended if leafhopper counts exceed 20 per 100 sweeps in under 3 inch alfalfa, 50 per 100 sweeps in 4-6 inch alfalfa, 100 per 100 sweeps in 7-12 inch alfalfa. Treatments must be applied before yellowing begins. If stunted, yellowed plants appear as a result of leafhopper injury, the fields should be harvested rather than sprayed. Recommended insecticides include: Sevin XLR (2 pts.), Furadan 4F (pt.), Lorsban 4E (1 to 2 pts.), Cygon 400 (¾ pt.), Defend or Rebelate (1 pt.), Imidan 50WP (2 lbs.), Supracide 2E or Penncap-M (1 qt.), Pounce 3.2EC (2-8 ozs.), Ambush 2E (3.2-12.8 ozs.).

Creep Graze Calves

Creep grazing is the practice of allowing suckling calves to graze the highest quality available forage while restricting the cows to pasture that is lower in quality or less abundant. The objective is to increase calf gains by providing access to high quality forage. Creep grazing offers an advantage over continuous or rotational grazing because the calves are not forced to compete with the cows for the more palatable and nutritious grazing. Research has demonstrated the value of this practice and generally shows increases of 25 to 50 lbs. in calf gain and weaning weight. Remember, we can treat cows pretty rough and make them graze some relatively poor pasture if we have got a place for these calves to creep into grazing high quality forage. It is quite easy to put a creep gate or even cut creep holes in a fence between permanent pasture and the creep grazing material. Creep holes for calves generally should be 18" wide and 36 to 40" in height.

Maryland Angus Association To Hold Field Day

DHIA Workshops Planned At Two County Locations

Final arrangements have been made for DHIA summer workshops, according to Garrett County Extension Agent Jim Simms. Speakers for the program include: Dr. Mark Varner and Dr. Lee Majeskie, "Techniques for Interpreting DHI Summary Information for Maximum Returns," and Dr. Kim Cassel, "Judging Cattle on Body Conditioning."

"With all of the new information in the DHI summaries and the money that you are investing for that information," Simms told farmers in a recent letter, "it is very important that you maximize that information for decision-making in your management program. Also, most of you are pushing your cows for higher production and just around the corner bovine somatotropin (BST) will in all likelihood be on the market, which means that dairy farmers need to sharpen their skills in having their cattle in proper body condition to maximize reproductive and other herd health problems. The workshop will provide you with 'hands-on' experience in judging for body condition."

The workshops will be held on two different days in two different locations, and farmers may select the day that best suits them. The first will be held on Thursday, July 6, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Bittinger Community Building. Lunch will be charcoal grilled hamburgers with trimmings at noon. Lunch will be followed at 1 p.m. by a session on judging body condition at Cleland Beitzel's farm, ending at approximately 3 p.m.

The other workshop will be on Friday, July 7, beginning at 10 a.m., at the Old Swan Meadow School, Gortner. Charcoal grilled hamburgers with trimmings will be served at noon, followed at 1 p.m. with body condition judging at Paul Yoder's farm, and adjourning at 3 p.m.

There is no charge for lunch or materials, but reservations must be made as soon as possible by calling 334-1990.

Hints To Growers

Wet Weather Diseases

You can expect plant diseases to be more abundant this year due to the wet, cool weather. One problem that many vegetable producers are having is Rhizoctonia Root Rot of Beans. This disease is caused by a soil fungus and is characterized by a water-soaked stem rot near the soil line, which in new seedlings results in wilt and death. More commonly, slightly sunken reddish-brown stem cankers appear near the soil line. As the inner stem tissue is invaded, it becomes brick red. Also the roots, in most cases, are rotted off. There is no cure for the disease. If you're replanting, I would suggest that you change locations.

Soil Preparation/Fertilization for Growing Cauliflower

Cauliflower grows best in fertile, well-drained soil with high organic matter and a pH of 6.5 Cauliflower requires 100 to 150 pounds of nitrogren per acre and 25 to 100 pounds of phosphate and potash, depending on the fertility level already in the soil. Before you apply any fertilizer or lime, have your soil tested.

For soils with a medium level of phosphate and potash, the following fertilizer applications is recommended:

*500 pounds 10-10-10 broadcast before transplanting

*500 pounds 10-10-10 sidedressed two to three weeks after transplanting

*25 pounds of nitrogen as a sidedress five to six weeks after transplanting

Cauliflower is a crop that often needs additional boron, so you should apply two to three pounds of boron per acre.

Supreme Court To Tackle "Rails To Trails" Issue

The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to rule on whether land abandoned by railroads should revert back to adjacent landowners or be converted to public trails.

Farmers and other affected landowners claim the "Rails to Trails" law which allows abandoned railroad easements to be converted to public trails is unconstitutional and results in taking of land without compensation. Now for the first time, the U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to hear the landowners' complaints.

Farm Bureaus throughout the country are fighting what they call this "unconstitutional" misappropriation of property rights allowed in the National Trails Systems Act, said Richard Krause, assistant counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"We have been fighting the illegal 'taking' of private property for several years and have been having some success," he said. "We now have two briefs before the U.S. Supreme Court that should decide the issue once and for all."

In a "friend of the court" brief submitted by the American and Vermont Farm Bureaus, landowners say, "Clearly, under easements agreed to by the property owners and the railroads, rights were to revert to the landowners after the railroad was done with the land. Now, in such situations, landowners trying to reclaim their property are prevented from doing so by a federal statute that virtually gives the land to a trail group to use in a manner that has nothing to do with railroads. This is wrong."

The Missouri Farm Bureau and Citizens to Preserve Property Rights also filed a "friend of the court" brief in this case. They argue that efforts to create trails under the federal law deny landowners their rights to property that are defined by the granting easement.

"In order to negate property rights that are defined by valid easements and protected by state law, it was necessary for Congress to make the illogical and inherently contradictory finding that recreational trails were a 'railroad use.' The utter nonsense of such a markedly unsupported statement is in itself enough to expose the true meaning and intent of the 'Rails-to-Trails' law," the Missouri brief concluded.

Krause said the issue was carried to the U.S. Supreme Court following an "erroneous" decision in the Second Circuit Court that "blatantly and cavalierly trampled" the property rights of private citizens.

He said that, unless reversed, the Second Circuit's decision upholding the "confiscation of reversionary interests of private landowners would signal the beginning of the end of protections afforded by the Fifth Amendment prohibition against taking private property for public use without just compensation."

Statewide Medical Conference Slated At Wisp Resort

Garrett County will be the site of the statewide medical conference, "Meeting the Challenges of the 1990s — New Resources and Skills for Primary Care Physicians" this Friday, June 16, at The Wisp, McHenry.

Local physicians Margaret Kaiser, M.D., and Robert A. Goralski, M.D., served on the conference program planning committee. Dr. Kaiser also will introduce the afternoon program on "Protecting the Health of Rural Families" and Dr. Goralski will be a discussant for the program "Radon — When to test, How to test — What to do."

The conference is being coordinated by the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC) and cosponsored with the Family Health Education Foundation of the Maryland Academy of Family Practice, the University of Maryland at Baltimore School of Medicine, the Association of Occupational and Environmental Clinics, the American Lung Association of Maryland, Allegany Community College, and Garrett Community College.

"Meeting the Challenges of the 1990s" focuses on environmental and occupational exposure to toxins, accessing the new data bases and improving office practice. The conference audience is primary care physicians, emergency room and internal medicine physicians and other health professionals working in Maryland and its neighboring states.

Nationally, health professionals are becoming increasingly aware of environmental and occupational issues and related health risks. A report recently released by the House Subcommittee on Health and the Environment indicates that 2.4 billion pounds of toxic pollutants were emitted nationally in 1987. Nearly 18.7 million pounds of these toxic air pollutants — or 4.2 pounds per person — were released by industry into Maryland's air. According to subcommittee chairman Henry A. Waxman, D-Calif., "We know that millions of pounds of carcinogens, mutagens and neurotoxins are getting into our air supply."

"These statistics and comments make it easy to comprehend that, by the turn of the century, primary care physicians will be treating an increasing number of disorders caused by environmental and occupational exposure to toxins," stated Diane Trickett, toxic education coordinator at the Cumberland Area Health Education Center (CAHEC) and conference coordinator. She continued that the issue of toxins and health risk is of growing importance to consumers as well as physicians. This conference is viewed as an opportunity to help physicians and other health professionals gain the knowledge essential not only to treat their patients, but to help educated patients and respond to their inquiries.

According to James Keogh, M.D., associate professor of medicine and of epidemiology and preventive medicine at the University of Maryland at Baltimore (UMAB) School of Medicine, "This conference provides a unique opportunity for physicians to learn more about the effects of environmental and occupational toxins on the health of their patients. The programs will include discussion of problem solving approaches for evaluting and resolving environmental and occupational health illnesses. Coupled with these sessions will be hands-on learning opportunities to work with the computerized data bases to access and use sources of new medical information. The conference also will focus on the utility of the office computer in streamlining daily office procedures including electronic claims submission."

Dr. Keogh is working with the CAHEC in implementing an Expanded Toxic Exposure Rural Training Initiative for Western Maryland. "Meeting the Challenges..." is the capstone program of this one year training initiative's educational activities. Funds for the project were awarded to CAHEC through the federal Area Health Education Center (AHEC) office. Dr. Keogh is the program director and keynote speaker for the event. He became active in the field of occupational medicine in the mid '70s shortly after graduation from the University of Maryland Medical School. He presently serves on the Board of Directors of the Association of Occupational Environmental Clinics and on the Advisory Committee for the National Center for Hazard Communications. He is the author of Workers' Handbook on Nitroglycerin Toxicity, and has authored chapters in several other books and has published numerous articles in the field of environmental and occupational toxiciology. In addition to his faculty position at UMAB, he holds the appointment of assistant professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Topics and faculty for the conference include: the keynote address "The Challenges of the 1990s for Primary Care Practice," James P. Keogh, M.D; "What's making me sick? — Recognizing and diagnosing environmental illness" and "Pesticides and human health: old problems-new problems;" Michael Hodgson, M.D., assistant professor of industrial environmental health science at the University of Pittsburgh School of Public Health and director of occupational and environmental medicine program at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine; "What's making me sick?", discussant Melissa McDiarmid, M.D., associate professor of medicine, Johns Hopkins University and pesticide discussants David Schwartz, M.D. assistant professor of medicine, director of occupational medicine, University of Iowa and Gregory Wagner, M.D., director of Division of Respiratory Disease Studies, National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health; "Is my Water Safe to Drink? — Advising patients about groundwater contamination," Laura Welch, M.D., director, Division of Occupational Medicine, George Washington University, discussants Wayne Spiggle, M.D., internist, assistant clinical professor UMAB and Rosemary Sokas, M.D. assistant professor of medicine at George Washington University; "Are you getting the most from your office computer? — introduction to searching the literature," Jacqueline van de Kamp, technical information specialist, National Library of Medicine and Harold L. Krell, vice president of LifeCard International, Inc.; "Protecting the Health of Rural Families," Margaret A. Kaiser, M.D., internist and clinical instructor at UMAB; "Respiratory Disease in Farmers," David Schwartz, M.D., assistant professor of medicine, director of occupational medicine, University of Iowa, discussant James M. Raver, M.D., director of respiratory care services, Memorial Hospital; "Radon — When to Test — How to test — What to do," Aparna Koppikar, M.D., Ph.D, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Human Health Assessment Group, discussant Robert A. Goralski, M.D., family practioner.

"Meeting the Challenges..." is accredited through the University of Maryland School of Medicine Program of Continuing Education for 5.5 credit hours in Category 1 of the Physician's Recognition Award of the American Medical Association and the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education. The program also is approved for 5.5 prescribed hours by the American Academy of Family Physicians. The planning committee members included Anthony J. Bollino Jr., M.D., Robert A. Goralski, M.D., Margaret A. Kaiser, M.D., James P. Keogh, M.D., Robert J. Orlino, M.D., James M. Raver, M.D., Wayne C. Spiggle, M.D.

This conference coincides with the opening weekend of the World Whitewater Championships to be held on the Savage River from June 11 through June 25. According to Trickett, physicians are encouraged to bring their families and to enjoy a weekend of whitewater festivities. For last minute conference registration or information, persons may contact Diane Trickett at (301) 777-9150.

River Artist To Open Show Today At FSU Gallery

River artist Hoyt Reel will exhibit a collection of 40 watercolor paintings of canoe-kayak-rafting experiences at Frostburg State University's Stephanie Ann Roper Gallery, beginning this evening, June 15, at 9 a.m., just after the Opening Ceremonies of the 1989 World Whitewater Championships.

Reel's show, running through July 2 at 4 p.m., is the product of two years' preparation to coincide with the world races. His collection includes paintings and lithographs on the canoe.

Gallery hours are 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The show is free and open to the public.

Opening Ceremonies at FSU will be preceded by a parade down Frostburg's Main Street at 6 p.m., which will end at Bobcat Stadium in time for the 7 p.m. gala opening. The free event will include the parade of athletes, musical entertainment, including the 200-voice chorus under the direction of Paul Hill, and the ceremonial transfer of the Canoe Federation flag from a wagon train to officials in the FSU stadium.

Following the stadium activities, the Marriott Corporation, one of the World Whitewater sponsors, will stage an elaborate international foodfest outdoors near the stadium and library. In the event of rain, Opening Ceremonies will be held inside the Physical Education Center arena and the foodfest in the center's auxiliary gymnasium.

Deer Park Man Fires At Police, Takes Own Life

A young Deer Park man died early Saturday morning, apparently of a single self-inflicted gunshot wound following a shooting spree at a residence on Route 219, approximately three miles north of Oakland.

According to reports from the Garrett County Sheriff's Department, Stephen Schrock, 20, apparently took his own life after he fired a total of eight shots from a .22 calibre rifle at a deputy sheriff and into the Ed Pennington house. Schrock remained outside the house during the entire incident.

Schrock allegedly fired five shots into the house prior to the arrival of law enforcement officers. Twelve people were in the house at the time, however police said none of the twelve sustained injuries.

Deputy Jay B. Sowers was the first to respond to the complaint of shots fired at the residence. Schrock shot three times at the deputy when he arrived on the scene, but Sowers did not sustain injuries. Sowers said he did not return fire because Schrock stood in line with the Pennington house and Sowers did not wish to endanger the safety of the people inside.

Schrock then fled into a nearby wooded area. Sheriff's Department Detective Randy L. Sines and Maryland State Police Trooper Jim Moore also responded to the call. Additional units from the Sheriff's Department and the Cumberland State Police were then called in to set up a perimeter around the area. Two canine units from the Maryland State Police were also dispatched to the scene. At approximately 5:10 a.m. the canine units searched and found Schrock, pronounced dead at the scene, approximately 100 feet from the Pennington house. According to Detective Randy L. Sines, police were unable to pinpoint the exact time that Schrock apparently shot himself.

Born October 14, 1968, in Oakland, Schrock was the son of Carl D. Schrock, Crellin, and Wanda L. Paugh, Deer Park.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by his paternal grandmother, Stella M. Schrock, Deer Park; step-maternal grandfather, William Uphole, Moorefield, W.Va.; step-maternal great-grandmother, Minnie Harvey, Mtn. Lake Park; two brothers, DeWayne A. Schrock, Gorman; and William D. Schrock, Deer Park; one sister, Carla J. McRobie, Deer Park; one half-brother, Joseph M. Collins, Deer Park; one half-sister, Heather M. Collins, Deer Park; five step-brothers, David Mayne, John Mayne, Wayne Mayne, and Joseph Ridenour, all of Crellin; and Albert C. Paugh Jr., Fort Hill, Pa.; and one step-sister, Rayetta Mayne, Crellin.

WHITEWATER WORLDS UNDERWAY — Competition began Saturday in the 1989 World Whitewater Championships on Garrett County's Savage River, as athletes from 25 nations compete for the gold in wildwater and slalom events. The wildwater races, which involve a seven-mile run down river in the fastest time possible, were held last weekend and were dominated by the French, West German, and Yugoslavian teams. The slalom events, which will be this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday and involve racing through gates suspended above the water's surface, are where the United States are expected to capture numerous medals. Defending world champion Jon Lugbill, former world champion Davey Hearn, and Jed Prentice are the favorites in the C-1 (one-man canoe) event. The championships will culminate with a celebration, complete with fireworks, this Sunday evening at Deep Creek Lake State Park.

GNB To Sponsor Major Golf Event To Benefit GOH

Milford Beckman, president of Garrett National Bank, announced today plans to initiate a major fund raising golf tournament to benefit the Garrett Organization of the Handicapped.

The tournament, which is expected to draw golfers from all over the tri-state area, will be held at the Oakland Country Club July 15.

French Team Wins A Total Of Nine Medals In Wildwater Events

Water poured out of the Savage River Reservoir at the rate of 1,000 cubic feet per second to help the French team sweep away the competition to win nine medals in last weekend's wildwater races held on the Savage River.

More than 130 athletes from 25 countries competed in the wildwater events held Saturday and Sunday on the 4.5 mile course on the Savage River near Bloomington. Saturday events included individual races in men's kayak (K-1), women's kayak (K-1W), men's canoe (C-1), and men's two-man canoe (C-2). Sunday events included team races in the above four categories.

INDIVIDUAL RESULTS

The Yugoslavian team of Srecko Masle and Adrej Grobsia were spotlighted when they won Yugoslavia's first world whitewater title with a lead of 31.36 seconds in Saturday's C-2 competition with a time of 22:48.74.

The team was pleased with their "good run without mistakes".

Silver medals in that competition went to Frenchmen Claude Alaphillipe and Bruno Puyfoulhous. Another French team, Eric Archambault and Thierry Carlin, won the bronze medal.

The C-1 title was also won by a Yugoslavian, Andrej Jelenc, with a time of 24:37.00. He captured the title with a 5.7 second lead over Chzechoslowakia's Vladmir Vala and third place winner Steve Wells, Great Britain.

"It is an excellend course, it's continuously rough for the full duration which is very unusual," Jelenc commented on the Savage River.

Marco Previde Massara, of Italy, won his third world championship in the K-1 event with a time of 22:12.88. Neil Stamps, Great Britain, took second place and Antoine Goetsky, France, won the bronze medal.

Massara announced after the competition that he plans to retire from international competition. "I will continue to compete at the national level, but I prefer to retire at the international level while still on top," Massara explained. He won the World Championships in 1983 and 1985.

Sabine Kleinheinz, of France, won the gold medal in the K-1W event with a time of 23:38.40. Ushci Profanter, Austria, won the silver medal, and Aurore

Chemical Spill At Friendsville Well Contained

A chemical spill occurred last Thursday, June 15, shortly after 10:30 p.m. in the parking lot of the Route 48 rest area at Friendsville.

A truck, containing 84 55-gallon drums of chemicals was transporting a load from Petrolite Chemical, Webster Grove, Missouri, to Petrolite Corporation, Eddystone, Pennsylvania, when a leak in one of the drums occurred. Eight different types of petroleum industry-related chemicals were on board the truck, however only one drum was leaking chemicals. The total spill involved 20-25 gallons of the chemical Xylene.

According to a spokesman from BVER Environmental, Inc., Chester, West Virginia, Xylene is considered a moderate fire risk and is toxic by ingestion and inhalation. It can be toxic through skin contact, as well. The spokesman stated that Xylene is similar to substances found in paint thinner or some types of enamel paint.

The Friendsville Fire Department, Northern Rescue Squad, State Highway Patrol, and the Garrett County Sheriff's Department arrived on the scene and efforts to contain the spill were well underway within an hour. At approximately 12:30 a.m. the Garrett County Air Cascade arrived. An hour later two representatives from the Maryland Department of the Environment arrived. They, along with members of the fire department and the State Highway Patrol, covered the spill with sand and a chemical absorbent. BVER Environmental, Inc., arrived to complete clean-up efforts at 8:30 a.m. Employees of BVER cleaned up the parking area and the truck, repacked one drum, and slupped all materials containing chemical residue back to the manufacturer for disposal.

Emergency personnel remained on the scene for over 12 hours. According to a spokesman for BVER Environmental, Inc., the incident was handled very well by local emergency people prior to the arrival of its employees. There will be no residual environmental effects from the Xylene spill.

Whitewater Ticket Sales Near Sellout

Ticket sales for the 1989 World Whitewater Slalom Championships are rapidly heading for a sellout for Saturday, June 24, at the Savage River.

"While some tickets are still available from local outlets in Allegany and Garrett counties, total sales will soon be capped for this Saturday at 6,000," said a spokesman for Whitewater Championships, Inc.

The availability of tickets for Friday's and Sunday's events is, however, still good. All three days of racing offer spectators the opportunity to see world class paddlers from 25 nations in action competing for gold, silver, and bronze medals. There are also many on-site activities, entertainment, exhibits, and food concessions.

For further information, persons may call 1-800-552-3915.

Championships Finally Arrive After Three Years Of Hard Work

After three years of hard work and preparation, the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships finally got underway last weekend as athletes from 25 nations and spectators from all over the world, as well as over 250 press representatives, crammed into the Savage River Valley to watch the first events unfold.

The French team swept away competition as the athletes won nine medals for the weekend, four of which were gold. West Germany will take home four medals, one gold and three silver, and Yugoslavia and Italy will each take home three medals.

The sun burned away fog and clouds Saturday, leaving blue skies and warm temperatures to draw out a crowd of more than 4,500 spectators to line banks each day to cheer on the competitors. Over 600 volunteers helped to make the weekend a success as, among other things, they sold programs, gave directions and information, and helped with the first aid booth.

"This has been very much a Garrett County event," said Senator John Bambacus, district 1, Allegany and Garrett Counties and the president of Whitewater Championships, Inc. "We have been working for three years for this moment and have worked very hard to ensure the quality and excellence that Garrett County is known for.

"I'd like to see trials for the 1992 Olympics held here and of course, my goal is to have an Olympic event held right here. I'm hopeful that after the 1992 Olympics we can have more events and very hopeful that we can have at least one major yearly event held here.

"I've talked to many people the last several days and the respect the people have for Garrett County and the work they have done is just amazing. You might expect something of this quality from Washington, D.C. or New York City, but to see it here, well, I never saw an event so well organized, or people so caring.

"Event promotion is big business and as we attempt to diversify our economy, this is a tremendous opportunity for economic growth and prosperity. To think of the role of the people of Garrett County, the volunteers, the Garrett County Promotion Council, the County Commissioners, Garrett Community College, the Greater Oakland Business Association, Deep Creek Lake Business Association and numerous others, they have just done outstanding work.

"We have just spent three million dollars on the Grantsville Water and Sewerage System and we are attempting to develop the three industrial parks in Garrett County. We have to have the infrastructure in place to capitalize on what we have and on our natural resources.

"We don't want to commercialize the river, we want to return it to its pristine nature. If you look at the site, we haven't cut down a single tree. We have worked the media booths and the food booths around the trees to preserve the site as much as possible.

"We haven't had any major problems and have been practising to do this right. We have held weekly meetings and are now holding daily meetings to discuss anything that is wrong. I was speaking to one person from Washington, D.C., who wanted to know where the signs warning of poison ivy are. Since poison ivy is unique to North America, many of the visitors do not realize that it should be avoided. When we hold our daily meeting, I will make sure that someone from

Lt. Col. John K. Gulck, U.S. Air Force Academy liaison officer, made the presentation to Miss Baker in a ceremony June 16. The appointment represents the equivalent of a full four-year scholarship.

Competing against more than 16,000 of the nation's top high school students, Miss Baker is one of about 1,400 selectees to the Academy's class of 1993.

While a student at Northern, Miss Baker was involved in numerous organizations and received a variety of honors for her academic excellence. She participated on the band's rifle squad for three years, serving as captain this past school year. She was a member of the school chorus, student council, newspaper staff, Students Against Drunk Driving, the Northern High Chapter of National Honor Society, and Who's Who Among American High School Students. GNB PLANS BENEFIT GOLF TOURNEY — A major amateur golf tournament, sponsored by the Garrett National Bank, will be held at the Oakland Country Club July 15 and the proceeds will be donated to the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped. Among those present for the announcement of the tournament on Tuesday were, pictured left to right above, Jim Wallin, a volunteer organizer; Luke Stuart, of the GNB; Milford Beckman, GNB president; Gary Yoder, volunteer organizer; and Bill Aspinall, executive director of Appalachian Crossroads, the agency which serves local handicapped citizens.

Arrival Of Russian Athletes Sparks Curiosity; Garrett County Couple Serving As Hosts

by Sandra Cusack

The arrival of the long awaited 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships has brought athletes from 25 nations to compete in the events being held on the raging waters of the Savage River in Garrett County. However, the event that has sparked the most curiosity is the arrival of Soviet Union athletes to compete in the slalom competition. One Garrett County couple is experiencing the opportunity to find, first-hand, what the people of the Soviet Union are like.

Mikhail Gorbachev's new policy of Glasnost, the addition of canoe and kayak slalom racing in the 1992 Olympics, and the exchange program conducted with the American team last summer can all be attributed to the arrival of the Soviet team in America for the races.

Bill Endicott, coach of the U.S. team, and several of the U.S. athletes went to Russia last August as part of an exchange program with the Soviets.

Since whitewater sports have not been a part of the Olympic events since 1972, the government in Russia did not provide many funds for whitewater sports, so their equipment was very much out of date. The U.S. team was able to provide much help in training the Russian whitewater athletes, as well as give some help in the design of their boats.

"Our equipment is not as good as the American competitors. Our boats break a lot. The Americans, Cathy and David Hearn, have lent us some boats for the individual classes," said Anatol Kuzman, the head coach of the Soviets, through the translator Ilya Tyomkin, when the Soviet team stopped to speak with members of the media for a short time before attending a luncheon with the Rotary Club at the Holiday Inn in Cumberland.

"If it were not an Olympic event, we would probably not be here, but also last year we had an exchange with the American team, so this year we had to come as part of the exchange," Kuzman explained.

There are about 1,000 active paddlers in the Soviet Union, spread throughout the country. Kuzman noted that the athletes are all amateurs and have careers aside from whitewater, ranging from student to physicist.

Barbara and Milton Proudfoot are the host family to the Russian athletes. Last year, they hosted the Czecko-slovakian team, but Barbara explained that it was a last minute thing and when she decided to host a family this year, she wanted to make sure that she knew a little of the language and customs of the visiting team. As she had studied Russian in high school, it seemed the perfect choice.

"Once out of their training regimen, they are very pleasant," said Barbara Proudfoot. "They are really warm and open to learning about the American culture. They constantly remark about how gracious everyone has been. They are basically shy.

"There is what we would call a pecking order," she explained. "The head coach tells them what to do and there is strict discipline. During social times, the first hour, they are generally shy, but then they loosen up.

"There aren't really any KGB (Russian equivalent of the FBI) with them, but the trainers work for the government also.

"Everything has gone well though. The coaches are very careful about their physical conditions. For instance, we wanted to take the athletes water-skiing, but the coaches wouldn't let them water-ski. The coaches went skiing, but they won't let the athletes do anything physically demanding where they might get hurt.

"They are very interested in American culture. We gave them magazines with a lot of pictures in them, like Life and National Geographic. They were really amazed at the pictures in Life magazine showing the damage from the earthquake in the Ukraine (which occurred late last year). I think they were mostly amazed at the damage and how graphically it was depicted in the magazine.

"One of the funniest things that has happened was when we were at a dinner at Pat and Ed Grove's house near Deep Creek Lake. They have a waterbed and the Russians had never seen a waterbed before. They just couldn't believe that there was water in the bed. Finally, they tested the bed and commented that it was just like being on the river.

"Their funds are fairly limited though. The Rotary club has donated some money so the team members have a little extra spending money. The coaches have some money from the government, too.

"But I think that one of the athletes has about $200 with him. He asked me about buying a video camera to take back to Russia, but I had to tell him that you can't even begin to buy a video camera for $200. I guess they have video recorders there, but the cameras are more rare," Barbara said.

"One thing that I know that really amazes them is how much space there is. In Moscow, they all live in apartments and it can be pretty cramped. Like when we were at the Groves' house, they were astounded at how much space their family has for just five people," Barbara said.

The team members will be going to Washington, D.C. for more sightseeing, then on up to Canada to participate in the World's Cup.

"Last year it was pretty much a last minute thing," Barbara explained the decision to host the Russian team. "I had no knowledge of their customs or language, and that presented a problem, but it was fun. When I decided to do it again this year, I had to pick a country that I had a knowledge of. I had some Russian in high school, but I had to do a good bit of reviewing. But the knowledge of Russian and their customs has made it easier for me since I can understand some of what they are saying."

"But knowing them and speaking with them makes me aware of the commonalities rather than the differences. It's hard to believe that these are the people of Russia and to think in terms of actually dropping a bomb on them," said Barbara. "It makes me happy that Mikhail Gorbachev is taking such an initiative to reduce arms. The people are more like us than different. This experience makes me count my blessings."

Paul Schelp, describing himself as "interpretator, escort and friend," felt that the Russians visiting here provides a great opportunity to begin to correct the misrepresentations and misinformations that the people of the Soviet Union have toward the United States and that now some of them will be able to form their own ideas about the U.S.

"It is a big shock for them to see what the U.S. is like. I think it pretty much knocked them off their feet. Their cars and buildings are so old and everything is so dark and dreary. The service is just not as good there as it is here. The U.S. is such a freewheeling, bright place and there are so many contrasting scenes and sights here," he said.

"They probably think it is pretty organized here, since in the U.S.S.R. there are always changes in plans, or things don't always work there like they do here. Like there, an elevator may break down, causing complete chaos, but that doesn't happen here. At least not with the same regularity," he laughed. "They do seem to have a lot of freedom here, though. I met them at the airport and I expected they would have at least one alien figure with them, so I was really surprised when they didn't.

"The only bad incident so far was when one guy was out talking on another floor and ended up falling asleep and didn't come back till like three in the morning. He got chewed out and I don't think it was just because he was an athlete."

Schelp studied Russian at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. He had an opportunity to use the knowledge of the language when he visited Russia last summer with the U.S. team. He is also a kayaker, and currently works with Project Raft, a non-profit California company that has a youth exchange program with Russia and also does rafting and kayaking trips.

"I like to see exchanges occurring, especially between younger people because there is so much to learn. They are a more informed populace and are more thinking in terms of developing an idea of what the U.S. is like," he said.

Schelp described an incident that shows the difference between the two countries, "We were at the Air and Space Museum (at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C.) and afterwards we went out to the mall to have a picnic. The only thing they have similar to the mall is the Red Square in Moscow and it is all stone and concrete. Here there is grass and people flying Frisbees, and you can't do that there either.

"They were really surprised we can fly Frisbees and drink beer, well, you can't drink beer, but we did anyway. . ." Schelp laughed.

"They have really received little support from the government (since whitewater sports haven't been included in the Olympics since 1972)," Schelp said. "They continued the sport because they liked it and it was mainly the initiative of the athletes and the local people that made them continue with the sport."

While receiving little support from their government, the Soviet athletes have persisted with whitewater sports because they have a genuine love of it. Their equipment is overweight and Schelp explained that they have to work on their boats every day. But this has not stopped them from coming to America to observe the best athletes and to compete in this weekend's Olympics.

"We are here to get some experience and see the best athletes paddle and to find what it is like to paddle with the best in the world," said Kuzmin.

Sergei Kuznetsov, a 34 year old physicist who has been paddling for 11 years, said that there are rivers just like the Savage in Russia and attributes his group's trip to America to Glasnost.

"I am not a full time athlete, but it is true that to compete on the world level you have to train a lot and there won't be so much time to work as before. So you have to sacrifice something," he said.

"It is a great pleasure to train with the best in the world. I'm here basically to get experience in international competition. I don't think I'll finish in the top ten." he said.

When questioned as to whether it is a mistake by the Americans to help their team as much as they have, Sergei replied, "I think giving help is never a mistake."

The biggest continent is Asia. At almost 17,000,000 square miles, it's nearly 30 percent of the earth.

RUSSIAN TEAM MEMBERS AND COACHES spoke to members of the media for a short time on Tuesday. The team members were being honored with a luncheon by the Rotary Club, which has helped to sponsor the Soviet Union's trip to the United States. Above, translator Ilya Tyomkin speaks to Sergie Kuzmetson, a 34-year-old physicist, who said that now there won't be as much time to work (at his career), but that sacrifices must be made. Below, Tyomkin translates for head trainer Anatol Kuzmin.

Sheriff's Department Investigates Cases Of Property Destruction

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is currently investigating several cases of property destruction, two involving damage apparently done by stray bullets.

A spokesman for TCS, Inc., located in the Southern Garrett Industrial Park, reported that a bullet penetrated a window and was found lodged in an interior wall. The incident occurred some time between May 26 and May 30. Repair and replacement costs total $199. On April 30, a nearby residence located on Route 135 sustained damage apparently caused by small calibre pellets or bullets. All leads in these cases have been exhausted. Corporal Larry E. Gnegy urges anyone with any information to contact the Sheriff's Department immediately at 334-1911.

Shannon Marie Sanders, Oakland, reported that two of her automobile's tires were punctured June 15 between midnight and 9 a.m. The damage totalled $84. According to Corporal Larry E. Gnegy, there are no suspects at this time and the investigation is continuing.

Marvin W. Warnick, Grantsville, reported that unknown person(s) attempted to pry open the front and rear doors of his residence between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday. No entry was gained but the residence sustained minor damage. Chief Deputy Harland S. Tichnell is investigating.

A spokesperson for the Silver Tree Inn, Deep Creek Lake, reported that between noon and 9 p.m. on June 14 an unknown person or persons upset a refrigerator compressor unit located outside the building, causing the unit to burn up. The total loss is estimated at $1,500, however if food spoilage occurred, the monetary loss could be higher. According to Deputy Jay B. Sowers, there are no suspects at this time and the investigation is continuing.

Oakland Police Investigate B And E, Theft

A breaking and entering theft is under the investigation of the Oakland City Police Department this week.

According to reports, someone opened the lock on a storage building at the Center Street Playground and removed seven basketballs, five cases of soda, and $6 in change. Total losses reached $284.

Cpl. E.L. Alexander is investigating.

Cpl. Alexander arrested Michael Allen Rogers, 18, Mtn. Lake Park, on Friday, charging him with driving while intoxicated, operating a vehicle with expired tags, and driving with no rear lights.

"Foxfire" Set Created From Several Pieces Of Garrett County History

by Francis Acton

"The rugged rounded mountains, old in time
From which the jagged peaks no longer climb
Mysterious, surrealistic now to view;
Topping their valley hidden in the mists of blue."*

The Blue Ridge Mountains — and the sturdy people of Appalachia who carved a satisfying life from this beautiful but sometimes hostile environment — have become reality on the stage of the Garrett County Community through the skill and imagination of Ben Sincell and his crew, Conrad Maust and Mike Bittinger.

In preparation for the play "Foxfire" which opens the third season of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, Ben has created a mountain cabin atop the Blue Ridge in Rabun County, Georgia, authentically with actual pieces of Garrett County history. The porch of the cabin was transported in entirety from the old Grange Hall in Pleasant Valley.

One well-known resident of the county reminisced about the times he had trod that porch on hay rides in the late 1940s that began and terminated at the Hall. The rest of the porch structure is from old abandoned houses in adjacent areas.

The remains of the wagon, which takes Hector Nations back in memory to "Old Hoover's time," is from the farm of Joan Glotfelty Sussman, and the table which is the focal point of the passage of time from birth to death, is from the campsite in Mountain Lake Park.

The door of the "barn" is from Weber's old greenhouse, the door of the root cellar from a place atop of Backbone Mountain, and the door and window frames of the house are from the farm of Harold Maust near Bittinger.

Ben's design is part of the requirement in pursuit of his degree in master of fine arts in theatre design, under the guidance of James Brown, faculty advisor and interim chairman at West Virginia University. The completed set will be somewhat of an impressionistic painting depicting a way of life that was very real, and while still real, is fast fading — even as we watch — giving way to a new and modern culture; not so rigorous, but perhaps, not so fulfilling.

Ben Sincell is instructor of speech and drama at Garrett Community College and has been technical director for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival for the past three years.

Conrad Maust is a student at GCC and has been involved in acting and technical work at the college. He lives with his family at Country Acres Strawberry Farm.

Mike Bittinger is a 1989 graduate of Southern High School and will soon be starting his four-year hitch in the U.S. Army.

The set is a work of art. The audience will be immersed in its ambience, and be able to become a part of a fading culture which — who knows — may someday once again be the foundation of a new beginning.

"Somehow the purple mountains will still stand
When all the glades are covered with the dust
Of man's distrust and naked greed,
And all the good earth gone to seed.
Somewhere through the anguish and the tears
Down the millenium of years,
A sadder but a wiser man will stand
And from the dust restore the beauty of the land."*

*(From "Passage Of Time" by J. Batham)

"FOXFIRE" SET — While rehearsals are continuing for the July production of the play "Foxfire" as part of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, construction of the set for that play is also progressing. Most of the set is composed of true pieces of Garrett County history, as various parts have been secured from old houses and barns throughout the county. The entire front porch of the old Grange building in Pleasant Valley has been removed and transported intact to the Garrett Community College stage. The performances are set for July 5-9. Pictured left to right above are Mike Bittinger, set crew; Ben Sincell, set designer and crew; and Conrad Maust, set crew.

Two visits of the American Red Cross bloodmobile are scheduled for Garrett County over the next two weeks, according to Lucy Burnett, chairman.

The Bloodmobile will be at the National Guard Armory in Oakland on Friday, June 30, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and at the Friendsville Fire Hall on Friday, July 7, from noon to 6 p.m.

Md. State Police Report Arrests

Four arrests were reported this week by Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment.

Two juveniles from the Friendsville area, one 15 years old and one 16, were arrested by Tfc. L. Rosage on Saturday. The youths are charged in connection with the June 7 breaking and entering theft at the Riverside Lounge, Friendsville.

Both juveniles were released to their parents.

A 17-year-old Friendsville juvenile was charged on Saturday at 3 a.m. in Friendsville with disorderly conduct and possession of controlled dangerous substance paraphernalia.

David H. Rush, West Elizabeth, Pa., was charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance on Saturday.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney reported that Rush was first charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, and a body search revealed suspected hashish.

Man Sentenced To One Year For Escape Charge

An 18-year-old Ridge man was sentenced to one year in the Garrett County Jail for a charge of escape during a trial held last week in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Randall E. Stallings Jr. was sentenced for the January 11, 1989, escape from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center. Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer then suspended the sentence except for time served through June 20, 1989.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered for Stallings during an April 27 trial. His attorney was John R. Toston, assistant public defender.

In another case, the judge sentenced Gary Ray Rossback, 20, Accident, to six months in the Anne Arundel County Detention Center for a charge of misdemeanor theft. The sentence will run concurrently with a sentence he is presently serving there, and credit will be given for time served.

Rossback pled guilty to the charge, which was filed following a January 3, 1989, incident at the Garrett Community College Library. A breaking and entering charge was not prosecuted.

A bench warrant had been ordered for Rossback when he failed to appear for a March 16 scheduled trial. His attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

The judge ordered a presentence investigation for Delores J. Wilburn, 28, Grantsville, for a charge of fraud. Her bond was continued.

Wilburn pled guilty to the charge, which was filed following the period of December, 1985, November, 1986. The charges involved monies from the Garrett County Department of Social Services.

Not prosecuted were one count of theft and two additional counts of fraud. Wilburn was represented by Lee A. Caplan.

Positive Coverage, Please

Our office received a call early this week from a woman who is planning to do a feature story for French television on Garrett County, the site of the Whitewater World Championships. She was requesting information on poverty in Garrett County.

It was evident that, once again, Garrett County was going to be portrayed as the stereotyped Appalachian mountain country, where most of the inhabitants are uneducated, unemployed, shack dwellers. The lady caller assured us that she was also going to speak to persons at Deep Creek Lake to show the contrast of the standard of living in Garrett County; however, we were still uncomfortable, and assured her that the great majority of Garrett Countians were neither wealthy nor impoverished, but middle and upper middle class folks who do have good jobs, nice homes, smiles with all teeth intact, and yes, even shoes.

Garrett County is under the world's microscope this week, as print and television media from all over the world are here reporting on the Whitewater World Championships. There is coverage from over a dozen television stations from several countries and more than 70 newspapers. NBC Television alone has three dozen employees here preparing a full hour of coverage that will air on nationwide television July 2.

Such attention is indeed exciting, but we sincerely hope our media friends will give Garrett County a fair shake in terms of what life is really like here for the majority of our residents. The temptation is always there to mis-represent our county, which has happened on numerous past occasions by large media. Hopefully, if and when the attention of the media is momentarily drawn away from the Savage River and the athletes, and focused upon the area and its people, the many positive aspects of life in Garrett County will be highlighted. Certainly we have our share of poverty and problems in Garrett County, just as every area has, and we are not suggesting that they should be covered up or ignored. But it will accomplish nothing to have our "dirty laundry" hung out for the world to see, and it would be inaccurate to suggest that this is representative of life for most Garrett Countians.

A positive side feature could certainly be done on the hundreds of local volunteers who have worked so hard to make this event a reality. Another could focus simply on the breathtaking beauty of our county. Another could highlight the vast recreational offerings that are available in Garrett County. A visit to one or more of our towns could provide food for still another positive story.

We welcome all to Garrett County this week — the athletes and coaches, the visiting spectators, and the media personnel. We are thrilled to have you as our guests and we thank you for being here. But please, reporters, we ask you to keep your focus on the overall picture in Garrett County and not on a few cobwebs in the corners.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In 1977 the Grantsville Business Association decided to have an event that would encourage local organizations to work together to sponsor a fun weekend for the community. It was designed as a non-commercial "house-coming" event for people who had moved away from Grantsville — a chance for them to return to Grantsville to renew old acquaintances and to have family reunions. The participating organizations would be able to use the event for fund-raising — and it was decided that food booths would be limited to non-commercial, local church and community organizations. That tradition has continued to the present day and that's what separates Grantsville Days from other events that allow commercial food venders. The food concessions have centered around the local Lions Club chicken BBQ which is held both Saturday and Sunday.

The three-day event is now coordinated by the Grantsville Lions Club. Through the years, two nights of fireworks have been added and are now sponsored entirely by local businesses. An owner of a local business donates his time and expertise in shooting the fireworks every year. He isn't alone — many other community members donate their time to make Grantsville Days successful. The entire community joins together each year to have a successful weekend.

There are many activities for persons of all ages, including: tennis, horseshoe pitching, and basketball contests. Recently tractor and horse pulling contests have been added with great enthusiasm from the community. Other events such as children's games and square dance demonstrations have become traditional Grantsville Days events.

Similar community events are held each year, but we feel Grantsville Days is unique. Ask anyone who has attended and you will get the same answer — they are looking forward to the next Grantsville Days. Each year the attendance grows, so the word must be getting out. Come to Grantsville this weekend and stay at our own, historic Casselman Inn. See you June 23-25!

Gerry Beachy,
Grantsville Days
Chairman

To the Editor:

It is very disturbing to find that a person convicted of a serious crime can be eligible for bond during the appeal process. I always thought that, once arrested for a crime, a person could secure bond until such time of conviction by a Jury. After all, during this period the person is treated as innocent and bond is set at an amount appropriate for the crime and past criminal record.

However, once found guilty it is a double standard to allow bond since the person is no longer innocent. Why convict and sentence, then allow a person out on bond during the appeal process — a process which could take as much as three years? I might be able to accept this for certain non-violent crimes, but certainly not murder.

On Wednesday, June 21, the family of Catherine D. Ford will attend such a bond hearing for the convicted murderer, Paul William Farrell. It seems that as a family we will never be able to put this murder of Cathy behind us. We must follow along every step of the way to assure that justice is served and, believe me, one cannot assume that justice will be served in today's judicial system. Just when the pain of the loss of Cathy subsides, we are back in the courtroom watching the rights of the convicted protected. I guess I'm finally realizing that the victim truly has no rights.

Carl Ford Jr.
Gorman

Editor's Note: Post conviction bond for Farrell was denied at yesterday's hearing.

To the Editor:

Beef is back. That's good news to those of us who enjoy eating beef, whether it's a lean, tender steak; a convenient, flavorful roast; or a burger with all the trimmings. It's also good news to those of us who raise cattle.

Beef is big business. In Maryland cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled $67 million in 1988. And the dairy industry is an important part of the beef industry. Twenty percent of all beef consumed in the U.S. comes from dairy cattle and, on average, dairymen's income from beef sales can amount to about 10 percent of their income from milk sales.

There's an important reason why beef is back. Beef producers became part of a new era in the beef industry on October 1, 1986, when the national beef checkoff program began. Through the checkoff, beef producers invest one dollar per head of cattle sales in a program which funds beef promotion, education and research at both the national and state levels.

June 27, 1989, marks the 1,000th day of the national beef checkoff program — 1,000 days of solid progress for us in the beef industry. Both personally and as a part of a progressive cattle industry, we are proud of this progress.

Sincerely,
John Mazur, president,
Maryland Cattlemen's Association
Dr. Emmitt Full, chairman
Maryland Beef Industry Council

To the Editor:

We should all learn some hard lessons by the events that have taken place at the Garrett County Health Department. A handful of people who felt things were poorly handled tried to duck personal responsibility and bring in the "benevolent gods" of the State Department to solve local Health Department problems. Only the gods turned out to be anything but benevolent and ethics, service delivery, and morale have grossly deteriorated.

The employees and clients of the Health Department are the big losers. If only that handful of people had had the courage to speak out locally and give Dr. Pope and the citizens of Garrett County a chance. Unfortunately, by asking outsiders to solve our problems, the baby has been thrown out with the bath water.

True, we are left with a Health Department that better fits the typical description of traditional state service. Incompetence is promoted and originality and courage fired outright. The future of our local Health Department services looks grim.

Wake up, Garrett County! We are capable of solving our own problems and understanding our county's needs. It is our responsibility to elect county commissioners who have the guts and abilities to govern this county without relying on outsiders to tell them what to do.

A very sad and angry former employee of the Health Dept.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Local Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is currently investigating several thefts that have occurred recently.

A spokesman for Green Acres Garden Center, Oakland, reported a breaking and entering and theft that took place between 8 p.m. on June 8 and 7:30 a.m. on June 9. A window was broken and a desk was damaged during the incident. The person(s) then removed a hidden cash box from the premises. No other items were reported missing. The total loss resulting from property damage and theft is estimated at $715. According to Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy, the investigation is continuing.

A theft occurred on the roof of Mid-Towns Cinemas, Oakland, June 13 at 1 p.m. A person or persons cut two coaxial cables and a steel antenna pole with a hack saw, removing them from the premises. According to Deputy David M. Stoner, the loss is estimated at $120.65. The investigation is continuing.

Claude Herbert Hinebaugh, Deer Park, reported a June 6 theft that occurred in his field between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. According to Detective Randy L. Sines, 400-500 pounds of copper wire, copper pipe and scrap aluminum were stolen from his field located along Boiling Spring Road. The total loss is estimated at $500.

Five stolen mailboxes belonging to residents of Lonaconing were recently recovered and returned undamaged to their rightful owners. The discovery of the mailboxes was made by a Green Lantern Road resident just as one of the victims was reporting the theft. The mailboxes, which were stolen between 2 p.m. on June 15 and 10 a.m. on June 16, were valued at $75.

French Team

Bringard, France, won another bronze for the French.

TEAM RESULTS

France won three gold medals in the wildwater team events held on Sunday. First place finishes were accomplished in the men's C-1, men's K-1, and women's K-1. West Germany beat the French out of a fourth gold medal by winning the men's C-2 event.

In the team events, three boats in each class compete as a team on the 4.5 mile wildwater course on the Savage River. Timing begins when the first boat passes the starting line and ends when the last boat crosses the finish line. Penalty seconds are added if more than 15 seconds in time separate the first and last boat.

West Germany's team of six men; Stefan Bauch, Hubert Bauch, Ulrich Knittel, Andreas Dajek, Gregor SImon, and Stephan Eich won the gold medal in the C-2 team event with a time of 23:43.61.

France's team, Claude Alaphillippe, Bruno Puyfoulhoux, Gilles Chambeaudie, Jean Luc Rigaut, Eric Archambault, and Thierry Carlin won the silver medal and the Italian team of Anton Plaikner, Werner Pardeller, Carlo Toccafondi, Vittorio Ottanelli, Andrea Baldi and Maurizio Bianconi won the bronze medal for that event.

The trainer of West Germany's team, Stefan Korner, encouraged the team to go out and do the best they could, explained one team member. He went on to say, "Our will is significantly better today. We did not do well yesterday (Saturday), but today (Sunday), we got together and we won."

France's team of Karim Benamrouche, Pascal Halko and Jean Luc Bataille won the gold medal in the C-1 event with a time of 24:59.41. Winning the silver medal was West Germany's team of Ernst Libuda, Raymond Klatt and Frank Steinhauser and coming in third to win the bronze medal was the Yugoslavian team of Andrej Jelenc, Josko Kancler and Srecko Masle.

A member of the French team said that it was a team victory. "Team spirit is the most important thing. We improved our time by seven seconds. Yesterday, we had a bad time, but it's been really great to have the support of our team members," he said.

France took the gold medal in the men's K-1 team event with a time 22:23.09. The team of Antoine Goetschy, Joel Doux and Claude Benezit beat West Germany's team of Rolf Kilian, Dirk Druschke and Markus Dobesch. Winning the bronze medal was Switzerland's team Markus Keller, Stefan Greier and Ronald Juillerat.

"We are very proud of France today, but we are disappointed about the C-2 team. We thought they would have won. But we have done very good today. We paddled the river with the same time that we had yesterday, which is a good time for us," one team member enthused.

Sabine Kleinhenz led the French K-1W team to her second gold medal with a time of 24:13.66. Laurence Castet and Aurore Bringard were the other team members that beat out West Germany's team of Karin Wahl, Brigette Godecke and Petra Bauch. Taking home the bronze was the Italian team of Elisabeth Zingerle, Romina Panato and Doriana Pasetto.

Kleinhenz was the only wildwater racer to win two gold medals during the weekend's events. She is a former swimmer and slalom competitor and may try to compete in slalom in the upcoming Olympics. "I may go back to slalom next, but I will never give up wildwater. If I make it to both teams, then I don't think that the French (government) will not permit me to take part in both," she said. Kleinhenz began whitewater racing in 1983 in slalom events and switched to wildwater events at the end of the 1987 season.

Winners in the wildwater team and individual events were presented with medals during ceremonies held each day after the races were completed. As a tribute to the gold medalists, each country's flag was raised and its national anthem played.

Bausch and Lomb presented Sunday's gold medalists each with a pair of Bausch and Lomb sunglasses.

Louie, Not Loure

Annual American Indian Pow Wow Expected To Be Better Than Ever

Year-long plans for the Seventh Annual American Indian Pow Wow, to be held at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, McHenry, are now nearing completion. The pow wow, which will be held July 8 and 9, has become an annual event at McHenry. "We're very pleased," said Bobby Little Bear, 1989 pow wow chairman, "that over the years we have built a reputation such that so many participants and visitors from different parts of the country come to Garrett County for our pow wow."

In addition to the two days of traditional singing and dancing, this year's pow wow will offer expanded cultural and craft demonstrations.

In the dance arena, Marty Good Bear, a Mandan-Hidatsa from Ft. Berthold, N.D., will perform the hoop dance daily. The dance, which involves the dancer creating intricate patterns by weaving small wooden hoops about his body while dancing, is usually performed with 12 to 20 hoops. Good Bear, who has traveled with the prestigious American Indian Dance Theatre, uses a total of 30 hoops.

Outside the dance arena, well-known Indian craftspeople will provide day-long demonstrations. A forge will be set up at which silversmith Grant Dial will create silver jewelry. Beadwork of assorted types and designs will be made and displayed by Vikki Dunkley of Ohio. Master falconer Lloyd Presley, of Frostburg, will be present both days with several of his birds of prey to answer questions about the birds and their place in the environment. The Cherokee basketweavers and wood carver who were a highlight of last year's pow wow are also expected to be on hand.

American Indian arts and crafts and foods will be sold and members of the Mt. Top No. 29 DAV and Auxiliary will operate a food booth offering hot dogs and hamburgers. The public is invited to attend and cameras are permitted. Admission is $4 per day for adults; children under 12 are admitted free.

For further information about the pow wow, contact Bobby Little Bear, 1989 pow wow chairman, at 301-730-1397, or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council at 301-334-1948.

A Warm Welcome For The Irish Team

Photos And Story By Lisa Rook

The river Liffey flows from the Wicklow and Dublin mountains through the heart of Dublin City, Ireland, and on to the Irish Sea. The Lagan river flows through Belfast, Northern Ireland, into the waters of the Belfast Lough and on to the sea. It is on these two rivers that the members of the Irish Whitewater team, competing in the slalom event this weekend on the Savage River, spend 90% of the year practicing, training and competing.

The seven-man, one-woman team, ranging in ages from 18 to 22, have been training and competing together since 1982 so there exists a closeness between the members that isn't found among a lot of teams.

The Irish, through the years, have invariably been described as a warm, gregarious, intelligent people with a witty sense of humor, and the Irish team, staying in Garrett County for the World Championships, is no exception.

Relaxing in their rented cottage on Deep Creek Lake after a day of training, the team talked about their impressions of Garrett County and its' people.

"Everyone here is so friendly."

"So many people have gone out of their way to help us. They couldn't have been nicer."

"Our host family, Dr. Thomas Johnson and his wife, Kathy, have done so much to make us feel at home. They're in constant touch with us making sure we have everything we need and taking care of any problems that have arisen. Through them we've met so many people and they've all been just lovely," commented Ike Jacob, team manager.

"We go into stores around here and folks hearing our accents come up to us and just start talking and wish us good luck in the races. Its really very flattering," stated Coach Desmond Killeen.

The team hasn't had much of a chance to do any sightseeing in the area because they are training most of the time.

"This region is so beautiful and it's too bad we can't see more of it. The organizers have done a very good job at the Savage River preserving the naturalness of the site. The river itself is fantastic -- very technical," said Killeen.

When one mentions Ireland, whitewater is probably the last thing that comes to mind. But, whitewater is alive and well in Ireland. It's becoming a popular sport -- very trendy. The Irish Canoe Union is the delegation that organizes the whitewater sports. The Federation itself has very little money so it's up to the individual competitors to finance their trip to these competitions. Some sponsorship is available and fund raising is done but most of the money comes out of their own pockets.

After the Worlds, the team will travel to Ontario, Canada; Wausau, Wisconsin and South Bend, Indiana, to compete in three legs of the World Cup Slalom competition. Then it's back to Ireland.

When asked what sort of a souvenir from Garrett County they would like to take back to Ireland with them, "A gold medal would be nice," was the unanimous reply.

Because of the moderate weather in Ireland, the team is able to paddle year-round. Eight national slalom competitions are held from October to April. Pictured above Pete Richardson "digs in" to maneuver around an upstream gate during a practice session on the Savage River.

Authentic, Turn-of-the-Century Nostalgic Disign Crafted in Solid Oak and Knotty Oak Veneers in a Rich, Clear Brown Oiled Oak Finish — Bright Brass Hardware with Genuine "Oatmeal" Porcelain Bail

A distinctive profile . . . authentic turn-of-the-cnetury detailing . . . the warmth and durability of oak . . . all of these combine to make "Recollections" — a bedroom group that captures the sturdy charm of handcrafted American oak furniture. Beds, Mirrors, and gallery rails are accented with authentic "spool and bobbin" turnings. The rich brown oiled oak finish is complemented with genuine porcelain pulls in an "oven fired" oatmeal color. The details of the case pieces — the sturdy carved pilasters, and routed drawer fronts and base rails — were inspired by an authentic oak antique.

"Recollections" is more than a nostalgic trip to the past — it is a highly functional unisex coorelated bedroom group with the versatility to meet the demands of an active lifestyle. A variety of beds, mirrors, and storage pieces can combine to provide a play/study area for a young person or a charming master bedroom. "Recollections" brings the warmth and beauty of the past to the practical needs of today.

French Team Takes Nine Medals; Coach Says Due To Hard Work

Coach Gilles Zok

The spotlight focused on France during last weekend's events of the 1989 World's Canoe/Kayak Championships held on the Savage River when the French team won four gold medals, two silver and three bronze medals.

Gilles Zok, coach of the wildwater C-1 team, said that he expected the team to win as many medals as they could. The team won more medals than any other nation in the 1987 World's events and Zok attributes the team's success to the work the team has done.

"We have been winning consecutively and this is because the team has worked very hard. The work has paid off," Zok explained.

France has 350 racers in the one-man canoe and the French Federation is very supportive, financially and otherwise, of its athletes. The French team of 40 athletes is the largest of all the participating teams at the World's.

The team doesn't train on a daily basis, but for one week a month the team meets and spends that week in complete training. The rest of the month the team spends training at home.

Team members don't have a special strict diet, but Zok said that members avoid meat and otherwise just "watch what they eat".

"I think that it is very beautiful here. Specifically, the water is wild all the length of the river. It is not very violent water and the type of flowing is continuous, which helps make for good paddling," Zok explained.

The French team has also paddled another of Garrett County's famous whitewater rivers — the Youghiogheny River, or Upper Yough, as it is known to kayakers and canoeists. The team spent one week training on "the Yough" before the start of the races.

THE WHITEWATER INTERNATIONAL GALA was held recently at the Western Maryland Railroad Station in Cumberland to promote and raise funds for the World Whitewater Championships currently being held on the Savage River in Garrett County. The event was sponsored by the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce and supported by the Greater Oakland Business Association. Among the organizers were, pictured above left to right, Shirley and Nicholas Giarritta, co-chairmen of the Gala; Ursella Franklin, of Cumberland City Council; Charles Amos, executive director of the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce; Barbara Trask, director of community relations for Whitewater Championships inc.; Bud Willetts, vice president, Allegany Chamber of Commerce; and Kitty and Luke Stuart, representing the Garrett National Bank. The event raised $2,000 for the championships.

Whitewater Gala Deemed "Success" By Organizers

The Whitewater International Gala, a special event held at the Western Maryland Railroad Station in Cumberland on June 3, was termed a "highly successful preliminary festivity" to the World Whitewater Championships taking place this month, according to Whitewater Championships, Inc.

The interior of the railroad station was specially adorned with flags from the many nations participating in the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships. The celebration was a promotion and fundraiser for WCI and was sponsored by the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce and supported by the Greater Oakland Business Association.

Chairpersons for the event were Dr. and Mrs. Nicholas Giarritta. Other committee members were Charlie Amos, executive director of the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce; Bud Willetts, Chamber of Commerce vice president; Ursula Franklin, member of the City Council; Connie Margison of the Greater Oakland Business Association; Debbie Fisher of Allegany Community College; and Jim Robey of WCBC radio. Additional volunteers were: Jay Steger, Mark McCunn, Joe Groen, Jay Miller, Karen Skidmore, Howard Buchannan, and Tom Trigg. Shirley Giarritta handled the decorating of the station, and was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Stokes of Ballons Over Cumberland. Part of the reception was held aboard the restored dining car of the Allegany Central Railroad.

Dixieland music was provided by Mason-Dixon Seven.

Exotic wines and hor d'oeuvres representative of the many different countries were served. Dr. and Mrs. Giarritta, owners of the Bistro Restaurant, provided the catering. A special feature was the unveiling of the official 1989 Whitewater Wine, the American Chardonnay of Elk Run Vineyards, of Mt. Airy. The wine was chosen on the basis of taste, price, availability, and labeling capability by a group of connoisseurs from Allegany and Garrett counties headed by George Collins of the McHenry Beverage Shoppe, McHenry. A plaque was received by Don Storck in behalf of the Elk Run Vineyard by the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce. The Whitewater Wine is being served at some of the "1989 World's" dinners and gatherings.

Charlie Amos stated that the Gala raised a total of $2,000 to support the Championships. "These funds are vey much needed and greatly appreciated," Don Storck, executive director of Whitewater Championships, Inc., said. "The Gala was a significant beginning to the Whitewater activities and showed the spirit and cooperation of local people that made possibile the bringing of the World Championships to Western Maryland.

the Department of Natural Resources knows to put the signs up for next weekend.

"I walk along and hear of problems and report the problems at the meeting and then we talk about what to do to make it better.

"I can't believe that there is a better place in the world than Garrett County to hold an event of this size. There is no doubt in my mind that this is the best," said Bambacus. "Even the president of the International Canoe Federation, Sergio Orsi, said that this is an Olympic Class Site."

Carl Lash, associate vice president of promotion and media relations for Whitewater Championships, Inc., and the executive director of the Sacred Heart Foundation, said that over 250 representatives of the press have been given credentials to cover the races.

"Some of the press that applied for passes did not receive them, so we have reopened the credentialing procedure. We didn't want to keep any of the press out.

"We have 14 professional photographers here, all of whom are volunteering for the state of Maryland. We have 13 television stations representing the major networks of Great Britain, France, West Germany, Yugoslavia, as well as U.S. stations. There are over 70 different print media here and we have 35 people from NBC television here to work on the program that they will broadcast on July 2. I don't know of a country that's not represented by press in one way or another," Lash explained.

There is total translator service available for the coaches, athletes and press. Tranlators are available for French, German, Yugoslavians, Italians, Spanish and Austrians, just to name a few.

"The press can communicate world-wide. There is phone service for Europeans to do interviews. We have booths for radio stations to do interviews and there is access to do private interviews," Lash said. "We have fax machines to send information all over the world and computers on-line to obtain biographical sketches of the athletes to race results to starting lists to running team totals to individual running totals.

"We have a photo lab that will develop film and print pictures for the photographers and if someone needs a picture, we will send a photographer out to get it. We have the ability to send photographs all over the world.

"C&P Telephone has provided us with a tremendous phone service. Considering our location relative to the rest of the world, we are doing a tremendous job here. The people have just been great, and I can tell you from experience that there are no people like the people you will find here. I moved here willingly, knowing that it is a small area and that all the conveniences aren't always there, but that the friendliness of the people will over compensate for that. It's just a really great area and I love it," Lash said.

Announcements are made over loud-speakers in three languages; English, French and German. Announcements from the starting times of the athletes, to the race results, to biographical information on the athletes is given in all languages.

Announcers also provide information about the race site, from how the Savage River obtained its name, to how much water is flowing through the race course.

When spectators tire of viewing the races, there are plenty of other sights to see. Food booths provide a variety of taste, from home-made ice cream and strawberry shortcake, to pizza and gyros.

Craft booths featuring a variety of merchandise, from Savage River souvenirs to whitewater canoes and kayaks, as well as hand-made belts, baskets and pottery, provide a chance to obtain lasting reminders of the event.

Princess Pale Moon, "Friend of the Children", with the White Eagle Dancers, performed live Indian dances at the race site and will be appearing this weekend at various times throughout the day as well.

Many local people enjoyed viewing the races and Dr. Stephen Herman, president of Garrett Community College, was just one of many to appreciate this event being held in Garrett County.

"Everyone at GCC is thrilled to see a first world class event held in western Maryland. We're delighted that the world is seeing Garrett County at its best," said Dr. Herman. "I just love the races. It's thrilling to see athletes fighting the mighty Savage."

He was born March 15, 1913, in Morgantown, a son of the late Frank and Dessie Smith Sisler.

He was a member of the Lake Ford United Methodist Church and Preston County Senior Citizens, and was a farmer, a hunter and a trapper.

He is survived by his wife, Georgie A. Liston Sisler; three sons, George W. Sisler and Charles E. ROTARY NEWS

The program chairman of the Terra Alta Rotary's June 8 meeting was Charles Thomas, who spoke about the problem of trash disposal and garbage. Thomas said the United States generates 1,547 pounds of trash per person annually, more than any other nation in the world. Landfills in coastal U.S. states charge approximately $100 per ton in dumping fees. West Virginia charges approximately $8 to $9 per ton. It is both economical and convenient to haul and dump garbage from other states to West Virginia. The new West Virginia solid waste law will help control out-of-state dumping and provide for clean-up of our "over the hill" dumps, "but this would result in increased costs for our own trash disposal," Thomas said. Recycling as much as possible is the answer for this increasing problem, and the only alternative for the next decade, he added.

Four members of the Terra Alta Rotary Club, including President Richard Hopkins, attended a breakfast on June 6, a change in Rotary meeting times. The Board of Directors decided that, on an experimental basis, the club will continue to have breakfast meetings, the first scheduled to begin at 7 a.m. on July 6.

The Rotary will independently participate in the July 4 activities by having a hot dog and ice cream stand outside of Thomas IGA on July 1,3, and 4. Rotarians will rotate to serve the public. June 22 is set as the date for the traditional picnic at Ogleby Nature Camp.

New officers for 1989-90 will be installed June 29.

New Events Set For Terra Alta Fourth Of July

Terra Alta's annual Fourth of July celebration, which is the oldest in the state of West Virginia, will include several new events this year. In addition to the Fireman's Fair and the Demolition Derby, there will be an Ox-Roast and a Community Chorus Concert sponsored by the Park Commission. These two events will be held Sunday, July 2, in the park.

A year ago this week the town celebrated the re-dedication of the Community Building after it had undergone extensive renovation. "It was wonderful to see so many people enjoying the park," commented Commissioner Kate Peters. "This year we are hoping to repeat the experience with an old-fashioned picnic and a community sing."

Despite the name, the dinner actually features beef, which is roasted in a deep pit. Tickets for this event are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children by advance purchase only and are available at the Book Mark'et on Second Street in Oakland and at several businesses in Terra Alta. There will be no admission charge for the concert.

Bruceton High Alumni To Meet

Bruceton High School Alumni Association is now making plans for its annual reunion.

Graduates, former students, parents, faculty and friends will meet July 2 at the new Bruceton Fire Hall, located directly above the old fire hall. The change in location is because of construction at the school.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m. and lunch will be served at noon. Those who live within a two-hour drive of Bruceton are asked to bring a covered dish which will serve a couple of extra people. Those traveling a greater distance need not bring food.

Preston County Schools Schedule Screening Program

The Special Education Department of the Preston County Schools will conduct a summer screening program for all children starting kindergarten classes this fall.

This program will begin July 10 and end July 21. All parents having children who will begin school this fall should bring their children to their local school according to the schedule. Any parents not wanting their child involved in the screening program may call Preston County Schools, Special Education Department, at (304) 329-0580.

Tracy Alderson and Suzanne Viski, speech pathologists, and Vick Wallace, school audiologist, will provide a speech screening test, a pure tone hearing screening test, and an impedance hearing test.

Vision testing will be provided by Isabelle Liller, school nurse. Parents will receive notifications if it is found that further testing is required by an opthalmologist.

Readiness screening for kindergarten students will be provided by a testing instrument called Brigance K-1 Screen. It will assess color recognition, vocabulary development, motor skills, ability to follow directions, ability to count, simple drawings, and other readiness activities. This data will be used to determine the projected school success of a kindergarten student. Readiness tests will be given by Donna Contic, Deanne Goodrich, Tessa Chambers, and Jean Humphreys.

Any parents requesting early school entrance should be sure to have their child participate in this screening activity. If further testing is needed to confirm early entrance, the parents will be notified by mail, so that arrangements can be made for a complete evaluation by a certified psychologist.

Parents of 3- and 4-year-old children with suspected speech, learning, or physical problems should also bring their children to the screening. If further testing is needed, the parents will be notified by mail, so that arrangements can be made for a complete evaluation by a certified psychologist.

The schedule for screening at the elementary schools is as follows: July 10, Bruceton-Brandonville, Brandonville Building, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; July 11, Aurora, first grade classroom, 9-11:30 a.m., and Rowlesburg, office area, 12:30-3:30 p.m.; July 12, Fellowsville, cafeteria, 9-11:30 a.m., and Newburg, first grade classroom, 12:30-3:30 p.m.; July 13, Tunnelton-Denver, Denver Building, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; July 14, Terra Alta, cafeteria, primary building, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; July 17, 18, Valley, office area, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; July 19, 20, Kingwood/Albright, office area, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; July 21, make-up time, Kingwood Elementary office area, 9-11:30 a.m.

Oaks Win One, Drop Two In Pen-Mar Action

The Oakland Oaks went one-for-three this past weekend in Pen-Mar Baseball League action, dropping a 6-4 decision to Keyser on Saturday at Clark Field and then splitting with host Tri-Towns on Sunday afternoon, losing the first game, 16-4, and winning the second by the same score.

It was a former Oakland player, Randy Cirillo, who rapped the winning RBI in the bottom of the fifth inning for Keyser on Saturday after Oakland knotted the score at 4-4 with a three-run top of the fifth.

Oakland took a 1-0 lead in the first inning, but Keyser came back in the bottom of that inning for four runs when Mark Liller reached on an error, Wayne Brown followed with a single, Mark Tysinger doubled to score Liller and Brown, Cirillo doubled to score Tysinger, and Mike Stanislawczyk singled to plate Cirillo.

Lawrence Nesselrodt, coach of the Garrett Community College Lakers, led off Oakland's half of the fifth with a walk and then advanced to second when Jon Reneslacis was struck by a pitch. Steve Zumpano followed with a single to score Nesselrodt, but Reneslacis was picked off at third. Zumpano then scored on a single by Tim McNemar, who later went to third on a two-base error. Corky Sweitzer followed with a sacrifice fly to bring McNemar home, tying the score at 4-4.

Setting the stage for Cirillo's two-run single were Jeff Staggers, who lined a one-out double, Brown, who singled, and Tysinger, who walked to load the bases.

Paul Wilson went the distance, struck out eight, walked six, and allowed six hits to record the win for Keyser, while Mike Brady went all the way for Oakland, yielding eight hits and two walks, and striking out three.

The win improved Keyser's record to 3-2.

Oakland's Scott Lohr was hammered for four runs in the first inning of Sunday's first game against Tri-Towns, four runs in the third and seven in the fourth, as the Oaks were never really in the game.

Merle Gross and Pat Dick smacked back-to-back homers in the first inning, while a home run by Wink Spitzer and an RBI double by Dick highlighted the fourth inning.

Spitzer earned the win on the mound as he went the distance, gave up nine hits, and struck out eight batters.

A four-hitter by Oakland's Tim McNemar, coupled with a five-home-run offensive effort, highlighted the second game, as the Oaks recorded their third win in seven games.

Nesselrodt and Ed Wildesen each homered in the five-run first inning, Sweitzer and Young each rapped one in the third inning, and Zumpano smashed a three-run shot in the fifth.

Gross hit a long ball for Tri-Towns, a two-run blast in the third inning.

Garrett Legion Team Splits With Cumberland

The Garrett County American Legion baseball team opened its 1989 Mountain District season Saturday by splitting a doubleheader with host Cumberland, dropping the first contest, 3-2, and coming back to easily win the nightcap, 7-1.

After being down 2-0 in the first game, the Garrett team knotted the score in the top of the fifth when James Sulser rapped a two-run RBI, driving in Randall Ours who had walked and Kevin Yokem who had reached on a fielder's choice.

Cumberland won the game in the bottom of the sixth when Rich Grey singled and later scored on a single by Chris Koelker. In that same inning, Garrett's centerfielder Ryan Harman made an outstanding defensive play by throwing out Brian Grose at the plate.

Sulser finished with two hits and two RBIs for Garrett, while Yokum added a double.

Rich Grey earned the win on the mound over Rod Cooper.

Garrett scored all the runs it needed in the first inning of the second game, jumping out to a 2-0 lead when Yokum and Rod Cooper led off with singles and came home on a double by D.G. Largent.

RYAN HARMAN
Servicemaster
Player of the Week

Mike Ortiz singled, stole second, and came home on a hit by Jeff Barclay in the bottom of the first to give Cumberland its only run of the game.

Garrett added a single run in the fourth when Cooper singled, stole second, and scored on Largent's single.

The top of the sixth saw Coach Ed Wildesen's team add four more runs, as Yokum walked, Sulser followed with a single, and Cooper and Largent reached on errors to score one run. Harman then drove in two more runs with a single and John Sherbin accounted for the fourth score of the inning by rapping a sacrifice fly.

Largent had four of Garrett's 14 hits, while Yokum, Sulser, Cooper, and Harman each finished with two.

Winning pitcher Ryan Harman allowed only two hits and struck out six in going the distance, a performance that made him the Servicemaster Player of the Week.

Cumberland is leading the Mountain District standings with a 2-1 mark, followed by Garrett and Frostburg at 1-1, and Westernport at 1-2.

Grantsville Upsets Keyser, Edges Central Garrett

An eight-run sixth inning highlighted a 9-4 upset win by Grantsville over previously unbeaten Keyser last Wednesday night in Bi-State Pony League action in Keyser. Grantsville then topped Central Garrett in extra innings on Sunday at Northern High School, 7-5, to improve their record to 4-3.

A series of Keyser errors, a triple by Jon Houser, several other base hits, and a sacrifice fly accounted for the eight-run spree against Keyser. Grantsville was out-hit in the game, 8-7, but Keyser, which dropped to 4-1, committed 11 errors.

It was a two-run single in the top of the 10th inning by winning pitcher Eric Swauger that gave Grantsville the win over Central Garrett Sunday afternoon.

When Swauger took the mound in the seventh frame in relief of Jon Houser, he faced a 4-2 deficit. But Houser smacked a three-run homer in the top of the seventh to put Grantsville on top, 5-4.

Central tied it at 5-5 in the bottom of the seventh when Eric Umbel came home on a fielding error.

Houser finished with a double and a single to go with his home run and Swauger recorded three singles.

Mike Fike doubled and singled for Central, while Doug Brenneman added two singles.

SHS Hoopsters Key Players In All-Star Contest

Three members of Southern High School's varsity basketball team played key roles in the Western Maryland All-Stars' 99-83 victory over the West Virginia Stars Saturday night. The Western Maryland Basketball Classic was held at Frostburg State University.

Richard Evick, Zack Gibson, and Joe Refosco, all members of the 1989 graduating class at Southern, saw considerable action in the contest, as the Maryland team rallied from a 27-21 deficit in the first half and took the lead for good late in the first half.

Evick finished with 13 points, as he went five for nine from the floor and sunk two of three free throws. Gibson netted 10 points in four of seven shots from the floor and two-for-two at the line, while Refosco recorded seven points, seven rebounds, and was credited with an outstanding defensive performance against West Virginia's MVP Jeremy Bodkin in the second half.

In the girls' contest, All American Christy Cooper of Circleville High School led the West Virginia All-Stars over the Maryland team, 67-45, as she ripped the nets for 39 points, pulled 15 rebounds, and recorded five steals and four assists.

The West Virginians led by only three, 39-36, after three quarters, but Cooper led her team on a 28-8 scoring spree in the final period to put the game away. The WVU-bound Cooper netted five field goals and was six-for-six from the line in that fourth-quarter offensive.

Southern High School's Marci Stemple was among the Maryland players, however she did not score.

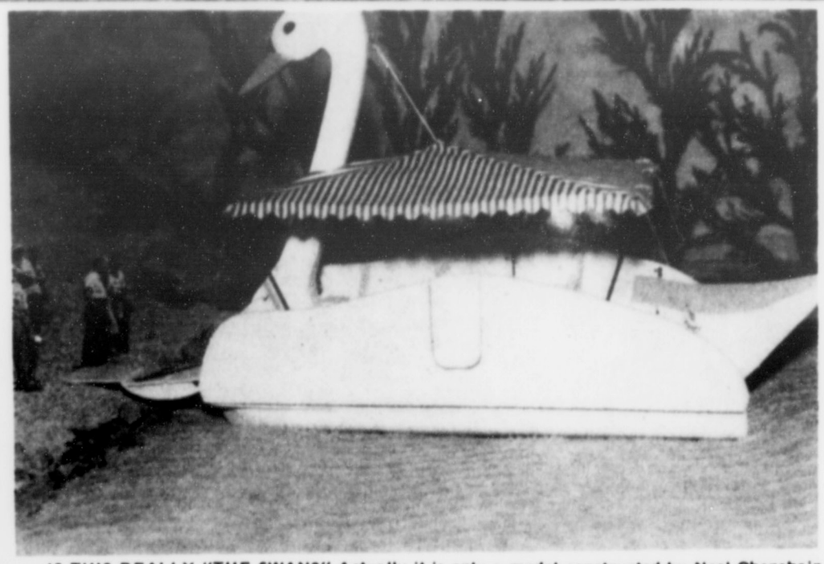
"THE SWAN" IS HAVING A BIRTHDAY PARTY! July 1 marks the 25th anniversary of the maiden voyage of this motorized pontoon boat, designed and built by Noel Obenshain. In celebration of that fact, Mr. Obenshain is having a party, complete with birthday cake and beverages and free boat rides for all who attend. The event will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 1, at his Hazelhurst, Deep Creek Lake residence. Mr. Obenshain has extended an invitation to all to attend.



IS THIS REALLY "THE SWAN?" Actually it is only a model constructed by Noel Obenshain before he built the life-sized version of his motorized pontoon boat. The water is actually a bedspread, but how did he shrink those people?

DO YOU HAVE THE TIME? This question need never be asked in Noel Obenshain's front yard, where a large sundial stands on display. Obenshain designed and built the timepiece, which is 15 feet wide and nine feet tall. The vertical piece alone weighs 1,700 pounds.

Noel Obenshain To Honor The Swan With 25th Anniversary Celebration

by Michele Collins

Deep Creek Lake is home to a unique swan, an extraordinary swan, the tip of whose head reaches over 14 feet above the water. In actuality, this graceful aquatic bird is a motorized pontoon boat, designed and built by Noel Obenshain 25 years ago. July 1 marks the 25th anniversary of the maiden voyage of the boat, and Mr. Obenshain has planned a special celebration. "The Swan's" birthday party will begin at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 1. There will be birthday cake, beverages, and free rides available to all who attend the party.

To date, 7,420 people have been passengers on "The Swan," people from nearly all fifty states and many countries around the world. Mr. Obenshain has never charged a penny for these boat rides. All he asks of his passengers is that they sign his log book.

D. Noel Obenshain

Noel Obenshain, a brilliant inventor renowned for his innovations in the paper industry, has 79 patents to his name. In addition to his patented inventions, Obenshain has also designed countless gadgets for his personal pleasure. Some are labor-savers, others merely enrich the quality of his life. "The Swan" is one of the most striking of his inventions in operation at his Deep Creek Lake home called Danovista.

Mr. Obenshain spent about three years designing and building "The Swan." After drawing up the initial design plans based upon actual photographs of the mute swan, he constructed a miniature model of the boat. Mr. Obenshain then proceeded to construct the boat with the help of several friends, including Don Smith, Glen Van Sickle and Billy Bowers. He even fabricated his own pontoons, made of styrofoam and encased in fiberglass.

The boat boasts many unusual features, including the movable head and neck, which can be lowered to the deck with the flip of a switch to enable the boat to pass under bridges. The eyes of "The Swan" are red and green lights, which serve as running lights at night. The tail feather has a yellow stern light and it can be raised at the push of a button. "The Swan" is also equipped with a built-in landing ramp that folds out for beach landings, where docks are unavailable.

Aside from the pontoons, the boat is constructed of wood and waterproof plywood. A quiet four-cylinder, four-cycle, 55-horsepower outboard motor is mounted under "The Swan's" tail. The boat can travel up to 12-15 miles per hour, but generally cruises at 6-7 miles per hour.

The boat's horn is unique. At the flip of a switch "The Swan's" beak opens and the bird produces a honk from the two-tone air horn mounted in its head. According to Mr. Obenshain, "The horn is disturbing to the ornithologists of the area, because (the boat) looks like a mute swan, but sounds like a whistling swan." This is because the boat was designed to resemble the mute swan, this bird having a graceful curving neck. However, the mute swan, as its name suggests, does not make a sound. Although mute swans are not native to this area, whistling swans do migrate through Garrett County in the spring and fall.

Mr. Obenshain takes great pleasure in sharing his creation with others. He speaks fondly of times when former passengers have contacted him and asked to bring their children and grandchildren to experience this unique trip. These second and third generation passengers seem to bring special pleasure to this generous skipper's heart.

"The Swan" is just one of hundreds of innovative creations that have enriched the daily life of Noel Obenshain. Like the boat, many other of his inventions also seem like the result of a labor of love.

One prominent masterpiece on display at his Deep Creek Lake home is an enormous sundial, designed and built by the inventor. It stands in front of his home. Made of reinforced concrete, it is 15 feet in diameter. The gnomon (vertical indicator) of the sundial stands nine feet tall and weighs 1,700 pounds.

Countless other inventions surround him, making life at Danovista a unique experience. With very few exceptions, Mr. Obenshain has never attempted to capitalize on these inventions. He is, however, experienced in the process of obtaining patents. He never uses a patent attorney, but handles his petitions himself, even to the extent of conducting his own patent searches.

His latest patent application, and one of the few attempts he has made at obtaining a patent for an invention not related to the paper industry, is for a grapefruit core cutter. This creation was featured in the December 22, 1988 issue of The Republican. It was designed to yield the maximum nutritional benefits of grapefruit, from fiber as well as vitamin and mineral content.

An invention that Mr. Obenshain particularly appreciates in his personal life is his flip-lens glasses, designed for persons in need of trifocals. These glasses actually contain two sets of lenses. When one set is flipped up, the wearer has a uniform closeup view for reading. When the second set of lenses is flipped down, the wearer is equipped with long-distance viewing capabilities, for such activities as driving. Flipped down, the glasses also provide for intermediate-range vision, useful in climbing stairs. With these glasses, one need not be burdened with three small fields of vision at the same time.

In observing a seemingly endless list of inventions to his name, one may wonder about Mr. Obenshain's formal education. His formal schooling ended with high school. He was the valedictorian of Buchanan High School, class of 1924. Because he could not afford college, he immediately went to work for the Virginia Can Company. In 1925, he took a job at Westvaco as a timekeeper for the construction department. In this capacity he worked near the engineering department. Soon, his talent was recognized and he was asked to perform various engineering duties. Eventually his inventions enabled him to make a substantial contribution to industry.

Having reaped financial rewards for his creations, Mr. Obenshain generously maintained a home for his aging parents and financed several of his siblings through college.

Still quite physically active at 82, Mr. Obenshain enjoys jet skiing, tennis, golf, ice skating and snow skiing.

THANK YOU

Four years ago I had barely heard of home health care. It is hard to believe how important it had become in the past years while my mother, Helena Babin, was staying with me.

How can I ever thank all the individuals who helped and had contact with my mother during the past years?

Dr. Schwalm, our family doctor. Home Health Care, whose nurses I would occasionally have to call out evenings, weekends or early mornings. Especially Shirley Foglepole, who was Mom's nurse for the time she was with me. The hospital and staff. The Hospice nurses and workers who gave support physically and mentally. Delores Sinclair, who worked with Debbie near the end.

Debbie Deem, who cared for Mom for all those years. Always dependable, always there. I'd never have to worry about missing school. How can you thank someone for the love and care they give your parent?

Thank you, Debbie, thank you, everyone, from myself and my family.

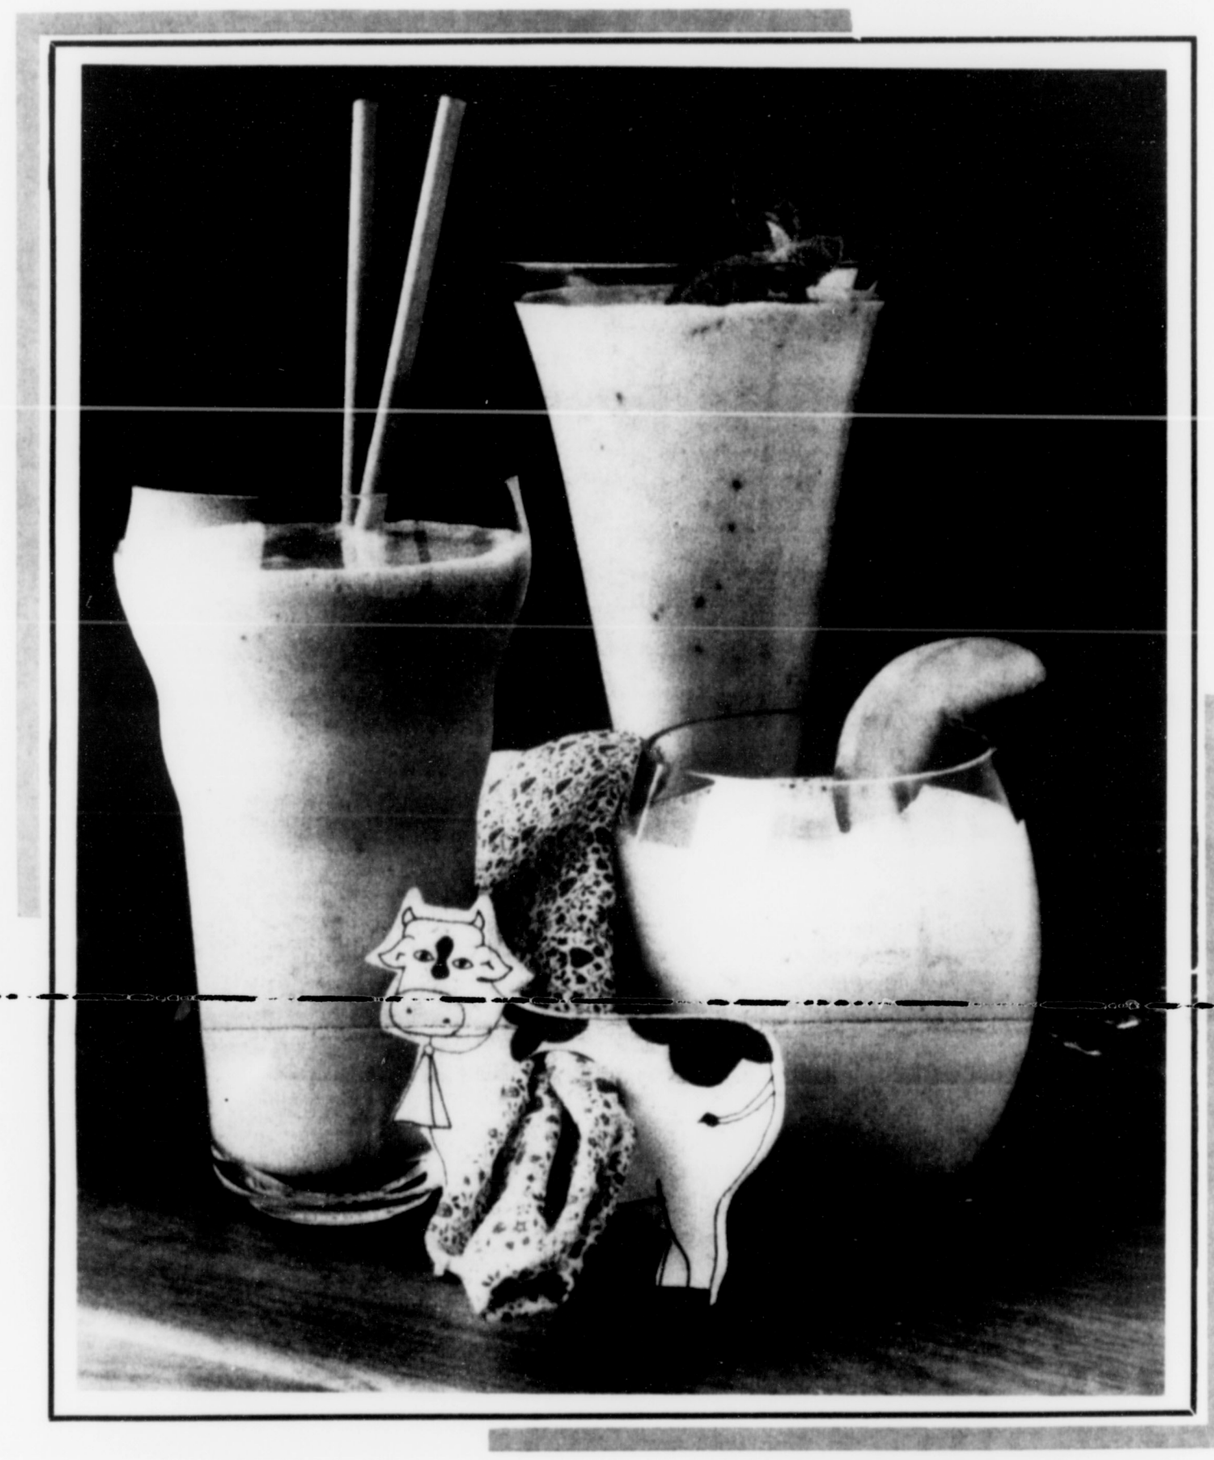
Good Food and how to prepare it!

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH



From milk, a host of dairy products are made. Tasty and nutritious just as they are, dairy products are essential ingredients in many recipes. We've chosen a selection of our cool and refreshing dairy recipes to share with you. Make the summer month meals with your family and friends much more fun by "Loving Them With Milk."

LEMON AVOCADO COOLER

2 medium-sized ripe avocados, seeded, peeled and cut into cubes
2 cups (16-ounces) lemon yogurt
1½ cups cold milk
Lemon slices
Sprigs of mint

Place avocado and yogurt in blender container, cover. Puree until smooth. Add milk, blend well. Serve over ice in tall glasses. Garnish each serving with a lemon slice and a sprig of mint. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 cups.

FRUITY REFRESHER

2 cups (16 ounces) strawberry-banana yogurt
½ cup crushed pineapple in juice, undrained

Place yogurt and pineapple with juice in blender container, cover. Blend until smooth. Serve immediately in tall, chilled glasses. Yield: 2¼ cups.

PEACH SLUSH

1 can (16 ounces) sliced peaches in syrup
1 pint vanilla or peach ice cream
2 cups cold milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon almond extract

Place peaches and syrup in blender container, cover. Puree until smooth. Add ice cream, continue to blend 30 seconds. Add milk, lemon juice and almond extract, blend until foamy. Serve immediately in chilled glasses. Yield: 6 cups.

PINEAPPLE-LIME SHAKE

1 can (20 ounces) crushed pineapple in syrup
2 cups cold milk
1 pint lime sherbet

Place crushed pineapple and syrup in blender container, cover. Puree until smooth. Add milk and lime sherbet, blend until desired consistency. Serve immediately in chilled glasses. Yield 6 cups.

TROPICAL ICE CREAM TOPPING

1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 cup toasted shredded coconut

Combine whipping cream, sugar, and orange juice in small mixer bowl. Beat on high speed until stiff. Fold in coconut. Refrigerate, covered, until ready to serve as topping on favorite flavors of ice cream. Yield: 2½ cups.

APRICOT-PINEAPPLE PUNCH

2 cups apricot nectar, chilled
1 cup pineapple juice, chilled
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
3 pints vanilla ice cream, softened
4 cups cold milk

Gradually add fruit juices to ice cream, stir until blended. Stir in milk. Chill. Serve with fruit and mint-filled milk cubes.*

NOTE: To make fruit and mint-filled milk cubes, pour a small amount of milk into bottom of ice cube tray. Place an apricot half or a pineapple chunk and a sprig of mint in milk, freeze until firm. Pour in milk to fill ice cube tray. Freeze several hours or overnight. This keeps punch cold and does not dilute the flavor with water. Yield: 3 quarts.

SABRINA'S RICOTTA CHEESECAKE

2 round angel food cakes, from store
2 pounds ricotta cheese
2 cups whipping cream
1 cup confectioners sugar
2 teaspoons almond extract
¼ cup sliced almonds

For cheese filling, whip 1 cup of whipping cream. In another bowl combine ricotta cheese, confectioners sugar and almond extract, fold in whipped cream to these ingredients. Cut angel food cakes into thin slices, approximately ¼ inch thickness. Line a large mixing bowl with a layer of sliced cake. Add a layer of the cheese filling, a littler thicker than the cake layer. Continue alternating cake slices and cheese filling, ending with a layer of the sliced cake. Cover the bowl with waxed paper and chill overnight. Before serving invert the mixing bowl on a serving platter. Whip the remaining 1 cup of cream and ice the cake with it. Sprinkle the sliced almonds over the cake for a flavorful garnish. Yield: 20 servings.

CHOCOLATE YOGURT CAKE

3 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup water
1 cup plain yogurt
½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 cup sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 350°F. Melt chocolate in water in 1-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly. Cool. Stir in yogurt, set aside. Cream butter, gradually add sugars and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add vanilla. Combine flour, soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with yogurt mixture, begin and end with dry ingredients. Divide evenly between two buttered and floured 9-inch square baking pans. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, about 30 to 35 minutes. Let cool in pan 15 minutes. Remove from pans and cool completely on wire racks. Frost with Tangy Light Frosting. Yield: 2 9-inch square layers.

Tangy Light Frosting

1 cup whipping cream
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup dairy sour cream
Toasted sliced almonds

Whip cream in small chilled bowl with chilled beaters until soft peaks form. Add sugar and vanilla. Continue beating until stiff peaks form. Gently fold in sour cream. To frost cake, place one layer on serving plate, cover top with about ½ cup frosting. Place second layer on filling, cover top and sides of cake with remaining frosting. Decorate top with sliced almonds. Refrigerate 1 to 2 hours before serving.

Yogurt is the secret ingredient in the cake. The two nine-inch square layers are easy to serve by halving the cake, then making slices on each of the halves. It will go much further than nine-inch round layers. Frost with our tasty topper featuring both whipping and sour cream. Yield: 2 9-inch layers.

Angel Food Cake Makes A "Heart-y" Dessert

Angel food cake might be the answer to a dieter's prayers. It's sweet but low in calories, only 150 calories per serving. It's also cholesterol-free and fat-free.

That makes it an excellent dessert choice for millions of Americans who are trying to reduce the amount of cholesterol in their diets. Most medical authorities recommend a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet to help prevent coronary disease. Angel food cake contains no cholesterol because it is made with egg whites rather than egg yolks.

This recipe from the Betty Crocker Kitchens combines fresh fruit, whipped topping mix and nonfat yogurt with Betty Crocker angel food cake mix. You can enjoy this Heavenly Strawberry Trifle guilt-free!

HEAVENLY STRAWBERRY TRIFLE

1 package Betty Crocker white angel food cake mix
1/2 package (2.8-ounce size) whipped topping mix (1 envelope)
2 cartons (6 ounces each) nonfat strawberry yogurt
1 pint strawberries, sliced
3 kiwifruit, sliced
1/4 cup slivered almonds, toasted*

Bake and cool cake as directed on package. Cut cake vertically into halves. Freeze one half for future use. Tear other half into about 3/4-inch pieces.

Prepare topping mix as directed on package except—use skim milk. Layer half each of the cake pieces, yogurt, whipped topping, strawberries and kiwifruit in 2-quart serving bowl; repeat. Sprinkle with almonds. Garnish with whole strawberries if desired. Refrigerate until firm, at least 2 hours. 12 servings.

 To toast almonds, heat oven to 350°. Bake in ungreased pan, stirring occasionally, until golden brown, about 10 minutes.*

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Bake and cool cake as directed in high altitude directions on package. Continue as directed in recipe.

CIRCLED SYMBOLS

The sign over the pawn shop stated simply but profoundly:

"HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR CLASS RINGS AND WEDDING BANDS."

Of course, the intent behind the sign and offer was strictly material—they wanted the gold and silver which the rings were made of, and were willing to pay higher prices.

But aside from the marketplace mentality and marketing, the sign points to higher reality: education and marriage, both represented by rings, demand the "highest possible" price and cost.

Both demand the high price of commitment, discipline, sacrifice, and self-denial. The "rings" are circled symbols of what is highest in life; and, they demand high cost for those desiring to enter the "high halls of learning" and marriage's "highest halls of human happiness."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

CHOOSE IT OR LOOSE IT!

June 25, 1989

Background Scripture: Joshua 24
Devotional Reading: Galatians 5:13-25

When I was a high school student, I had a classmate, George, who unnerved most of us by singling us out at the most unexpected times and demanding: "Are you committed to the Lord?" We all tried to avoid both him and his embarrassing questions, but one day he startled me from behind with that question we all dreaded. Trying to look as nonchalant as I could, I replied, "Of course—I go to Park Church on Chestnut Street." Lowering his voice to a confidential level, he said, "That isn't what I asked you," and walked away.

It has taken me a long time to see in retrospect any redeeming purpose in that encounter. But, after all these years, it has finally occurred to me that George was right on several counts. The question of whether or not we have made a commitment to the Lord is one of the most important questions that can be posed to us. If we drift into church membership as I did, we may never really make a conscious choice to follow Christ. And if we never make a conscious choice, we are probably not really taking seriously what it means to follow him.

CONSCIOUS CHOICES

George was right when, after I had named my church affiliation, he said: "That isn't what I asked you." The question is not how faithful are we in attending the worship services or the church school sessions of a particular congregation, but how faithful are we in putting our lives into his hands? I went to church regularly, was active in the Youth Fellowship and sang in the choir, but I could do all of those things without really letting Christ live through me. It wasn't until later, while attending our church youth camp, that I realized that one does not "drift into discipleship," one makes a choice.

That is what Joshua said to the people of Israel: "Now therefore fear the Lord and serve him in sincerity and in faithfulness... And if you be unwilling to serve the Lord, choose this day whom you will serve..." (24:14,15). Joshua was making certain that the people of Israel would be making a conscious choice to serve God. He didn't want anyone coasting or limping along between the Lord and other gods.

DO YOU UNDERSTAND?

The response of the people of Israel was very impressive: "Far be it from us that we should forsake the Lord, to serve other gods ...therefore we also will serve the Lord, for he is our God" (24:16,18). But Joshua wasn't satisfied—did they really understand what he was asking or were they talking off the top of their heads? Joshua goes on to tell them just how serious a matter it is for someone to make a commitment to serve the Lord: "If you forsake the Lord and serve foreign gods, then he will turn and do you harm, and consume you, after having done you good" (24:20).

Joshua gave the people of Israel ample opportunity to make their choices freely. But, despite his warnings against insincerity, the people replied: "The Lord our God we will serve, and his voice we will obey" (24:24).

And you—what will you choose?

TV CLASSICS

Test your knowledge of Abbott and Costello

By John Haakenson

Abbott and Costello were sort of the Cheech and Chong of the 1940s and 1950s. Whereas Cheech and Chong were never awarded the kind of critical respect given to, say, an Eddie Murphy, likewise Abbott and Costello were considered the poor cousins of teams like Laurel and Hardy and the Marx Brothers.

But like Cheech Marin and Tommy Chong, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello raked in big box-office receipts.

Although Abbott and Costello gained their initial fame in vaudeville and then in a series of Hollywood movies, the boys did appear in a CBS series, The Abbott and Costello Show, from 1952 to '54. Test your nostalgia knowledge with this quiz about the duo:

1. Before each episode of their TV show, Abbott and Costello performed a stand-up comedy routine before the audience. Their most famous sketch dealt with the confusing lineup of a fictitious baseball team. What was the name of this routine?

2. In what film did the pair first introduce the routine referred to in question one?

3. What were Abbott and Costello's character names in the series?

4. Which former member of The Three Stooges comedy team appeared on the Abbott and Costello series in the role of a man-sized schoolboy outfitted in a Little Lord Fauntleroy suit?

5. The boys lived in a boardinghouse that was run by a bald-headed landlord who was usually chewing on a cigar. What was the name of this slovenly attired resident manager, who always seemed to be feuding with Bud and Lou?

6. The love of Costello's life was his across-the-hall neighbor in the boardinghouse. What was the name of Lou's dream girl?

7. What was the name of the neighborhood constable who frequently had to reprimand the boys?

8. What was the name of the boys' mustachioed Italian friend who took new employment in each episode?

9. What was Lou's classic expression of self-admonition when he realized he'd done something wrong?

1. Who's on First
2. The Naughty Nineties
3. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello
4. Joe Besser
5. Sidney Fields
6. Hillary Brooke
7. Mike (Gordon Jones)
8. Mr. Bacciagalupe
9. "I'm a b-a-a-a-d boy!"

Dean Martin maintaining low profile since tour

By Polly Vonetes

Q: My favorite personality is Dean Martin. I haven't heard anything about him lately since he quit his tour with Frank and Sammy. Please tell me why he quit and how he is now. Where can I write to get a list of his movies and records? —Sue Zimmerman, W. Frankfort, Ill.

Dean Martin

A: Reportedly, Dean Martin was forced to quit the tour because of ill health. He has been keeping a low profile, but from various reports I hear he is doing fine. Write to him for further information c/o his agent: Chasin-Park-Citron Agency, 9255 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Q: Please provide some information pertaining to Susan Spencer, CBS newscaster: educational background, how long with CBS, and anything else that might be of interest to those of us who admire her and like to see her reporting the news. —William Brand, Roanoke, Va.

A: Susan Spencer is a native of Memphis, Tenn. She earned a master's degree in journalism in 1969 from Columbia University, having previously received a B.S. degree in 1968 from Michigan State. Spencer worked as a researcher for WCBS-TV in New York from 1971 to '72. Prior to that, she was a producer for WKPC-TV in Louisville, Ky. She came to CBS News from WCCO-TV in Minneapolis, Minn., where she held several positions from 1972 to '77. She joined the CBS News Washington Bureau as a reporter in July '77, and was named a correspondent in October '78. In 1986 she was named CBS News Medical Correspondent and in March '88 became anchor of the Sunday edition of the CBS Evening News. She recently was promoted to National Correspondent.

Q: I have two questions. First, whatever happened to actress Veronica Lake? Is she still alive? Second, could you give me information on Dale Midkiff and his address? —A.R. Deerwood, Minn.

A: Veronica Lake, the petite, husky-voiced blonde, died of acute hepatitis in 1973. Midkiff was born in Maryland and attended school in Baltimore. A graduate of Salisbury State College, he holds a B.A. in communications arts. His feature film credits include Pet Sematary, Casual Sex and Streetwalkin'. His first big break came when he was cast as the young Jock Ewing in the telefilm Dallas: The Early Years. He gained fame in the role of Elvis Presley in the miniseries Elvis & Me. He is single and maintains residences in both New York and Los Angeles. Write to him c/o Dream Street, Mahoney/Wasserman & Associates, 345 N. Maple Drive, Suite 185, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90210.

Canada, France co-produce animated Little Tramp series

By Steve McGaw

This sounds interesting. Canada's Nelvana production company and Ellipse Productions of France have joined forces to produce a new animated series based on Charlie Chaplin's beloved Little Tramp character. Cleverly titled Charlie Chaplin's Little Tramp, the series will be available in the spring of 1990. So far, the series has only been picked up by French TV, so keep your fingers crossed...

Have you heard about the Orlando, Fla. TV station that succumbed to pressure from some local group (no doubt geniuses, all) and dropped the long-beloved Mr. Peppermint kids' show? It seems the pressure group felt that a puppet character on the show, Kelly Green, would undermine children's understanding of the universe and belief in God. Why? Because Kelly Green is an extraterrestrial, sent to Earth to teach kids not to litter. The same group also objected to a taped segment from the show's recent trip to China, in which a Buddhist temple (Oh no!) is visible in the background. A mind is a terrible thing to waste ... if you've got one, that is...

George C. Scott will star in The Exorcist: 1990. Jason Miller returns from the original, though I shudder to think how. When last seen, his character had heaved himself out a closed, second story window and died on the pavement below. Oh, well. Good news is that William Peter Blatty has written the screenplay himself. (Blatty, you'll recall, penned the original novel.)

HBO film explores sales' bad side

By Candace Havens

Traveling Man, premiering Sunday, June 25, on HBO, is a dark comedy about the seedy life of a traveling salesman. The fact is that Ben Cluett's life has turned to rot. You know things aren't exactly right when his car has a flat, his boss gives him a new rookie to train, his girlfriend Cora (Dawn Arnemann) dumps him for another guy and his best friend goes crazy.

Cluett must find a way to deal with all these things and with his insecurities about not being the best industrial foam salesman at Chemiton Corp. anymore. He does try to teach the new kid about ethics in the business world, but the kid steals clients from Cluett right and left.

Academy Award-winner John Lithgow portrays the harried salesman. As with any role Lithgow takes on, he is superb as Cluett. Lithgow gives the character a sense of vulnerability and insecurity that really comes across.

John Glover plays Cluett's hard-hitting sales manager Chick Beeler. This character should get a slime ball of the year award.

Johnathan Silverman plays the cocky young recruit Billy Fox, who is going to sell the world industrial foam, no matter what it takes. Silverman went to some real sales seminars to research the role. No one recognized him at the first seminar, but at the second, participants asked him if he needed to supplement his acting with a job in sales.

Don't miss Traveling Man.

Alan Alda will return to series television after a six-year absence to star in a new one-hour drama series for NBC in 1990. Oscar nominee Martin Bregman (Dog Day Afternoon, Serpico) will be the executive producer. The new show is Alda's first series project for NBC, and Alda and Bregman's first collaboration on the small screen with Alda as the star. Alda has starred, written and directed such Bregman films as The Seduction of Joe Tynan, The Four Seasons and A New Life. He received five Emmys for writing, directing and acting in various episodes of the long-running series *M*A*S*H*.

HOROSCOPE

June 25 through July 1

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
This is a powerful week for you. A business transaction will take an interesting turn. Stay ahead of the game by observing the people who have already made it.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
A Gemini can help you get yourself together this week. Take the advice of an authority figure and do exactly as they say. Sticking with number eight could bring good luck.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Friendships could be in danger because of neglect. Work may seem important, but you will regret not taking time out for fun. A love interest is just around the corner.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
You will be traveling to an exciting locale soon. Be sure your wardrobe is up to par. Try something new and bold fashion-wise. Love could be just around the corner.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
In order to salvage your reputation at work, you must take immediate action. Make sure that all your records are up to date. A missing item will be found.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
A Virgo could play an important part in your immediate future. Keep an open mind in matters of love. Take a closer look at your finances; you might be surprised.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Don't make fun of others' spiritual quests. You will soon be on one of your own. Taking an inward look will also help resolve disagreements with loved ones.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
Take time out this week to contemplate a trip to an exotic locale. Your work environment could pose problems for your love life. Try your best to keep the two separate.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
You could gain great prestige in your work environment this week. You will also be lucky in matters of speculation. Try sticking with the number two.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Be patient with loved ones this week. A co-worker will try and undermine your latest accomplishments; don't let them take the credit for your work.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Be sure and see a doctor for what may seem to be minor stomach problems. Your financial sector is looking better and it is time for you to invest in stock.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Don't let family members make you do something that you do not want to do. Be strong, but be tactful. A friend needs your guidance in matters of education.

'Santa Barbara' leads daytime Emmy nominations

Eden and Cruz still hold charm

By Linda Sparkman

The sun-drenched Southern California seaside community of Santa Barbara provides the provocative setting for the popular NBC daytime serial of the same name. Santa Barbara, which focuses on the rich and powerful Capwell clan as well as a myriad of other colorful characters, has become a leading force in daytime television.

Winner of the Outstanding Drama Series award in last year's daytime Emmys, Santa Barbara earned 13 nominations this year, more than any other daytime drama. The serial's nominations include "the big three" categories: Outstanding Drama Series, Outstanding Lead Actress (Marcy Walker) and Outstanding Lead Actor (A Martinez).

Winners will be announced Thursday, June 29, on NBC, during a live telecast of the 1988-89 Daytime Emmy Awards.

Walker plays the rich and lovely Eden Capwell, while Martinez plays the cool and charismatic Cruz Castillo, who is a policeman. One of television's most popular couples, Eden and Cruz were married in a lavish wedding ceremony in March of 1988, following a torrid and troubled four-year romance that kept viewers on the edges of their seats.

How could a screen romance keep viewers interested so long? "Part of (the relationship's) charm," Walker said, "is that the audience, from the very beginning, has been on our side. They have wanted to see us as man and wife. No matter what Cruz and Eden have gone through, there has always been strong support from our fans."

Said Martinez, "Marcy and I are still having fun working together. I hear stories often of other actors who have gotten bored in such a long professional relationship. We couldn't pull it off if we were tired of working together... It's hard to explain what makes something work. We care for each other, and it shows on the screen."

A Martinez is up for a Best Lead Actor award in the Daytime Emmys, to air Thursday on NBC.

Walker starred for three years on the daytime drama All My Children, for which she won three Emmy nominations. She began acting professionally just before her entry into college, when she was chosen from among 2,000 actresses for the lead in Mark Twain's Life on the Mississippi. Later she landed roles in numerous commercials and the cable TV productions Christian and Katherine and The Sisters' Room.

Martinez began acting at The University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), where he appeared in numerous student productions. He made his professional debut with Patty McCormack in the film Born Wild. Since then he has guest starred in several series and starred in such films as The Cowboys, Once Upon a Scoundrel, Shoot the Sundown and Beyond the Limit.

Maryland Writing Test Cancelled For This Summer

State School Superintendent Joseph L. Shilling has announced the the Maryland Writing Test will not be given this summer because too few students signed up to take it.

The State Board of Education agreed in April to delay for one year the requirement that students pass the writing test before they graduate. That decision means that students scheduled to graduate in the spring of 1990 will be the first students required to pass the writing test.

The decision to cancel the test administration this summer will not affect the graduation plans of this year's seniors.

In announcing the decision, Dr. Shilling said the 1,331 high school juniors — members of the class of 1990 — who have not passed the writing test will need "intensive instructional assistance" before the next testing in January 1990.

The Maryland Writing test is one of four competency tests students must pass to receive a Maryland High School Diploma. The other tests are in reading, mathematics, and citizenship.

The writing test has been cited by the Educational Testing Service as one of the best writing assessments in the nation and widely credited by Maryland educators with stimulating new classroom efforts to improve student writing.

He was recently elected president of the Ashland Seminary chapter of Eta Beta Rho, which is the national honor society for excellence in Hebrew language studies. Myers was called to the ministry in 1985 by the Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, and he has served as nonsalaried minister there since that time. In 1988, he served as summer pastor of the Laughlin Church of the Brethren near Grantsville.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Myers, Markleysburg.

Rural Schools To Be Focus Of Special Conference

Maryland school systems with the least money to spend on education — those in rural counties — are scheduled to be the focus of the best answers for excellence in the state and the nation at a special conference June 26 and 27 at the Hunt Valley Inn.

The Maryland Rural Schools Conference is part of the Rural School Enhancement Project launched by Governor William Donald Schaefer in 1987 to work with seven rural school systems.

In the past two years, 135 schools have been surveyed, studied and spotlighted to pinpoint problems, come up with tough standards, and find ways to meet them. The two-day conference was designed to provide the school personnel with specific information on a range of strategies, processes and programs to enhance school standards.

The participating school systems are Allegany, Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Garrett, Somerset and St. Mary's counties.

600 Participants

The invitational conference will draw 600 participants, including Maryland school superintendents, central office personnel and all principals and key teachers from the seven systems as well as experts from the Governor's office, the Maryland State Department of Education, Research for Better Schools, Inc., and school system superintendents from other Mid-Atlantic states.

Key speakers scheduled include Lt. Governor Melvin A. Steinberg, Maryland State Superintendent Joseph Shilling, Teacher of the Year Terry Weeks, and Dr. Zacharie Clements from Corporation For Motivation in Education.

The participants will spend one day hearing about promising programs, practices and resources that are underway in schools throughout the nation, followed by workshops with resources and presenters. The second day will spotlight promising Maryland practices and their resources.

Attack Dropout Rate

The primary goals identified by the school systems are to reduce the school dropout rate to less than 2.5 percent a year, to maintain or improve attendance to meet or exceed 95 percent; to improve student academic achievement to a "steady, defined improvement for each child;" to see 80 percent of the students pass Maryland Functional Tests by the tenth grade, and to have 95 percent of all graduates active in post-high school education, serving in the armed forces, or employed in a vocation or as a homemaker.

Business and industry partnerships with schools, higher order thinking skills, computers in the classrooms, assessment strategies for teachers, and programs for the handicapped, gifted, disadvantaged and bilingual students were scheduled as some of the topics to be discussed. Resource materials for those and other issues, such as microcomputers in education and dropout prevention will be available, along with briefings on management policies and legislative frameworks needed to improve rural schools.

Maryland Project Director Kathleen M. Lins said the confernce also will showcase the strengths of the seven school systems.

"I believe that the data we have collected will be extremely useful to the school systems and the counties as they target methods for improvement," she said. "Each school will be able to use the information from this conference to develop a school improvement plan for next year."

A RESOLUTION OF APPRECIATION was presented to Anne-Marie Gouhier, Fulbright exchange teacher from France, at the June 8 meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education. She also received miniature flags of Garrett County, Maryland, and the United States of America. The resolution recognized Mlle. Gouhier's contributions to the foreign language experiences of Garrett County students as well as her participation in extra-curricular programs and activities in the community. Pictured above, left to right, are Rodney Durst, board member; Beverly Murphy, vice-president; Mikal Moomau, president; Mlle. Gouhier; and Carol Clark, board member.

Earns Degree At Allegheny College

Brent Beachy, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Beachy, McHenry, received a bachelor of science degree from Allegheny College, a selective liberal arts college, located in Meadsville, Pa., on Sunday, June 11.

A member of the 1985 class of Northern Senior High School, Beachy graduated with a major in economics, and was named an Alden Scholar his senior year for maintaining a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.2 on a 4.0 scale.

A brother of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, Beachy was a member of Allegheny Men's Dining Association. He was also on the golf team his freshman and sophomore years and played intramural sports.

To fulfill the requirements for a degree, Allegheny students must complete a comprehensive senior project in their respective majors. The Senior Project is a significant piece of independent study, research, or creative work, requiring an oral defense. The college, founded in 1815, is one of a select few institutions that requires an independent senior project prior to graduation.

New Motorcycle Safety Course Required July 1

Beginning July 1, a new law takes effect in Maryland mandating a motorcycle safety education course for motorcycle license applicants under the age of 18. The new law was enacted by the 1989 Maryland General Assembly to improve highway safety for motorcyclists.

"As more young people get involved in motorcycling, we want people to start off correctly (with) proper education," said Andrew Krajewski (CRY-EF-SKI), coordinator, Maryland Motorcycle Safety Program."

Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, Krajewski called on the motoring public to be cautious in sharing the highway with motorcyclists.

"We want people to be aware of motorcyclists and we want motorcyclists to act as responsible drivers," said Krajewski. "A motorcyclist always has to be prepared for an accident," Krajewski added.

Last year, 59 motorcyclists were killed in motor vehicle accidents on Maryland highways.

Krajewski says nearly 40 of the fatal accidents involved motorcyclists who were not wearing a helmet at the time of the accident.

"The helmet is a very important part of motorcycling. It helps reduce head injuries," Krajewski stated. In addition to wearing a helmet, Krajewski recommends the use of protective clothing to help reduce the severity of injuries in accidents involving motorcycles.

Police investigated approximately 3,000 accidents involving motorcycles during 1988. There are an estimated 54,000 registered motorcycles in Maryland.

Earlier this month, Governor William Donald Schaefer proclaimed Motorcycle Safety Awareness Week in Maryland to heighten public awareness of the need to improve highway safety for motorcyclists.

The Maryland Motorcycle Safety Program is available at 14 training centers statewide. The program is administered through the Maryland Department of Transportation's Motor Vehicle Administration. Information on the 20-hour safety courses for beginners is available by calling toll free, 1-800-638-1722.

"Your next air conditioner should be a heat pump."

BOB VILA
HOME IMPROVEMENT EXPERT

A regular central air conditioning system only works for you during a few summer months.
But the modern electric heat pump operates 12 full months of the year. In the summer, it's an efficient central air conditioner. In the winter, it teams up with your furnace to help heat your home. And because of its high energy efficiency, it can help you cut your total heating bill.
Get the complete story by contacting the Tri-State Heat Pump Association or any of these members.

World Whitewater Racing . . . From Railroad And Riverbank

by Tim Kepple

The 1989 World Whitewater events began for many people Saturday, June 17. Like any sport, the races just wouldn't be the same without the crowds of spectators lined up along the banks of the Savage River to cheer for the paddlers. For many of the spectators, the whitewater experience began with waiting for the train which would take them to the whitewater site from the Oakland station.

With tickets in hand and sometimes children in tow, they waited patiently in line, craning their necks for that first glance of the arriving train. A far off whistle, slightly preceeding the clanging of the signal at the road crossing, brought new excitement to the multitude. As the train screeched slowly to a stop, the passengers-to-be bent down to collect lawn chairs, picnic baskets and children. Smiles broke out on quite a few faces as the conductor stepped down from the train and calmly said,"Tickets, please."

What was it about the train that attracted so many people? As one passenger said, "I'm really looking forward to the ride. It gives me a chance to see Garrett County from a different perspective. Much of Garrett County was founded with the railroads, and now I can catch a glimpse of the way it used to look."

It was apparent that for some people the train was just convenient transportation to the whitewater site. There were conversations going on that had little to do with the surrounding countryside or upcoming races. But these people were in the minority.

The sight of the Savage River Dam signaled the end of the ride. Upon disembarking, buses were loaded to take the eager spectators to the riverbank. The best rocks right by the river's edge were soon occupied by photographers, hungry for that perfect shot and people hoping for the best viewing seats. These "prime spots" were soon deserted as they slowly became submerged when the water was let out of the dam. Bleachers and rocks further up the river bank, still wet from the early morning rain, were quickly filled.

A large number of the people coming to the races were not avid fans of whitewater sports but just people who were attracted to the grandeur of an international world event being held so close to home. As one woman said, "Our new house is about two miles down the road and we figured we'd better be here." Another spectator said that this was probably the only chance he'd ever get to attend an international event.

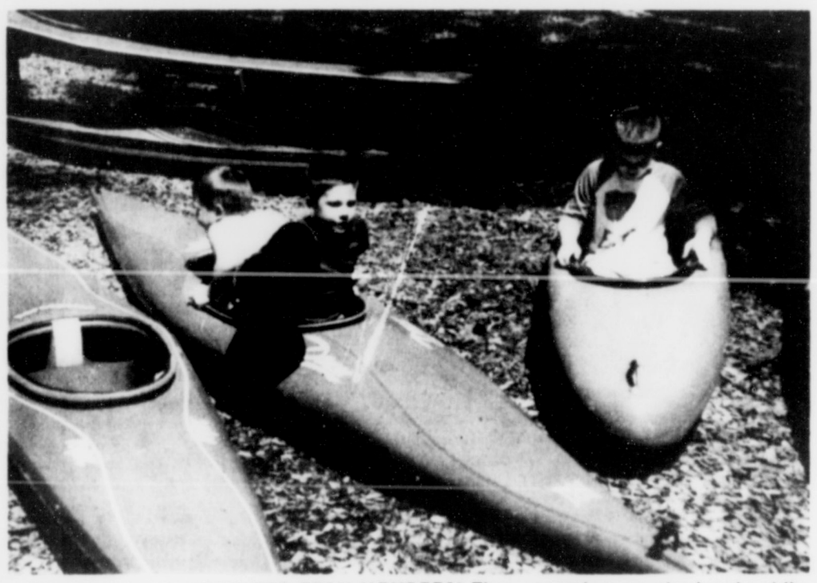
But all were impressed by the sport. When asked what they thought about the whitewater events, most answers took the form of "Great!" and "Wonderful!". Others were more in-depth.

Sonia Pratt, an Oakland resident and host of the French team, said, "It's exciting and wonderful that it's being held here." Another spectator thought that it was very well organized, while another liked it because it gave everyone a chance to enjoy many facets of the whole area. Mary Lynch, a whitewater volunteer from Cumberland, said "I think it's fantastic, a really good event."

All too soon the races were over, the awards had been presented, and it was time to go home. Children begging to be bought a canoe were led to the train loading area by tired parents. Others with empty picnic coolers and heads full of memories lined up in preparation to board the train, only to learn that the train to the Cumberland Fairgrounds had been held for the passengers attending the awards ceremony and the train to Oakland would be late. Unfortunately, the Oakland train developed electrical problems and had to be declared out of service. It was learned later that the Whitewater transportation officials had contemplated running the Allegany County train back to the site and picking up the Oakland crowd, but it was decided that it would be too late. Fortunately, four buses were available to take the passengers back to Oakland, although such a turn of events resulted in a great disappointment to those who were counting on climbing 17-Mile Grade by rail.

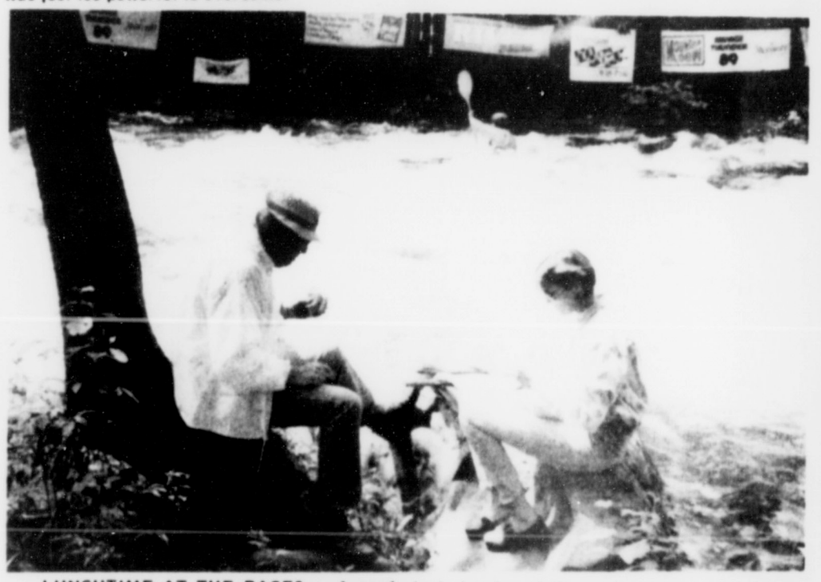
It's the races that will be remembered, however, not an unexpected bus ride. The thrill of a whitewater contestant paddling with all her might to dodge an upcoming eddy, the breathless anticipation of one kayaker pulling in front of another. But most of all, the excitement of the world coming to Garrett County. And being there to see it.

ALL ABOARD THE WHITEWATER EXPRESS — The line of patiently waiting pasengers-to-be stretched beyond the parking lot early Saturday morning. The train was quickly filled with people and lawn chairs all on their way to the Savage river for the races. Photos by Tim Kepple.



FUTURE U.S. WHITEWATER TEAM MEMBERS? These youngsters examine kayaks at the whitewater site and then "try one on for size," as they dream of one day being members of the the United States team. The two at the left would find paddling somewhat difficult if they attempted to compete back-to-back in this one-man kayak.

WATCHING THE RACES is almost as tiring as racing itself, or at least this spectator would seem to think so. Perhaps the warm sun and cool breeze accompanied by the lulling rush of the river was just too powerful to overcome.



LUNCHTIME AT THE RACES — A good picnic lunch and the excitement of International whitewater racing isn't something that comes along every day, and these two spectators are taking full advantage of it.

INDIANS AND BUCKSKINNERS were on hand to entertain spectators from around the world at the whitewater races Saturday. With displays of skins and Indian artwork, they gave a view of what America was once like. It just goes to show that it's a truly "savage" river.

DEEP CREEK REALTY

REAL ESTATE

BY ROBERT HUEBNER
DEEP CREEK REALTY

SEEING IS BELIEVING!

Have you ever stopped to think why "ready-to-wear" clothing stores have become so popular? In years past, clothing was purchased as bolts of cloth, unsewn, with only the promise of fashion and comfort. It took many hours or days to fashion the finished article, only to find it looked less appealing than the posed pictures on the pattern sleeve.

Ready-to-wear, on the other hand, can be seen, touched and tried on. In short, ready-to-wear is reality, not the unkept promises of a pattern book.

Preparing your home to be sold is somewhat similar. One decision a homeowner must make is whether to offer a "ready-to-wear" home, one that is already attractive, cleaned and pressed, and comfortable. The alternative is to offer questionable promises of future value to would-be buyers.

Think for a moment. Which of the following two homes would be most attractive to you as a home buyer? The first is in need of fresh paint — wear and tear shows on every wall. The carpet suffers from years of heavy footprints throughout. The sellers promise to replace the carpet and completely repaint the home — AFTER the sale takes place. Carpet samples and paint color chips are offered as the only proof of the sellers' intentions.

The second home, freshly painted, has a luxurious layer of newly installed carpet throughout. Pride of ownership is obvious. Which home would you choose?

If you'd like to purchase a home, but feel out-of-touch with what's happening in real estate, give us a call today at 387-5303, or drop by our office in the McHenry Plaza.

Take a good look up before you do anything near utility lines.

With the season for spring home repairs and outside recreation now here, please heed a word of caution from Potomac Edison. It could save your life.

Two of the most common tragedies involving electrical lines come from the use of ladders around the home and flying kites or model airplanes. Be sure to keep ladders clear of overhead wires. And never allow children to fly kites or airplanes near utility poles.

If you ever discover a downed wire, DO NOT GO NEAR IT. Notify the police and Potomac Edison immediately and do your best to keep others away until authorities arrive.

Smart living clearly includes a cautious approach to utility lines.

Local Sanitary District Meets

Several topics were discussed at the regular meeting of the Garrett County Sanitary District on Tuesday.

Deep Creek Project

Final grant approval has been received from the Maryland Department of the Environment for the Deep Creek sewer project, and final payment will be received soon. The project will be closed out subject to final EPA audit.

The cost of the project totaled $20,602,914, with all but $1,956,412 (county funding) being supplied by grants.

Storage Tank

The Sanitary District has decided to relocate the Deep Creek Lake storage facility because of numerous complaints regarding its location. They are presently looking at a potential new site, and have authorized the engineer to proceed with the redesign.

Financial Report

Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel presented the financial report on the operations of the sanitary district as well as the draft of the budget for FY 1989-90.

The district has received word from the Garrett County Commissioners that an amount of $11,000 has been approved for FY 1989-90. This is a reduction from the district's original request.

July Meeting

The July 4 meeting of the sanitary district has been rescheduled for July 5 because of the holiday.

In Memory of Our Grandmother

EMMA NEAL RINGER

Grandma Watches Over Us

My Grandma's up in Heaven,
Not underneath this stone —
Not buried in the ground,
All quiet and alone.
She's with the other angels,
As happy as can be,
And from her lofty window
She watches over us!
And so we bring her flowers,
She'll see them from above.
For, though we cannot see her,
Our hearts can feel her love!

AWARD RECIPIENT — A cutline in last week's issue of The Republican incorrectly stated that Michael Holiday, pictured above, was a kindergarten student at Grantsville Elementary School who missed two days of school. In fact, Michael just completed the fifth grade, and missed only two days of school since kindergarten. We regret the error.

Battle Of Fort Necessity To Be Commemorated

Fort Necessity National Battlefield will commemorate the Battle of Fort Necessity with a French and Indian War encampment on Saturday and Sunday, June 24 and 25. Park visitors will have an opportunity to step back into the 1750's and experience military life of the time.

The encampment will focus on the lifestyle of the common soldier during the 1750's. Soldiers will be portrayed by members of the recreated Virginia Provincial Regiment, Captain William Trent's Company, whose original members built the first fort at the forks of the Ohio, present day Pittsburgh. Interpretive programs have been scheduled throughout the two-day period, with the highlight being the military drills and weapon firing demonstrations. In addition, women and children following the regiment will exhibit cooking techniques and explain their role in military campaigns of the period. Visiting children (and adults) will be invited to join George Washington's forces and participate in some of the military drills. All of this will be presented within an 18th century camp setting located adjacent to the reconstructed Fort Necessity.

All activities within the park are subject to the general entrance fee of $1.00 per person to those over 17 and under 62, with a maximum of $3.00 per family. The fee is payable at the Park Visitor Center. Visitors are encouraged to tune their radios to 1610 KHz as they approach the park for information about the park and its programs.

Additional information about this event, park programs, and special entrance fee passports may be obtained by visiting the park Visitor Center or calling (412) 329-5512.

THANK YOU

Marsh Run Nursery Takes Part In World Whitewater Championships

Bryan Heselbach, owner of Marsh Run Nursery, McHenry, wanted to do his part to help make the 1989 Canoe/Kayak Whitewater World Championships a class event.

Utilizing his natural talent in the landscaping business, Heselbach and a full crew of workers from Marsh Run Nursery spent several days at the Savage River site "renaturalizing" the area after the temporary offices had been set up.

Heselbach explained that his crew performed landscaping work: by working around trees, shrubs and plants, mainly in the VIP and Media Center areas at the Savage River site.

All labor and materials for the work were courtesy of Marsh Run Nursery, which performs landscaping design and consulting work.

Having moved to Garrett County 27 years ago from the Baltimore area, Heselbach's interest in working outdoors and with plants brought him into the landscaping business and eventually into establishing Marsh Run Nursery three years ago. Heselbach terms his landscaping work as his creative outlet.

"I wanted to be involved. The volunteer effort has been great. And I wanted to help out by doing what my specialty is," explained Heselbach. He added that this year's Canoe/Kayak Whitewater World Championships is a phenomenal event which should prove profitable for the entire area in years to come.

Marsh Run Nursery will also provide floral bouquets for all female medalists during the two-week world championship competition.

Public Boat Ramp To Close June 25 For Fireworks

Deep Creek Lake State Park Manager James Wilburn announced this week that the public access boat ramp at the park will be closed beginning at 3 a.m. on Sunday, June 25, for the Grand Finale fireworks display that will conclude the World Whitewater Championship Races.

The ramp will remain closed until noon on Monday, June 26. The closure is necessary for the set up and dismantling of the fireworks display.

Wilburn said, "The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service and the World Whitewater Championship Inc. Committee realize this is an inconvenience to the boating public, however, we feel that this special fireworks event will provide an enjoyable evening of entertainment in celebration of the Savage River Races."

Anyone wishing more information may contact the park at 387-5563.

MY FAVORITE COW — Floffy is a Jersey cow owned by Heidi Hauser. Floffy, a typical Jersey who looks as though she is wearing mascara on her big brown eyes, is Heidi's favorite cow. Heidi says that although Floffy is a brown Jersey, her mother was a black Jersey, and that gives her more character. She gives an average of 45 pounds of milk a day, and never kicks at Heidi when she is being milked. Floffy is the mother of five or six bulls and two or three heifers, one of which is Molly, who also belongs to Heidi, and Katie, who belongs to Heidi's brother, Bryan, and was picked as a "favorite cow" during June Dairy Month last year. Heidi says her reason for nominating Floffy as a "favorite cow" is that they were both babies at the same time, and baby Heidi was the first to spot the new baby calf. The two have developed a bond that has lasted all their lives, and we all hope that Floffy will be there to celebrate June Dairy Month with Heidi for many years to come.

New Farm Safety Magazine Is Free

Farming has become the most dangerous occupation in the nation. Because farm families work where they live, they have full responsibility for their safety.

Now a new magazine, designed to help famers with this challenge, is available free to farm families. "Farm Safety" magazine is endorsed by the national, non-profit organization Farm Safety for "Just Kids," which serves as a consultant.

"We know farmers want to live and work in a safe environment," says June Hunzeker, the magazine's editor. 'Farm Safety' magazine supports them in their efforts to reduce health and safety hazards in rural America. It's a magazine with information and ideas to help everyone in the family."

The first issue of the quarterly magazine is coming soon. Families wishing to receive this special publication can subscribe by simply sending their name, address and zip code to: "Farm Safety," c/o Harrow Books, 8340 Mission Road, Suite 112, Shawnee Mission, KS 66206. There will be no charge.

Farm Organization Works To Protect Farming And Endangered Species

Farmers should be compensated if their farming operations are affected by federal efforts to protect endangered species habitat, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF).

More than 500 plants and animals are now officially recognized by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service as endangered or threatened. Another 2,000 species are being proposed for such designation, according to Don Rawlins, AFBF director of natural and environmental resources.

Farmers and ranchers own most of the land on which these species are found and the Environmental Protection Agency is attempting to regulate agricultural practices near such habitats, Rawlins said.

To protect the rights of farmers and ranchers, Farm Bureau will seek federal financial assistance to help these landowners protect and care for endangered species. Legislation also will be drafted to exempt farmers and ranchers from being required to modify agricultural practices to protect endangered species when those species are introduced or reintroduced into their areas, Rawlins said.

Additional legislation will be proposed to provide compensation to farmers and ranchers who lose crops or livestock by federally protected wildlife.

The call for protecting farmers and ranchers as well as endangered species came on the heels of a U.S. Supreme Court decision to let a lower court ruling stand against ranchers protecting their livestock.

The Supreme Court refused to hear arguments in a case that involved owners' constitutional rights to protect their property and livestock even if it means killing an endangered species. In the case Christy vs. Lujan, the U.S. Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals held that Richard Christy was to be fined for killing a grizzly bear that had been harassing and killing his sheep. Grizzlies are considered "threatened" under the Endangered Species Act. Christy was fined $2,500 for killing the bear.

The Farm Bureau actions to help farmers and ranchers work with the endangered species program were recommended by the AFBF Natural and Environmental Resources Advisory Committee. These recommendations were approved recently by the AFBF board.

In addition to the endangered species programs, the AFBF board agreed to authorize a national water testing program for pesticide contamination. Information from the study will help Farm Bureau establish a data base on water quality.

In addition, Farm Bureau will form a committee to prepare an agricultural environmental agenda. An expansive national environmental agenda has already been established by a broad-based coalition of environmental groups. The advisory committee recommended that agriculture should have its own agenda for the environment, Rawlins said.

AFB Impressed By Bush's Clean Air Proposal

The clean air proposal introduced by President Bush is greatly improved over the legislative proposal debated in 1988, according to a spokesman with the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Dennis Stolte, AFBF assistant director of national affairs, said the president's clean air proposal contains some "obvious benefits for the ethanol industry." The president's plan calls for automakers to cut certain tailpipe emissions by 40 percent over the five years. The plan also calls for the sale of 500,000 vehicles powered by ethanol, methanol or some other alternative to gasoline in nine of the most polluted areas by 1995, with the number of vehicles boosted to one million by 1997.

Ethanol production currently requires 360 million bushels of corn, the output of a little more than three million acres.

Recently the city of Denver mandated the use of oxygenated fuels during periods of poor air quality. Los Angeles and other cities are considering similar proposals. The use of 10 percent ethanol-blended fuels is credited with reducing several key emissions by up to 25 percent.

In some areas of the country, cutting down air pollution will benefit crop production. For example, studies conducted in California show yields of crops grown in high ozone areas are reduced by up to 36 percent. Tests show grapes grown under polluted conditions yield 20 to 25 percent less production. Tests conducted in polluted cotton growing areas showed yields reduced by 36 percent representing an estimated $150 million dollar annual crop loss. Studies elsewhere show yields from soybeans grown near large metropolitan areas were reduced by up to 15 percent due to the effects of pollution.

Purdue University Survey Shows More Ag Jobs Than Ag Grads

The nation's colleges of agriculture have good news for students: there are more jobs than there are graduates.

So said deans from seven agricultural universities and colleges nationwide who were interviewed recently by Purdue University's School of Agriculture to get their assessment of the job market for this year's class of agricultural graduates.

Although the informal telephone survey by Purdue's agricultural communication service did show a decrease again this year in the number of agricultural graduates, it also showed more companies are increasing recruitment activities on campus and freshmen enrolled in agricultural studies are on the upswing.

J. Patrick Jordan, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Cooperative States Research Service, said that four of the schools contacted showed an increase in their freshmen class over the last year. The College of Agriculture at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colo., led the way with an increase of 25 percent, said Jordan.

"It's a more competitive market for graduates," said Allan D. Goecker, assistant dean of agriculture and chief agricultural placement official at Purdue University's School of Agriculture in West Lafayette, Ind. "Both employers and students are making earlier commitments this year."

Half of the 1,721 undergraduates in the School of Agriculture are enrolled in three departments — agricultural economics, horticulture, and forestry and natural resources.

Last year the school graduated 355 and expects to graduate 365 seniors this year, Goecker added.

He said the agricultural enrollments began a slow climb a year ago when 352 freshmen enrolled in the 42 agricultural curricula. This fall, 455 freshmen will account for a 16 percent increase, he said.

Last winter twice as many recruiters visited the Purdue campus as two years ago. In October, 40 corporate recruiters attended Purdue's annual Agriculture Career Day, one-third more than a year ago.

Starting salaries range from $18,000 to $30,000 annually, Goecker said, with the average just over $20,000. The 1988 graduates averaged $20,873, about 8.6 percent higher than 1987.

Goecker is a member of a U.S. Department of Agriculture committee on manpower needs that forecast an annual shortage of 4,000 food and agricultural science graduates extending into the 1990s.

Deere & Company Launches Bypass Start Campaign

Deere & Company has announced a campaign directed toward owners of tractors built since 1960. The campaign focuses on the dangers of "bypass" starting tractors and encourages owners to contact their dealers.

Bypass starting is a general term for any start procedure other than the normal start procedure. For example, shorting across the starter solenoid with a metal object (such as using a screwdriver across the starter terminals) or starting a tractor with the key from the ground are all considered bypass starting. The problem with bypassing normal start procedures is the potential of starting the tractor in gear, Deere & Company officials say, and add that the operator may be injured or killed if the tractor abruptly moves.

Bob Avery, manager of product support at John Deere, explained that the company has put together this effort because bypass starting is a dangerous practice. It places the operator on the ground in front of the drive wheel of the tractor. If it is in gear when bypass started, the operator will likely be run over. "We believe this program will drive home the importance of starting tractors in the proper way and remind operators of the danger of bypass starting tractors."

A personal letter from Avery, which outlines this campaign, is being sent to John Deere customers. The campaign includes a free tractor starting-system test, a free starter solenoid cover (installed at no cost), distribution of pictorial "danger" decals and safety brochures, as well as education of customers and farmers regarding the hazards of bypass starting.

Plus, a VHS video tape has been produced to explain the hazards of bypass starting and outline the company's campaign. Dealers will be encouraged to have their customers view it.

Dealer service technicians have been trained to detect any malfunctions in the tractor's starting systems and will answer customers' questions. Tractor owners are encouraged to contact their local dealer for more information.

Hints To Growers

Trouble with Dogwoods

During the past few days many of the Dogwood trees have been attacked by a fungus disease causing the leaves to turn brown. This fungus also infests the tips of branches and often causing die-back on the young growth. The extreme wet weather we have been having has been ideal for fungus growth. There is not much you can do at this point other than removing the damaged leaves and branches. The fungicide "Benomyl" sprayed on the healthy leaves may help prevent the spread of the disease.

Controlling Diseases in Pepper Plants

Diseases are ordinarily not a serious problem with pepper. However, this wet spring has brought forth disease. I have seen Bacterial Spot and Anthracnose on pepper plants in the area. The symptoms of Bacterial Spot first appear as small irregular water-soaked spots on the lower surfaces of leaves. Spots enlarge and become purplish gray with black centers. Anthracnose is characterized by circular sunken spots on green and ripe fruit. Prevention is the key for controlling these diseases. I would recommend a combination of fixed copper and Maneb as a spray. Spray every 7-14 days depending on the weather. Follow directions on the fungicide label.

Producing Cut Flowers — Liatris

Liatris, also known as Blazing Star, Gayfeather, Devils Colic Rattlesnake-Master, or Button-Snakeroot, has increased in popularity and demand as a cut flower crop for both greenhouse and outdoor production. The genus liatris is a member of the composite family which consists of about 40 species. All liatris varieties are perennials with erect, leafy, normally unbranched stems. Most varieties develop several upright flowering stems from round or oval woody corms. Liatris have flowering spikes (inflorescene) that open from the top downward. The individual flowers are normally lavender purple with several white varieties available in limited supply. If you would like more information such as suggested varieties and cultural practices, call my office (334-1990) and ask for Fact Sheet 467.

Crop Notes

•I have had several calls on Flea Beetle eating the field corn. Flea Beetles are small black insects that jump around when you touch the corn. Although they make a small corn plant look bad, in most cases, it is not economically sound to spray for them. They will run their cycle and the corn will recover.

•Most of the field corn is suffering from continued wet soil. Getting corn to full maturity may be a job this year. Once the corn starts growing, it will be important to keep it moving. I strongly suggest an application of nitrogen 5 to 6 weeks after planting. Sixty pounds per acre should do the job, preferably sidedressed or dribbled liquid nitrogen.

•Quackgrass is moving back into many corn fields.d I would suggest an application of 2 qts. of atrazine 4L plus 1 qt. of crop oil concentrate. The smaller the quackgrass, the better the control. One word of caution, injury can occur on the corn if the plants are under stress from the wet weather.

•Alfalfa is having a rough spring. Several fields have been severely damaged by the alfalfa weevil. Now the potato leafhoppers are moving in. Plus the wet weather has caused several diseases. I have at this time seen alfalfa with Phytophthora Root Rot, Common Leaf Spot, Verticillium Wilt, and Sclerotina Wilt. There is nothing you can treat with. If you have any of these disease problems, make sure you select a variety for your next new seedings that has a resistance to the disease.

New Cattle Fly Tag Released

The Y-Tex Corporation recently began marketing a new non-pyrethroid insecticide ear tag for cattle called "Optimizer." The manufacturer's information indicates that Optimizer contains Diazinon (20% by wt.) as its active ingredient. The new tags are being marketed primarily as effective against pyrethroid-resistant horn flies. Labeled use is for beef and non-lactating dairy cattle to control horn flies, face flies, Gulf Coast ticks and Spinose Ear Ticks. Additional information is available by calling Y-Tex at 1-800-443-6401.

Federal Veal Bill Called "Misguided"

Legisation prohibiting certain veal calf production practices is founded on misguided emotional perceptions and will mean added costs to the American taxpayer, the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF) told lawmakers last week.

There is a misperception that farmers do not provide for their livestock's welfare and subject their animals to abuse, said Wisconsin veal farmer Len Landwehr. Landwehr testified on behalf of AFBF before a joint hearing by the House Agriculture subcommittees on livestock and research.

"Farmers care for their animals, neither tolerating nor condoning abuse, and go well beyond their role of humane stewards to provide for the animal's welfare. We work hard to reduce the stress that could result from improper diet or unhealthy environments," Landwehr emphasized.

"No segment of society has more concern for the well-being of livestock than producers, and this is exemplified by the high levels of production and low mortality rates being achieved in modern livestock operations," Landsehr said.

The Veal Calf Protection Act (HR-84), introduced by Rep. Charles Bennett (D-Fla.), would prohibit certain practices in raising calves for veal and for other purposes. It also would require the Agriculture Department to write regulations enforcing the restrictions.

The proposed bill would have a "severe detrimental effect not only on veal producers but also on beef and dairy producers," according to Landwehr. "The veal producer would suffer a major financial loss if forced to abandon present facilities and equipment."

In addition, beef producers would be affected. "The legislation does not provide a clear differential between a 'veal' calf and a 'beef' calf, which could result in USDA attempting to inspect all beef farms," Landwehr explained.

If calves were not on veal farms, there would be more cattle placements on feedlots. "This would result in lower beef prices due to overproduction and a substantial reduction in income for cow-calf farmers due to decreased demand for their calves," Landwehr said.

Dairy producers would take a tumble with the potential "loss of the major market for dairy bull calves," Landwehr added.

Other drawbacks to the legislation, Landwehr said, would be "greater use of imported products that would not be subject to these requirements, higher consumer cost and increased conversion of farmland if farmers go out of business."

Farm Bureau and the livestock industry continue to work with scientists and other groups to improve the care, feeding and handling of livestock, Landwehr emphasized.

"The American Farm Bureau could be considered among the largest animal welfare organizations," Landwehr said. "We farmers are the ultimate animal welfare advocates, since our very livelihood is directly related to our animals' welfare."

Prevented Planting Credit Available

If the abnormal wet weather conditions have prevented Garrett County farmers from planting corn, they should come in to the Garrett County ASCS Office to receive preventive planting credit, says ASCS Chairperson, William F. DeWitt.

Prevented planting acreage is not eligible for deficiency payments, but DeWitt says it is important to keep the planting history up on the farm. Farmers have until June 26 to receive history credit and they may plant another crop on the acres they had planned for corn.

For further information, persons may call the Garrett County ASCS office at 334-1901.

Farmers Advised To File Program Acreage Reports

To insure eligibility for price support benefits, deficiency payments, and other 1989 farm program benefits, Garrett County A.S.C.S. Chairperson William F. DeWitt says farmers should report program acreages as soon as possible.

ASCS is currently accepting acreage reports for 1989 planted, conservation reserve, conserving use and other program acres.

The final certification date for corn, soybeans, hay, etc., is July 17.

Farmers who did not sign up for the Acreage Reduction Programs should also report their acreages to insure the opportunity to fully participate in future programs.

Project Independence Kicked Off Locally During Special Ceremony

A kickoff ceremony for Project Independence, Maryland's new welfare reform program, was held last Thursday at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. The keynote speaker for the ceremony was Stephen D. Minnich, executive director of the Income Maintenance Administration.

Although Project Independence is not entirely new to Garrett County, according to a spokesman for the Garrett County Department of Social Services, the ceremony marked the beginning of a total restructuring of the welfare benefits system. The welfare reform program is designed to encourage recipients, from the moment of application, to pursue all available alternatives to welfare dependency. Heavy emphasis is placed on encouraging and assisting applicants to enroll in job training or job search activities. Another component of the program is aggressive pursuit of all available income from child support payments.

Approximately 50 persons attended the kickoff ceremony, including Delegate George Edwards and representatives from the Western Maryland Consortium, the Department of Employment and Economic Development, Garrett Community College, Garrett County Community Action, the Garrett County Private Industry Council, the Income Maintenance Administration, and the local Department of Social Services. Rev. A. Ray Beahm, chairman of the local Social Services Advisory Board, greeted those in attendance, and stated that Project Independence is "one of the most exciting initiatives" he has witnessed during his tenure on the Board.

Minnich prasied the staff of the local Department of Social Services for their dedication, and the success of the local welfare-to-work program in the past year. Garrett County achieved a 10% reduction in the number of recipients of Aid to Families With Dependent Children (AFDC) in 1988, and the present percentage of recipients who are enrolled in job training activities is the highest in the state.

Robert Shaffer, director of the local Department of Social Services, credits the success of the local initiative to "a close working relationship between key organizations in the county," including the Western Maryland Consortium and Garrett Community College. Shaffer also noted that over 30 employers in Garrett County have accepted referrals for on-the-job training of AFDC recipients in the past year.

Beverly Beard, assistant director of the local Social Services Department, also praised the staff within the local Income Maintenance Unit, observing that they "diligently pursued" the goals of the department, overcoming numerous obstacles and misfortunes during the past year. She expressed much pride in "the skills perseverance, and accomplishments" of the staff within her unit.

Under the new Project Independence model, which will be implemented in Garrett County later this month, all applicants for welfare benefit programs, including public assistance, food stamps, and medical assistance, will file a single, consolidated application form. The single application will replace multiple forms that have been used in the past, and has been designed to elicit information regarding the applicant's employment history and other data that may enable the department to assist applicants in minimizing their welfare dependency. All applicants for AFDC will be carefully screened to determine their level of education, job skills, and employment interests. Certain cases will be referred to an "intensive case manager," who will assist applicants in identifying and overcoming the barriers that may exist in obtaining employment. Increased funding will be available within the Social Services Department and the Western Maryland Consortium to provide supportive services, such as purchase of child day care for recipients who enroll in educational programs, job skills training, or gainful employment.

Funding is also available through the Western Maryland Consortium and the Department of Employment and Economic Development to assist employers who are willing to accept referrals of Project Independence participants. Anyone who is interested in obtaining more information about Project Independence should telephone Beverly Beard at the Garrett County Department of Social Services, or Sue Shockey at the Western Maryland Consortium.

PROJECT INDEPENDENCE, Maryland's welfare reform program, was officially kicked off in Garrett County June 8, in a special program at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. A major portion of the program has been underway in Garrett County for some time and with positive results, as the county achieved a 10 percent reduction in the number of welfare recipients over the past year. Guest speaker for the local kickoff was Stephen D. Minnich, executive director of the Income Maintenance Administration, pictured left. Also giving remarks was Rev. Ray Beahm, chairman of the local Social Services Advisory Board, pictured right.

GOING FOR THE GOLD, and the silver as well, for the United States during last weekend's World Whitewater Canoe Slalom Championships on Garrett County's Savage River are Jon Lugbill, left, and Davey Hearn, two of the finest whitewater athletes in the history of the sport. Lugbill, perhaps the best paddler ever, captured his fifth world title, while Hearn, who won one world title, recorded his fifth second-place finish. The U.S. team won a total of six medals in the Worlds, which featured athletes from more than two dozen nations. The closing ceremonies were held Sunday night at Deep Creek Lake State Park with a spectacular fireworks display. See details and more photos in this issue of The Republican. The above photos were taken by Republican reporter, Sandra Cusack.

Post-Conviction Bond Denied For Paul W. Ferrell

Post-conviction bond for Paul William Ferrell was denied in Grant County Circuit Court last Wednesday.

Ferrell, 33, of Gormania, was convicted of kidnapping, murder, and arson in February, and appeared before Judge C. Reeves Taylor for the purpose of making a record on the issue of post-conviction bond to be considered by the West Virginia Supreme Court. Bond could not be granted by Judge Taylor according to law, and this was understood at the outset of the hearing.

Ferrell's attorney is Dan James, Keyser, for his appeal of the conviction which stemmed from the disappearance of Catherine Denise Ford in February, 1988.

During the hearing, James pointed out several issues in the petition and called on three witnesses for testimony in support of bond. Testimony was heard from Grant County Sheriff Larry Ours; Mary Stewart, supervisor of the Grant County Dentention Center; and Ferrell's father, Joseph Ferrell Sr.

James argued that, when free on bond before, Ferrell had made all of his court appearances and proved no threat to the community.

Judge Taylor ruled that, while the case was circumstantial in nature, the jury verdict was proper and based on the evidence submitted.

He indicated that he believed that if Ferrell were released, he would be a danger to himself and possibly others.

The record will not be complete until Grant County Prosecutor Dennis DiBenedetto completes interviews with over 200 people in the Gorman-Gormania area who signed a petition supporting Ferrell's release.

U.S. Whitewater Team Captures Six Medals; Lugbill Wins Fifth Gold

The 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships came to a spectacular close as the U.S. Team won a total of six medals, two of which were gold, in the slalom events held last weekend on the Savage River near Bloomington.

Jon Lugbill, of Bethesda, swept away the competition on Saturday to land a gold medal in the C-1 (one man canoe) slalom event. Lugbill then led his team of Jed Prentice and David Hearn to win a second gold medal in the C-1 slalom team event held Sunday.

In the slalom event, kayakers and canoeists negotiate a 600 meter course, set up with 25 strategically placed gates. If a boater touches a gate with his body or equipment, five seconds is added to the total time, and if he misses the gate completely, 50 seconds is added. Competitors each made two runs and the best time of those runs is counted.

Lugbill, 28, won his fifth world championships with a time of 205.04, with David Hearn coming in second to win the silver medal with a time of 217.01, and Thierry Humeau, France, winning the bronze medal with a time of 226.52.

Lugbill finished his first run with a time of 212.13 and shaved seven seconds off that when he completed his second run in 205.04. Lugbill won his first gold medal in the 1979 World Championships and has only been beaten once by David Hearn, who came in second to Lugbill in Saturday's competition and teamed with Lugbill to win Sunday's team events. Hearn beat Lugbill in 1985 in Germany.

The two apparently are close friends and often train together, and have developed a friendly rivalry. "I felt I had a shot. I improved on the second run, but he improved as much as I did. It's a lot of pressure and one thing I learned over the years is that second place is pretty good," the Cumberland Times-News reported Hearn as saying. Hearn has won five silver medals.

"I've had good runs before, but never one like that. I did everything right and paddled as hard as hell," Lugbill was quoted as saying in the Baltimore Sun. His coach, Bill Endicott, was quoted by the Sun as saying that Lugbill is the greatest athlete in the history of this sport.

In Sunday's C-1 team event, Lugbill, Hearn and Jed Prentice teamed to win a gold medal with a time of 242.50. The French team of Thierry Humeau, Jacky Avril and Thierry Lepeltier came in second with a time of 263.21. The Yugoslavian team of Borut Javornik, Joze Vidmar and Bostjan Zitnik won the bronze medal with a time of 288.80.

Friday's K-1W and C-2 events were marred when rain fell, causing a heavy fog to form over the cold river water, making it difficult for paddlers to see gates and judges to see the paddlers.

But two Maryland women, Dana Chladek and Cathy Hearn, overcame the fog and Pope Dismissed From All Duties At Health Dept.

Former Garrett County Health Officer Dr. William W. Pope has been dismissed from his position of clinical physician for the Garrett County Health Department, according to the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH).

Pope was officially relieved of all duties at the health department last Wednesday.

Mike Golden, director of public relations for the DHMH, reported that the dismissal was "done in the best interests of the department and the citizens of Garrett County.

"When Dr. Pope accepted a voluntary demotion from his previous position as health officer over eight months ago, it was hoped that Dr. Pope would function effectively as a staff physician, but it was found that this relationship was unsatisfactory. Dr. Pope and Dr. Jane A. Fiscus, Garrett County Health Officer, decided that it would be in the best interests of the Garrett County Health Department to terminate the relationship.

Golden reported that the action came after a lengthly discussion.

Pope was dismissed as health officer on October 11, 1988, following 17 years in that position.

The Races Are Over: Calm Returns To Savage River 'Til Next Time?

The races are over. Fishermen and campers can return to the site and revel in the peace and quiet of a small trout stream in the woods of the Savage River State Forest.

It is almost hard to reconcile this scene with the events of the past several weeks, as spectators and athletes came from all over the world to observe and participate in the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships held on the Savage River in Garrett County.

But officials from the governor down to the Department of Economic and Employment Development are optimistic that this will not be the last major whitewater event to be held on the Savage River, and with only a few unpleasant incidents occurring to mar the past two weekend's events, it is possible that the 1992 summer Olympic Trials for the U.S. Slalom Team will be held here.

As 25,000 spectators from around the world rode buses and trains into the site to observe athletes from 25 nations compete in wildwater and slalom racing events over the past two weekends, everything went smoothly, thanks to 600 volunteers who aided the local Whitewater Championships committee.

Allegany and Garrett County's Red Cross volunteers manned a booth to give aid to spectators. Fortunately, most injuries were minor, except for an incident which occurred Saturday.

A limb broke from a tree, striking a North Carolina woman in the back of her head, causing her to fall between eight and 10 feet to the ground. Donna Bunner, 36, was aided by the Department of Natural

Curtain Nearly Ready To Rise For GLAF Production Of "Foxfire"

The lore of Appalachia and the "rugged, ragged mountains, old in time" will come to life on the stage of Garrett Community College next week when the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival presents the Act IV production of "Foxfire." This first production of the 1989 summer season will be presented at 8 p.m. July 5, 6, 7, and 8.

"Foxfire" is the story of Annie Nations, alone in her mountain home, except for the presence of her now dead husband, Hector, and her constant companion, son, Dillard, a country music singer. The play moves from the present to the past, through the joys and sorrows of the Nations family and their five children, leading to the difficult decision Annie must make. Its title comes from a lichen known as "foxfire" that grows on dead trees throughout this region and glows in the dark. The play was written by Hume Cronyn and Susan Cooper, based on the books by Eliot Wigginton.

The cast of experienced Act IV players, all members of the local business and professional community, will perform the play on an authentic set for which technical director Ben Sincell and his crew have found parts from the mountains and farms of Garrett County to re-create "Stoney Lonesome," home of the Nations family. With the help of Conrad Maust and Mike Bittinger, Sincell toured the area to find the porch from the old Grange Hill in Pleasant Valley, a door from the top of Backbone Mountain, another from Weber's old greenhouse, windows from a farmhouse near Bittinger, and parts of an old wagon from the Glotfelty farm.

Leading roles in the play are taken by the same actors who played the leads in the successful Act IV productions of "On Golden Pond" and "The Gin Game." Frances Acton, who had years of theater experience in the Washington area before coming to Garrett County and organizing the Act IV company, will play the role of Annie; John Ackerman, a local breeder of American Quarter Horses, marketing representative for Coca-Cola Bottling Company, and experienced actor, will play the part of Hector.

The role of Dillard will be played by Rob Smith, local composer, singer, and guitarist. Known for his composition "Garrett County Times," Smith

Grantsville Man Sentenced To 30-Year Term

A Grantsville man was sentenced to a total of 30 years in the Department of Corrections for several charges during a trial held last Thursday in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Richard A. Miner, 21, was sentenced to 20 years for assault with intent to murder, five years for robbery, one year for fourth degree sex offense and four years for false imprisonment.

The sentences will be consecutive, with credit given for time served. The case was heard by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered for Miner during an April 19 jury trial, when he was found guilty of the charges. He was found not guilty of burglary, third degree sex offense, and robbery with a deadly weapon. A charge of assault and battery was merged with the other assault charge, and a charge of destruction of property was dismissed.

The charges were filed following an October 29, 1988, incident at the home of LeRoy J. Hansen on the Glendale Road.

Miner was represented by G. Gary Hanna.

Special Festivities Scheduled For Accident's Fourth Of July Celebration

An old-fashioned July 4 parade and picnic with a special patriotic program will be held in the Town of Accident on Tuesday. The day's festivities for "Accident's Fourth of July Homecoming" will begin with a flag raising at 10:30 a.m., followed by the annual firemen's parade at 11 a.m.

The patriotic program will begin at 2 p.m. in the Flowery Vale Center, where seating is available. From the stage area, Dr. Stephen Herman, president of Garrett Community College, will serve as master of ceremonies as well as the guest speaker on "Why We Celebrate July 4." Sonya Yelovich, a graduate of GCC this year and active in theatrical productions, will be dressed in period costume and perform a dramatic reading of the Declaration of Independence.

The Accident Concert Band, after a lapse of about 50 years, has re-activated and will perform throughout the program, concluding with their first concert. The band has a history of over 100 years, going back to the time when Accident had two bands, one English and one German. The present band, under the direction of The Rev. Wilfred Karsten, is composed of two members from the previous band, together with members ranging from elementary school age to senior citizens.

During the patriotic program, the Accident Picture Portfolio Series, a product of the Community College's Library Staff, will be dedicated. The staff took

GCC Board Meets For Good News In College Updates

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees met recently for good news in updates throughout several areas of the college.

Dr. Lillian Mitchell, Dean of Instruction and Student Services, informed board members that enrollment for the fall semester has increased, compared to what it was last year. As of June 20, 221 students had enrolled for an FTE (full time equivalency) of 87.93, as compared to 206 by June 30, 1988, with an FTE of 83.83.

Summer enrollment was down, with 116 students for a total of 500 credits and an FTE of 16.66, down from an FTE for the summer of 1988 of 18.78. Dr. Mitchell explained that there is currently a very good faculty to student ratio of 17 to 1.

Dr. Ken Thompson, a professor at the University of Southern California, updated the Board on his work on the community needs assessment survey.

The survey assessed how the community feels about the college and interviews with five groups of people were conducted, for a total of 551 people interviewed. The five groups are: high school seniors, 172; GCC faculty and staff, 47; GCC students, 72; community leaders, 116; and the general community, 109.

Dr. Thompson explained that groups were given written

"FOXFIRE," a play written by Hume Cronyn and Susan Cooper, will be presented July 5-8 at Garrett Community College by Act IV Productions during the 1989 summer season of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. "Foxfire" is the story of the people of Appalachia and depicts a way of life that still exists, but is rapidly disappearing. Act IV Productions is composed of local actors and the cast of "Foxfire" will include, pictured left to right, Rob Smith, Frances Acton, and John Ackerman. Photo by Craig Phillips.

WHAT IS IT that has these children so excited? Candy — what else! These were among the hundreds of smiling faces at the annual Grantsville Days celebration this past weekend, an event which featured a parade, fireworks display, games and contests, and lots of great food and beverages. These youngsters came prepared for Friday evening's big parade, each equipped with a bag in which to place numerous pieces of candy that were tossed by parade participants. Complete coverage of Grantsville Days will appear in next week's issue of The Republican. Photo by Craig Speicher.

Several Injured In Local Mishaps

Several persons were injured in motor vehicle accidents throughout the county in the last week.

A Mtn. Lake Park man was hospitalized following a single-vehicle accident late Saturday on the Pleasant Valley Road.

According to Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment, John E. Thomas, 57, was driving a 1973 Oldsmobile Cutlass when it crossed the center line and struck an embankment on the left side of the road.

Thomas was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where a spokesman reported that he was admitted and later discharged.

The mishap was investigated by Tpr. S.W. Vincent, who charged Thomas with negligent driving.

A two-vehicle accident occurred Sunday on the Glendale Road.

Police reported that Karl R. Haney, 33, West Mifflin, Pa., was westbound in a 1981 Oldsmobile Toronado. John G. Walker, 26, Pittsburgh, Pa., was traveling east in a 1987 Nissan pickup truck.

Both Haney and a passenger in his vehicle, Jillian Y. Eisele, 25, Norwine, Pa., were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad, where they were reportedly treated and released.

The accident was investigated by Tfc. D.G. Riggleman, who charged Walker with failing to drive on the right side of the road.

A single-vehicle accident Saturday resulted in the DWI charge.

Police said Susan Elizabeth Thagard, 21, Pittsburgh, Pa., was driving a 1986 Subaru GL on the Sky Valley Road when she crossed the center line, ran off the road, and struck a tree.

Tpr. S.W. Vincent investigated and charged Thagard with driving while under the influence of alcohol, failing to display a license to a uniformed police officer, and failing to give needed information.

A two-vehicle accident occurred Tuesday on U.S. Route 219 near the Elkins-Oakland Road.

According to police, Julia B. Bender, 25, Accident, was traveling south in a 1985 Ford LTD, and had stopped to make a left turn. Andrew S. Ross, 36, Baltimore, was also southbound in a 1983 Chevrolet.

Ross reportedly failed to reduce the speed of his vehicle, striking the Bender vehicle in the rear.

The mishap was investigated by Tfc. D.G. Riggleman, who charged Ross with failing to control his speed.

No ambulances were dispatched to the accident.

Third Rabies Case Confirmed By Health Dept.

Garrett County's third case of rabies this year has been confirmed this week by the Garrett County Health Department.

The rabid animal, a raccoon, reportedly fought with a cat on the Oren Bender farm in the Cove on June 20 and ran away. The raccoon was killed in a shed on the farm the next morning. Several unvaccinated cats at the farm have been euthanized.

Rodney Glotfelty, health department official, reported that the first two rabies cases for the year were located on the Dry Run Road in the Cove and on the Buffalo Run Road near Friendsville.

GEORGE HANST RECEIVES JOURNALISM AWARD — A former editor of The Republican, George Hanst, recently received an award in recognition of his professional achievement and service to the West Virginia University School of Journalism. The award was presented by the Perley Isaac Reed School of Journalism Alumni Association at a recent banquet marking the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the School of Journalism. Pictured above, Hanst is diligently working at a typewriter, a posture in which he was often found during his 56-year career with The Republican.

Local Child Support Enforcement Moving To Social Services Office

Beginning July 1, 1989, the Garrett County State's Attorney Office will no longer provide legal representation for cases involving child support. That function will be taken over by the Department of Human Resource's Child Support Enforcement Legal Office, which will be located at the Department of Social Services Child Support Office, 603 North Third Street (Route 219 North), Oakland.

The Child Support Enforcement Legal Office will continue to provide court order establishment and enforcement services to persons who currently have an on-going child support case with the Garrett County State's Attorney's office.

The Child Support Enforcement Administration, which supervises the Child Support Enforcement Legal Office, provides assistance to parents seeking child support from an absent parent or from one who is delinquent in paying support. Services the administration provides include locating absent parents, establishing paternity, collecting support payments, and enforcing child support payment orders.

According to the Department of Human Resources' Acting Secretary, Carolyn W. Colvin, "Children are Maryland's most valuable resource, and we will continue to commit our energies toward getting the child support these children need and deserve."

Anyone wishing to apply for initial child support services should obtain an application by contacting the Garrett County Department of Social Services Child Support Office at (301) 334-5403.

Fireworks To Be Displayed Over Deep Creek Lake

A fireworks display will be held Sunday, July 2, beginning at 9:30 p.m. at the Wisp Recreation Area. The event is being sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Business Association, the Property Owners Association of Deep Creek Lake, Inc., and the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club.

The sponsors are urging persons who will be viewing the fireworks by boat to use extreme safety measures. The Deep Creek Lake Lions Club offers the following tips to ensure boating safety during the display:

— Use a boat that can handle heavy wakes.
— Check running and navigational lights.
— Have a life vest for every passenger on board.
— Do not overload your boat.
— Beware of your wake around smaller boats.
— Exercise courtesy and travel at slow speeds when exiting the area.

George H. Hanst Receives Award From WVU School Of Journalism

George Hanst, former editor of The Republican, was one of five persons chosen for the 50th Anniversary Award by the Perley Isaac Reed School of Journalism Alumni Association, West Virginia University. This award is given in recognition of professional achievement and service to the school.

Hanst received the award in Morgantown at a recent banquet celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the School of Journalism. Prior to the school's formation in 1939, there was simply a department of journalism.

When Hanst attended West Virginia University in the mid-1920s, he was educated in journalism by Dr. Perley Isaac Reed. Dr. Reed came to the university in 1920 and was the sole instructor in the department of journalism until the formation of the School of Journalism in 1939.

Journalism courses were offered by invitation to some of those students majoring in English and Hanst was invited to join the department in his sophomore year. He took all 18 credit hours of journalism courses that were offered at the time.

Hanst served as editor of the Athenaeum, the campus newspaper, in 1927, having worked his way to the position from news editor and managing editor.

Upon his graduation in 1927, he became associate editor of The Republican, along with Donald R. Sincell. He became editor of the paper in 1947 and remained in that capacity until his retirement in 1977. His career with The Republican spanned a total of 56 years.

Hanst resides in Oakland with his wife, Polly. The other four honorees were Thomas A Stafford, former editor of the Beckley Register, Beckley, W.Va.; Charles Ryan, founder and president of Ryan Associates, Charleston, W.Va.; James Roop, president of a major advertising agency in Cleveland, Oh.; and Phoebe Fisher Heishman, publisher of the Moorefield Examiner, Moorefield, W.Va.

Correction Noted

In a caption that appeared in the June 15 issue of The Republican under a photo of the new Welcome to Deep Creek Lake sign at McHenry, it stated that Dee Spiker, owner of Creative Designs in Grantsville, designed and painted the new sign. It should have identified the artist as Dee Speicher, owner of Creative Signs, Grantsville. We regret the error.

Southern Students Depart For West Germany To Complete Exchange

Seventeen students from Southern High School departed yesterday to spend the next three weeks in Sulingen, West Germany, as exchange students. They will be attending school with their host students, taking part in their host family's activities, and participate in special events planned for them by the German students who were in Garrett County in March.

Special tours of West Berlin, Cologne, and Bonn, the capital of West Germany, have been arranged for the group.

This is the fifth exchange between the two schools. The students will be accompanied by Mrs. Joan Lambert, their German teacher, and by David Mayfield, physics and math teacher.

The group departed Dulles Airport Wednesday afternoon on Lufthansa, the German National Airline, and flew to Frankfurt. After a five-hour bus trip, they reached their partner-community of Suligen. Fireworks Slated For July Fourth At Broadford Rec. Area

A fireworks display will be held at Broadford Recreation Area Tuesday, July 4, beginning between 9 and 9:15 p.m. The display will be set off by Milton Proudfoot, a local licensed pyrotechnic expert.

The evening's fireworks will follow a day of festivities at the park. A variety of concession booths will be set up, as well as game booths, such as a penny pitch and a dunking booth. Some of the local groups maintaining food and games stands include Boy Scouts Troop No. 31, the Garrett Mat Club and the Aerobic Die Hards (an Oakland-based youth aerobics team). Local fire companies will also participate by having a "battle of the barrels," in which teams from various fire departments compete to move a barrel in opposite directions using fire hoses.

The July 4 celebration is scheduled to commence at 9 a.m. and the concession booths will remain open until 9 p.m., when the fireworks are slated to begin.

There will be a gate fee of $3 per car, $15 per school bus, and $1 per person (for walk-ins). Seasonal passes to the recreational area will be honored.

Tuition At GCC Lowest In State

Tuition at Garrett Community College continues to be the lowest among Maryland community colleges, according to a report just issued by the Maryland State Board for Community Colleges.

In fiscal year 1989, GCC's tuition rose to $28 per credit hour. The next lowest tuition for community colleges were at Cecil Community College and Wor-Wic Technical College, both at $29 per credit hour. Howard Community College recorded the highest tuition rate at $41 per credit hour. The average tuition rate for the 17 Maryland community colleges was $34 per credit.

According to GCC President Dr. Steve Herman, Garrett has no plans to raise tuition this coming year, although many other community colleges are planning increases. "GCC is still the best higher-education bargain in Maryland," said Dr. Herman.

Friendsville To Host Fiddle And Banjo Contests

The 25th Annual Old Time Fiddlers' Contest will be held in Friendsville on July 15, beginning at 7 p.m. The event has been expanded to include a banjo contest. The competition will be held on the outdoor stage of the Friendsville Elementary School, and admission will be $4 for adults, $1 for children between the ages of six and 12, and free for children under six.

Contestants from several states will compete for trophies and prizes in two categories — age 59 and younger, and age 60 and over. The "Fiddler' Fisher Family" will provide additional entertainment during intermission. Spectators are welcome to bring their own lawn chairs. A variety of foods and beverages will be available.

This contest is sponsored by the Friendsville Rotary Club. In the event of rain, the contest will be held Sunday, July 16, at 2 p.m. For more information, persons may contact Charley B. Miller, Maple Street, Friendsville, Md., 21531; telephone (301) 746-5642.

Entertainment For Benefit Golf Tourney Named

The Garrett National Bank/Garrett Organization for the Handicapped Organizing Committee has announced the entertainment for their benefit golf tournament scheduled for July 15.

The one-day event will feature "Red Ogden and the Skillet Lickers" from 5 to 7 p.m. and the "Mason Dixon 7 Dixieland Bank" following the banquet at the Oakland Country Club.

"These two groups are perfect for our event," said Milford Beckman, president of Garrett National. "The music they play is upbeat, foot-stompin', knee-slapping, country dixieland which reflects the atmosphere we are trying to create for this tournament."

The "Skillet Lickers" have been playing in Allegany and Garrett County for a number of years. They feature banjo and fiddle arrangements, and have recently been commissioned by the Governor's Office on Art and Culture to play at the Rocky Gap Festival August 4-6.

The "Dixie Land 7" is a Cumberland based group which recently formed to offer the area Dixieland music. Members of the band include Frank Munson, trumpet; Gus Zeller, trombone; Roy Knotts, clarinette; John Close, bass; Emerson Miller, drums; and Arthur Apsey, banjo.

There still are openings for four-man teams for the July 15 tournament. The deadline to register is July 9 and interested persons may contact Luke Stuart at the Garrett National Bank.

New Grantsville Water Facilities Under Construction

Construction has begun on improvements to the water system serving about 600 people in and near the Town of Grantsville. According to a spokesman for the town, these improvements, costing a total of $1,234,800, are being financed by a combination of funding from local, state and federal sources. Locally, Garrett National Bank has provided an indispenable construction loan in the amount of $372,800 which later will be covered by long term bonds issued by the Town and backed by the Farmers Home Administration. In addition, grants have been approved on a reimbursement basis in the amount of $238,000 by the Farmers Home Administration, $124,000 by the Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development and $500,000 by the Water Supply Program of the Maryland Department of the Environment.

This project, which has been several years in the making, will provide an ample supply of water which now will meet drinking water standards. The water supply for the Town comes from springs and a drilled well located west of the Town. The water is unusually high in iron, frequently resulting in discolored water which is unsatisfactory for most household purposes. The new treatment facility will remove the iron using chemical treatment followed by filtration. A 100,000 gallon raw water storage tank will ensure a stable supply of water for the treatment process and a 100,000 gallon treated water storage tank will ensure meeting peak demands for water use in the system.

These facilities, located at the site of the Town's existing well, about 1½ miles west of Town, are at a higher elevation which will provide a much needed pressure increase for the customers west of Route 495. Pressure reducing valves will be installed in the distribution system to prevent excessive pressures east of Route 495. A new eight inch supply line will bring water from the treatment and storage facility to the Town and some new distribution lines will be built in Town to eliminate undersized or dead-end lines in the system.

The treatment and storage facilities are being constructed by Mineral Fabrication and Machine Company of Keyser, W.Va., and the water supply line and distribution system improvements are being constructed by IA Construction Corporation of Cumberland. The new facilities are expected to be complete and in operation by December 1989.

School Assistance Program Slated By GCC, Board

Garrett Community College will be cooperating with the Garrett County Board of Education in conducting an Area School Assistance Program during July and August.

The purpose of the program is to survey students and parents and provide assistance in formulating post secondary plans.

A telephone survey will begin in July, and will be conducted by counselors JoAnn Yost, Northern High School, and Cindy Downton, Southern High School. The program coordinates hope that graduates and parents will participate by responding to follow-up contacts.

The specific objectives of the program are:

•To identify recent high school graduates who are without any post secondary plans and provide informational assistance to those interested in attending an institution of higher learning, obtaining full time employment or making other career decisions.

•To encourage and assist those high school graduates who have applied to an institution of higher learning, but haven't completed their application process, or who must change their plans.

•To identify ways in which graduates who intend to work full time might continue their formal education on a part time basis.

•To provide follow-up data on graduates for school counselors and administrators.

Each high school will commit itself to accomplish, in cooperation with other community agencies, the goal of placing 95 percent of all graduates (upon one year of graduation) either:

(1) into full time employment (including full time homemakers),

(2) into military service, or

(3) into a post high school institution of learning, with special emphasis being given to reaching the state-wide average for this kind of placement.

GCC and the board of education will share the reports that will provide a definitive record of the post secondary plans of Garrett County graduates.

Severe Storm Moves Through County Tuesday

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by high winds moved through Garrett County on Tuesday night.

The National Weather Service in Elkins, W.Va., both graduates and parents will participate by responding to the Pleasant Valley area, and between Rowlesburg and Terra Alta, W.Va. A severe thunderstorm warning was in effect for Garrett County and Preston County, W.Va. until 10 p.m.

A spokesman for the weather service also noted that there were reports of downed trees and power lines. However, the funnel cloud reported did not touch the ground at any time.

Freedom And The Flag . . .

The Supreme Court has been making a number of tough, controversial decisions the past few weeks and is currently wrestling with several more that are bound to make equally large headlines. Their determination that the desecration of the American flag is not an illegal act is one that we would like to ponder in this column today.

During World War II it was required that American citizens salute the American flag whenever they passed by it; that is, until the Supreme Court ruled that such a requirement was unconstitutional. We suspect that the rationale for that decision was the same used by today's judges on the issue of flag burning, and we have decided to go way out on a limb this week and suggest that they have made a correct decision.

While we believe that the desecration of an American flag in any form is an utterly outrageous, reprehensible act, and a slap in the face to the millions of Americans who have fought (and died) to protect her, we do not believe that respect and reverence of anything is something that can or should be forced by law. A law-required salute of the flag, for example, is hollow and meaningless if the feeling of respect and admiration is absent in the mind of the person making the salute.

Secondly, we believe that attempting to force a person to respect the flag is an action that contradicts the very thing for which the American flag represents — freedom. With freedom comes concessions. The very first amendment allows all citizens to express themselves, to speak against their government if they so desire, and yes, even to destroy the flag, if it is their own property, to make whatever misguided point they want to make. To take away that right, or even a piece of it, actually harms the flag and what it symbolizes far more than the destruction of the material composing that symbol.

Our freedom allows people to do other bizarre, distasteful acts, such as sitting on the sidewalk and ripping the pages out of the Holy Bible, with the only possible legal recourse being an arrest for littering or loitering. Yet if laws were made to illegalize such acts, it would be a step backward for freedom in this country and a step toward forced religion and government persecution.

Again we look to the American home and family for the answer. All parents should instruct and nurture their children in matters of patriotism and respect for the flag, by setting a good example and helping them realize what a precious treasure liberty is, a treasure for which many have given their lives to preserve.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Several weeks ago you published a letter which I wrote to Governor Schaefer regarding the Garrett County Mental Health Clinic. The reply to my letter came from Mack Bonner, M.D., Deputy Secretary for Public Health.

In the interest of keeping the public informed, I would like for you to publish Dr. Bonner's letter to me as well as my return letter to him.

Thank you,
Patricia Croston

Dear Ms. Croston:

As per your request, the letters follow.

Editor

Dear Ms. Croston:

Your letter to Governor Schaefer was referred to me for a response. I understand your concern for the continuity of care for your daughter and other patients at the Garrett County Mental Health Clinic as the clinic is being reorganized. The reorganization in Garrett County was necessitated by changing state policies in the mental health area which resulted in the need for different types of personnel in the Garrett County program.

The Medicaid and Medicare programs now require that all patients be seen and evaluated by a psychiatrist. In addition, Governor Schaefer's new mental health initiative targets troubled young families for increased and intensified services. The two full time equivalent psychologists will be replaced by a psychiatrist and a mental health social worker (MSW). These new personnel will allow the Garrett County Mental Health Program to meet the new Medicaid/Medicare requirements, therefore not losing money from those programs, as well as enable the program to move toward the staffing to respond to the new mental health initiative. The new staffing will also free up to 25% of the remaining psychologists time which was required for supervision for patient care. The psychologists who are being replaced were not eligible for Maryland licensure and therefore needed the increased supervision by a Maryland licensed psychologist.

Dr. Fiscus has assured me that she and the other staff of the Garrett County Health Department will implement the reorganization in such a way that disruption to patients is minimized.

Sincerely,
Mack Bonner, M.D., M.P.H.
Deputy Secretary for Public Health

Dear Dr. Bonner:

Thank you for the response to my letter to Governor Schaefer regarding the Garrett County Mental Health Clinic. However, the answers to my concerns were less than satisfactory.

I believe that all facts considered in this recent shake-up, you and Secretary Wilzack would think that an investigation is in order. Our county commissioners have publicly stated that they are trying to arrange a meeting with Secretary Wilzack to discuss the concerns of the people of Garrett County. As of Friday, June 9, this meeting had not been scheduled. When so many people are dissatisfied with the changes to our available services why aren't those in authority getting involved?

I am sure that you are already aware of what has happened, but just let me state a few interesting facts.

1. Dr. Fiscus, you say, has assured you that the reorganization will be a smooth one. I don't see how this is possible when six employees have been terminated and no one has been hired to replace them. (Not to mention the personnel that have resigned as a direct result of the recent changes).

2. Our first concern should be for our children. Of the six psychologists who were dismissed, all but two of them specialized and worked mainly with children. Garrett County once had a superior Mental Health Clinic. We had possibly the only school based program in the state. This program was highly praised by the State Board of Education, the local Board of Education, as well as our medical professionals.

3. Dr. Fiscus cites financial reasons for cutbacks in staff; however, at least three people have left the Health Department within the last year who have not been replaced. Dr. Thatcher's contract with the Board of Education, which was terminated by Dr. Fiscus, practically paid his full salary. Furthermore, the consultants from West Virginia University were more cost efficient than any state employee due to the fact that they were not paid benefits. Also, these same psychologists were seeing more clients in one day than some full time employees would see in a week.

4. It has been said, and I have observed, that the atmosphere at the Mental Health Clinic, among the remaining employees, is one of fear and intimidation. This I understand in light of the recent turmoil. What I can't understand is how these troubled people can effectively counsel troubled clients.

5. The Allegany County public has been displeased with the quality of services at the Allegany Mental Health Clinic for some time. If Dr. Fiscus is trying to improve and expand services in the same fashion as Allegany County, why should we believe that it will work well? AS I said before, we had a superior Mental Health Department, with qualified staff for all of the programs you say Governor Schaefer is trying to implement. I believe that any new programs could have been accomplished with the staff that you had.

I and others would like for someone, preferably Secretary Wilzack, to make an appearance in Garrett County to allow the citizens to air their concerns. Moreover, we would like for these recent changes in the Mental Health Clinic to be reconsidered and rescinded.

I have enclosed some newspaper clippings which have appeared in our local paper over the last month. I would be interested to know if you think that these appear to be happy and satisfied citizens.

Sincerely,
Patricia A. Croston

To the Editor:

Democracy in Action: The combined efforts of many civilian volunteers, businesses, government and military personnel resulted in a most successful, great event . . . the 1989 World Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships on Savage River.

The logistics of this event were 50 professionally handled that it ran like a well-oiled machine. A casual observer would think that this had been going on for years.

All those involved, and especially the teams, are to be applauded and congratulated for a most happy and entertaining spectacle.

Bill Popplewell

To the Editor:

Garrett County should be proud. I came from the Eastern Shore to see the International Whitewater competition. It was the first time I had been to Garrett County in about fifteen years and I had a wonderful time.

Everywhere I went it was clean and it was beautiful. The Savage River was wild and wonderful. The security was at its best. I just hope that when an international event comes to Wicomico County that we do as well.

Garrett County and all its residents deserve praise for a job well done. Thanks to Dale Glotfelty, Ruth DiPaolo and family, and Lisa who seemed like family.

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

How cruel the irony that on the same editorial page of June 15 we found a letter of concern that the abortion of conceived humans not be denied followed by a letter of concern for an "abused" and dying dog.

The first letterwriter is concerned that we not condemn a woman who under mitigating circumstances aborts her conceived baby, the second is appalled that anyone would abandon or starve or shoot or otherwise be cruel to an animal.

The first letter is apparently unconcerned with the killing of millions of conceived human beings, the second is appalled at the slaughter of thousands of unwanted animals.

Is it unfair or unintelligent to ask ourselves what kind of society we are becoming? It does not surprise me that American culture and society is taking such a sinister direction. It does however concern me that no public outcry results from such a blunt, crude and obvious reflection of the insane ethics of our society. I will be pleasantly surprised if some other letter writer this week addresses this same issue.

I certainly have no gripe with the dear lady from the Humane Society. Such a kind and loving attitude toward all of God's created beings should be consistent among humanity.

I do take serious exception, however, with the illogical line of thought displayed by C.K. Stemple and would ask readers to consider seriously his/her statements and their implications. The reasoning does not, in my opinion, get any better all the way up to the top of the pro-abortion movement. The writer first asserts that changing the law will not stop abortion but will simply cause women to resort to unsanitary, less safe abortions. Of course this is true, yet it fails to establish any logical direction for an ethic. Laws against murder do not prevent those who feel they have the right or reason to murder from murdering. Laws against theft do not prevent those who feel they have the right or reason to steal from stealing. Laws against drunk driving do not prevent idiots from driving drunk. Nor would a reversal of Roe vs. Wade prevent those who feel they have the right or reason to terminate a human life from doing so. But at least such a law would establish a definition of humanness for our society that approaches the kind-heartedness of the Humane Society's standards of regard for animals.

Just because people will violate ethical principles does not at all imply that we should change those principles. If that were the case, then the same logic should apply to all other laws and situations. Since drugs are illegal, people resort to unsafe conditions to use them. Should we for that reason legalize drugs? Surely such ludicrous reasoning should not guide the enforcement of our country's laws, why then should it guide the establishment of our laws?

The writer also infers that since many women who choose abortion are in difficult circumstances we should not condemn them. I assume that it is acknowledged that many who murder and steal and abuse drugs, etc., are also in difficult life situations and have rationalized these situations into a reason for their anti-social behavior. Again, compassion and understanding and love must be extended to those in desperate and difficult situations, certainly not impulsive condemnation, but surely such ministry does not require that we legalize their irrational, self-centered decision-making.

And all too conveniently, Stemple tosses in those who for medical and health reasons must make a priority choice in an either/or case. The fact is that these situations are a ridiculously low percentage of the total abortion cases and hardly carry the statistical weight to swing the law over to abortion on demand.

Our laws prohibit killing, yet

Sara's Tale

(a quasi-epic poem)
by Sull McCartney

One chilly gray Garrrett County dawn
Sara rolled over in bed with a yawn.
She was as comfy as the proverbial bug
Ensconced in her version of the rug.
David had spent the night in the city;
No breakfast to make, what a pity!
Time yet for a bit of slumber
Before out of bed she must lumber.
Time such as this is all too rare,
Comfort and contentment without a care.
No worries about David or the kids,
Another school year on the skids;
A delightful Summer seemed in store
With no problems greater than her golf score.
Safe and secure in her own bed
This was truly the life to be led.
When through her drowse she heard the door;
David going running, seems like a bore.
Then with a start up in bed she sat,
"David's not her, what the hell was that!"
Once again from the door there came a noise,
Sara tried to stay calm, maintain her poise,
But her efforts to that effect were in vain,
As she listened there were certain signs of strain,
Like the alarmed beating of a telltale heart
And a noticeable tremor in all her parts.
Then the garage door began to clatter,
To Sara this was no laughing matter,
She leapt out of bed, hit the floor running,
Called nine one one, she wasn't funning,
Gathered up the girls and went out the back
Through the woods that were still and black,
Like a mother hen with a couple of chicks
Guarding them against any nasty tricks.
To a neighbor's house, on the fly
Away from the prowler, who seemed none too sly;
Police converged there from all directions
Armed to the teeth, asking no questions
Ready to grapple with the bold intruder,
Enforce the law, restore calm and order.
They could have dealt with a full scale riot
Or any wicked threat to rural peace and quiet,
But it soon became to all apparent
That in this case they didn't need a warrant,
For instead of a burglar seeking cash,
They found a bear in search of Sara's trash.

To the Editor and citizens of Preston County:

I address this particularly toward those of you who don't want a single-high-school county. I recently went to a Board meeting and had a conversation with a citizen from another part of the county about the direction the school system should go. We discussed it energetically for half an hour without coming to blows, but not seeing eye to eye either. I think most everyone wants the same things generally, but we disagree about specifics and realities.

My concern is that the changes being considered for the ninth through twelfth grades will provide great opportunities for those few who can take advantage of them at the cost of depriving the majority of opportunities they could Resources park rangers, Garrett County Rescue Squad, water safety personnel and a physician working for WCI.

Bunner was transported to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by State Police Medevac Helicopter Five, where she was admitted but has since been discharged, according to a hospital spokesperson.

Bill Rafferty, who voluntarily worked the Red Cross booth with Sharon Koch every day for this event, assisted by 18 other volunteers, said that they treated an average of 14 persons a day, mostly for minor injuries such as cuts and scrapes.

Saturday more than 8,000 persons attended the races and Rafferty said that was the biggest day for injuries, estimating that the booth had treated 36 people that day.

"Basically, most of the injuries were minor, but today they have been more unusual. We had a tick removal, lost kids and one snake bite," Rafferty said. "The snake bite was a confirmed garter snake, which isn't poisonous, and the kid was bit because he was trying to catch it. Then we had the lady who was hit on the head by the tree branch, which was the only serious injury."

Sandy Bucklew, Garrett and Allegany County Chapter Coordinator, explained that the volunteers are all Red Cross instructors and have advanced first aid training. She said that many of the volunteers donate their own time and money to teach classes and provide equipment.

"Everyone has been great to give us so much of their time. Many people think that the volunteers get paid for the work they do, but the Red Cross is a volunteer organization. Everyone has worked very hard for the past couple of weeks," said Bucklew.

Governor William Donald Schaefer attended the races on Saturday and is reported by the Cumberland Times-News as saying that the Savage River is as beautiful a site as anywhere in the world to hold a whitewater race.

"This all went together when the people of Western Maryland said they wanted it. The key was getting the businesses involved," said the Governor.

The Department of Economic and Employment Development estimates that this year's championships and last year's Pre-World's Championships brought $15 million to the area by spectators and racers.

State Senator John N. Bambacus, president of WCI, is quoted by the Baltimore Sun as saying that there will be an international event held on the Savage next summer. He is not sure what type of event, but speculates on an international invitational.

The Savage River race site has been left in its natural state, except for the addition of two bridges, walkways and telephone lines and Senator Bambacus has said that the landscape will not be changed to accommodate future events.

"The Savage River has been this way for 2,000 years, and it will stay this way for another 2,000 years," he said.

NBC television had camera crews in the area for the event and will broadcast a 60 minute program on Sunday, July 2.

Oakland Sweeps Doubleheader From Hyndman In Pen-Mar League Action

Oakland chalked up two more wins in Pen-Mar Baseball League action this past week by sweeping a doubleheader from Hyndman, 8-7 and 7-4, at the Garrett Community College field.

The score was tied at 7-7 in the first game when, in the bottom of the sixth inning, Steve Zumpano rapped a single that scored Lawrence Nesselrodt to give Oakland its margin of victory. Todd Hammonds took the mound with two outs in the seventh to record a strike out and preserve the win.

Leading Oakland's offensive effort was Darryl Dupert, who smacked a solo homer and a double, while Dean Marsico produced a two-run blast and a single. Ed Wildesen added a double and Tim McNemar recorded a two-run single.

Hyndman's big inning was the fourth, when Grant Crawford rapped a grand slam. Craig Turner finished with a double and a single and Ray Stiffey added an RBI double.

Hyndman jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the top of the first inning in the second game, but the home team responded with three runs in the bottom of the first and four more in the third inning to complete the game's scoring.

Hammonds, who was credited with the win, relieved Oakland starter Bucky Riggleman in the second inning and did not allow a run through the next five innings. McNemar came on in the seventh to retire the final batters.

Marsico hit a two-run double for Oakland, while Phil Carr and Jon Reneslacis each produced RBI singles.

Hyndman's runs came on a three-run homer by Bobby Cuthbertson and an RBI single by Tom Stallings.

Central managed to record just three hits off Ellerslie pitchers Terry DeHaven and Joe Simko last Thursday night.

Jerry Uphold rapped a double to score one of Central's two runs, while Tom Shaffer drove in the first two runs of Ellerslie's three-run fourth inning.

Larry Wakefield led Central Garrett to its win over Hyndman on Friday by firing a two-hitter in going the distance.

Eric Umbel stroked a pair of singles and Chris Younkin added an RBI bunt single as Central finished with six hits.

Irv Guthrie went the distance and took the loss for Hyndman, fanning seven batters along the way.

Tom Bosley Returns To Southern As Varsity Boys Basketball Coach

A familiar face will return to the Southern High School basketball court next fall, as Tom Bosley will return as the head coach for the Southern varsity boys' team, according to an announcement by Tom Woods, Southern athletic director. Bosley has been named to replace Oren Yoder, who took over the post from Bosley in 1982 and announced his resignation this past spring.

Bosley brings with him an impressive record, both from the high school and collegiate levels, having recorded 76 wins and 39 losses in his 1977-82 tenure at Southern and a mark of 51-35 as head coach of the Garrett Community College Lakers from 1983-85. Bosley is also a former player for the Rams and the Lakers, as well as the Bobcats of Frostburg State College.

Since his departure as coach and teacher of health and physical education at GCC in 1985, Bosley has been a traveling physical education teacher and a coach for the Garrett County Board of Education. He has been assisting with the basketball, football, and baseball programs at Southern, has directed a developmental Saturday basketball league for local youth, is serving as co-director of the Center Street Summer Basketball League, and is vice president of the Oakland Little League.

Bosley's former Southern High teams captured a regional championship and earned a berth in the Maryland State Tournament. They also won two Snowball Classic titles.

In his first year at Garrett, he was named coach of the Maryland JUCO All-Star team, and directed the squad to a 94-93 victory.

Prior to his arrival at Southern the first time, he served as assistant basketball coach at Frostburg State. Since 1976 he has been on the staff of numerous basketball camps, including those at West Virginia University, Davis and Elkins College, Waynesburg College, and Ralph Sampson.

He holds an AA degree in physical education from GCC, and bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from Frostburg State.

Like his immediate Southern predecessor, Oren Yoder, Bosley is known as a defensive coach, having excelled in that area as a player.

"I don't anticipate any major changes in the program at Southern because it has been so successful for so long, all the way back to Tom Kuhn's era," Bosley said. "The available talent at Southern always seems to run in cycles so it's important that the younger kids are given a chance to develop. That's why the various leagues and camp opportunities that kids now have are so important."

Bosley said his main concern right now is finding staff to assist him, noting that persons like Yoder are hard to replace. "Losing a coach like Oren from our system is a major setback," Bosley said, "and most of the other experienced coaches have their own teams to worry about."

Bosley said that Bill Ewing, an experienced coach and a teacher at Southern Middle School, will be his primary assistant, but he is still looking for additional staff.

Bosley is a resident of Mtn. Lake Park.

Garrett Legion Team Now First In The District

The Garrett County American Legion baseball team grabbed first place in the Mountain District this past weekend by topping Westernport on Friday, 6-4, at Garrett Community College and then sweeping a pair of games from Frostburg on Saturday, 9-5 and 7-5, at Frostburg State University. The local team is now 4-1 on the season and will host a doubleheader this Saturday at the GCC field.

A throwing error by Westernport in the fourth inning keyed a four-run inning for Garrett to overcome a three-home-run performance by the visitors. Rod Cooper hit a pair of singles and D.G. Largent smacked a solo homer for Garrett, while Pat Dick recorded a two-run homer, Tony Whiteman hit a solo shot and also had a single, and Jeff Johnson ripped a solo homer.

The first game against Frostburg on Saturday lasted 16 innings and it was a base hit by Kevin Yokum that scored Randall Ours in that inning to give Garrett the win.

Frostburg knotted the score at 5-5 in the sixth inning when Rick Burley reached base on an error, stole second, moved to third on a sacrifice fly, and came home on another sacrifice by Chris Loar.

After Yokum's winning RBI in the 16th, Garrett added three insurance runs on a two-run throwing error and an RBI by James Sulser.

Yokum, Rod Cooper, Sulser, and Ours paced Garrett's hitting and Kevin Combs scored twice. Denny Skidmore and Burley paced Frostburg's offense.

D.G. Largent went three-for-four in the nightcap, smacked a solo homer in Garrett's five-run fourth inning and also had a triple and two singles. Ours and Ryan Harman also added RBI singles.

Frostburg rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh, but Kevin Combs, who went the distance on the mound for Garrett, finally retired the side to preserve his victory.

Man Sentenced

In another case, Herbert E. Delaney, 59, Baltimore, was sentenced to three months in the Garrett County Jail for driving while intoxicated. The sentence was then suspended, and he was placed on one year supervised probation and fined $500.

Delaney pled guilty to the charge, which was filed following a November 18, 1988, incident in Mtn. Lake Park. Not prosecuted were charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and failing to drive to the right of the center line.

Delaney's attorney was Alan Katzen.

The judge found Russell D. Getz, 36, Mount Storm, W.Va., to be not guilty of driving while intoxicated and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Getz was represented by R. Steven Friend.

exception is made for self-defense, for law officers and for capital punishment. (Surely anyone who condones the killing of innocent babies-to-be doesn't bat an eye at the execution of a cold, calculating murderer).

There are perhaps exceptions to every rule, but utter chaos is the inevitable result in any society that confuses the exception with the rule.

Additionally I take exception with Stemple's unsubstantiated assertion that "Mr. Cox knows only what he reads in pamphlets and books about abortion." I would be interested in how the writer knows this allegation to be true and I also wonder what basis of knowledge or expertise he/she claims for his/her assumptions.

And then finally, though I find it repugnant that the Bible is quoted in such an illogical context, I would like to assert that no one that I know of is claiming perfection and thus seeking to stone an abortionist. What I am asking is that those who are also imperfect and pregnant cease casting killing stones at innocent, helpless, defenseless and vulnerable human babies and I believe it would be appropriate if our National Law assumed such a humanistic viewpoint.

Thank you,
Michael Friend

Pre-College Semester Being Offered By GCC

For the first time, Garrett Community College will offer a Pre-College Semester during this summer session. Classes in this semester will meet for 1½ hours four days each week, from July 17-August 29.

Courses offered during this semester are designed to prepare a student to do college level work. According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, many entering freshman students need to take developmental courses to improve their basic skills in reading, writing, and mathematics before they begin their academic programs in college. This short summer semester is designed to give the student the needed preparation.

Four different courses will be offered in this summer's Pre-College Semester. English 95 — Basic Writing, will meet at 8:15-9:45 a.m. and be taught by Beth Hurley. This course teaches students fundamentals of English grammar and composition. Reading 95 — Introduction to College Reading will be taught from 10-11:30 a.m. by Beth Hurley. In this course students learn to improve their reading comprehension and vocabulary.

Two math courses will also be offered in this semester: Math 90 — Preparatory Mathematics and Math 95 — Introduction to Algebra. Both courses will be offered from 10-11:30 a.m. All classes will meet Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday mornings.

All students who plan to attend any college in the fall are eligible to take classes in this Pre-College Semester. Students may register for these courses at the Registrar's Office of the college during any day until 4 p.m. Further information is available by calling the Student Assistance Center at 387-6666.

FRUIT 'N BERRY COOLER
2 containers (8 oz. each) vanilla flavored yogurt
1 can (6 oz.) Fruit 'n Berry frozen concentrate
3 ice cubes

Place all ingredients in blender container, cover. Blend on high speed until ice is in small pieces and mixture is well combined. Serve immediately in tall chilled glasses. Yield: 3½ cups.

LEMON CHEESE COOKIES
1 cup butter, softened
6 ounces cream cheese
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Confectioners' sugar
Filling:
1 pound (3 cups) cottage cheese
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup flour
¼ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

In a large bowl, combine butter, cream cheese, confectioners' sugar, flour, grated lemon rind, and lemon juice. Blend with a mixer until dough forms. Chill, covered, for 30 minutes. Meanwhile, in a large saucepan, combine filling ingredients and blend well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thick. Remove from heat. Divide chilled dough into 4 parts. Roll each part to a 9" square, and cut into 3" squares. Place 1 tablespoon of filling in the center of each square. Fold in half diagonally to make triangles, and press edges to seal. Place on greased cookie sheets, and bake at 350°F. for 22 to 25 minutes. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar when cool. Yield: 36 triangles.

CREAMY FRUIT COMBO
1 cup plain yogurt
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

Using a wire whisk, combine all ingredients until creamy and smooth. Spoon over chilled canned fruits (try mandarin oranges, peaches or pears).

PETITE CHERRY CHEESECAKES
2 packages (8-ounces each) cream cheese, softened
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
24 vanilla wafers
1 can (21-ounces) cherry or blueberry pie filling

Preheat oven to 375°F. Beat cream cheese, sugar, eggs, lemon juice and vanilla in medium bowl until light and fluffy. Line small muffin pan with paper baking cups and place a vanilla wafer in the bottom of each cup. Fill the cups ⅔ full with cream cheese mixture. Bake at 375°F. for 15-20 minutes or until set. Top each with about 1 tablespoon pie filling. Chill and serve.

HEARTY BAKED MACARONI
1 16-ounce can tomato puree
1 cup water
2 teaspoons Italian seasonings
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1½ pounds low-fat cottage cheese
½ teaspoon onion powder
1 8-ounce package elbow macaroni, uncooked
4 ounces mozzarella cheese, sliced

In a small bowl combine tomato puree, water, Italian seasonings and ½ teaspoon garlic powder. In another bowl, combine cottage cheese, onion powder and the remaining garlic powder. Spray with vegetable cooking spray a 9x9x2-inch casserole dish and spoon ⅓ of the tomato mixture. Layer ½ of the macaroni, all of the cheese mixture, and ⅓ of the tomato mixture. Add remaining macaroni and cover with remaining tomato mixture. Cover and bake at 350°F. for 1 hour. Uncover and top with mozzarella cheese. Bake uncovered until cheese melts, about 5 minutes. Let stand for 10 minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

SPAGHETTI CHEESE AMANDINE
8 ounces spaghetti, broken into small pieces
¼ cup margarine
1 cup low-fat cottage cheese
½ cup slivered blanched almonds
1 teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon marjoram
½ teaspoon basil
Freshly ground pepper

Cook spaghetti according to package directions, then drain. Melt the margarine in a large skillet. Saute the almonds in the melted margarine. Add the spaghetti, cottage cheese and seasonings and toss constantly until heated. Serve hot. Yield: 6 servings.

GREEN SAUCE FOR SPAGHETTI
2 cups spinach leaves (washed, but not dried, and packed firmly)
½ cup fresh parsley leaves (washed, but not dried, and packed firmly)
2 garlic cloves
½ cup margarine
¼ cup olive oil
½ cup pine nuts
¼ cup walnut meats
½ cup freshly grated romano cheese
½ cup freshly grated parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon dried basil or 2 tablespoons fresh basil

Combine all ingredients in a blender. Blend on high speed until mixture is almost pureed, but still has flecks of spinach and parsley. If too thick, add a small amount of water. Toss with 1 pound of cooked spaghetti. The heat from the spaghetti warms the sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

FRUIT BAVARIAN
1 16-ounce can crushed pineapple, or 1 10-ounce package frozen strawberries, or 1 10-ounce package frozen raspberries
1 envelope plain gelatin
1 cup low-fat yogurt (pineapple, strawberry or raspberry flavored)
1 egg white

Soak the gelatin in ¼ cup of cold water. Drain the fruit well. Reserve ¾ cup of the juice, adding water if necessary. Heat. Stir in the gelatin until dissolved, then add the fruit. Chill. Whip the egg white until peaks form. When the gelatin mix begins to thicken, fold in the yogurt and egg white. Pile into parfait glasses, or spoon into baked pie pastry. Crumb pie crust or Meringue shell. This also makes an excellent filling for angel cake. Split cake horizontally in thirds and fill with Fruit Bavarian. Yield: 8 servings.

FLUFFY COTTAGE CHEESE BLINTZES
1 egg yolk
½ cup low-fat cottage cheese
⅓ cup skim milk
¼ cup flour

A Symbol of Nobility

The bald eagle, a noble bird, emblem of America.

And yet it was not the choice of Benjamin Franklin, one of our wisest patriots.

To emphasize the difference between the world's first democracy and the warlike, aristocratic powers of Europe, Franklin chose the docile turkey, so common to America—instead of a bird of prey—to symbolize the United States.

But the eagle, long a sign of courage, freedom and power, caught the fancy of Franklin's fellow patriots gathered at Philadelphia in 1787.

To them "noble" meant more than hereditary rank.

Noble also meant "an exalted moral character, admirable in conception, stately"—all qualities epitomizing the democratic experiment called the United States.

And to this day the United States strives to retain that noble character symbolized by its emblem, embodied by its spiritual heritage.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHO HAS THE LAST WORD?

July 2, 1989

Background Scripture: Judges 1 through 2.
Devotional Reading: Genesis 12:1-9.

"Whatever possessed you to do that?" My father asked me that on at least several occasions and I suppose I have asked pretty much the same thing of my two sons from time to time. I don't know that I ever gave my father a satisfactory answer or that my sons ever answered it to my satisfaction.

When you are on the receiving end of this question, it seems to have no cogent answer. We can offer alibis and excuses, but, often when we have done something quite wrong or stupid, we really don't know why we did it. Generally it is not because we don't know any better. Usually we knew what we were doing was considered "wrong," but somehow our own judgement easily rode roughshod over that awareness. Only later, when our folly and willfulness had made a mess of things were we able to ask ourselves the same question: "Whatever possessed me to do that?"

THE FIRST WORD

After the heady mood of the end of the Book of Joshua, Chapter two of Judges comes as a severe disappointment. Now that the people of Israel have conquered the Promised Land and the various tribes settle down in their alotted places, things are looking up, are they not? They should be, but they are not, for as the angel of the Lord proclaims to them: "I brought you up from Egypt and brought you into the land...I said, 'I will never break my covenant with you'...But you have not obeyed my command. What is this that you have done?" (Judges 2:1,2).

There's that terrible question again. And they don't have an answer either. The writer tells us simply that: "...the people lifted up their voices and wept" (2:4). Just as we cannot explain why we disobey God's will, neither could they. What makes it so particularly hard to understand is that our disobedience usually comes so close on the heels of God's promises and saving acts to us. The first word in this running conversation between God and his creatures is always the word of his promise.

THOSE OTHER GODS

Unfortunately, our response all too often is a silent but nonetheless telling word of disobedience or disloyalty. From our vantage point, we can't help wondering why the people of Israel would forsake God who had done so much for them—who led them out of Egypt, through the divided waters of the Red Sea, who fed them in the wilderness with manna and then led them into the Promised Land in victory.

What could the gods of the Canaanites, the Baals and Ashtaroth, offer them? Probably the Israelites were attracted by the same kinds of things that false gods offer us today: the thrill of forbidden fruit, unbridled self-gratification, salve for our sensitive egos, and the lure of "doing what we please!" There is a current fascination with evil. Righteousness seems "dull" and licentiousness "fun." We wink at government officials who lie a little, steal a little, and cheat quite a bit.

Still, just as God has the first word, he also has the last word. Our refusal to keep the covenant is not the end of the story. Neither is the judgement of God which comes upon us as a result of our infidelity. In the midst of all this comes the last word: "Then the Lord raised up judges who saved them out of the power of those who plundered them" (2:16). The last word is always God's word of redemption.

THE PATIENT'S RIGHT TO KNOW

How times have changed. Not too long ago, much about medicine and treatment of illness was very secretive. But, nowadays people want to know what's wrong with them, what caused their problem and how fast it takes to be cured. They also want to know about the drugs they take, what they are, what they do and what the side effects may be.

Oscar winners no strangers to TV series

By Donna Gooch

The following actors and actresses have one thing in common—they know the thrill of victory. They starred, or offered their best support, in such memorable films as Patton, The Miracle Worker, West Side Story and most recently, The Accidental Tourist. TV CLASSICS

Telly Savalas' cop character not so different from villains

By John Haakenson

Viewers who grew up in the 1970s watching cop shows will probably never forget Kojak. Love him or hate him, Telly Savalas' portrayal of the New York police lieutenant was undoubtedly one of the strongest on record—at least in terms of an actor being identified by the public with just one character.

But, for anyone past the age of 30, Telly Savalas is probably just as well remembered for his film career. Believe it or not, kiddies, Savalas once made a handsome living in Hollywood portraying villains. Not just any villains, mind you, but some of the most disgusting, psychotic bad guys on celluloid.

Savalas was so good at playing sneering, leering villains that he was cast as such in everything from classics (The Greatest Story Ever Told) to war films (The Dirty Dozen) to comedies (The Man from the Diner's Club).

Veteran moviegoers would have been surprised, by 1973, if they were told that within a few years Savalas would become strongly identified with a hero, of all things.

But that he did. In 1973 he starred in a television movie called The Marcus-Nelson Murders, based on some real-life murders that took place in New York in 1963. Savalas introduced the character of Theo Kojak, the hard-boiled cop who made every effort to ensure a ghetto teenager was not wrongly convicted of murder. The movie was a hit—as was Kojak himself—and the Emmy-winning drama became the pilot for Kojak, the series.

Kojak, as described in a script from the series, "has a face that is an extraordinary mixture of toughness, forged by a life of what he has seen, and gentleness and sensitivity. It is the face of a man in conflict with himself."

Theo Kojak more often than not seemed in conflict with everyone around him, including his co-workers, innocent bystanders and, of course, crooks.

Theo Kojak was, in a sense, not so different from the villains Savalas had played so well for so long; the policeman was tough, often brutal, cynical and uncompromising. The only difference being that now Savalas' character was on the right side of the law.

That and the fact that none of his old villains would be likely to have such a fondness for lollipops.

Even TV's golden age produced some turkeys

Arnold Stang

By Polly Vonetes

Q: The home videocassette TV Turkeys features episodes from some of the worst series ever made. Among the series spotlighted were The Hank McCune Show, The Buckskin Kid, Penny to a Million and The Arnold Stang Show. Could you tell me if any of these shows actually aired, and how long were they on? —Andrew Jones, Gladstone, Mich.

A: Yes, even during the "Golden Age of Television" there were some real turkeys. The Hank McCune Show aired from Sept. 9, 1959 to Dec. 2, 1959 on NBC. Hank McCune was the star of this slapstick comedy show whose only claim to fame remains that it is the first show to ever use a laugh track. The Buckskin Kid show that you mention is not listed as such. There is a Buckskin listed that aired from July 3, 1958 to Sept. 14, 1959. The half-hour western starred Tommy Nolan as young Jody O'Connell. It was introduced as a summer replacement for The Tennessee Ernie Ford Show on NBC. Penny to a Million aired on ABC from May 4, 1955 to Oct. 5, 1955, with emcee Bill Goodwin. The first question was worth one cent, each subsequent question doubled in value until a contestant could win as much as a million pennies ($10,000), considered "big money" in those days. The Arnold Stang Show is not listed in any of my reference books. Stang brought his trademarks — formidable spectacles and inimitable nasal brashness—to many of the popular TV shows: Duffy's Tavern, Easy Aces, Milton Berle Show, Perry Como Show, Ed Sullivan and Bob Hope Show. He was the voice of several cartoons and appeared in many feature films.

Q: I would like to know if merchandise such as jackets and posters of TV shows can be purchased from their networks. If so, where should I write? If not, where do you suggest they might be found? —Tammy Weddington, Bridgeton, N.J.

A: On your next trip to New York City visit the NBC Store located at 30 Rockefeller Plaza. They carry a full line of souvenirs bearing their logo and sweat shirts, T-shirts, hats, etc. from all the shows on their network. I don't know of any other network that has a company store.

Q: Could you please give me some information about the shows of Ma and Pa Kettle? Have they been put on videos yet? —E. Hopping, Olathe, Colo.

A: That rustic but devoted couple, Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, evolved from characters in The Egg and I. They filmed a series of their popular films for Universal during the years 1949 to 1957. Unfortunately they are not available on video as of this writing.

Steven Bochco tries hand at comedy in fall season

By Steve McGaw

Today, let's look at one new series in the upcoming season, ABC's new half-hour comedy series, Doogie Howser, M.D. Produced by Steven Bochco, the show centers on the joys and trials of Doogie (played by Neil Patrick Harris), a 16-year-old genius in his second year of residency at a major metropolitan hospital. Sounds far-fetched, but there have been a few 10-year-old graduates of Princeton (like Doogie), so it's not impossible. James B. Sikking and Belinda Montgomery also star as Doogie's parents. Who knows, it could be funny. ("Uh, we'll have to postpone that appendectomy. I've got to go to the mall, dude.") Then again, it could be another Manimal. Time will tell...

We lost another great one with the tragic, premature passing of Gilda Radner. Belated condolences to Gene Wilder and all of Gilda's family and friends...

CBS has announced a timely, important project with news of the production of So Proudly We Hail, focusing on the brutal skinhead phenomenon that increasingly dots headlines across the nation with tales of senseless, bigoted violence. The teleplay will be written by Lionel Chetwynd, the writer behind To Heal A Nation and the underrated The Hanoi Hilton, so expect quality...

Alan Thicke and Greg Mullavey will star in Not Quite Human II, for The Disney Channel.

CABLE

Norm Crosby and Tommy LaSorda play members of a men's club who must deal with changing times on The Boys, premiering Saturday, July 8, on Showtime.

CABLE HOPPING

July cable premieres are plentiful

By Anne Wheeler

On this patriotic holiday, the CBN Family Channel presents a special about veterans of the Vietnam War. Vietnam: Victims of Valor features award-winning Phil Driscoll, and footage from the Vietnam War as well as interviews with veterans. The special airs Monday, July 3, and again on Tuesday, July 4.

Lifetime adds another cooking show to its lineup this week when The Frugal Gourmet premieres Monday, July 3. Jeff Smith brings his off-beat wit and delectable recipes to Lifetime on weekdays. The basic cable channel currently offers Food a la Floyd with "gastronaut" Keith Floyd.

The Statler Brothers return to their hometown of Staunton, Va. for three days of Independence Day activities which culminate in a concert to air live on The Nashville Network Tuesday, July 4. The Statler Celebration, marks the group's 20th annual "Happy Birthday, U.S.A." concert.

On Saturday, July 8, Showtime premieres The Boys, starring Norm Crosby, Jackie Gayle, Lionel Stander and Steve Levitt as members of a fading New York City men's club.

Freddy Krueger (Robert Englund) returns to terrorize teens in A Nightmare on Elm Street 4: Dream Master, this month on Cinemax, TMC and Showtime. This time, a survivor of the last murder spree summons the good "Dream Master" to battle evil Freddy.

Smile, You're Caught

Peter Funt, son of Allan Funt, says that no one is safe from their Candid Camera outings. "People think we shoot our segments only in New York and Los Angeles, so they'll never get caught," he says. "So we try to spread our gags around."

Creative Ingenious

Stephen J. Cannell, the co-creator and executive producer of Wiseguy, recently explained how he and Frank Lupo invented the characters Vinnie Terranova and Sonny Steelgrave. As the deadline approached, they stalled colleagues by telling them the pilot was "lost in the computer." Eventually they solved the relationship puzzle: "We looked at each other and said, 'Why don't we just do Butch and Sundance?'"

HOROSCOPE

July 2 through July 8

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Domestic problems can be resolved by sitting down and discussing the situation rationally. Take a few hours to do something special for yourself. You deserve it.

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
An authority figure from long ago will make his presence known again soon. This person will lead you on a journey of self discovery and mental freedom.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Leave those sad sacks behind and get on with your life. Family members will try to drag you down this week. Ignore them and do something wonderful for yourself.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
You and a friend will be taking an exciting trip soon. Be careful not to spend too much now. You don't always need to please others. Let your hair down more often.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Loved ones need your special attention this week. Take time out for a special outing on the weekend. The trip could bring you some unexpected fun.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
Everything is exactly opposite of what it might seem this week. Don't worry about things you have no control over, and as cliche' as it sounds, live one day at a time.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
This week will prove to be a difficult one. Stay away from automobiles and heavy machinery. Take preventive health measures. Things aren't as bad as they may seem.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
Your health should be your main concern this week. Let others do your dirty work; you have been doing theirs long enough. Be wary of strangers with hidden motives.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
Your main focus should be on love this week. Some of those close to you have felt neglected. Take time out for them and for yourself, the rewards will be immeasurable.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
You will receive great financial rewards later on by helping the elderly now. Don't make any major purchases; merchandise most likely will be defective.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Relatives will demand more of your time. Take time for small children and explain why they can't trust everyone. You will have good luck by sticking with the number five.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
You or a loved one will experience a life-threatening situation that changes the way you think about yourself. This new awareness makes you a stronger, better person.

AT A GLANCE

Sports seem to dominate the television screen this week. Coverage of the All England Tennis Championships at Wimbledon continues, culminating with the women's and men's singles finals served on the popular Breakfast at Wimbledon telecasts Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9. Dick Enberg will serve as host with Bud Collins joining him in the commentary. Baseball, America's favorite pastime, is scheduled for primetime coverage Thursday night on ABC and Friday night on NBC.

Several movies are scheduled during the week, but heading the list is the critically acclaimed film Silkwood starring Meryl Streep and Cher. Directed by Mike Nichols, it was nominated for five Academy Awards.

Jean Smart had designs on an acting career as early as her senior year in high school, and has now found success in CBS' Designing Women on Mondays.

Designing woman a down-home Norman Rockwell sweetheart

By Linda Sparkman

For three years now Seattle-born Jean Smart has played a southerner in the popular CBS comedy Designing Women. Designing Women features Smart, Delta Burke, Dixie Carter and Annie Potts as four women with diverse personalities who run a decorating business from a sumptuous Atlanta, Ga., townhouse.

Smart decided to pursue an acting career during her senior year in high school and received her B.A. in Fine Arts from the University of Washington.

She then spent several years working with various regional theaters. She made her Broadway debut in Piaf, which was later taped for PBS. This taping brought her to Hollywood where she remained to star as a regular on the series For Teachers Only, Maximum Security and Reggie. She also guest starred on several series. Her feature films include Protocol and Fire With Fire.

Executive producer and creator Linda Bloodworth-Thomason describes Smart's character, Charlene, as "a genuine, down-home, Norman Rockwell sweetheart, all cotton candy and pink champagne."

It was Bloodworth-Thomason who was responsible for bringing the four actresses together. She wrote for Carter and Burke on the short-lived series Filthy Rich. Then she later wrote a comic episode for Lime Street which featured Potts and Smart as a couple of diamond-thief sisters, and the stage for the show was set.

Bloodworth - Thomason decided she wanted her next series to star "the four funniest women I know" and proposed the idea to Harvey Shephard, CBS' then vice-president for programming. Shephard gave the go-ahead, then asked, "What do the women do?" Bloodworth-Thomason replied, "Oh, I don't know—make them designers," and Designing Women was born.

Hard work pays off for 'Knots' actress

Paige takes over as reigning villainess

By Linda Sparkman

"I started out modeling in England," said Nicollette Sheridan, who has made the trek between England and the United States often since childhood. Born in Sussex, England, she moved to Los Angeles at age 10, then later returned to England to attend the Milford School in Somerset.

It was at Milford that she decided to be an actress. She began modeling, and when she returned to America, she signed with New York's Elite Modeling Agency. There she worked consistently, winning such jobs as the February 1984 cover of Cosmopolitan magazine, but taking time out for television and movie auditions.

It all paid off in the long run. Sheridan moved from magazines to the screen. Her television credits include the series Paper Dolls, the motion picture-for-television Agatha Christie's "Dead Man's Folly" and the feature film The Sure Thing.

Sheridan is best known, however, for her role as Paige Matheson on CBS' Knots Landing, which is returning to Thursdays in the fall.

As for her character, Sheridan claimed, "Paige is different. She's strong, she's ambitious, she's bright, she's mischievous."

Mischievous might even be an understatement. As for bright and ambitious, Paige may be too bright and ambitious for her own good. It is anticipated that Paige will take Abby's (Donna Mills) place next season as the nighttime drama's reigning villainess.

Nicollette Sheridan stars as Paige Matheson, who is destined to be next season's villainess on Knots Landing, when the show returns to Thursdays on CBS.

Earns Doctorate In Horticulture

Patrick T. Smith, son of John R. and Billie F. Smith, Rawlings, formerly of Deer Park, was awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy in horticulture science from Texas A&M University on May 12. His doctoral work was an examination of the physiological basis of improved seed germination.

Dr. Smith accepted a post doctoral research fellowship with the United States Department of Agriculture in Peoria, Illinois, where he has been working since November 1988. This work will investigate starch formation during seed development in soybeans.

Dr. Smith was graduated from Fort Hill High School, Cumberland, in 1977. He attended Allegany Community College from 1977-1979, then transferred to Frostburg State College, where he graduated in 1982 with a bachelor of science degree in biology. In August of 1982 he began graduate studies at West Virginia University, focusing on an analysis of hybrid vigor in specific corn lines. In August 1985, he graduated with a master of science degree in plant biochemistry from the WVU College of Agriculture and Forestry. Smith began his doctoral work in August of 1985 at Texas A&M University at College Station, Texas.

President George Bush gave the commencement address.

Re-Creation Of Washington Camp Set For July 1

Fort Necessity National Battlefield extends an invitation to the public to visit Colonel George Washington's camp in the Great Meadow.

On Saturday, July 1, a portion of Washington's camp will be recreated in the Great Meadow at Fort Necessity. Visitors will be treated to a guided tour into the camp during which they will encounter soldiers from the past. The tour will depart from the Visitor Center parking lot at 9:15 p.m. Reservations are strongly recommended as tour group sizes will be limited. Reservations can be made until 7 p.m., Saturday, July 1, by calling the park office at (412) 329-5512.

Two hundred and thirty-five years ago a force of Virginia militia commanded by George Washington was sent to build a road and drive the French out of the forks of the Ohio. Establishing a base camp at the Great Meadows, Washington planned to await supplies and rest his men. In late May, Washington and 40 of his troops were involved in a brief skirmish with the French some six miles from the camp. The resulting death or capture of most of the French contingent forced Washington to return to the Great Meadow to fortify his position against the impending retaliation. On July 3, 1754, French forces arrived and the resulting Battle of Fort Necessity forced Washington into his only military surrender.

Fort Necessity National Battlefield is located 11 miles east of Uniontown, Pa., along U.S. Route 40, the National Road. For further information, persons may call (412) 329-5512.

Gov. Schaefer Announces New VISTA Project

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that the Governor's Alliance to Prevent Substance Abuse has received approval from ACTION, the federal domestic volunteer agency, to fund a one-year VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) project to develop a statewide program to coordinate the substance abuse prevention efforts of grassroots leaders in community based organizations in every county.

In making the announcement, Governor Schaefer said, "We are very excited that ACTION is joining together with the alliance," adding, "this program demonstrates Maryland's commitment to fighting the drug war throughout the state and involving our best weapon — the people in the community."

The Governor's Alliance to Prevent Substance Abuse was established in 1988 as a non-profit organization and develops programs for community groups to become involved with the state's efforts to prevent substance abuse throughout Maryland.

Individuals interested in becoming a VISTA volunteer for the alliance should call Joann Levy in the Governor's Office at (301) 764-4336 to receive an application. During the one-year program, VISTA Volunteers will work with the alliance to identify and enlist community groups who are interested in local substance abuse prevention programs and assist with coordinating community meetings for neighborhood, church, and school leaders.

VISTA volunteers receive a weekly stipend, reimbursement for expenses and complete medical and dental benefits. VISTA volunteers serve a variety of programs in Maryland including the Literacy Council of Prince George's County, the Interfaith Consortium of Greater Cumberland, and the Maryland Action to Prevent Child Abuse.

Hot Weather Bulletin Issued By Ms. Abrams

Rosalie S. Abrams, director of the Maryland Office on Aging, urges all Marylanders to look in on elderly persons, especially those who are living alone, during periods of extreme heat.

"When the temperature soars into the nineties, older persons should take special care to avoid heat stroke," Ms. Abrams said. "Elderly persons, or caregivers for elderly persons, should pay extra attention to warning signs of health problems brought on by or made worse by the heat. We encourage everyone who has an elderly relative to look in on them more frequently during these very hot days."

Those who need help, may call the Senior Information and Assistance number listed in the white pages of the telephone directory, under "AGING," or 1-800-AGE-DIAL, toll-free.

Adults Advised About Dangers Of Swimming Pools

Unless pool owners, parents, or other adults watch young children in and around swimming pools at all times, government experts believe that over 300 children under five years of age could drown in pools this year.

Warning that drowning in residential pools is the second leading cause of accidental death around the home to children under five years of age, the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission said the marjority of the 630 pool drowning reported last year were to toddlers and children under five years of age. Another 4,200 children under age five are treated each year in hospital emergency rooms for submersion and near-drowning accidents in backyard pools.

Typically, the drowning victim is a boy who is one or two years old. One of every three children who drown was last seen in or around the pool prior to the accident. They all were in the pool prior to drownings.

CPSC said that drowning happens quickly and without warning; there is no cry for help. An adult needs to be at poolside at all times to give undivided attention to children in and out of water.

If an adult must leave the pool area and another adult cannot supervise, escort the children into the house until the adult returns to the pool area. A cordless telephone at poolside will eliminate some of these interruptions; if the emergency number is posted on the phone, precious seconds will be saved in summoning rescue aid in the event of an accident.

The agency urged pool owners to adopt the following safety practices:

*Constantly keep your eyes on young children while at the pool;

*Never leave young children alone in or around the pool; if you leave, even for a few seconds, take the children with you.

*Avoid confusion by always assigning one adult to watch young children who are in and around the pool.

*Know how to administer CPR to a drowning victim before rescue help arrives. Contact your American Red Cross chapter or the fire department for information on CPR training courses.

CPSC has prepared a checklist to promote the safe use of residential swimming pools. Pool owners may obtain a copy of the checklist by sending a postcard to Drownings, Washington, D.C. 20207.

DHMH Announces Vital Records Fee Increase

The Division of Vital Records of the Department of Health and Mental (DHMH), has announced that effective July 1, the fee for a copy of a vital record will increase from $3 to $4.

"The funds generated from the fee increase will be used to continue updating and automating operations," said Julia E. Davidson-Randall, state registrar. "Once the operation becomes fully automated, we will be able to retrieve requests for vital records a lot faster."

The current time required to process an in-person request for a vital record is one to two hours. A mail-in request is three to four weeks.

The Division of Vital Records provides people with certified copies of birth, death, and marriage certificates. In addition, the Division gives people information on registering an adoption, legitimization and verification of a divorce.

The Division of Vital Records is located at 4201 Patterson Ave. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays and the third Saturday of each month.

For a recorded message on birth, marriage or death certificates call 225-5988 or toll-free 1-800-832-3277.

Social Security Services Available Free Of Charge

People in the Cumberland-Oakland-Keyser area have been receiving mail from an organization called the Federal Benefits Assistance Corp., offering to assist them in filing for Social Security retirement benefits for an $18 fee. Mrs. Elaine Watson, Social Security manager in Cumberland, said that the company is not connected with the Social Security Administration or the Federal government. "There is no need to pay any firm money to help you file a Social Security application," Mrs. Watson said. "You may actually lose money and delay the processing of your claim by sending your application to a private company. Social Security applications are not officially filed until they're actually received in a Social Security office."

The representatives in any Social Security office will provide free all of the service one needs to file a claim for benefits, including: giving the proper application form; helping complete the form; and explaining what documents one needs and how to obtain them.

"The Social Security representative can answer questions and provide you with brochures explaining how Social Security affects you," Mrs. Watson said. "Don't pay $18 for services Social Security will provide free."

Residents of Garrett County should phone 1-800-2345-55A if they have any questions about filing a claim for Social Security benefits.

Motorists Moving To Self-Service Gasoline Pumps

The executive director of the Greater Washington Maryland Service Station and Automotive Repair Association says increasing gasoline prices are driving motorists from full service to self service gasoline pumps.

"Most surveys indicate that over 80 percent of Maryland consumers purchase self service (gasoline)," said Roy Littlefield.

Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service radio broadcast, Littlefield said prices at the full service pumps are averaging as much as 30 cents a gallon more.

"Motorists should demand service for that difference," Littlefield said. "They should be getting under the hood inspections, windshields cleaned and tires checked," added Littlefield.

The Greater Washington Maryland Service Station and Automotive Repair Association represents approximately 1,500 dealers. In Maryland, it is estimated that 74 percent of the gasoline stations are owned by the major oil companies and leased to dealers. During the summer peak driving season, full service dealers are recommending "under the hood" inspections for motorists planning long distance travel. Dealers around the state are competing in a customer service program in hopes of attracting new customers.

Local Democrats Hold Jefferson-Jackson Dinner

Over 90 people attended the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner recently at the McHenry House, Wisp Resort. The dinner was sponsored by the Garrett County Democratic Club and the Democratic Central Committee of Garrett County.

Garrett County Commissioner John G. Braskey was master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Wilfred Karsten. The guest speaker was Nathan Landow, Silver Springs, chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party.

The Garrett County Democrats honored Commissioner Braskey as "Democrat of the Year" for his service and dedication ot the people of Garrett County and the State of Maryland.

Braskey is currently serving his second term as commissioner, and also serves as president of the Maryland Association of Counties. He is a member of the Garrett County Roads Board, Garrett County Sanitary Commission Board, Garrett County Memorial Hospital Board of Directors, and a member of the Governing Board of the Health System Agency of Western Maryland.

Braskey was most recently appointed to the National Association of Counties Agricultural and Rural Affairs Steering Committee, which deals with local government concerns of agriculture for rural areas.

Braskey possesses a B.S. degree in education from Fairmont State College in West Virginia. He is a former business owner and high school instructor, and is currently a marketing director for a Garrett County realty firm.

Former club president James Matthews was recognized for his many years of service as president and a term as member of the central committee.

Dignitaries attending the dinner were Mrs. Nina Conway, Cumberland, Senator Paul Sarbanes' western Maryland representative; Kathy Vogt, Frederick, Senator Barbara Mikulski's western Maryland representative; Belva Snyder, Hagerstown, chairman of the Western Maryland Democratic Women's Organization; Gerry Evans, deputy director of the democrat party; Delegate George Edwards, Delegate Betty Workman, and several Central Committee members from Allegany County.

Members of the dinner committee were Phyllis Trickett, chairman; Nancy Fratz, Doris Goldsborough, Dorothy Leuba, Sherry Friend, Bruce Opel, Donald Fratz and Spencer Schlosnagle.

State Will Spend $349 Per Second In Fiscal 1990

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said July 1, 1989, is New Year's Day for the state's fiscal year 1989. "And in the ten seconds it takes to read that sentence, the state will spend over $3,490 under the new budget," Goldstein said.

Goldstein, whose office collects the bulk of state revenue, offered his own personal perspective of Maryland's $10,960,798,672 budget approved by the General Assembly for fiscal year 1990.

Beginning July 1, Maryland will be spending: $913,399,889 per month, $210,784,590 per week, $30,112,084 per day, $1,254,670 per hour, $20,911 per minute, and $349 per second.

The comptroller told Marylanders that the new fiscal year also brings some changes in Maryland's tax law. "You may have read abut the 'pizza tax.' But contrary to some reports, the new sales and use tax on delivered food the General Assembly enacted, (which is effective July 1, 1989), applies not just to pizza, but also to other delivered food which is prepared for immediate consumption," Goldstein said.

This new tax applies not just to food that is heated and ready to eat, but also to such items as sandwiches, salads, deli trays, and other foods that are specially ordered.

"On the other hand," Goldstein said, "effective July 1, the law will exempt the sale of wigs or hairpieces needed due to surgical or medical treatment, such as chemotherapy. Sales to non-profit P.T.A.'s have also been exempted if the item purchased is to be donated to the school."

A targeted income tax relief program goes into effect July 1 and will affect the state income tax returns Marylanders will file betwen January and April of 1990. The program will:

— replace the additional standard deduction for blind and elderly taxpayers with an extra personal exemption of $1,000;

— increase the minimum standard deduction from $1,000 to $1,500 for single individuals and from $2,000 to $3,000 for married couples; and — exempt income below the poverty guideline threshold from tax.

The year after that, for returns filed in 1991, the personal exemption for all individuals will increase from $1,100 or $1,200.

Goldstein noted that some law changes will provide tax breaks for military taxpayers. "On tax year 1989 returns, which will be filed in 1990, military personnel may subtract from their federal adjusted gross income all the military income up to $15,000 they receive while serving outside the United States," he said. The amount of this subtraction modification declines dollar-for-dollar for each dollar that military income exceeds $15,000. In other words, if military income totals $30,000, the subtraction modification becomes zero.

New Alcohol Awareness Law In Effect July 1

If you have a liquor license allowing you to serve alcoholic beverages for on-premise consumption, you are affected by a new law that goes into effect July 1. Under the legislation, liquor licensees or an employee of the licensee must complete a course in alcohol awareness training. The course must be certified by the state comptroller to meet legal requirements.

The comptroller will certify course materials beginning July 1, and is seeking course materials from any alcohol industry source or educational institution wishing to teach alcohol awareness courses. Course materials should be submitted to Comptroller of the Treasury, Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division, Goldstein Treasury Building, Room 310, Annapolis, Md. 21401.

Under the law, the comptroller must be certain that approved courses meet the statutory requirements, including instruction on how the consumption of alcohol affects the body and behavior of an individual, education on drinking and driving, and effective methods for serving customers to avoid their intoxication.

The law requires one individual from the establishment — either the licensee or a designated employee — to complete an approved training course by September 1, 1990. If a course which is ultimately approved has been completed in the past five years, it will satisfy the training requirement.

Local liquor licensing authorities are authorized to enforce the training program. Penalities provided include a first offense fine of $100. Subsequent offenses carry a $500 fine and/or suspension of the liquor license.

Off-premise licensees are exempt from the law.

State Fire Marshal Reminds That Fireworks Are Illegal, Dangerous

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele is reminding Marylanders that fireworks are illegal in the State and are also dangerous.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal, in conjunction with local Fire Prevention Bureaus and allied law enforcement agencies, will confiscate illegal fireworks which are possessed with the intention for use or distribution in the State of Maryland.

Each Fourth of July holiday, many Marylanders make a special effort to purchase or "stock-up" on fireworks of all kinds, Gabriele said, who emphasized that possession of fireworks with the intention to use or distribute is a criminal offense.

Only gold labeled sparklers, those sparklers which contain no chlorates or perchlorates are legal to use or possess in Maryland, with the exception of Baltimore City, Princes George's and Montgomery counties, where all forms of fireworks are banned.

Each year, the Office of the Fire Marshal confiscates a variety of illegal fireworks which are being distributed or used in Maryland. The fine for possessing fireworks with the intention of discharge or actual use of the fireworks is $250. A person found selling or distributing fireworks in Maryland may be fined $1,000.

"Fireworks are not toys — in fact, they can kill and maim!" Gabriele said. "Amputations, blinding and severe burn injuries have all too often been the result of someone using illegal fireworks."

Physicians estimate that nationally there may be as many as 5,000 eye injuries which are attributed to fireworks each year. In 1988, the Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that approximately 10,215 of people were injured by fireworks which required some type of hospital treatment.

Gabriele is asking for the assistance of all Marylanders in the battle to rid the State of illegal fireworks and reduce the number of injuries that may result from these fireworks. Some facts which attest to the safety problems associated with fireworks are:

*In 1988 approximately 12 Marylanders suffered some form of serious injury as a result of illegal fireworks during the Fourth of July holiday.

*Nearly two-thirds of the victims of fireworks injuries are under 21 years of age.

*Approximately one-fourth of all fireworks related injuries occur to persons age 10 or younger.

The Office of the State Fire Marshal recommends the following guidelines be followed to insure a safe July Fourth holiday from fireworks injuries:

*Make it a strict family rule, "No illegal fireworks."

*Sparklers when used in those jurisdiction where they are allowed, should be used only outdoors and away from building, vehicles, dry grass and other flammable objects.

*Sparklers should never be pointed or thrown at another person.

*Parents should always monitor their children closely when approved sparklers are used. Sparklers burn extremely hot and can ignite clothing and cause severe burn injuries.

*Families are urged to attend licensed public displays instead of discharging illegal fireworks at home.

For further information on fireworks safety, persons may contact the Office of the State Fire Marshal at (301) 764-4324.

Meese Honored For Achievement

David L. Meese, FIC, Lutheran Brotherhood, was cited for outstanding life insurance service at the 39th annual convention of the National Association of Fraternal Insurance Counsellors, which met May 3-5 at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel in St. Louis, Mo.

A certificate was given for Quality Service to his clients based on his previous year's achievements.

Also given was a certificate, which entitles him membership in the Two Million Club.

As a fraternal insurance counsellor, Meese was required to complete an extensive basic and advanced training course; pass three comprehensive examinations, and meet established requirements. He has been a representative in the Garrett County area since 1985.

Fern Shaffer Writes, Directs Play At School

Linda Martin's fourth grade class at Loch Lynn Elementary School recently conducted an extensive study of Maryland this year, including Maryland geography, the establishment and growth of colonial Maryland, and Maryland's 23 counties. Fern Shaffer, one of these fourth grade students, pictured above, decided to write a play on the founding of Maryland as a project.

Fern wrote the entire four-act play on her own, including stage directions and scenery design. With some guidance from the teacher, students were chosen to perform the play.

The group met at specific times, chose and practiced parts, created scenery, made stick-puppet characters, and even worked on lighting and sound effects. Miss Martin was available for guidance when needed.

The students performed "Sailing From England to Maryland," under the direction of Miss Shaffer, for the student body on June 1.

Fern is the daughter of Fran Otero Shaffer and the late Stephen Shaffer.

Bill To Continue ARC Co-Sponsored By Sen. Sarbanes

Hailing "a vital resource for economic growth in Western Maryland," Senator Paul Sarbanes has announced he is a cosponsor of legislation to continue the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC).

"Founded in 1965, the ARC has played an important role in the growth and economic development of Western Maryland and the Appalachian region as a whole," said Sarbanes. "Congress successfully fought eight years of Administration budget cuts to keep this program going. This legislation will make our commitment to the ARC stronger than ever."

The Appalachian Regional Commission takes a regional approach to the needs of rural America in developing policies and programs to spur economic development. In Maryland, these efforts have included educational programs, regional health planning and the development of industrial parks.

The ARC also provides essential funding for the Appalachian Regional Highway System, now at work on the National Freeway. Construction is now underway on the final portion of the Freeway, but the project's completion depends on continued ARC support. Current law only authorizes the ARC through 1989, raising the need for reauthorization.

Hearing disorders can take many forms. You may notice difficulty hearing your watch tick, a dripping faucet or the turn signal in your car. You may hear a continuous hissing or ringing in your ears. The loudness of sounds and voices may not seem reduced, but you may have difficulty hearing the exact words. When the quality of speech is reduced, it is often a symptom of sensorineural hearing loss.

To be certain, your hearing should be evaluated by a specialist in hearing disorders, an audiologist certified by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. For a complete audiological evaluation contact The Hearing Evaluation Center in Oakland at 334-4237 to find out about your hearing today.

Named Recipient Of Dr. Glotfelty Memorial Award

Darren Wilburn, a member of the 1989 Northern High School graduating class, received the first Dr. Scott A. Glotfelty Science for Humanity Memorial Award.

This annual award consists of a $100 Savings Bond and a commemorative plaque given by Dr. Glotfelty's family in his memory. It was presented to an outstanding senior student who has chosen to continue to study in the science field and who has "shown kindness, caring, and compassion to fellow students, faculty, and members of the community." Dr. Glotfelty, a veterinarian and also a Northern High alumnus, was a Peace Corps volunteer working in Africa at the time of his untimely death last year.

During his years at Northern, Wilburn excelled both in his academic and leadership abilities, graduating in the top five percent of his class. He was also presented the William H. Danforth "I Dare You" award at graduation ceremonies on June 4 and received a Merit Scholarship Award as well as the Presidential Academic Fitness Award. He was named Outstanding Male Student of the Year at the Academic Honors Banquet in both the 10th and 12th grades, the John Phillip Sousa Award was presented to him at the annual Band Awards Banquet in May; and he was recipient of the History Award his junior year. He was inducted into the National Honor Society in his junior year and has been on the Honor Roll and Distinguished Honor Roll. He achieved perfect scores on the Maryland Functional Reading, Writing, and Citizenship tests.

Other activities he was involved in while at Northern include: Student Council, where he has served on various committees including Ways and Means; Career Day usher at Garrett Community College; graduation usher two years; representative to the Vocational Equity Banquet; and named Student Employee of the Month in October of 1988.

As a four-year member of Northern's marching and concert band where he played saxophone, he served as field commander his senior year and brought home numerous awards. In addition to winning Best Field Commander trophies at the Maryland State Championships held at Memorial Stadium, Baltimore, and Chapter XIII Regional Championships for Group I, he was named best commander at the Frankfort Invitational Competition, Fort Asbhy, W.Va., and Central High Band Exam in Roaring Springs, Pa. He received second high score overall at the Maryland State Championships for all groups — I, II, III, and IV — placed tenth in the East Coast Championships, Allentown, Pa. Group I, with 25 entries. He also received the highest score of all participants at the Frankfort Invitational. Darren was the first male field commander to lead Northern's band in field show competitions.

A member of the Cherry Grove Church of the Brethren, he served as a junior usher for several years and has been active in the youth fellowship group where he has been president, secretary, and treasurer, and president of the Cumberland Area Youth.

He has been employed as a waiter at The Casselman Restaurant for two years.

Darren was recently notified that he was one of three first-place winners for his entry and drawing in the Maryland State Parks' mascot contest.

Wilburn will enter Frostburg State University this fall, where he will major in education. He has the desire to become involved with the youth, and hopes to become a science teacher at the high-school level. He was the recipient of the Garrett County Teachers' scholarship and one of the Grantsville Lions' Club scholarships.

The son of Jim and Wilma Wilburn of Grantsville, Darren resides at 94 Main Street.

Mary R. Sincell, John R. McEwen Exchange Vows In Outdoor Ceremony

Mary Ruth Sincell and John Russell McEwen were married May 28, 1989, in an outdoor ceremony, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Robert and Hannah Sincell, in Mountain Lake Park. Pastor Ray Ursin officiated the double-ring ceremony. The groom is the son of James and Alice McEwuen, Morgantown, W.Va.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin Jacquard weave, silk Venise lace, Chantilly lace, and iridescent sequins, with jewel neckline and short puff sleeves. She wore a three-tiered tulle and ribbon veil accented with sweetheart roses, made by her sister-in-law, Suzie Sincell. She carried a single pink rose surrounded by baby's breath.

Kathryn Sincell, Weehawken, N.J., served as her sister's maid of honor. Judy Stover, Garden City, N.Y., was bridesmaid. Both wore pink silk street length dresses, and carried single pink roses.

Two brothers of the groom stood with him: Richard McEwuen, Morgantown, W.Va., as best man, and Charles McEwuen, also of Morgantown, as groomsman.

Sara, Angela, Rachel, and Miriam Sincell, nieces of the bride, and Lori McEwuen, niece of the groom, all preceded the bride, scattering rose petals.

George and Ruthann McTyre, Carrboro, N.C.; and Kathryn Sincell opened the wedding ceremony by singing "Oh, Perfect Love." Miss Sincell also sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the benediction. At the reception, which immediately followed at the same location, the three entertained with several hits of the 1930s and '40s, accompanied by the bride's aunt, Mary Susan Williams, Romney, W.Va.

The flowers that decorated the house and yard, and carried by the wedding party, were arranged by Jack Wagoner, Cumberland, uncle of the bride, assisted by Jo Pownell, Springfield, W.Va., aunt of the bride, co-owners of Ren Roy Flower Shop in Cumberland. A motif of pink floribunda roses, latrice, double larkspur, and stargazer lilies was used in several arrangements, including a small rose bouquet that topped the wedding cake. The cake was made by Mrs. Sally Kuykendall, Romney.

Photographs were taken by the bride's brother, Jeffry Sincell, Berlin, N.J., and Carl Rebele, Deep Creek Lake.

The bride was guest of honor at a shower given by Joanne Rebele and Suzie Sincell, at the home of Mrs. Sincell. A rehearsal picnic was held the day before the wedding, hosted by the groom's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Southern High School and West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. She is employed by Measurement, Inc., Durham, N.C.

The groom is a graduate of Morgantown High School and West Virginia University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. He is employed in the music library at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N.C.

Guests attending the wedding came from West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Virginia, North Carolina, Ohio, and Maryland.

After a honeymoon trip to the state of Montana and Yellowstone National Park, the couple established residence in Carrboro, N.C.

realistically make use of academically and extracurricular — in other words, educationally.

But that is simply my viewpoint and opinion. If you read the May 20 Preston News you read some other views. Those people can sound very convincing because they believe what they are saying. If no one shows they are wrong, the Board just might believe it, too. But they are overlooking realities. There are misleading and even untrue statements there. My conclusion is that, despite all the research, statistics and projections, the eventual outcome is going to depend on which views get the best representation.

While I understand hesitation, I do not believe there is any excuse for absolute apathy. It behooves everyone who cares to educate themselves and make constructive suggestions to the Board by writing and/or going to their meetings. People who passively allow their lives to be controlled in a detrimental manner have no right to complain about it afterward. There are several million Chinese who would gladly trade places with us. Democracy means not only the right, but also the duty to express yourself. Use it or risk losing it.

To the Editor:

A recent letter in your paper, from ex-Delegate Bolden, imploring the people of Allegany County to reject the proposed federal prison was so ridiculous I felt someone had to rebut his absurd statements. I can't recall ever reading such a convoluted, twisted argument unless it was from some of your editorials.

I'm not against "tourism," but I do believe it's wrong to put too much emphasis on any one industry. What this whole area needs is more diversification, not less.

Mr. Bolden's statement was that "tourism and prisons don't mix," I wonder where he thinks these tourists come from.

One of your statements that "tourism" will always be the leading industry in Garrett County is as ridiculous, Mr. Editor, "always" is an awful long time. Who knows what the future holds? History shows that nothing is forever. This country is covered by communities that were once great tourist meccas that elected to self-destruct rather than put up with all the miseries connected with the tourist business.

When Deep Creek Lake goes, so does that tourist business. I didn't say "if" I said "when," for as most people know who have lived long enough, it's just a matter of time.

As far as the federal prison is concerned, it would bring this area a multi-million dollar payroll that would be about depression proof as a job can be.

As a person who retired from prison work, I would say to the nervous Nellies who think their lives would be in danger with a prison close by to think things out. Your greatest danger lies with the characters that are still at large, who are searching for a fix, whom the courts have put out on the streets time and time again.

Sincerely,
Emory W. Adams

To the Editor:

In the letter to the editor of June 15, 1989, C.K. Stemple of Aurora, W.Va. opposes my letters to the editor concerning abortion.

Stemple writes . . . "even if the Supreme Court elects to reverse its decision on the 'Roe vs. Wade' case, abortions will not be eliminated. The only thing that will be eliminated is safe abortions . . . The only thing that's going to happen by making abortions illegal is women will again resort to going to back alley butchers, facing unclean conditions, to terminate their unwanted pregnancies."

Stemple should know that the Human Life Amendment will eliminate all abortions. By the time the Human Life Amendment is passed, Americans will know that all abortions are wrong, unmoral, and never "safe." Americans will know that back to the coathangers is only rhetoric of the pro-abortion movement. Americans will know the correctioness of the pro-life position. Abortion will not be popular and will be very unpopular. As the law of the land, the right to life will be respected and enforced by prosecutors. Doctors performing abortions after the Human Life Amendment will be prosecuted.

Societal conditions do not justify abortions even for teenagers for in every case an abortion necessarily takes the life of a human being. For a woman who does not want or cannot take care of her baby, adoption is the only sensible choice. Most women having abortions will regret it the rest of their lives.

Teen-agers should be taught abstinence at home, church and school. They shouldn't be taught ineffective contraception which leads to abortion.

To the Editor:

Your June 22 edition had many points of special interest to me! The splendid article of tribute to Mr. Obenshain, a truly brilliant intellectual giant was welcome! Too bad his talent is primarily with inanimate things, when we have such a great need for someone of his stature in the realm of human beings and their unmet needs and somehow it is a missing element in Garrett County for so many.

The letter by Laurie Scott Bulka was so very welcome and so courageous. God Bless you for coming forth!

Your Editorial shows your thinking loud and clear. Thank God occasionally we do have outside media come in who isn't afraid to tell the truth such as in the "Mettiki mess" of some years ago and although you could have printed what you knew of the truth then, you didn't have the courage to print it and only reprinted what the Baltimore reporter and paper printed.

We have forever known your paper will only print what it prefers to print in positive "coverage." When you write you are not suggesting that the outside media cover up or ignore and it does no good to have our "dirty laundry" hung out for the world to see, I don't think you are seeing and hearing the reality of our area or want to see or hear of the "cries for help" from so many in our area and nowhere greater than in the long ongoing Mental Health mess, which you successfully ignore as much as you can. Generally if it were not for the Letters to the Editor I don't think you'd print anything about the "monumental mess." You certainly didn't concerning the terrible tragic terminations of the highly qualified certified psychologists until I wrote you a letter about it. Nor did or has the other newspaper; only our local Radio Station had the guts or polite word honesty and intestional fortitude to report it! So for all the media true journalists who print the truth and facts I salute you and not just the "positive coverage, please."

When you experience extreme crisis it certainly heightens your awareness of the stress, and trauma and heartbreak of reality and many families such as ours have and are, in the stupidity, lack of concern, compassion and total irresponsibility of the actions in the Mental Health Department by state officials who do not know and can't begin to comprehend the enormity of their irresponsible, stupid actions.

When the one who terminated the psychologists doesn't know what or how the term "Continuum Therapy" means and or is instituted and by whom? Who is an "M.D." only; that person shouldn't be making Mental Health decisions about subjects one is apparently ignorant in! Why was all the so-called "State Mental Health" people brought in as "acting deputies" and this and that, if an M.D. was going to be making the Mental Health decisions. This isn't a game one is playing with human lives and learn as you go with all your mistakes as though one were playing a game of Dominoes.

In clarification for Laurie Scott Bulka the "baby has been crying in the bath water," for 16 years that I have been pleading from the top to the bottom locally and statewide to every possible elected official and every statewide Mental Health official to no avail! It isn't that the local people at all levels have not been informed, paid, state or elected! Dr. Pope and all the rest literally laughed at me through all the pleading. Who were or should have been in a position to act and at any level they never did much of anything.

When I was advised to sue or nothing would ever be done, I tried and am still trying that avenue, helplessly to date.

The unbelieveable corruption runs so deeply apparently and has for so many years, perhaps back to the Agnew and Mandel years, that so far no reputable firm will take a case against the state and or our local officials. What does this say for our local legal profession and others whom I have contacted? So it isn't that a handful of people haven't tried or ducked personal responsibility; they have hit the brick wall that I have hit for 16 years with little or no success! Thank God for all who have come out and shown the very real courage in the "Mental Health continuing mess" which is far from over, as more and more of the highly qualified Mental Health employees leave this forever worsening mess. But for all the suffering families if you demand in writing that you receive a competent therapist, you'll get it, at least I did.

Mrs. Louise V. Harvey

To the Editor:

To this point I have been as guilty as the next guy. I have watched the events unfold nightly on the television news. I have read of the new developments each morning in my daily paper. Yet I have remained guilty. Guilty of complacency, inaction. But no more.

Not so long ago four American College Students were shot and killed by American National Guardsmen on the Campus of Kent State University. American outrage was such that songs were written in commemoration of the Bloody Event. Those and other students like themselves were exercising the rights they were guaranteed by a Constitution written many years before even their parents were born; Rights they no doubt took for granted as we all do. This very moment I am excercising one of those rights by writing this letter. And you are exercising one of those rights by reading it in the Free Press. We were fortunate enough to have been born in a country where these acts are not only permissible but commonplace.

I use the Kent State example for illustrative purposes; I do not wish to discuss the politics involved in that American tragedy at this time. But recent events in another country closely parallel what happened in that quiet Ohio town not so long ago. Students, exercising Free Speech and peaceful demonstration, were shot and killed by soldiers using weapons of war.

We are, of course, referring to the slaughter in China. But unlike Kent State, slightly more than four students were killed in fact, western intelligence estimates place the figures closer to 3 thousand.

The tragedy of the four Kent State youths lies in the fact that these students died while exercising rights they were guaranteed at birth. But which is the greater crime? Four students killed while utilizing thier freedom of speech and protest, or three thousand dead while fighting for such freedoms in a place where no such freedoms exist?

Obviously, there is no lesser or greater evil in these two instances. Both were equally wrong and tragic. But a crime is being committed even as I write this letter. Both were in our country and there in China.

The people of China are being deceived into believing that nothing happened. The Chinese government has instituted an Hitleresque propaganda campaign designed to convince the masses that the "Minor Situation" was perpetrated by criminals of the state, and that the disturbance was crushed by the "Army of the People."

The Chinese government is rewriting history to their liking — to suit their needs as necessary to control the population of the country. They are rounding up those students who led the movement in order that they may be executed. The crime in this is obvious.

And the crime here in the United States is just as obvious. We are letting the Chinese government get away with such suppression and immorality! Some fifty years ago World War II broke out over this sort of activity. Now I don't wish to go to war, but neither did our fathers and grandfathers wish it — but they did so because it was right. It's time we did the right thing also. If there is a peaceful method of dealing with the injustice, I'm all for it. But whatever the cost, the United States, as the undisputed leader of the Free World, must make a significant impact on this situation. This indignity cannot be tolerated as long as our coduntry stands as the symbol of freedom worldwide.

The citizenry of the country has lost sight of the values and ideals that made us the Great Nation we are. We have somehow forgotten our strength and pride in the face of rampant communism. We are the most powerful nation in the world, and Freedom made us that way. Let's learn from the mistake that was Vietnam and let us learn to commit fully to the ideal of Democracy; it is a righteous concept, not a mere word to be tossed about as some worn-out baseball. We have a responsiblity to those Americans who died for our Freedoms in all our wars; we have a responsibility to those Americans not yet born who will someday owe us their freedom; We have a responsibility to those four students who lost their youth on the campus of a small university in Ohio; we have a responsibility to anyone who is not yet free.

We have a responsibility to those students and citizens in China.

An American,
Jeffrey W. Cooley

P.S. Please write to your congressmen.

To the Editor:

Has the county's recent boom resulted in a service industry bust? I am originally from the county but moved away several years ago. My family and I return several times a year and I guess you'd call us tourists in most respects. Our last visit brought home, with harsh reality, the attitude of area businesses that customers are little more than a nuisance. Get their money and get them out.

The incident I refer to occurred after a delicious meal at a restaurant on the lake. Let me stress that the food was very good. Upon paying, however, I calmly stated that I felt I should not have to pay for a lemonade my son had sent back ("Satisfaction Guaranteed!" was clearly printed on the menu). The manager became very irate and insisted I pay, which I did. As my party rounded the back of the building to leave, there the manager stood, outside, smoking a cigarette, and blatently cursing me out in the worst of language. I thought she actually meant to do me bodily harm. Being seven months pregnant, this was more than a little frightening.

Since the incident, I have told several people. All have agreed that this lady's attitude epitomizes that of all too many Garrett Countians today. Customers should be treated with full respect and everything possible done to accommodate them. With the exception of a few places like Arrowhead Deli, I see very few businesses upholding this standard.

The poor attitude seems to continue to stem from area owners and management. This I say with experience, much of it as a former employee at several area businesses. Management is extremely greedy and aware that, not only is the customer at its mercy, so are their employees. The area is brimming with employables who know they are fortunate to have even the low-paying jobs, which account for the majority of those available around the lake. Management picks up loads of cheap help, takes advantage of it, and leaves the employee bitter, recognizing he is being used, and showing his discontent in his attitude toward the customer. This has been going on for years.

Since leaving Garrett County, I've become used to a friendly smile or a few considerate words at the checkout counter. Such niceties are consequently immediately evident when returning to the area. I'm sure other tourists notice these things as well and will find some other place to vacation where they will receive at least as much respect as they get at home. Some priorities need to be re-evaluated.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. Kemp

Sincell Receives Fellowship To Pursue Master's

R. Benjamin Sincell, assistant professor of speech and theatre at Garrett Community College and owner-producer of the Magical Mime Company, has recently been awarded a graduate assistantship and the Swiger Fellowship by the West Virginia University Division of Theatre for the 1989-90 academic year. This represents the highest graduate student award given by the university.

Sincell, who is technical director for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival and who has designed and constructed sets for several of the Garrett Choral Society's productions, will begin his duties at West Virginia University in August as a teaching/shop assistant in the technical area of the theatre and as a participant in the major season production program. He will be on sabbatical leave from Garrett Community College during the year as he completes the course work and other requirements for his master's degree.

At the present time, Sincell is finishing the set for the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival production of "Foxfire," to be presented in the college auditorium next week. In previous years, he designed and constructed the sets for the productions of "Harvey" and "Blithe Spirit," as well as for all of the Garrett Community College productions. He is well-known in the region as a magician and performer with the Magical Mime Company.

SHS Class Of '69 Sets Reunion

The Southern High School Class of 1969 will hold its 20-year reunion on Saturday, July 29, at the McHenry House, Wisp Resort, McHenry, beginning at 7 p.m. Barry McKay will be the disc jockey and Jim Matthews will take pictures.

Reservations for the event are still being taken by Ann Glotfelty (334-4439), Liz Elliott (334-2098), and Kay Harvey (387-6907), who request that reservations be made and questionnaries returned as soon as possible. Yearbooks will be available for $5 each.

The next meeting for finalizing plans for the reunion will be held in the basement of the Oakland Elks Lodge on Monday, July 10, at 7 p.m.

Commissioners Hold Monthly Staff Meeting

The heads of numerous county agencies met with the Board of Garrett County Commissioners for the monthly staff meeting on Wednesday.

Health Department

Rodney Glotfelty, of the Garrett County Environmental Health Department, reported that the third case of rabies in the county for this year has been confirmed in the Cove area. He noted that there is a good geographic distribution of cases, and there have been less reports this year than during previous years.

Glotfelty also noted that environmental perk testing has been slow because of rain, but it is expected to pick up.

Sanitary Commission

Wendell Beitzel, director of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, reported that they have decided to relocate the Deep Creek Lake storage tank because of numerous complaints from neighboring property owners. The new location is more secluded from houses, and also does not have the rock problem that the original site had, which may result in lowered cost.

Beitzel noted that the contractor for the Crellin Sewer Project has been hampered by the wet weather, and work has not begun on the treatment plant. However, nearly all the pipeline has been installed, and that some restoration has been completed on the yards in the area.

Final approval of funding for the Deep Creek Lake Sewer project has been received, and payment has been received from the EPA. The commission is awaiting payment from the state level. The total project cost was $20,602,000, which was well within the approved grant of $21,158,200.

Promotion Council

Diane Wolfe, director of the Garrett County Promotion Council, reported that the McHenry Highland Festival was a success with over 1,300 people in attendance.

The council is currently working on Autumn Glory. A major new event which has been added to the festival is a baseball card show.

The number of Garrett County information packets being mailed out continues to increase.

Economic Development

Tom Jones, director of Garrett County Economic Development, reported that a new sign will be put up at the Southern Garrett Industrial Park, and work is currently underway on a new industrial promotional brochure.

GCC

John Culp, Garrett Community College Comptroller, reported that enrollment for summer classes has increased, and pre-registration for the fall semester is currently 12 percent ahead of last year. Continuing Education enrollment has also increased.

Searches are coming to a close for two new positions at the college: director of technical education and director of developmental studies. An opening has been filled for library director, and a food service position is also available.

Planning and Zoning

John Nelson, of Garrett County Planning and Zoning, reported that the state office has begun a campaign on census awareness, which will include a booth at the Garrett County Fair.

The flood plain program has been more active than anticipated, and has mainly focused on bridge-type construction.

G.K. Hixon Family Slates Gathering

The G.K. Hixon family invites all friends and relatives to their home this Saturday, July 1, beween the hours of 5 and 8 p.m. to renew friendships with Nancy, Galen, and Darl and their families. Light refreshments will be served.

Local Woman "Stable" After W.Va. Accident

A Deer Park woman remains in "stable" condition at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, as a result of a single-vehicle accident in Short Gap, W.Va., on Friday.

Tracie Plato, 24, was transported to the hospital by Medevac helicopter following the single-vehicle accident on Route 956.

West Virginia State Police reported that Plato was a passenger in a vehicle operated by Mark D. Hoover, 29, Romney, W.Va. Hoover was traveling east, and attempted to pass a line of traffic, then veered to the right to avoid striking an oncoming westbound vehicle. He lost control of the vehicle and ran off the road, striking a tree in the driver's side door.

Both Hoover and a second passenger, Donald Steyer, 30, also of Deer Park, were taken to the hospital by Fort Ashby ambulance. They were not listed as patients at that hospital.

Charges are reportedly pending in the accident.

Charges Filed Against Marketer Of Local Condos

The Consumer Protection Division in the office of Maryland Attorney General J. Joseph Curran Jr. has filed administrative charges against the Virginia-based marketer of 10 time-share developments in Ocean City and Western Maryland, including Garrett County, alleging that he has used "grossly" distorted promotional materials to make false and misleading solicitations to hundreds of thousands of consumers.

"Our 13-page statement of charges accuses H. Lloyd Hensley, owner of the Hensley Group, Inc., of Alexandria, Va., and nine other realty firms, of enticing more than 25,000 families a year to visit time-share developments in Maryland by sending them false and misleading promotions," Curran said. According to the Attorney General, the promotions were deceptive in stating that individuals had won a valuable prize when they had not, in grossly distorting the odds of winning a prize in the promotion, and in misrepresenting that individuals would receive a free prize when, in fact, the consumers had to pay "redemption fees" in order to get the prizes.

Curran added that "among the supposed prizes being offered by Hensley and unnamed associates are BMW 325 automobiles, Mercedes 190E cars, and 'free film for life'."

The time-share condominiums promoted by Hensley, who is a Century 21 Real Estate franchisee and operates Mid-lantic Realty, Inc., in Berlin, (Md.) among other firms, are the Ocean Time, San Tropez, Ocean High, Bay Club, Sandy Square, the Waves and the Pointe on the Bay developments in Ocean City. Hensley also promotes the sale of time-shares at the Borderlinks in Berlin, Atlantic Resorts in Ocean Pines, and Lakewood Resorts in McHenry, according to the statement of charges prepared by Assistant Attorney General John J. Capowski.

In addition to touting prizes consumers will not get, the Attorney General alleges that the promotional materials mailed by Hensley and his associates falsely claim that the recipients "were specially selected as part of a sweepstakes or contest when the individuals were simply selected because they lived within chosen postal zones," and misleadingly imply that the mailed solicitations "had received special treatment" by labeling them "Western Express," "Telex Notification" and "LLU Priority Pack," when in fact "simple bulk rate mailings were used."

Hensley's promotions misrepresented the quality of the prizes being offered, for example touting "a motorcycle that Consumer Reports states had an engine that was 'more common in a chain saw than a moped,' much less a motorcycle," the charges contend. After representing that recipients of one promotion would receive a free rabbit fur coat, Hensley and his agents then required consumers to pay a $29.95 "redemption fee" to get the cost. And consumers who were told they would get free film for life later learned that they would have to pay film processing costs in order to receive subsequent "free" rolls of film, according to the charges.

Among other distortions in the solicitations was the suggestion made to recipients of the Mercedes 190E promotion that either they or one other recipient would win the car, thereby implying that they "had a 50/50 chance of winning the Mercedes," when in fact the same solicitation was sent "to thousands of individuals," the charges allege.

Under Maryland's Time-Sharing Act, no promotional device used to sell time-shares may involve elements of chance as to the selection or award of particular merchandise or services, Curran noted.

The solicitations also mislead consumers into believing they have a won a major prize "by emphasizing and repeating" information about an expensive prize while only making mention once of the prize they will actually receive, the charges contend.

The Statement of Charges alleges that Hensley's agents, in selling the time-shares, give potential purchasers a false sense of urgency by stating that offers are open for a limited time only and/or that the purchases must be made on the day of the individual's visit. In addition, the time-share sales agents misrepresent the benefits one is likely to be able to obtain through time-share exchange programs as well as that a time-share ownership has investment value.

A booklet published by the Hensley Group claims that more than 25,000 families a year visit Hensley-owned time-share developments in Maryland in response to the sales promotions, Curran said. He added that to get that kind of response, the solicitations would have had to have been sent to ten times that number of recipients.

The Consumer Protection Division will ask an independent hearing officer to issue an order enjoining Hensley and his associates from engaging in unfair and deceptive trade practices, cease violating the state's time-sharing law, and pay an undetermined amount of restitution to consumers who either did not receive the prizes they were told they would get or were improperly induced to purchase a time-share in one of Hensley's condominium projects.

A public hearing on the charges against Hensley will be scheduled. Persons with personal knowledge of the charges against him may qualify as interested parties to the hearing and testify at it. They should contact the Consumer Protection Division at 528-8662 or write the Consumer Protection Division at 7 North Calvert Street, Third Floor, Baltimore, Md. 21202.

Plans Discussed For Big Brothers/ Sisters Program

The Garrett County Steering Committee of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of the Alleghenies discussed plans for service provision in Garrett County on June 20.

Steering Committee members elected were Robert Ulino, chair; Larry Bruch, vice-chair; and Albert Coviello, secretary/treasurer. Anna Bishop and Dr. Brenda McCartney are the current nominating and fund-raising committee members.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters is a non-profit organization that matches qualified adult volunteers with children ages 6 to 16 who are generally from single parent homes. There are approximately 500 school-age children from single parent homes in Garrett County.

According to the steering committee, national statistics indicate that children who participate in the Big Brother/Big Sister program show improvements in behavior and in school-work. The committee reported, "Eventually the community benefits as these children are more likely to become well-adjusted, responsible adults."

Prior to providing the match service between adult volunteers and children, a part-time case worker must be hired, trained and established in an office in Garrett County. During this start-up phase, the steering committee will be involved in fund raising and awareness activities.

Anyone interested in serving on the steering committee or volunteering in any capacity to assist the local committee in beginning this project may contact Robert Ulino, 334-1996; Larry Bruch, 895-3286; or Al Coviello, 334-8938.

Tax-deductible contributions may be sent to Big Brothers/Big Sisters of the Alleghenies, P.O. Box 1545, Cumberland, 21502. Persons should indicate that the donation is for the Garrett County Steering Committee account.

Stephanie Piper Is Recipient Of Award

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Stephanie C. Piper, a student at Southern High School, has been named a U.S. National Award winner in the category of cheerleading. She was nominated for the honor by Sandi Smith, cheerleading advisor.

The Academy selects students for awards in various categories based upon such criteria as the student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership ability, citizenship, cooperative spirit, and a recommendation from a teacher, coach, or other school official. The biographies of all award winners appear in the Academy's yearbook.

The daughter of Fritz and Susan Piper, Oakland, Stephanie has also been named to Who's Who Among American High School Students, an honor bestowed upon only five percent of the students in the nation's 22,000 high schools. Similar criteria is used by Who's Who in determining its selectees.

REAL ESTATE

DEEP CREEK REALTY

FIRST THING FIRST!

Imagine going to purchase some new furniture. You select a new dining room suite, and the salesperson asks how you plan to pay for it. You answer "I hadn't thought about that!" The next question is "Would you like to pay by check?" Looking at the balance in your checkbook, you shake your head.

The scenario continues with an unexpected barrage of financial questions to set up a financing plan. Caught by surprise without the answers, you leave the store in dismay.

It's not likely you would allow such a situation to occur when buying furniture, yet it happens quite often when purchasing a home. Since financing is often essential to completing a home purchase, there is a pleasant alternative to consider.

Before actually beginning your search for a home, ask the agent you have selected to arrange a "pre-qualification" interview with a mortgage lender. This allows you to speak directly with the lender and provide detailed financial information in confidence. The result? The lender can determine an appropriate loan for your new home, as well as the maximum amount for which you are financially qualified.

Once you have completed this "pre-qualification" process, you are free to begin your home search in a positive and productive manner, with the knowledge that financing for the home is available to you.

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 387-5303. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

GCC Says Pell Grant Program Is Expanded

The Financial Aid Office of Garrett Community College announced this week that the Pell Grant program has been expanded to allow more adults the opportunity to attend college. Eligible part-time students will be able to attend GCC free of charge, as the Pell Grant program pays the full cost of tuition, fees, and books.

According to a GCC spokesman, the program is aimed at low-income persons who desire a college education. "It is especially well suited to adults who want opportunity, but whose responsibilities to work and/or family prevent them from attending college full-time," the spokesman said. "Students can take as few as one course, and they can attend day or evening classes."

The awarding of Pell Grants is based entirely on financial need. It is not related to previous academic achievement. To qualify, students must pursue a certificate or degree program and they are expected to maintain standards of academic progress. Preparatory courses are available for students who need refresher studies.

To apply for a Pell Grant or obtain further information, persons may call the GCC Financial Aid Office at 387-6666.

Farming In Maryland.....

Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Farmers All Across Maryland Are Singing The "Rainy Day Blues"

"Rain, rain, go away; come again another day."

Who would have thought that just one season after the record-breaking drought of 1988 farmers across Maryland would be repeating this old child's ditty? But after one of the wettest Mays on record, June in Maryland has also been abnormally wet, giving normally optimistic farmers a reason to worry about this year's crops.

And with the rain continuing almost daily, interspersed with short periods of hot, humid, hazy weather, farmers from the mountains of Western Maryland to the state's Eastern Shore are worried and concerned. No crop has been spared. All across the area, hay and other forage crops have been lost or have become overly mature while waiting for the ground to dry enough to support tractors and machinery on the fields. Corn has rotted, tobacco is yellow, and vegetables are not growing. Small grains, normally off by now to allow a crop of soybeans to be planted, have been reported down and sprouting in some areas. On top of all this, conditions have been perfect for insects and disease.

Maryland Agriculture Statistics Service Statistician Carroll Homann says reports as of June 19 are not so grim, but added, "We need less rain." These reports show 95 percent of the corn is planted in Maryland, only three percent behind 1988; 56 percent of the soybeans planted, 16 percent behind last year, with a five-year average of 68 percent on that date; first-cutting alfalfa is 87 percent cut, only nine percent behind the five-year average; and three percent of the alfalfa hay has been cut the second time. Other hay, which is normally 80 to 85 percent cut by now, is 61 percent harvested.

University of Maryland Extension Agents all across the state, however, argue with these figures. Agricultural Extension Agent in Garrett County, Jim Simms, says this area is "extremely wet." Simms estimates that 90 percent of the corn has been planted, but harvesting forage has been a big problem. "It's been extremely difficult to get any hay off so a second crop can grow," said Simms. "First cutting hay is becoming extremely mature and dropping quality," he added.

"Insects are on a rampage," Simms says. He told of one farmer in the northern end of the county who lost 35 acres of corn to cutworms in three days. In Garrett County, the high elevation can bring the first fall frost anytime after the end of August (a frost hit the area on July 1 last year severely damaging corn and other crops), making a decision to replant a corn crop at this date questionable.

"Slugs have been very bad because of wet conditions," he said, "and there is an epidemic of alfalfa weevil." The alfalfa has also been hit by a lot of disease this year, says Simms. "We've found Phytophthora Root Rot, Bacterial Leaf Spot, Verticilium Wilt, and Sclerotina Wilt, and there is nothing to treat them with. Nothing can be done."

According to Simms, one vegetable grower lost two acres of green beans to the Corn Seed Maggot, strawberry growers are worried about fungus, oats in bottomlands are yellow, and Quack Grass is growing back in the corn fields.

Moving east to Frederick County, Extension Agent Terry Poole reports that hay quality is very poor. What has been cut has been rained on. The wheat and barley harvest is down because of disease. Soybean and corn planting has been delayed. There are slugs in the no-till corn. About 17 percent of the corn had to be replanted after the first planting rotted in the field. Weeds are growing in the corn due to breakthrough which occurs when cool, wet weather slows growth and the effect of the herbicide runs out allowing weeds to break through. "Over all, it stinks!" Poole says.

In Southern Maryland, Charles County's Travis McPherson says planting has been a problem and farmers in his county are still behind. Five percent of the corn was not planted as of June 26. Fifty percent of the soybeans are planted and 65 to 70 percent of the tobacco transplants are in. "Tobacco looks yellow," he said. "It's over rained, and tobacco, expecially that planted on sandy land, is what we call 'sand drowned'."

Approximately 10 percent of the hay has not been harvested yet, and will probally be cut so a second growth can come, the Extension agent reports. In addition, there is disease and lodging in the wheat, and low test weights are expected.

McPherson says that this year there is a problem with slugs in places there was no problem before. However, he thinks that some other insects are not as prevalent as usual, especially those that depend on warm soil temperatures to emerge.

Farmers on the Eastern Shore have not been spared. "Queen Anne's County has been hit pretty hard," says Extension Agent Paul Gunther. He says there is a 40 percent reduction in corn acreage because farmers just couldn't get on the ground to get it planted. "Some farmers have not one grain of corn in the ground," Gunther said. In a three day period, from June 21 to 23, 1 1/2 to 5 1/2 inches of rain fell in that area of the state.

"Most farmers lost their first cutting alfalfa, and a few have the second cutting on the ground, wet." Gunther said. He said that there is corn borer in the early corn. However, most of the corn was planted late and he thinks that late corn will probably fare better.

Most of the wheat and barley is not harvested, as farmers, again, are having trouble getting on the ground. In the oat fields, stalks have fallen down and the grain is sprouting, Gunther says. "Things are not going well, overall," he concludes.

In Talbot County, Extension Agent Donald Osburn says, "The water table is up and the soil is saturated. There's no place for the water to drain." While Richard Seely, a Caroline County Extension agent, says the wet weather is causing disease in small grain crops, weeds and insect infestations. Corn and soybean plantings are behind schedule. "It's a terrible problem," Seely said. "They (farmers) can't get their field work done. It could cost them a yield."

The National Weather Service at Baltimore-Washington International Airport said rainfall in June totaled 4.01 inches through June 19, exceeding the 3.76 inch average recorded in June at BWI over the past 30 years.

June marks the fifth month so far this year with above-average rainfall. Only April has registered below-average precipitation, with 3.16 inches, or 0.19 inches below normal.

May was the rainiest on record at BWI, with 8.71 inches recorded at the airport, 5.27 inches above the average.

Weather specialists blame the weather on the jet stream, saying the fast-moving upper air currents which steer lower-level weather systems normally move south as far as the Gulf of Mexico during the winter, bringing the region many of its winter and spring storms. This pattern has persisted unusually late this year, funneling moisture from the Gulf of Mexico into the east with repeated rainstorms and replacing years of drought with above-normal, and even record rains.

The jet stream normally retreats northward to Canada during a springtime transition period, allowing the persistent "Bermuda highs" to move in and deliver the sunny, hot and humid weather typical of Maryland's summers.

So come on Bermuda high, and rain, rain go away, come again another day.

Farm Queen Contestants Sought

Single women, ages 16-19 as of August 30, 1989, are invited to compete for the title of 1989 Garrett County Farm Queen. The winner will enter the State Farm Queen Contest at the Maryland State Fair.

The Farm Queen will represent local agriculture at parades, conferences, and other events throughout the year. Entrants are judged on speaking ability, community and school activities, farm background and personality.

The contest will be held August 13, at 8 p.m., at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. The public is invited to attend. All interested girls should contact Kate Fratz at 826-8205, Mary Durst at 689-8137 or Jean Wright at 387-6370.

Next Sign-Up For Conservation July 17-Aug. 4

The next sign-up period for USDA's Conservation Reserve Program will take place July 17 through August 4, at the Garrett County Agricultural Stabilization Office. The program encourages farmers to stop growing crops on highly erodible land and plant it to grass or trees through 10-year contracts with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

To apply for the Conservation Reserve Program, Garrett County ASCS official, William F. DeWitt, says farmers must submit bids for rental payments on the designated acres and provide a cropping history covering the years 1981 through 1985.

To date, USDA has accepted bids to enter 412 acres on 10 county farms into the Conservation Reserve Program. Rental payments during 1989 on these acres will total approximately $21,285, according to DeWitt.

The ASCS official says each farmer can receive up to $50,000 per year for placing eligible cropland into the program. They also will receive up to one-half the cost of establishing permanent conservation practices on these acres.

This will be the ninth sign-up period for the Conservation Reserve Program.

Farm Bureau Picnic July 16

The Garrett County Farm Bureau will hold its annual family picnic on Sunday afternoon, July 16, in the Lions Club Pavilion at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, McHenry. The picnic will begin at 1 p.m. and the Farm Bureau will provide meat and drink. Families are asked to bring a covered dish.

There will be entertainment and a state representative present. All Farm Bureau families are urged to attend.

Early Data From Ag Census Noted

Early data from the 1987 Census of Agriculture show that the U.S. had 2,087,759 farms, 1,059,573 of which had annual product sales of $10,000 or more. Land in farms totaled 964,470,625 acres, 86 percent of them in farms with $10,000 or more in sales, the Commerce Department's Census Bureau reported.

The census showed that the U.S.'s farmers and ranchers sold $136 billion in agricultural products and that farms with $10,000 or more in sales averaged $125,187 per farm.

Other findings: $58.9 billion or 43 percent of total agricultural sales were for crops, while $77.1 billion or 57 percent came from the sale of livestock, poultry, and their products.

The agriculture census obtains information on all identified farm and ranch operations in the United States. The Census Bureau defines a farm as any place where $1,000 or more of agricultural products were produced and sold or normally would have been sold during the census year. Sampling is used to collect data for selected items and to account for non-responding farm operations.

Reports for individual states may be obtained by writing the Information Office, Agriculture Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, or by calling (301) 763-1113.

Hints To Growers

Armyworms in Sweet Corn

Be on the lookout for the Armyworm in your sweet corn. The Armyworm is a small worm that feeds on the leaf of corn and in the daytime they move down into the whorl. If the population is high, they can completely destroy your crop. Treat when 12 percent of the plants exhibit feeding signs. I would recommend using either Lorshan or Ambush for control. If you use a granular, make sure the granules get down into the whorl. Check the labels for restrictions.

Using the Herbicide "Roundup" Around the Home and Garden

Roundup is becoming very popular around the home and garden for controlling undesirable plants. Even though Roundup has a very low toxicity, it is non-selective in killing vegetation. If you use Roundup around desirable plants, use a shield to protect them. Avoid spraying on windy days. People and pets should be kept off of the treated area until it dries, usually six hours. This precaution keeps the weed killer from being tracked onto desirable vegetation. Read the label carefully before using Roundup.

Strawberry Site Renewal

Strawberry plantings may bear adequately for three or more years before the beds need replanting. To maintain the planting, it is necessary to renew the strawberry beds each season following harvest. You should only renew a good planting. Weak, diseased or weedy plantings should be destroyed. Mow off the tops of the plants one to three inches above the crowns without damaging the crown. Allow the tops to dry and then reduce the width of the rows to 18 inches. Do this by removing plants on both sides of the row with cultivator. Throw about ½ inch of soil around the crowns to stimulate new root development. Next, thin the plants in the row, leaving them six to eight inches apart.

If broadleaf weeds are a serious problem, apply two, 4-D amine immediately after harvest but before mowing. You should expect some injury from this treatment. Make a second herbicide application, using Enide or Sinbar, after renovation.

Fertilize after renovation. If the soil is at the proper fertility level, all you need to apply is three pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

Armyworms Have Arrived!

Armyworms are now showing up in corn fields, especially the fields that were no-tilled into small grain stubble. I would recommend you check your fields every 3 or 4 days. In the daytime the Armyworm will hide down in the whorl of the corn. Check the borders of fields that are next to small grains. The Armyworm will migrate from small grains to corn. Control is recommended if 35% or more of the plants are infested. The following insecticides are recommended: Sevin 5% Bait-20, 40 lbs/A; Lorsban 4E, 1 pt/A; Lannate, 1-2 pts/A; Penncap-M, 2-3 pt/A; Pounce 3.2 EC, 4 oz/A; Ambush 2E, 6.4 oz/A; Dylox 80% SP, 20 oz/A. Be sure to follow directions on the label.

A "Cutworm" Story

You would have to see it to believe it! Last week I visited with a farmer in the Grantsville area who had a 35-acre corn field completely destroyed by the Black Cutworm. The corn was approximately 6 to 8" high when the cutworm invaded. The field appeared as if nothing had been planted. The field of corn was completely devoured within a week. With a season like we are having, it pays to check your crops every 2-3 days. Look carefully!

Is It Too Late To Spray for Weeds?

In most fields the Oats are past the boot stage and starting to show grain; therefore, it is too late to spray. Small grains must be sprayed before they reach the boot stage. All of the herbicides registered for small grains can seriously reduce yields if applied too late.

We would like to thank all our friends and family who helped celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary.
Thanks Kids, Especially Cissy

Newman Named Board Member Of GCC Foundation

Garrett Community College announced this week that Don J. Newman, Grantsville, has been named to the board of directors of the newly-organized GCC Foundation.

Newman has been a funeral director in the county since 1955, having opened his first funeral home in Grantsville and later expanding into Friendsville and McHenry. After graduation from high school, he entered the U.S. Army and served as an intelligence sergeant in the 69th Infantry Division during World War II, seeing action on the European front. After an honorable discharge he received his education and license from the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science.

Newman has long been and continues to be involved in numerous community service organizations. For many years he operated an ambulance service in Grantsville and also received fire calls for northern Garrett County. He helped to launch the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad, serving as its first chairman. He remains an honorary member of the squad.

He is also past commander of Grantsville Post 214, American Legion; past president of the Grantsville Rotary Club; past president of the Maryland State Funeral Directors Association; and is currently the Worthy Patron of Mountain Chapter 15, Order of the Eastern Star. He is also a member of the Friendsville VFW Post 8769; Frostburg Mountain Lodge No. 99, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons; the Cumberland Scottish Rite; the Ali Ghan Shrine; the Tri-State Funeral Directors Association; the National Funeral Directors Association; Lodge 40, Fraternal Order of Police; and the El Fidel Club.

Newman resides in Grantsville with his wife, the former Ruth E. Klotz. Their son, Lynn, and his wife, Carol, are now operating the Newman funeral homes. The Newmans also have one grandchild, Geoffrey.

Whittemore Files Suit Against Friendsville

Jesse Whittemore has filed a civil suit against the Town of Friendsville. He has worked in Friendsville, building and repairing kayaks since 1983, with no complaints, until March of this year. On March 29, he received a letter from the Town of Friendsville, ordering him to "cease and desist" with his business by May 1.

Whittemore complied with the Town's order, obtained a lawyer, and then met with members of the Friendsville Zoning Board. According to information filed by Whittemore's lawyer, the Board gave assurances that Whittemore could continue his business without enforcement of Friendsville's interpretation of the ordinance, but that the assurances given do not clarify the situation.

"I'm just trying to get back my commercial designation and get back to work. We've exhausted all friendly communications. I could get back to work, but from the information they gave me, I could be fined," Whittemore explained. "I'm mad and I'm really bummed about the whole situation."

Whittemore is seeking the court's opinion as to the legal status of his property so that he can continue his business without fear of reprisal from the town.

"WHAT'S THIS? EGO BOOSTER, TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS!"

WOW Lodge 11 Holds Regular Meeting May 23

The regular monthly meeting of Woodmen of the World, Lodge 11, was held May 23 at the Lodge Hall in Oakland with 16 members present.

Leota Peck, president, presided and George Zimmerman led the group in prayer.

The field representative report showed 11 new members for Ranger Unit 112 and Lodge 11.

Ellen Zimmerman reported on the bowling trip for the Rangers, which 32 members, guests, and chaperones attended.

Rosetta Rodeheaver explained the "Go For The Gold" incentive program, which will run for a two-year period.

The scrapbook will be mailed this week to Omaha for National judging.

It was noted that the Christmas trees are being cut and removed and 200 new seedlings have been planted. Trimming of the remaining trees is continuing.

Mrs. Rodeheaver read a letter from James Mounce concerning convention funding.

A bus will be leaving for the National Convention in Omaha on July 14 and returning on July 22. Anyone wishing to go should get in touch with Robert Rodeheaver for details.

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Department sent a letter of request for assistance in the purchase of an Alco Sensor P.B.T. It was decided to use the remaining Fraternal Project funds and assist them with this purchase.

After adjournment, refreshments were served in honor of Leota Peck, who will be retiring from the cafeteria at Southern Middle School.

The play is directed by Betty Xander, producer and director of theatre in the suburban Washington, D.C. area, and summer resident of Garrett County.

Tickets for "Foxfire" may be purchased at the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival box office at the college before each performance. Reservations are encouraged by calling the college at 387-6666, Englander's Pharmacy at 334-9455, or Deep Creek Pharmacy at 387-5300. Admission is $5 for adults and $2 for children and students with an I.D. card.

Season tickets, which give the purchaser 10 admissions for the price of nine to all programs in the summer season, are available at the box office, Englander's Pharmacy in Oakland, Deep Creek Pharmacy in McHenry, Beachy's Pharmacy in Grantsville, the Friendsville Pharmacy, or by calling Virginia Jeffrey at 387-9254.

"Foxfire" is being presented with the permission of Bakers Plays, Inc. Programs of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival are funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, the Maryland State Arts Council, the Maryland Humanities Council, an affiliate of the National Endowment for Humanities.

Sincere Thanks

I would like to thank everyone who helped make the Grantsville Days Parade such a success — the participants, the spectators, those who organized the parade, and those who did the judging.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates Local Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is currently investigating several local thefts that have occurred recently.

Frederick Joseph Riggleman, Swanton, reported a total loss of $852 resulting from a theft that occurred Sunday in his back yard. The perpetrator(s) removed the following items from a boat parked in back of his Route 135 residence: a knee board used for skiing, a pair of fiberglass waterskis, and a slalom ski. According to Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy, the investigation is continuing.

Charles Eugene Custer, Mountain Lake Park, reported the theft of some items from the back of his pick-up truck. The theft occurred some time Friday or Saturday when the truck was parked in front of his residence. The missing items, a tool box, tools, a 6-ton hydraulic jack, and a plastic gas can containing gas, were valued at $477.99. According to Deputy Denver C. Welch, the investigation is continuing.

James Norris Rohrbaugh, Oakland, reported the theft of his Lawnboy push mower from the back yard of his Route 39 Crellin property. The lawn mower was stolen between June 21 and 22. According to Deputy Jeffrey D. Murphy, the property was valued at $350.

A spokesperson for Bob's Texaco Station in Kitzmiller reported a theft which occurred at approximately 3:30 a.m. on June 22. A person or persons broke a window of the station to gain entry to the premises and subsequently stole beer and cigarettes. The total loss in stolen property and damages is $52.80. LEAD IN CERAMIC WARE

If your vacation takes you to foreign places, you may be buying ceramic ware, dishes, bowls, cups and other items made of ceramic and/or glazed that could be used for serving food, but beware — lead poisoning is a possibility.

Ceramic ware and glazes manufactured in other countries may contain lead or cadmium and even though suitable for display, are dangerous to use as serving dishes.

Glaze is a thin, shiny coating fused to the ceramic ware. The heat treatment required for fusion has to be sufficiently high for a specific length of time to make the shiny surface impervious to the effects of food and beverages, especially acid products. Products meant to be in contact with food and made in the United States should have adequate heat treatments. Items not specifically stated to be for food or beverages may release lead from the finish.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has addressed this concern and is currently reassessing present limits of lead or cadmium (enhances vividness of colors) in food ware products. About 60 percent of ceramic food ware sold in the U.S.A. comes from foreign sources and compliance with FDA rules is by no means uniform.

There is no way to tell by looking or touching whether the item contains lead or has been adequately fired or otherwise produced to meet accepted standards.

Yet, lead is dangerous, can even be deadly to humans. Lead accumulates in bodies, residing in bones and to a lesser extent, in soft tissue. Children absorb lead more readily than adults. The devastating result can be harm to the nervous system, kidney, liver and the process by which blood is formed. The reproductive, cardiovascular, immunologic and gastrointestinal systems are affected. There is evidence that even low lead levels in children may cause learning and behavioral disorders and affect their growth.

To reduce the risk of lead poisoning you should avoid use of ceramic ware for storing foods. Use glass or plastic instead. Avoid using antiques or collectibles to hold food or beverages. Be cautious of ceramic items made by amateurs or hobbyists. Beware of products made in and/or purchased in other countries.

The lead content of specific items can be tested at laboratories for a cost of between $20 and $40. Check your phone book for sources.

The FDA withholds recommendation on a home test kit advertised on television. The test only tells if there is lead in the item, but not how much, which is a most important aspect.

The previous clock motor has been repaired and adjusted for remounting on the back of the clock. When remounted at its original location in the dome above the plaza entry to the courthouse, the clock will be backlit at night with newly-installed spotlights. The company said, "It is our hope that the renovated courthouse and clock will be a source of community pride for years to come." Pictured above, left to right, are Richard A. "Most Beautiful People" Contest To Begin July 1

Governor William Donald Schaefer, local elected officials and the "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program, are on a hunt to discover more of "Maryland's Most Beautiful People."

The search for Maryland's "unsung" heroes and volunteers begins July 1, when Governor Schaefer announces the opening of the Third Annual "Maryland's Most Beautiful People" Awards nominations. Governor Schaefer says the objective is "to acknowledge the important contributions volunteers have made to their communities and our state." Floraine Applefeld, director of the non-profit "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program, said that the goal of the program is to seek out and recognize Maryland's "most treasured individuals," who give their time, energy and efforts to help their fellow citizens.

Each county is now in the process of running its own contest with guidance from the "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program office. County and city coordinators will ask local newspapers to print nomination information. Boxes with nomination cards will be displayed in public places so that all residents can participate and nominate a group or individual they feel deserves the honor of being one of "Maryland's Most Beautiful." A panel of judges will be chosen by each project coordinator to accept and review the nominations and select a winner. Local award ceremonies will recognize all nominees.

The hunt to find "Maryland's Most Beautiful People" will continue through September 11 when the project coordinators will submit the name of their winner to the "Maryland You are Beautiful" office. These winners will be honored by Governor Schaefer in a public ceremony on November 15. The awards ceremony is free and open to the public, however, tickets will be necessary. For tickets and further information, persons may call (301) 974-3085.

The awards project has received national attention and will be featured July 9 on CBS News Sunday Morning with Charles Kuralt. Additional projects sponsored by the "Maryland You are Beautiful" Program include an annual Student Literacy Writing Contest that received over 40,000 entries this year and an annual Senior Citizens Creative Writing Contest.

DHMH Notes Syphilis Cases On The Increase

Alarming statewide increases in the number of babies born with confirmed or suspected congenital syphilis are being reported to the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH). Since January 1989, eight cases have been confirmed with 21 suspected cases currently being investigated. In the period from 1980 to 1986, there were only two confirmed cases of congenital syphilis reported. There were seven confirmed cases reported for all of last year.

"Babies infected with syphilis before birth can suffer from brain damage, physical deformity, premature birth, or even death," said Dr. Diane Matuszak, chief of the DHMH Center for Community Epidemioology. "This is why it it is so vitally important that women who know or suspect they are pregnant see a doctor to protect their child."

Blood tests done by a doctor can show the presence of syphilis so that a pregnant woman can get medicine early and protect her baby. Of the eight mothers whose babies were born with congenital syphilis, only two had a blood test done before her baby was born.

If a woman cannot afford to pay a private physician, she may go to a local health department Maternity Clinic where the cost will be determined by the patient's ability to pay. "No one will be turned away at these clinics," said Dr. Russell Moy of the DHMH Division of Maternal Health and Family Planning.

As syphilis cases continue to climb in young people, so do the number of babies born with diagnosed congenital syphilis. While Baltimore City has reported a 48% decline in syphilis (42 cases for the first quarter of 1989 compared to 80 cases for the same period in 1988), other areas of the state are reporting an overall increase of 51% (121 cases for first quarter 1989 versus 80 cases for first quarter 1988).

Physicians are reminded that Maryland State Law requires a serologic (blood) test for syphilis (STS) be performed during the first and third trimesters of pregnancy. Dr. Matuszak recommends that a woman presenting to the hospital in labor, with no history of prenatal care, should have an STS performed at delivery. In those high risk situations, hospitals should ensure that laboratories be equipped to do rapid plasma reagin (RPR) screening on an emergency basis so that reactive blood specimens are identified before mother and baby are discharged.

A conference regarding the care of mothers and babies diagnosed with syphilis has been scheduled for physicians and other health professionals on July 18, 1989 at the Prince George's Publick Playhouse in Hyattsville.

College Tuition Assistance For Guardsmen Upped

Legislation passed by the Maryland General Assembly will allow Maryland National Guard members to receive more than $9,000 in college tuition assistance beginning July 1.

State tuition assistance, previously capped at $1,000 and $2,000 for Guard men and women living in Maryland and attending state two-year and four-year colleges and universities, respectively, increased 100 percent to provide a maximum of $2,000 and $4,000 over a four-year period.

Those amounts, when added to the maximum $5,040 available in federal tuition benefits, provides up to $7,040 and $9,040 in educational assistance.

"Educational benefits have increased 28 percent this year," said Maj. Gen. James F. Fretterd, the adjutant general, Maryland National Guard. "The program is very much like a scholarship in that it helps defray the increasing cost of a college education."

Higher levels of education not only increase opportunities for advancement in the Maryland National Guard, but also enhance civilian employment opportunities, according to Lt. Col. Errol C. Pratt, education service officer.

For more information about the Guard's higher educational benefits, Marylanders can call Lt. Col. Pratt at (301) 576-1499.

Wicker — its very name conjures up romantic memories of back porch ambiance, mountain getaways, and peaceful seaside verandas. In fact, perhaps no other furniture medium used in the past 100 years has been so coveted as this sensuous, sentimental handwoven material.

A growing appreciation of the tedious hand labor required to weave, bend, mold, and shape wicker furniture has nurtured the nostalgic sentiment of today's consumers. Antique wicker reproductions possess the inherent ability to harmonize with and adapt to any decorating scheme. From country to contemporary, from Victorian to traditional, wicker's light and summery mystique is rapidly spreading throughout the home.

Mikulski Applauds Approval Of New Child Care Bill

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski, D-MD, on Friday applauded the Senate for approving the Act for Better Child Care Services (ABC) Bill, which was reintroduced earlier this year. The measure now goes to the House of Representatives.

"The passage of the ABC Bill is wonderful news for moms, dads, and kids across the country. It will help make child care more affordable, accessible, competent and safe," said Mikulski, who is a member of the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee and an original sponsor of the bill.

"Children are our most valuable resource. And child care is one of the greatest needs working people face every day. This bill will encourage better child care by providing the states with the resources they need to directly help families," she said.

The Act for Better Child Care Services, also known as the 'ABC' Bill, will authorize $1.75 billion to help states:

*make child care more affordable for families by making financial assistance available to low and moderate-income working families.

*increase the number of child care facilities and the number of qualified day care staff available to all families.

*improve the quality of child care available to all families by requiring states to institute minimum health and safety standards for child care centers.

*provide refundable tax credits to low income families to increase the number of families assisted with child care and child health expenses.

*fund state-based insurance risk pools.

*encourage public-private partnerships to increase child-care supply.

The ABC Bill was reintroduced early this year by Senators Mikulski, Christopher Dodd, D-CT, Orrin Hatch, R-UT, and others after receiving strong bipartisan support, but not final passage, in the 100th Congress. Mikulski was also an original sponsor of that bill.

Mikulski said, "The ABC Bill will help over one million kids by providing vouchers to low and moderate-income families to pay for care. It helps parents locate and choose safe child care in their communities. And it will help protect our children by establishing basic safety standards, so that we can prevent tragedies like Jessica McClure's from happening again.

"Child care is not just a family issue — it's also a business issue. This bill is pro-family and pro-business. It's a smart investment for employers and the country. I'm tired to seeing more parking spots for cars than day care slots for kids. We will now be able to do better in providing adequate child care," she added.

As a member of the House of Representatives, Sen. Mikulski sponsored the Child Care Information and Referral Services Act, passed as part of the Human Services Amendments in 1984. The program authorizes funding for new or improved existing child care information and referral clearinghouses.

Currently, out of six million employers nationwide, only about 750 employers provide on-site day care, and only 3,500 employers provide their employees with any other kind of child care assistance, mostly limited to information and referral.

There are 19 million working mothers nationwide, 380,000 of them in Maryland. Fifty-eight thousand Maryland children under five live in poverty, yet only 8,745 received child care assistance last year. The ABC Bill will provide about $20 million for child care in Maryland, more than doubling the amount of funds currently available.

questionnaires and that all answers were anonymous. Questions included whether or not respondents usage of course offerings; the level of satisfaction with the college; view of management of the college; and GCC's strongest and weakest points.

Dr. Stephen Herman, president of GCC, said he feels that the survey has useful results. The strategic plan the college is developing is a major step forward and will help the administration set the agenda for the next several years.

The college has received $35,000 for the student labor program. Dr. Herman explained that this money is in addition to work study programs and that allocations will be made to staff members to augment the labor in the college's offices. He explained that the jobs will be part time and will enable the students to work a 17 hour week and do not have to receive financial aid to apply for a job.

Dr. Herman said that the Space Allocation Committee has decided to move the art and music department into the same building that the theater is located in to consolidate the fine arts and music programs. The presidents office will be moved to the building that housed Whitewater Championships, Inc. (WCI). Don Storck, executive director of WCI, will be returning to the college as the director of planning and special projects.

Dr. Herman explained that a total review of the campus will be completed and that the relocation of fine arts' departments is just the first stage. The art department will be moved during the summer, but the music department may wait one semester.

Dr. Mitchell expressed appreciation for the secretaries who helped to update the DACUM (developing a curriculum) for the administrative secretary program for GCC. She explained that the DACUM will be compared to the secretarial science program that currently exists to decide on any revisions that will take effect in the next year.

Three searches have been in process and one has been concluded. The administration is searching for a director of developmental studies and a director of technologies. The search for a director of the library and Dana Schimrack will begin September 1.

Schimrack worked as a teacher in Confluence, Pa., for 17 years and recently obtained her library science degree.

EGLON CLINIC

Health services are now being offered at the new Eglon Clinic of Preston-Taylor Health Centers, Inc. The move was made last week from the former offices in the Bonner home to the adjacent recently constructed building.

CHOLESTEROL STUDIED

The June 20 meeting of the Aurora Extension Homemakers was in the home of Mary Jane Hanline, with Bonnie Lantz conducting the devotions. Mrs. Lantz used Matthew 10:42 as the basis for her meditation on "Cup of Cold Water."

The hostess used various handouts which stressed meal planning, fat content of different foods, and stressed other methods which help to combat the rising incidence of cholesterol in the body.

The club will be placing a book in the Terra Alta Library in memory of Pearl Stemple. Aurora is also in charge of the display table at the International Luncheon to be held July 12. On July 22 the club will be going to Burlington to view "McNeil's Rangers" and enroute will have dinner.

Opal Myers attended the County Council meeting held at the Terra Alta Park and the activities planned including the August trip to Washington, D.C. "Say No to Drugs" coloring books distributed to the Aurora first grade students. The club will be selling tickets for the car to be given away at the Buckwheat Festival. The subject of the exhibit to be prepared for the Buckwheat Festival was drawn and a committee composed of Mary Jane Hanline, Opal Myers, Betty Fint, Martha Bolyard and Sue Mayne will make plans for that exhibit. The club voted to donate $50 to the 4-H in Preston County.

A handmade doll and a basket of pot pourri was shown by the hostess as her special feature. There were 14 members and three children present. In addition to the above named present, were Anita Lantz, Mildred Kovalck, Fern Jamison, Olive Beckman, Beulah Lipscomb, Wilda Wilt, Dean Sisler and Virginia Martin.

Mildred Kovalck will be hostess of the next meeting and will be teaching the lesson. Because of the open meeting in July, the next meeting date is August 22.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 112 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, JULY 6, 1989 | PER COPY 30¢

THE RIVERS ARE RUNNING FULL in Garrett County right now because of the unusually heavy amount of rain that has been falling for the past several weeks. A flood watch has been in effect several times recently for Garrett and Allegany counties as well as surrounding West Virginia counties. Staff photographer Craig Phillips captured Bob Hanson and his three-year-old daughter, Lydia, in this picturesque scene at Swallow Falls State Park. Weather forecasters said to expect the showers to continue at least through Friday.

LIGHTING UP THE SKY on the fourth of July was once again staged this year over Broadford Lake to the delight of local residents who came out to watch the display despite a steady rain. Milton Proudfoot and the others responsible for setting off the fireworks noted that the wet conditions caused a few of the cannisters to malfunction because of wet fuses; however most of launches were successful. There was also a fireworks display over the McHenry Cove at Deep Creek Lake Sunday evening which attracted hundreds of persons not only by land, but by water as well, as scores of boats filled the cove.

Whitewater Worlds Attract 45,000 Spectators, $10 Million To Region

The athletes may have won the medals, but the real winners at last week's World Whitewater Championships were the people of Western Maryland. The two-week competition, which included athletes from 30 nations, drew more than 45,000 people and an estimated $10 million in economic activity to Western Maryland.

"The World Whitewater Championships exceeded our greatest expectations," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of Economic and Employment Development. "The many state and local agencies and the thousands of volunteers who helped organize these events should be congratulated for a job well done."

Highlights of the whitewater races were seen on NBC's "Sportsworld" on Sunday following the Wimbledon tennis finals. The whitewater segment on "Sportsworld" was produced for NBC by Charles Horich of Horich & Koehler Advertising of Baltimore, using an all-Maryland crew.

Hotels, motels and restaurants throughout Western Maryland received a boost from the whitewater events, as athletes and their families, spectalors, volunteers and media from around the world flocked to Maryland's westernmost counties.

"We are delighted that all the events went smoothly and that

Commissioners Meet With Health Dept. Officials

At the request of the Garrett County Commissioners, representatives from the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) met with Delegate George Edwards and the commissioners on Wednesday to discuss various aspects and concerns regarding the operation of the Garrett County Health Department.

Representing the DHMH were Dr. John Stafford, Deputy Secretary for Public Health Services and Richard Proctor, Director of the Office of Governmental Affairs. They were accompanied by Thomas Bratten Jr., Western Maryland Ombudsman.

Among the topics discussed was the need for a full-time health officer. Dr. Stafford explained that it would be a local decision whether to retain a full-time health officer. The

Deep Creek Lake Management Office Notes Newly-Adopted Regulations

A series of changes to the Code of Maryland Regulations (COMAR) for use of Deep Creek Lake and the surrounding buffer strip will go into effect Monday, July 10, according to a release from the Deep Creek Lake Management Office.

Dr. Torrey Brown, secretary of the Department of Natural Resources, has adopted the regulations which include additional restrictions on use of the lake surface, a new method for evaluating and allocating new dock slips, changes in the development permit review process, new commercial permit guidelines, and a general restructuring to make the regulations easier to understand. The changes represent the culmination of a review process which began upon completion of the recreational carrying capacity study for the lake last November. The process included two public meetings, one public hearing, and three written comment periods.

Changes to the lake use section include the establishment of three-knot speed zones in the upper ends of several coves, including McHenry Cove, Red Run Cove, Thayerville Cove, Meadow Mountain Cove, Pawn Run Cove, and Hooppole Cove. Those restricted areas will be marked with buoys on the lake. A three-knot speed zone has also been established within 100 feet of shore, around the entire lake. These zones were established to improve safety by segregating conflicting uses such as high speed boating and swimming as well as to protect important fisheries habitat areas and reduce the shoreline erosion occurring around the lake, according to the Management Office.

In addition, personal watercraft and hovercraft are prohibited from operating on the lake between the hours of 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from the Memorial Day weekend to Labor Day.

Another restriction prohibits skiing within 100 feet of bridges on the lake during those same time periods.

Finally, the channel between Beckman's Cove and North Glade Cove has been designated a three-knot speed zone during the 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. period as well.

These restrictions are designed to reduce activities which generate the greatest social conflicts during periods of peak use of the lake, the release said.

The three-knot speed was established as an idle speed at which boats are expected to create almost no wake.

Additional changes include the establishment of an annual review process for new dock slip applications which includes a cap of 165 new slips over an 18-month period ending in August of 1990, and a requirement for public notification of development and commercial

Commissioners Respond To Board's Questions About SHS Renovation

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners this week responded to the questions presented to them by the Garrett County Board of Education concerning the future of the Southern High School renovation project.

The commissioners' letter was as follows: "In response to your letter of June 6th, regarding the topic of future school construction, renovations and additions, we offer the following comments. We continue to stand firm in our commitment to provide approximately $2,050,000 of county funds for the renovation of Southern High School.

"We firmly believe that it would be in the best interest of all concerned to utilize these local funds to go forward with the additions and renovations to Southern High School based on the State approved square footage allocation."

The letter continued, "We feel that you should make the renovation effort with the funds currently available and providing that figure as a benchmark for your architect. We are designating our administrator, Mr. (Robert) Fousek to work with the Board of Education on both long and short term solutions for the funding of capital construction projects."

The commissioners noted that further questions were also being dealt with.

Plans Complete For 12th Annual Summerfest, Quilt Show July 13-15

The renowned Penn Alps Summerfest at Grantsville, funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council and Maryland States Arts Council, now in its 12th year, is scheduled for July 13-15. Some 65 artisans, craftsmen, vocalists, instrumentalists and storytellers will share their expertise with the many guests who annually attend this celebration.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily (Thursday, Friday, Saturday) the Penn Alps campus by the Casselman River will be "swarming with activity," according to Alta E. Schrock, director. Craftsmen will be working in clay, fiber, glass, metal, wax, and wood, with Appalachian folk music and stories of local life providing a background. Although applications are received from a wide geographic area, Penn Alps Summerfest traditionally features native craftsmen, musicians, and folklorists.

For the tenth consecutive year, the Penn Alps Quilt Show will be held simultaneously (same hours) in Grantsville's fire hall. Expertise and staffing for the show will again be provided by the Schoolhouse Quilters Guild and quilted accessories will be judged in 13 categories, with a pieced or appliqued house as this year's feature.

Spruce Forest-Artisan Village is the site of the Summer-

Stinson Freed On Property Bond

Juanita Irene Stinson, the Oakland woman accused of killing her husband and burying his dismembered body near her home, has been released on property bond, according to the Garrett County State's Attorney's Office and the Garrett County clerk's office.

Stinson, age 56, was released last Wednesday afternoon after two separate parties put up seven pieces of property for her bond, which was set at $210,000. She had been incarcerated since April 21.

Stinson was arrested after the body of her husband, Charles William Stinson, was found buried in a shallow grave behind the Stinson's home in seven garbage bags. She faces charges of first-degree murder, three counts of perjury and one count of subornation of perjury.

A September 7 trial date has been set in Garrett County.

"Mime For The Young Of Heart" To Be Presented By Robert Rivest

An internationally-known mime who tells a story without words will be the next offering of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival summer season next weekend at Garrett Community College, as Robert Rivest performs in "Mime for the Young of Heart." Two performances have been scheduled: Friday evening, July 14, at 8 p.m., and a special children's program Saturday, July 15, at 10:30 a.m.

With his face painted white and with his mouth and eyes heavily outlined, Rivest entertains his audiences, using only facial expressions, gestures, and movements of his body to captivate their imagination.

Billed as a "fantastic journey into the magical world of mime," the evening performance will present a variety of comic and tragic situations where a bare stage becomes a series of diverse environments inhabited by a cast of imaginary characters in a world where laughter is music and silence fills the heart with emotion. Through original sketches such as "The Skiers," "Dieter's Nightmare," and "Wide World of Sports," Rivest offers a humorous look at the human condition.

The Saturday morning program will provide an introduction to the magical world of mime especially for young audiences. It will include comic character sketches and humorous interactions with the Ray Mansfield, 14-year NFL veteran for the Pittsburgh Steelers, holder of two superbowl championship rings and world renowned speaker and businessman, has been named the feature speaker for the Garrett National Bank/Garrett Organization for the Handicapped Benefit Golf Tournament banquet set for July 15 at the Oakland Country Club.

"We are absolutely delighted that Ray Mansfield has agreed to be our guest speaker for the tournament banquet," said Milford Beckman, president of Garrett National Bank. "Not only is he a great athlete, he is nationally recognized as one of the finest speakers available anywhere in the country."

Mansfield holds the Pittsburgh Steeler team record of playing 196 consecutive games, having never missed a game in his 14-year career, which includes membership on the Superbowl X and XI championship teams.

"Mansfield's accomplishments are not limited to athletics," Beckman continued. "He is a very successful businessman in the insurance industry and was named by Esquire Magazine to its NFL All-Financial Team which honors players who have built outstanding football and business careers.

"He is very involved in civic and charitable activities in the Pittsburgh area and is known as someone who speaks from the heart with humor and insight," Beckman said.

The format for the July 15 tournament is a mixed scramble with a 1 p.m. shotgun start. Entry deadline for teams and sponsors is no later than Sunday, July 9. Registration is at 11 a.m. the day of the tournament.

For further information on the tournament, persons may contact Luke Stuart at Garrett National Bank (301) 334-9483 or Gary Yoder at (301) 245-4115.

Out Of GLAF Production Of "Foxfire" Comes New Musical Group

THE STONEY LONESOME BOYS

The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival's opening production of Foxfire last night at Garrett Community College introduced a new musical group, comprised of Rob Smith, guitar; Keith Roberts, banjo; Steve Byrd, fiddle; Fred Crozier, mandolin; and Mark Ashby, bass.

The story line of the play calls for "Dillard Nations" to give a concert at the nearby Hiawassi Fairgrounds with his group "The Stoney Lonesome Boys," and to this end the group was born. Rob Smith has been known around the county for some years, having written the song "Garrett County Times" and performed with Keith Roberts locally. Together they produced an album — Smith and Roberts, Buffalo Run.

Smith worked in the music business as sound technician and recording engineer and toured with several rock and roll shows including "Jesus Christ, Superstar," as a sound engineer. He worked as a songwriter and performer in New York before "escaping" to the mountains of Western Maryland. He appeared in the 1987 GLAF production of "Harvey" in the lead role of Elwood Dowd.

Keith Roberts has been giving public performances on the banjo since he was eight years old, playing for weddings and bazaars. Although his mother is a native of Garrett County, he grew up in Ohio. He played with a three-piece acoustic band in and around the Finger Lake area of New York, at Cornell

Sheriff's Dept. Investigates D.O.P., Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department is currently investigating several incidents of theft and destruction of property.

Ruben Niner, Friendsville, reported the theft of a 1989 Murry riding lawn tractor valued at $950. According to a report filed by Deputy P.J. Kelly, the tractor was kept in a padlocked shed. The lock was apparently cut and the tractor removed between June 25 and 27.

Kenneth Brenneman, Oakland, reported that between June 24 and 26, someone caused $750 damage to his 1977 Ford tractor.

According to a report filed by Deputy P.J. Kelly, Brenneman apparently left the tractor hooked to a fence with a pin. Someone apparently removed the pin, and the tractor then rolled approximately 50 yards down a hill into the side of a tree. The investigation is continuing.

A sliding glass door at the Garrett County home of Nancy Lee Paisley, St. James City, Fla., was broken. According to a report filed by Deputy J.B. Sowers, the door is valued at $60 and the department is unsure at this time of what the door was broken with. Ann Smith, Deep Creek Realty, reported the incident, which apparently occurred between June 6 and 20.

Martha Shaw, Frederick, reported that someone removed 21 steel fence posts from her Garrett County property by an unknown suspect on June 28. The posts are valued at $60. Cpl. L.E. Gnegy is continuing the investigation.

Oakland Man Hospitalized After Wreck

An Oakland man was hospitalized last Friday following a three-wheeler accident which resulted in the DWI charge.

Russell E. Crosco, 59, was transported to Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, by Maryland State Police Medevac helicopter, where a spokesman reported that he has been released.

According to police reports, Crosco was operating the ATV on the Sharpless Mine Road when it struck an embankment and overturned. Crosco was thrown into the embankment, and the vehicle landed in a ditch.

Tpr. P.R. Brown investigated the 10:20 a.m. accident, charging Crosco with failing to keep right of the center line, driving while under the influence of alcohol, driving an unregistered vehicle, and driving with a revoked license.

A single-vehicle accident occurred Sunday on the Kempton Road.

Police said Laura R. Buckley, 18, Oakland, was driving a 1985 Chevrolet Cavalier when a deer ran in front of the vehicle. Buckley swerved to the right to avoid the deer and struck a ditch on the right side of the road.

Buckley was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a private vehicle, where she was admitted and discharged the next day, according to a spokesman.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated the accident.

One person was injured in a two-vehicle accident Tuesday on the Swallow Falls Road.

Police said William P. Jackson, 20, Frostburg, was driving a 1978 Chevrolet pickup truck when he crossed the center line. The truck hit a 1987 Dodge Ram driven by Carol E. McMillen, 40, Bruceton Mills, W.Va.

McMillen was taken Garrett Memorial by the Southern Rescue Squad, where she was treated and released.

Tpr. R.T. Wilson investigated the accident, charging Jackson with failing to keep to the right of the center line and failing to reduce speed in a curve.

Mountain Fresh Joins In WIC Pilot Program

Mountain Fresh Producers will join in a state effort to link farmers' markets with the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program this year, according to Mountain Fresh Coordinator Criss Kepple.

Governor William Donald Schaefer recently announced that Maryland will be one of 10 states to participate in the federal pilot project. "I was pleased to learn that Maryland's application for $52,200 was approved by the United States Department of Agriculture," Gov. Schaefer said. "The approval means thousands of WIC recipients in Baltimore City and seven counties will each receive coupons they can redeem at farmers' markets for fresh fruits and vegetables.

"The coupons, valued at $10, will be issued once during the summer to each qualified WIC participant. The coupons are valid in July and August when there is a large variety of local produce available. The program will operate, in addition to Garrett County, in Anne Arundel, Charles, Dorchester, Harford, Montgomery, and St. Mary's counties, as well as in Baltimore City.

"A variety of state agencies and the Maryland Food Committee teamed up for this project," the governor continued. "This goes to show what can be done when government, educators, charitable organizations and the private sector work together," he concluded.

Participating state agencies are the Maryland Department of Agriculture (MDA), the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH), and the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service (MCES). The managers of the farm markets will play a major role.

In Garrett County, the Mountain Fresh Producers tailgate market will take place in the Oakland town parking lot during the months of August and September. "This is an excellent opportunity for local WIC participants and local farmers to work together for the economic benefit of all," says Kepple. "With the appropriate local and state cooperation, I feel this program will be a success," Kepple added.

MDA submitted the grant at Governor Schaefer's suggestion and will coordinate the program for the state of Maryland. DHMH will issue the coupons through its local WIC coordinators and MCES will assist in educational efforts aimed at the recipients through its Expanded Food Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP).

The farm market managers will collect the coupons from farmers who have sold fruits and vegetables to the WIC recipients. The Maryland Food Committee will act as the clearing and accounting house for coupons and issue checks to the farmers.

Coupons will be issued in one dollar demoninations with 10 going to each qualified WIC recipient and will be good only toward the purchase of fresh fruits and vegetables at participating farmers' markets.

Maryland is required to match the federal funding on a 30 percent basis. State funds will come from the budgets of MDA and DHMH.

The other states selected for participation in the program are: Iowa, Texas, Vermont, New York, Connecticut, Michigan, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and Washington.

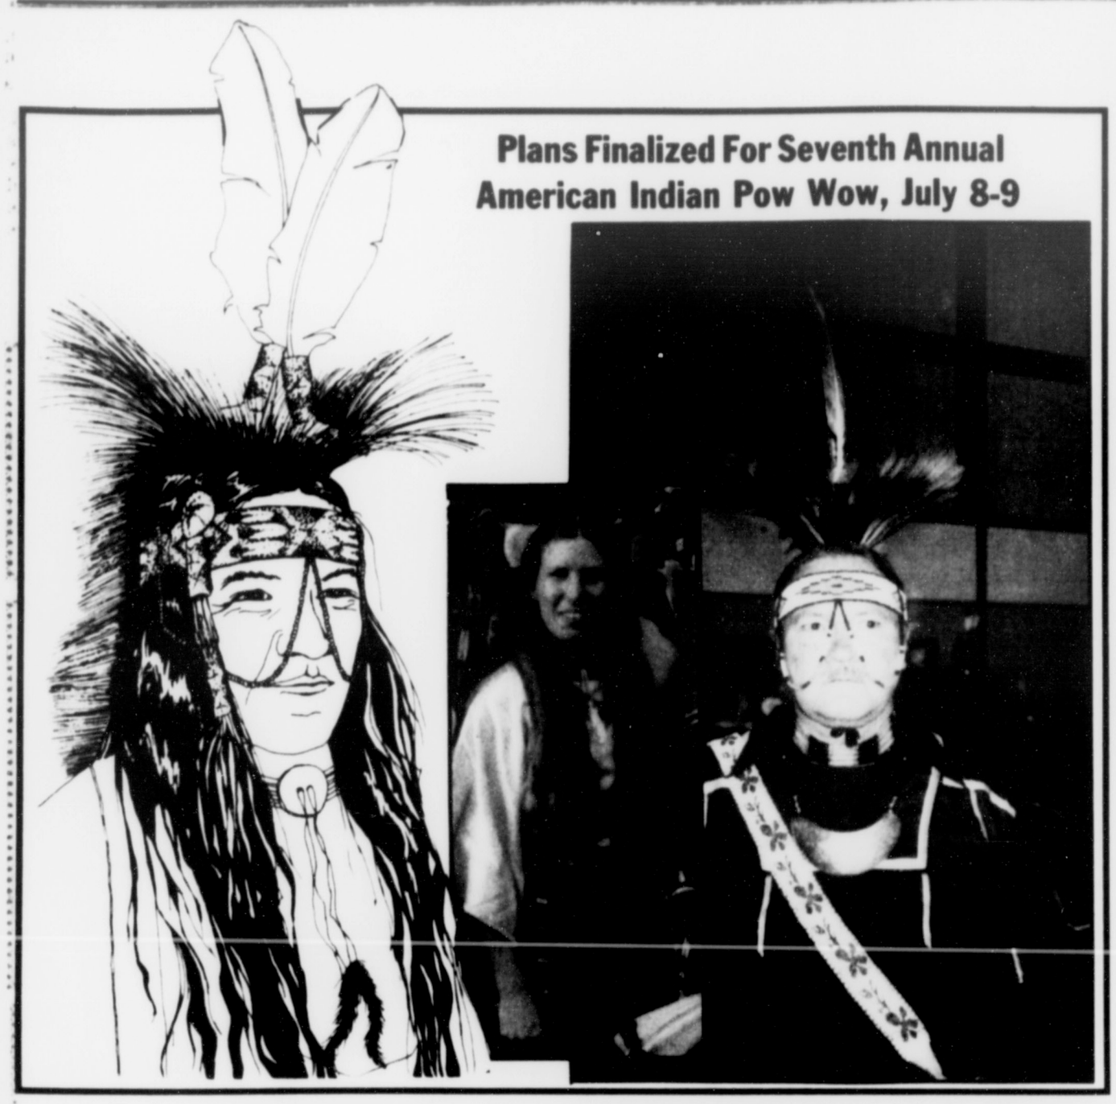
Plans Finalized For Seventh Annual American Indian Pow Wow, July 8-9



RESPONSIBILITIES TAKEN SERIOUSLY AT AMERICAN INDIAN POW WOW — To serve as a head dancer for an American Indian pow wow is both a high honor and a serious responsibility. Head dancers are selected not only for their dancing ability, but also for their personal qualities and actions. They must lead each dance, with the other dancers waiting respectfully until after they have begun. They must know the protocol surrounding each dance. This year's head dancers for the AIITCO Pow Wow, to be held July 8 and 9 at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, are Vern Halley, above right, and Tina Osceola. Halley is a member of the Tigua tribe of Texas. He was born and raised in Texas, attending school in San Antonio. He has lived in Washington, D.C., for the past 30 years. Since his retirement from AT&T, he has devoted much of his time to traveling along the east coast giving presentations to schools and civic groups on Indian culture. An active member of the American Indian Society of Washington, D.C., he serves as its second vice president and has been honored with the AIS Outstanding Club Member Award. Tina Osceola is a member of the Seminole nation of Flordia. She is a recent graduate of Rollins College in Florida, majoring in pre-law. An excellent dancer, she has served as head lady dancer at a number of pow wows. The chairman of the committee hosting an American Indian pow wow is responsible for supervising the myriad details required to make that pow wow run smoothly. Bobby Little Bear, who is Osage, brings her knowledge of Indian culture and her skills as an artist with her as this year's AIITCO Pow Wow chairman. In the past Little Bear has worked with the Southern Creeks teaching inter-tribal dance and dress and is an exhibiting artist in American Indian art. She was active in the organization of the first AIITCO pow wow in 1983, and has been active in all subsequent ones. At present, she is employed with the Maryland Capitol Parks and Planning Commission as a graphic artist. A photo of Bobby Little Bear inset above beside her drawing which is being used as this year's pow wow logo. When making the drawing, Little Bear was inspired by Head Man Dancer Vern Halley.

TRIBAL DANCING AND SINGING, plus numerous demonstrations, food and craft booths, will again be featured at the Seventh Annual American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization Pow Wow, slated for this weekend at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. Paying a visit to the county recently to make preparations for the 1989 Pow Wow were, pictured left to right, Kathy Frick, Michael Nephew, and Robin Washington. Tribes from all over the United States are expected to participate in the event.

State Police Investigate ATV Theft

Several thefts are under the investigation of the Maryland State Police at the McHenry detachment this week.

Judy D. Friend, Friendsville, reported that an all-terrain vehicle was removed from the front of her home by unknown means.

The Polaris 250 Trailboss was valued at $1,200. The theft is under the investigation of Tpr. G.S. Becker.

Michael Taccino, Cumberland, reported the theft of a circular saw, jig saw, and a wooden tool box from a vacant house between June 18 and June 30.

The theft is under the investigation of Tfc. R.C. Resh.

Charles E. Moran, Westernport, reported the theft of a 350 pound Hereford steer calf from his farm on the Westernport Road on June 29.

Tpr. P.R. Brown is investigating.

Police charged a juvenile with possession and discharging of fireworks on June 27.

According to reports, the youth threw a firecracker from a car window on Mosser Road. The arrest was made by Tpr. Wilson.

It's summer again, and for American Indians across the United States and Canada, the warming weather marks the beginning of the major pow wow season. In today's times, pow wows are social occasions when Native Americans gather to sing and dance. During the season, pow wows are held almost every weekend.

Indians from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Virginia will be joined July 8-9 by members of tribes from across the contry at the 7th Annual American Indian Inter-Tribal Cultural Organization, Inc. (AIITCO) Pow Wow for two days of Native American singing and dancing at the Garrett County Fairgrounds on Route 219 in McHenry. Leading the singing will be Millard Clark, a well-known singer who has recorded many Indian songs.

Dancing will be held in the afternoon of each day of the pow wow, with dance competitions for youth and children. Most of the dancing will be inter-tribal or social dancing, giving the participants the opportunity to display the regalia and dancing style of their particular tribe. Vern Halley, a Tigua from Texas, and Tina Osceola, a Seminole from Florida, will serve as Head Man and Head Woman dancers. Marty Good Bear, a Mandan-Hidatsa from North Dakota who will be performing hoop dances daily, uses 30 hoops instead of the normal 12 to 20. Ezra Fields, who is Pawnee and a past national champion dancer, will be the master of ceremonies.

Native Americans will demonstrate and sell Indian craftwork such as beadwork, basketweaving, and silversmithing. Live birds of prey will be exhibited. Indian tacos and frybread will be sold, while members of the Mt. Top #29 DAV and Auxiliary will be preparing hot dogs and hamburgers. The public is invited to attend and cameras are permitted. Admission is $4.00 per day for adults and children under 12 are admitted free. This pow wow is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council.

For further information, persons may contact Bobby Little Bear, 1989 Pow Wow Chairman, at (301) 730-1397, or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Courthouse, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

POW WOW MASTER OF CEREMONIES — Filling the demanding position of master of ceremonies at the 1989 AIITCO Pow Wow, on July 8 and 9 at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, is Ezra Fields Jr. Fields, whose face is familiar to many in Garrett County as last year's head man dancer, is a member of the Pawnee tribe from Oklahoma. A past national champion in men's fancy dancing, Fields has also won numerous competitions also in men's traditional dancing. His wide knowledge of Indian culture has proven invaluable at the many pow wows where he has served as master of ceremonies.

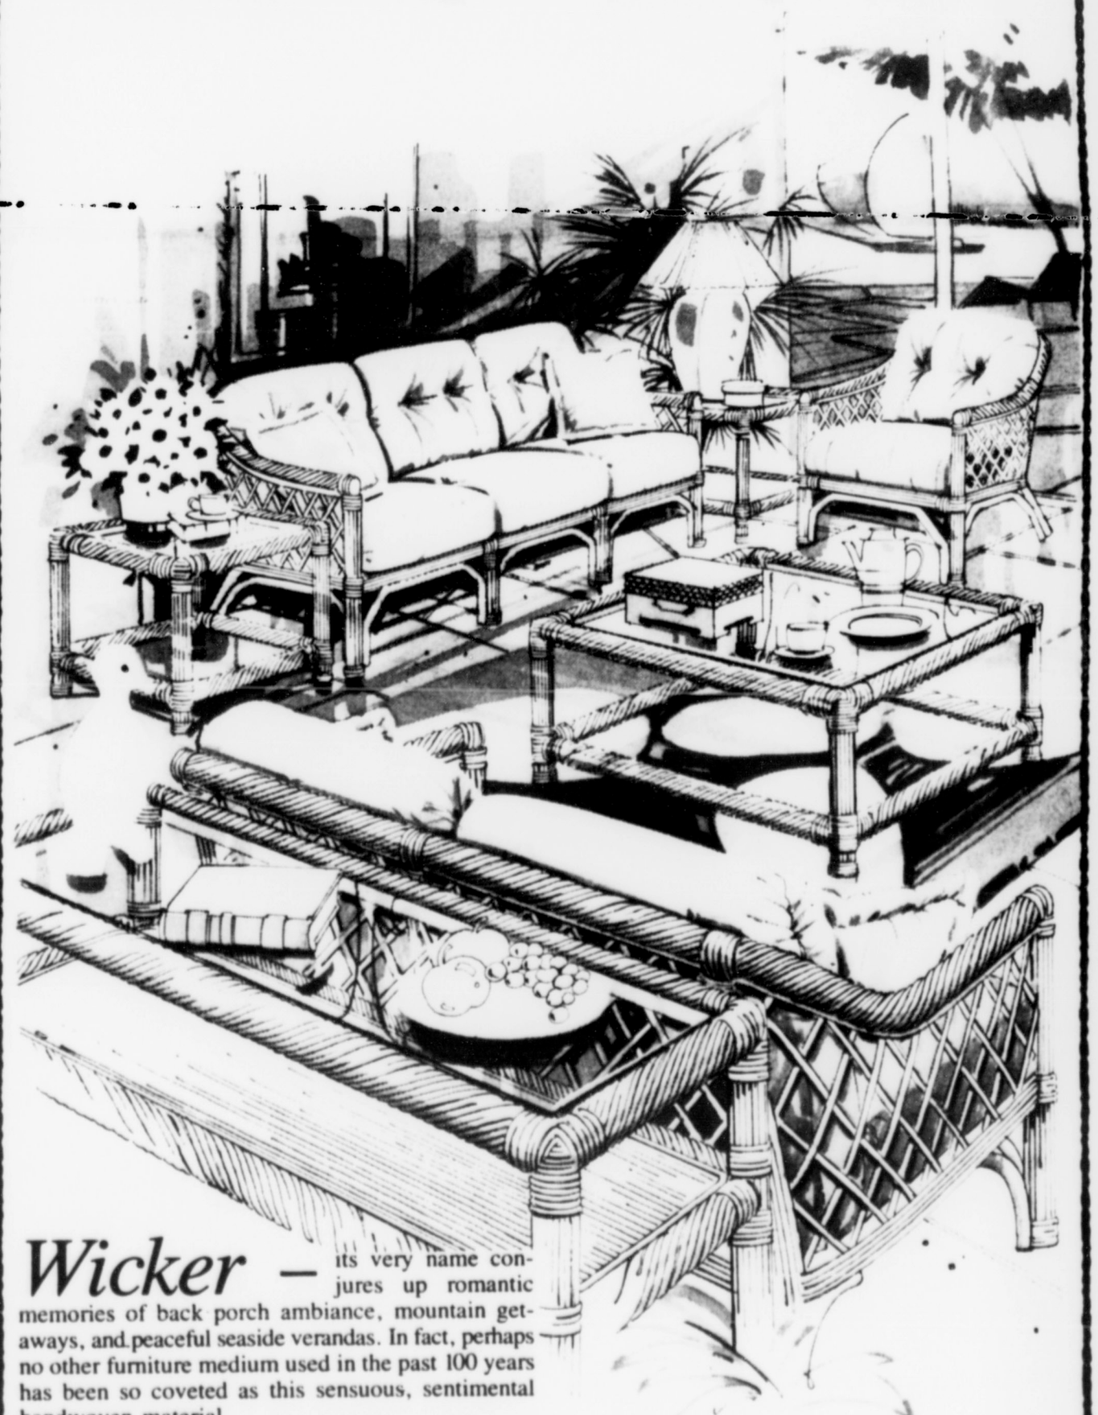
Wicker by Henry Link



Wicker — its very name conjures up romantic memories of back porch ambiance, mountain getaways, and peaceful seaside verandas. In fact, perhaps no other furniture medium used in the past 100 years has been so coveted as this sensuous, sentimental handwoven material.

A growing appreciation of the tedious hand labor required to weave, bend, mold, and shape wicker furniture has nurtured the nostalgic sentiment of today's consumers. Antique wicker reproductions possess the inherent ability to harmonize with and adapt to any decorating scheme. From country to contemporary, from Victorian to traditional, wicker's light and summery mystique is rapidly spreading throughout the home.

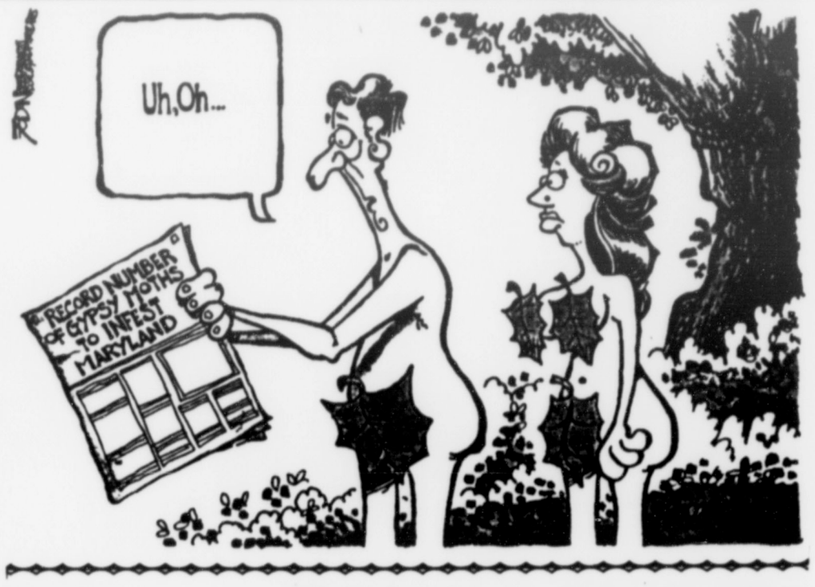
Don't Miss The Fun . . .

Clean, cool air, beautiful terrain, and Deep Creek Lake are all attractive characteristics of Garrett County, but there is something even more special about the Mountaintop that makes it such a great place to live.

We refer to the involvement of its people and their willingness to work hard to provide entertainment and enjoyment for those of us who live here year round and for the many visitors to our county. We have already said much about the outstanding efforts of the hundreds of volunteers for the World Whitewater Championships. The first National Pike Festival involved much effort by the folks in the Grantsville area, who also orchestrated another outstanding Grantsville Days celebration a few weeks ago. The second annual Highland Festival was again a success thanks to the efforts of many local persons. Accident residents produced another excellent July 4 celebration, which featured new and expanded events. Plans are underway in Friendsville for not only the annual Fiddle and Banjo contests, but also the Friendsville Festival slated for August 5. The Penn Alps Summerfest and Quilt Show will get underway next week in Grantsville. The annual Indian Pow Wow will be staged this weekend at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. The Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, which offers a full summer of special concerts and entertainment, is underway right now on the Garrett Community College stage with the production of "Foxfire," which is also being presented entirely by local residents.

Then, of course, there are numerous other activities, such as waterskiing, golf, and tennis tournaments, plus dozens of sports leagues, from softball to basketball to horseshoe pitching, that offer athletic enjoyment. There are numerous civic and community organizations and dozens of clubs to which new members are always welcome.

Once again we encourage all to support these many local events, if not as a worker or organizer, then at least as a participant or viewer. Thousands of hours of work are donated by so many local people to make such events happen. But if people just don't show up, then all of the effort is wasted and the future of the event is doomed. Plus, those who do not attend are missing a lot of fun.



Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Priests, ministers and rabbis should know about and tell their church members about Engaged Encounter and Marriage Encounter.

Marriage Encounter was introduced in this country twenty years ago from Spain. Since then more than a million American couples have made a Marriage Encounter.

Engaged and Marriage Encounters make a good relationship much better. They teach a new method of communication, communication at the level of feelings called dialogue. When a couple communicates well at the level of feelings they communicate well at the level of trust and it makes for a sound and happy marriage.

Engaged Encounters and Marriage Encounters are made on a weekend from Friday evening to Sunday afternoon, a 44-hour period which will change lives.

Join the millions, including couples who have been happily married for fifty years or more, who have greatly benefitted from Engaged Encounter and Marriage Encounter.

Engaged Encounter and Marriage Encounter are not like the marriage seminars you see advertised on television. The cost is very little and, if you can't afford it, there is no cost.

Engaged Encounters and Marriage Encounters are primarily in private between couples. There is no such thing as group therapy. You will acquire a blessing that will enable you to improve your marriage throughout your marriage years.

Try Engaged Encounter or Marriage Encounter. You'll be glad you did. Ask your priest, minister, or rabbi to arrange one for you at your earliest convenience.

To the Editor:

The Addictions Advisory Board to the Garrett County Health Department has met and has decided to organize a Garrett County Council on Addictions. This Council will be broadly representative of the citizens of Garrett County as well as the organizations that are directly involved in dealing with the casualties of drug and alcohol abuse. The planning committee has recommended the following goals as consistent with the mission of the organization:

To provide a forum for the discussion of issues and information related to prevention and intervention of alcohol and drug related problems;

To assist in the provision of current and accurate information about the nature and extent of these problems;

To maintain surveillance over Federal, State and local efforts to respond to these problems;

To implement such activities as may be necessary to assure community response to the problems;

To serve as a vehicle for voicing Garrett County's support and opinion to State and National efforts to combat drug and alcohol problems, and

To develop, establish and support a community organization of persons who are concerned about prevention and intervention in the problems of alcohol and drug abuse.

The extent of the problems associated with alcohol use and abuse, and the human suffering that has been described related to drug addiction and related crime is well documented. In Garrett County we must develop a community of concern and a system of preventing escalation of these tragedies. To be successful, we need the help of every Garrett County citizen. We need the help and support of professional people in the fields of medicine, law, public health, education, and law enforcement. The Garrett County Health Department's Addiction Service has agreed to provide support services to the new organization.

The Council's first organizational meeting will be held in the Auditorium at Garrett County Community College on July 18, at 6:30 p.m.

This may be your first opportunity to ask government officials what their departments are doing to cope with the rising abuse of alcohol and other drugs. Leaders will be there from the Health Department, the Garrett County School Board, and law enforcement agencies. The Garrett County Sheriff's Department will have an informative presentation on drugs of abuse and how to recognize them.

Alcohol and other drug abuse are not just an individual problem. Every person's input, interest, and intelligence is needed to remove this cancer from our community. The system isn't working. Let's get together and suggest ways to make the system better . . . to make it work . . . Tuesday, July 18, 6:30 p.m., GCC Auditorium.

To the Editor:

I normally don't send in too many letters, but feel so strongly and fundamentally concerned in the case of the "Freedom and the Flag" editorial in The Republican dated Thursday, June 29, 1989, that I must respond to this.

I want to make it clear that I represent only myself personally and as a citizen and am not addressing my remarks personally, but in terms of the ideas involved. I personally like the people associated with The Republican and The Republican itself and am an inveterate subscriber.

I feel, to begin with, that individual expression and free speech must be tempered with the public good and safety. I would definitely support the idea that one should not and cannot yell, "Fire!", in a crowded theatre! This appears simple enough yet it is very important.

I feel that protection of the American Flag (hereafter referred to as our Flag) from desecration in no way interferes with freedom of speech, in fact, pardon me if I seem naive, but I don't really see any connection. I could certainly show how burning our Flag in a public demonstration would be desecration. I would challenge you to show me how such an act would in any way be necessary to make any given point. I'm not referring to some or most given points, I'm referring to any given point.

I'm not referring to looking for an additional act not already done, but our policy for a deliberate, voluntary act that may occur. I'm not referring to requiring anyone to salute our Flag, but to our policy on public desecration of our Flag. I would see them as two entirely different issues.

I would like to comment on the idea that merely purchasing an item allows one, on the basis of personal ownership, to bypass public accountability in the use of such item. This is a very curious and interesting idea indeed!

I may, therefore, in accord with unrestricted possession depicted above, buy our Flag and, if it is my own property, desecrate it as desired. (I, again, want to make it clear that I refer to burning it in a public demonstration rather than when it is worn out, or burning it privately and respectfully.)

I may therefore also, in accord with this, buy an automobile and, if it is my own property, remove the emission control system to obtain better gas mileage because I don't agree with the environmental standards involved. After all, it is my automobile in its entirety!

I am, further, not to be penalized in any way for either act described as they are both in accord with unrestricted possession!

The point here is that our Flag and its relation to our patriotic and social environment could certainly be considered, by those having the values to do so, at least as important as an emission control system and its relation to our social and physical environment!

The point also is that it could actually be considered both reasonable and prudent to protect our Flag from desecration and that this would not affect free speech in any adverse way.

Respecting our Flag certainly doesn't have any adverse affect on my free speech that I'm so appreciative of and am exercising right now in communicating with you.

I feel that we, regardless of our religious and/or other views, could all agree that the white stars, blue field, and red and white stripes are the design for our Flag and that our Flag symbolizes our Country. We may have differences in the ways we view regard for religious articles as symbols, but could all agree on respect for our Flag as a universal symbol. I feel that, while encouraging but not requiring respect for religious or other articles such as a Bible, we could still require respect for our Flag!

I would like to add, however, that those desecrating a Bible, while not to be legally penalized in any way, should certainly be discouraged in this, encouraged to think more about it, helped with any problems they might be open to help with in appropriate ways, and, most importantly and definitely, prayed for! Those desecrating our Flag should, in addition to the above, be legally penalized in an appropriate manner.

I feel that sometimes, in recent times, too much emphasis is placed on family influence in all matters. Family influence, while surely vital and certainly the foundation of any society, needs to be supplemented with public policies that are a very important aspect of the total structure. In fact, public policies play a crucial role! Family influence needs to be properly related to and supported by public policies. The two should, and I do emphasize should, work together and support each other! A home needs a foundation and a roof! The foundation is most important, but a roof does tend to help keep out the rain!

I don't know what the outcome of this issue will be, but my feelings are the same regardless.

I will personally make a public statement now and always that no one, regardless of anything else he or she might do, is ever to burn our Flag publically on our property in any descratory manner for any reason or, among other things, I will surely penalize such an individual by any appropriate means open to me. I feel, due to expressed views, entitled to make that statement and I do so make it.

I find it in my nature that, though this is a very serious issue, I must include a little humor (probably very little). Make sure that if you have vast ideas that you're not going only half the way, i.e., "half-vast."

I'm a sentimentalist at heart and must include some sentiment, so in closing, I would like to state, "Our Flag, Old Glory, long may it wave! O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave! Give me your tired, your poor, your tempest-tossed and huddled masses yearning to be free. I lift my Lamp beside the Golden Door!!!"

Thank you.

Garrett Lakes Arts Festival Review . . .

by Brenda Ruggiero

One of the finest productions ever to grace the stage in the Garrett Community College auditorium is currently underway in conjunction with the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival. "Foxfire," presented by Act IV Productions Inc., opened last night and will continue through Saturday.

The characters are tremendously well cast, and one must be reminded that all are local people, and are not paid actors. Nonetheless, each member is a true professional and adds his own personal flair to the play, making for an enjoyable and very believable production. The play transforms the auditorium to an Appalachian mountain, and the characters transport the viewer effortlessly through time without changing costumes or even props.

The role of Annie Nations is played brilliantly by Frances Acton, obviously not a newcomer to the acting profession. Frances deftly takes the audience into the past and back again, never faltering in her role as a woman who loves her home and cares deeply about her family.

John Ackerman is flawless in his role as Annie's husband, Hector Nations. His voice carries across the audience as he depicts the strong, intelligent man who is proud of his heritage and works hard to keep his land and build a good life for his wife and children.

Rob Smith is excellent as the couple's son, Dillard Nations. He brings to life the strong ties that are felt to the "home place," and fits the role to perfection. His guitar playing and singing add a new dimension to the play, and brought tears to at least this viewer's eyes.

The supporting cast, John Smith as Prince Carpenter and the doctor and Sonya Yelovich as Holly Burrell, hold their own as they display their well-honed acting talents. They not only support the cast, but add a sideline that brings humor and completes the transformation from stage to Stoney Lonesome.

The set alone is magnificent, with each piece carefully chosen from various spots in the county to create the home of the Nation family. The authenticity of the set blends with the perfection of the characters to transport the audience to another time and p!·ce, which isn't so far back in time as one may think.

The title of the play comes from a lichen known as "foxfire" which grows on dead trees and glows in the dark. The performance effortlessly lives up to the name — it definitely glows.

Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library

by Sull McCartney

If you haven't visited the main branch of the library in Oakland for awhile, there have been some changes. Oakland's new Garden Club has created a flower bed which really brightens the entrance. Tile has replaced the carpet around the checkout area and the children's room has received new carpet and a fresh coat of paint. These were all much needed improvements.

I was relieved when I checked my mail at the library this week and found no responses to the question about the poetry in the last column. I just returned from a week's vacation and can't afford to buy anyone a T-shirt. The author of the quoted verse was W.H. Auden.

The total donated for children's books has reached $4,800; we are almost halfway to our $10,000 goal. Donations of $100 have been made recently by; Rainer Kraus, The Fred E. Beachy Lumber Co., Margaret A. Kaiser, M.D., Perry's Solid Waste Disposal, John J. Porcaro, M.D., and Dr. and Mrs. Bowie Linn Grant. Contributions may be sent to: Children's Books, Friends, 6th N. Second Street, Oakland, Md. 21550.

If you enjoy reading about wildlife or environmental matters, I have four books that I would like to recommend. Bay Country by Tom Horton is about different parts of Maryland and as the title suggests is mainly about the Chesapeake Bay. In Wanderer On My Native Shore, George Reiger describes different ecological systems along the North Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida. Arctic Dreams by Barry Lopez deals with animals and environmental issues of Arctic region from Alaska to Greenland. Paul Schullery is a park ranger at Yellowstone National Park and his book Mountain Time, while mostly nature oriented, also includes historical information about the park. All of these books are well written, interesting, and very enlightening.

For you mystery fans, I have previously mentioned Tony Hillerman and his latest Talking God is excellent. If you haven't read any of his books you are missing the boat.

The most recent payment to the library from our Book Endowment Fund was made in February. Six books were funded and have been received and placed in circulation. This brings the total number of books purchased under this program to fourteen. The number of volumes purchased will increase steadily as more endowments reach their anniversary date. The next payment will be made in July and will buy eight books.

Wynne's Way

EXPENSIVE WINES ARE JUST SOUR GRAPES TO ME

Although many people may not be familiar with the word "pretentious," I'm sure those same people have certainly come in contact with persons the adjective describes.

The first time I ever heard the word it was used to describe my eighth grade science teacher. I looked the word up in my dictionary and I had to admit, it fit her like a glove.

As my finger moved down the list of descriptives I confirmed each by a silent nod. My science teacher was pompous, vain, arrogant and conceited. However, when she became pregnant by the principal (he was married, she was not), "pretentious" didn't fit her anymore. "Humble" was more like it.

In my 30 some odd years, I have encountered many pretentious folks and I'll most likely cross the paths of more in the years ahead. I imagine there will always be a company president's wife who thinks the annual picnics are a total waste of time; coworkers who have the same job and pay as I, but walk around as though they are smelling the ozone; neighbors who see the neighborhood as a giant apartment complex of which they are the self-appointed landlord and do not hesitate to alert the other "tenants" each time I break an unwritten law.

Last weekend I met the man to whom all pretentious adjectives apply. He was a client of my husband's company and we, unfortunately, drew the short straw and had to take him to dinner. Although it would be unfair to state his real name, I'll just refer to him as The Sultan of Smug.

I knew from the moment I met this man there was nothing I could ever do or say that would impress him, so I remained a silent "partner" throughout the dinner.

Before our salads arrived, he made sure we caught a glimpse of his Rolex watch as he summoned the restaurant's wine captain. When the captain brought a wine list the size of the Detroit white pages, the Sultan of Smug breezed through it in grand style and replied, "Bring us a bottle of 1929 Chateau Lafite-Rothschild and a 1934 Romanee-Conti."

If you are a wine person, the whole scene that unfolded before me might very well impress you. I don't like the taste of wine, so I am naturally more impressed when my girlfriend, Carol, can tell the difference between the Diet Coke and Regular Coke with just one sip. Anyway, when the wine captain brought requested bottles, he and the Sultan engaged in a common ritual only a dim bulb could find acceptable. The captain poured an ever-so-tiny amount of the wine in the Sultan's goblet then stepped back two steps and observed while His Smugness swished the wine around in this mouth as though he were gargling.

That moment seemed to last forever. There we were in this very nice restaurant watching this guy do something with a sip of wine that should be reserved for the privacy of his own bathroom. I kept expecting him to spit out the wine, stand up and shout, "THIS IS POISON! OFF WITH HIS HEAD! BRING IN THE LIONS!"

Throughout the entire dinner, our guest continued to "impress" us with wine facts (thanks heavens I was a Falcon Crest fan), spouting off Beaujolais, Bordeaus and Chardonnays between breaths.

When the conversation switched to vacations I thought we were home free. Then the Earl of Ego began giving us travelling tips should we ever find ourselves in Monte Carlo. I wanted to ask him if Monte Carlo had good garage sales, but I knew as soon as the words left my mouth my husband would kick me under the table.

As the dinner came to a close with cheesecake and coffee, the King of Conceit took one last stab at impressing us with wine trivia, with disastrous results. When he mentioned a "superb" wine he'd tasted in New Orleans called Chateau Latour, something flew out of his mouth and onto my plate. He saw it and so did my husband and I. Suddenly, the Sultan of Smug had something else in common with my eighth grade science teacher as he learned the meaning of the word "humble."

fest, with four log cabins and one plank house of early vintage forming the core of the festivities, surrounded by a satellite of rustic buildings and shelters scattered through the spruce trees and along the river. The oldest of the houses dates back to pre-Revolutionary War days and once stood on a land grant from the King of England.

Facilities on Penn Alps campus have recently been enhanced in preparation for the July festivities. Two additional parking areas have been constructed, as have seven earth terraces for additional craftsmen's booths. A pavilion has been prepared by the river to serve as a stage for musicians and story-tellers. The potter's studio has been enlarged and moved to the Artisans' Quadrangle.

Crafts of pioneer ancestors will again form the core of the demonstrations, including basket-making, bee-keeping, blacksmithing, broom-making, candle-dipping, chair-caning, coopering, glass-cutting, handle-making, maple-sugar boiling, pottery on the wheel, rope-making, stained-glass work, tinsmithing, wood-burning, wood-carving and wood-turning.

Traditionally feminine arts to be featured include cross-stitch, knitting, quillery, rug-braiding and hooking, smocking, tatting, and doll-making. Wool processing (carding and spinning, dyeing with native plants) and weaving will also be demonstrated. For the first time a male quilter will be quilting on the grounds.

Artists will be painting and drawing on paper, metal, slate, and wood. They will be working in acrilics, oils, pencils and water colors. There will be folk art, historic prints, scissor cuts and tole painting. Nature crafts will include corn-husk creations, dried flower and seed arrangements, and herb potpourri.

Some 12 new faces will appear among the craftsmen and entertainers this year, including a group of musicians from Altoona, Pa., who will feature the Alpine horn. "Our dulcimer-playing, folk-singing couple will be with us again, as will a folklorist-historian telling stories of pioneer life in the Alleghenies," Dr. Schrock said.

A concession stand on the Festival Grounds will provide service for convenience of guests. Penn Alps Restaurant will offer a menu as well as a brunch buffet daily.

Maryland Conservation Corps Is The Team Behind The Scenes

They are the team behind the scenes: responsible for carving out an area in the wilderness for competitors and spectators to view the competition, and responsible for returning the area to its natural state after the end of the '89 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships.

They are the Maryland Conservation Corps teens who have worked at the Savage River race site since 1984. A group of 29 youths, age 16 to age 19, worked to protect the ecosystem of the area, and make the competition accessible to spectators and athletes.

The Corps has put the site in order by: stabilizing the shoreline to prevent erosion from heavy pedestrian traffic; building start and finish platforms; improving trails to observation towers; applying wood preservative to the wooden tower structures; mulching the logging road for vehicle access; improving boat ramps to the Savage River Reservoir; laying stone trails; constructing footbridges; grooming shoreline vegetation; improving drainage of forest roads; carving out trails on both sides of the river and areas for exhibition sites; stringing one and a quarter miles of telephone lines; installing stairway and safety fences; serving as volunteer information guides; and maintaining the site during competition weekends.

"They basically did everything except build the bridges, the Corps of Army engineers did that," said Marilyn Harmon, public relations coordinator for the Maryland Conservation Corps.

"We've worked here four different summers and everything was built by hand," explained Russ Alexander, field coordinator. "We must have laid over 200 tons of woodchips, helped with the garbage, basically, anything that needed done, we did it.

"Most of the team felt pretty good about working with whitewater events and felt honored. They really did an exceptional job. They were basically under pressure and did great under the pressure. Usually we work with them for a couple of weeks before we start into the heavy work, but this year, we shoved right into it," he said. "They did a fantastic job, especially for being under so much pressure."

Whitewater Championships, Inc., treated the Corps members to a raft trip down the Savage River on Friday, June 23.

"Eight of them actually went on the trip. They really enjoyed it. Some were kind of nervous at first, but they really liked it. Their only gripe was that it was too short. Of course, it was so foggy, it made it hard to see, so that was a problem, too," Alexander said.

Harmon explained that the Corps members obtain job training skills, how to interview, how to keep a job, how to handle bank accounts and other skills by working with the Corps. This also helps them to learn skills to get the next job.

"Some of them have dropped out of school, some are graduating and aren't sure yet what they are going to do. This gives them better skills and we try to encourage them to go back to school," she said.

Members of the Corps are also taught conservation techniques. Harmon explained that the program just provides summer employment, but that members are qualified to work with the Department of Natural Resources Park Rangers after the program is through.

The Maryland Conservation Corps is funded through the JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act) and the Department of Natural Resources.

Currently, the Corps crew is working at the Lostland Run Area of the Potomac State Forest, refurbishing trails, stabilizing roads and streams.

Downpour Doesn't Dampen Annual Grantsville Days

A 12-FOOT HIGH automobile-powered "shopping cart," entered by Grantsville Foodland, proved to be literally the biggest surprise of the parade.

by Craig Speicher

In spite of a torrential downpour Friday night and competition for spectators and participants at the wildwater races in Bloomington, Grantsville Days proved in many ways to be stronger than ever this year.

The Greater Grantsville Shootout basketball competition threatened to become a major event in itself; the horse pull competition drew over twice the number of spectators as last year; the Grantsville Lions sold out of their barbecued chicken; the Dixieland Quintet Band made its first appearance ever; and the Friday night parade, which ended only moments before the rain began falling, featured probably the largest "shopping carts" in the state of Maryland.

Although Friday night's scheduled fireworks were cancelled due to rain, organizers rescheduled them for Saturday night, combining the originally-planned two nights of entertainment into one, for possibly the most spectacular fireworks display ever seen in Grantsville.

The basketball competition, sponsored by Northern High boys' varsity basketball coach Dave Bender, gave away generous sums of cash prizes, which attracted region-wide participation.

The town of Grantsville is growing, and its annual "homecoming festival" is surely one of the reasons why.

LIGHT AND HEAT combine in an ear-numbing blast at ground level as an individually charged fireworks display leaves earth. Local businessman Mark Folk donated time and expertise to make the annual event possible.

PARADE MARSHAL Blair Lee "Pete" Bittinger of Grantsville, a senior at Northern High School, was honored for the best performance by a Garrett County wrestler in 18 years at the annual state tournament. The son of Blair and Debbie Bittinger, Amish Road, Pete broke numerous county records at Westminster last March, becoming state runner-up in the A-AA 135-pound weight class.

STRUTTING HER STUFF for thousands of parade watchers was this wee tyke who reportedly just learned to walk a month ago.

LEADING A HYMN and worship service at the concluding vesper service was Pastor Robert Cole, of St. John's United Church of Christ.

CREPE PAPER CREATIVITY paid off for Goodwill Mennonite Home of Grantsville, as their creation, ridden by numerous home residents, was judged best appearing float.

HORSE HOOVES TREAD EARTH as this year's horse-pull competition, organized by Wanda Warnick and Helen Broadwater of Grantsville, pulled in its greatest spectator support ever at Grantsville Days. A crowd that appeared at least twice as large as last year's saw 14 teams competing in lightweight and heavyweight divisions, with prizes awarded for the top three teams in each class. The tractor-pull contests were cancelled because of excessively wet track conditions.

THE GREATER GRANTSVILLE SHOOTOUT, sponsored by Northern High School boys varsity basketball coach Dave Bender, featured two days of three-on-three, three-pointer and slam dunk competition, with hefty cash prizes that helped draw many participants locally as well as from outside the area. Photos of the various winners will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

'89 Legislation Affecting DNR Is Summarized

Various pieces of legislation passed during the 1989 General Assembly affecting the Maryland Department of Natural Resources and which became effective July 1. The new laws include the following:

Nontidal Wetlands Protection Act - This bill requires the DNR to establish a statewide program for the conservation, enhancement, regulation, creation and monitoring of nontidal wetlands in Maryland. This is a major piece of legislation already being hailed as a national model.

Garrett County/Land Acquisition - This bill amends the law limiting the amount of land that may be acquired by DNR in Garrett County.

Manufacturer's or Dealer's License/Exhibitors - This bill exempts certain manufacturers and dealers from the license requirement for boat dealers and manufacturers, increases the Boat Dealer Assurance Fund and relates to the licensing of boat manufacturers and dealers.

Reclamation Committee/Strip Mining of Coal — This bill clarifies the powers and duties of the Land Reclamation Committee and expedites and streamlines the mining permitting process.

Deep Mining of Coal -This bill also streamlines the permitting process and allows DNR to regulate subsidence, provides for the replacement of affected water supplies, extends the bond liability period and establishes appropriate inspection frequencies.

Park Ranger Law Enforcement Commission - This bill authorizes a Forest, Park and Wildlife ranger to exercise law enforcement powers on lands adjacent to state parks where written memoranda of understanding exist with local law enforcement authorities.

Shore Erosion Control Program/General Fund Appropriation - This bill repeals the requirement that the operating budget of DNR contain a general fund appropriation sufficient to provide engineering services for the design of shore erosion control structures and projects and generally relates to the funds of shore erosion control projects.

Wetlands/Amendments of Maps and Regulations - This bill authorizes the Secretary of Natural Resources to modify, correct, or update the existing wetlands boundary maps and to amend the existing rules and regulations pertaining to private wetlands.

Catching Bait Fish with Nets - This bill clarifies the prohibition against the use of dipnets for taking bait fish under certain circumstances.

Fishing Nets and Stakes/Interference - This bill prohibits a person from fastening to the fishing equipment of another person, except in certain emergency situations.

CHECK PRESENTED TO WCI — Whitewater Championships, Inc., the coordinating organization for the World Whitewater Canoe and Kayak Championships held over the past two weeks on the Savage River in Garrett County, received a $2,000 donation at the race site last week. The money represented the proceeds from the Whitewater International Gala, sponsored by the Allegany County Chamber of Commerce and supported by the Greater Oakland Business Association. Among those on hand for the presentation were, pictured left to right, Bud Willetts, vice president, Allegany County Chamber of Commerce; Charlie Amos, executive director of the Chamber; Don Storck, executive director of WCI; Jack Jones, president of GOBA; Shirley Giorritta, a Gala committee member; and Dr. Giorritta, Gala chairman.

Rural Schools Conference Addresses Wide Variety Of Common Issues

The community has the power to turn a rural school system around, especially in the absence of a fair share of the education dollar, conferees heard at Maryland's first Rural Schools Conference, June 26-27, in Hunt Valley.

Nearly 600 principals, teachers and superintendents from seven rural — and poorest — counties gathered to focus on goals they have set for their schools, and to hear how other systems in Maryland and other states are dealing with issues like high drop-out rates, poor attendance, cooperative learning, site management, limited supplies, teachers, equipment and money.

The counties taking part in the Rural Schools Enhancement Project launched by Governor William Donald Schaefer in 1987 are: Allegany, Caroline, Cecil, Dorchester, Garrett, Somerset and St. Mary's counties.

The difference between the rural counties and the wealthier districts comes to about $59,000 per classroom, according to Maryland Superintendent Joseph L. Shilling.

A student in a rural school has the same needs as those in richer areas, he said, but must settle for $3,700 a year compared with $6,100 spent on each pupil in the highest spending system.

"We cannot let this continue. We've got to solve this fiscal gap," said Shilling. "It's just too much for anyone to overcome."

"We are one community. We are one family," said keynoter Lt. Gov. Melvin A. Steinberg, calling for a 'commitment' from the General Assembly and the Schaefer administration for 'adequate funding' of programs for rural schools.

"We must not be afraid to say we have slipped; that maybe we haven't done all we can," Steinberg said, adding that he believes a joint effort of the private and public sectors "will help solve these issues and enhance the programs that will be successful."

Many speakers agreed that the business community can play a significant role even when there is an inspiring principal, a dedicated and caring teacher, the right tools, and especially, the parents' involvement.

School districts in several states, including Maryland, that have formed partnerships with the business, corporate and professional communities say they seem to provide the carrots that stimulate a student's desire to learn and to work hard in school and in the community.

Cited were sponsorships of field trips, attendance honors, internships and "shadowing" experiences, mentors, donations of graphics artists, science or math experts, and in helping with:

- A day care center built, staffed and operated on school grounds by high school students.
- A profitable chicken business run by 4th and 5th graders.
- A model swine breeding facility built and run by students.
- A bank founded and run by students in a school.
- A union-run literacy program in the workplace.

But the roles of the teacher and the parents are crucial, the conferees agreed.

"An effective teacher remembers what it's like to be a student with all the problems, pressures and potential, and actively involves students in the teaching process," said National Teacher of the Year Terry Weeks, a Tennessee educator.

"If parents get involved with school activities," said a panelist on school attendance, "we can almost work miracles with a child."

And a warning was sounded by Superintendent Shilling.

"We will continue to have heroic solutions that don't pan out until we figure out a way to communicate to the public what a great job we're doing...until we recognize the importance of the teacher; the importance and dignity of each student, and the leadership of the principal."

The conference was co-sponsored by Research for Better Schools, Inc., and involved the Governor's office, the State Department of Education, the U.S. Office of Educational Research and Improvement, and superintendents from other Mid-Atlantic states.

"We believe we met the challenge, to provide the rural school personnel with specific information on a range of strategies, processes and programs to enhance school standards," said Project Director Kathleen M. Lins. "And we are confident that the students, teachers and principals will be enjoying many of the fruits of this endeavor in the next school year."

Interest-Free Loan Awarded To Oakland VFD

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced Board of Public Works approval of an $18,000 interest-free loan to help improve equipment used by the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works also is comprised of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Lucille Maurer. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions, and other procurement actions.

"Our citizens and businesses expect fire companies to have the proper equipment needed to protect people and property. Firemen's fund-raising drives do a lot but they cannot pay for everything. I am glad the state can be a partner with the volunteer fire companies," Governor Schaefer said.

The Oakland VFD expects to rehabilitate a 100-foot 1972 aerial ladder truck, the only one in Garrett County. The upgrading will include new steering gear and a four-foot fully enclosed cab. The interest-free loan will be repaid in five years.

Established 95 years ago, the Oakland Company now has 44 members and covers an area of approximately 80 square miles with an estimated 3,500 residents. In addition to the aerial ladder truck, the company also has two 1250 gpm pumpers and one 1800-gallon tanker.

Approval of the loan was recommended by the Maryland State Fireman's Association using money from the Volunteer Company Emergency Assistance Trust Fund established and funded by the General Assembly. The fund was created in 1982 to provide grants and loans to volunteer rescue and firefighting units unable to quickly acquire essential equipment.

DHCD's Housing Loan Programs Are Streamlined

Four new Maryland laws which went into effect July 1 will streamline and make more flexible the state's housing loan programs.

The new laws will consolidate the Department of Housing and Community Development's 17 housing loan programs into three distinct funds, giving the department flexibility to transfer funds from one program to another only after the eighth month of the first year when warranted by demand.

"As Maryland's housing needs become more complex, DHCD needs greater flexibility to respond to those needs," DHCD Secretary Jacqueline H. Rogers said.

"In the past, projects have been seriously delayed because of lack of funding in specific programs, while uncommitted funds existed in other programs. These new laws will enable us to use all funds budgeted for housing," she added.

Under the new laws, DHCD's Homeownership Program Fund will include the Maryland Mortgage Program, the Maryland Home Financing Program, the Reserve Equity Program, the Homeowners Emergency Mortgage Assistance Program, and the Settlement Loan Program.

The Special Loans Program Fund was restructured to include the Group Home Program, and the Maryland Housing Rehabilitation Program for four or fewer units, the Indoor Plumbing Program, the Lead Paint Abatement Program, the Accessory Shared and Sheltered Housing Program and the Livability Code Program.

DHCD's third fund will be the Rental Housing Programs Fund which combines the Elderly Rental Housing Program, Rental Housing Production Program, Nonprofit Rehabilitation Program and the Maryland Housing Rehabilitation Program for multi-family facilities.

Oakland Sweeps Keyser, Defeats Cumberland In Pen-Mar Action

Manager/player Terry Helbig powered the offense of the Oakland team Sunday afternoon in Pen-Mar Baseball League action, as he rapped a pair of home runs, including a grand slam, plus a double and a single to lead the Oaks to a doubleheader sweep of Keyser, 11-4 and 21-3.

Oakland also topped Cumberland, 11-8, in a single game last Thursday.

The Oaks now have won five in a row and hold a season record of 8-4. They will travel to Tri-Towns next Wednesday evening for a single game and then host Cumberland for a twinbill on Sunday, July 16.

Keyser had taken a 2-1 lead in the first game before Oakland erupted for 10 runs in the bottom of the third, highlighted by Helbig's grand slam. Darryl Dupert finished with a pair of hits to drive in three runs, Tim McNemar, the winning pitcher added an RBI single, and Ed Wildeson drew a bases-loaded walk for Oakland.

Pacing Keyser's eight-hit effort were Mike Stanislawczyk, who ripped a double and two singles, Ed Cuthbertson, who hit a double and a single, and Randy Cirillo, with an RBI single.

The Oakland bats went wild in the second game, as the Oaks smacked 24 hits and scored all the runs they would need in the bottom of the first inning.

Helbig rapped a solo homer and a double and a single to finish the day with seven RBIs. Steve Zumpano was five-for-five and also had three stolen bases, Dupert recorded four singles and five RBIs, Jon Reneslacis scored four times and had two RBIs with a double and three singles, Lawrence Nesselrodt finished with three hits and a pair of RBIs, Dean Marsico had a two-run single and stole two bases, and Corky Sweitzer added a two-run double.

A two-run homer in the fourth inning by Wayne Brown was the only highlight of Keyser's hitting, as Oakland pitchers Troy Hammonds and Brad Basinger allowed only five hits.

In last Thursday's contest against Cumberland, Dean Marsico smacked a three-run homer to pace a seven-run first inning and put the game away early for Oakland; although Cumberland chipped away at the Oaks' lead in the later innings. Cumberland had taken a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but Oakland added two more runs in the second and two in the third to go up 11-1. Cumberland rallied for a single run in the fourth, three in the fifth, and three in the seventh, but Mike Brady, Oakland's starting pitcher, held on for the victory.

Marsico also hit a single and finished with four RBIs, while Tim NcNemar rapped a homer and two singles for three runs. Dupert added a double and a single, while Helbig and Nesselrodt each stroked two singles.

Rick Winebrenner paced Cumberland's hitting with a triple, a double, and two singles for three RBIs, Bobby Uhl hit two doubles and a single, and Troy Wagner and Jay McKinney each rapped two singles.

Garrett Legion Team Captures First-Half Title

The Garrett County Legion Baseball Team, under Coach Ed Wildesen, captured the first-half season title this past week with a pair of wins over Westernport, 1-0 and 8-7, at Garrett Community College.

The second half of the season will begin July 11 and, if the Garrett team is still in first place at the end of the second half, it will automatically advance to the state playoffs, which will be held in Valley this year. If Garrett does not win the second-half title, they will meet the winner in a playoff to determine who receives the state berth.

Rod Cooper, who was named Durst Funeral Home co-player of the week, tossed a three-hit shutout for Garrett in the opener against Westernport and went four-for-four with his bat in the second contest.

Westernport pitcher Chris Wilson had an outstanding day on the mound in the first game as well as he gave up only one hit, but an unearned run in the fifth denied him the win.

Kevin Green reached base on an error in that inning and gave way to pinch runner Brett Rice. Alan Selders sacrificed Rice to second and Rice came home on an error on a ball hit by Kevin Yokum.

Cooper struck out eight Westernport batters and walked four and singled for Garrett's only hit.

Westernport built a 7-3 lead in the second game, only to have Garrett come back with five runs in the bottom of the fourth for the victory.

Mark Rohrbaugh, the other co-player of the week, took the mound in the fourth for Garrett and held Victory Post scoreless over the final three innings to record the win.

Cooper paced Garrett's hitting again, this time with two doubles and two singles for three RBIs, while D.G. Largent smacked a two-run homer in the first inning and Kevin Combs added a double.

Chad Jeffries and Mulligan had two hits each for Westernport and Chris Miller finished with two RBIs.

Besides his outstanding offensive effort, Wildesen also noted Cooper's defensive play at shortstop in the second game as a key to Garrett's sixth win in seven starts.

Effects Of '89 World's Far Reaching For Garrett Couple

The effects of the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships on Garrett County will be far reaching, particularly for one Garrett County couple — Barbara and Milton Proudfoot, the host family for the Russian team.

"There was only a hint of cultural differences," said Milton. "The biggest cultural difference was that the girl could have nothing to do with anything mechanical. She would offer to help with the boats, but no one would accept her help.

"Of course, it was that way with the men on the team, also. I offered to help with their boats after they finished racing and they always said no," he explained.

Hosting a dinner at the Old Stone Tavern near Aurora, W.Va., provided the Proudfoots the perfect opportunity to get to know the Russians better.

The Old Stone Tavern was built in 1825. Paul and Melanie Meyers, Pittsburgh, Pa., recently bought the property and are restoring it into a "living museum".

The Russians were served an 18th century meal of baked ham, baked turkey and rabbit, all cooked on an open hearth. They were also fed hominy (puffed corn), a uniquely American Indian food.

"They didn't know what it was, but they ate all of it," said Milton. "We also had four loaves of bread that was cooked in a dutch oven, and it was gone instantly. The Russians eat a lot of bread.

The tavern is being converted into a museum which will be open to the public and will be available for receptions and other events like the 18th century dinner served to the Russians. It is also listed in the National Registry of Historic Places.

Milton explained that in the museum, items can be touched and the Russians were astounded by this.

"They had never been in a place where you could touch things. They were just astounded," he said. "It was the most impressive thing they'd done up to that point."

The group was taught to throw a tomahawk and knife and they shot bow and arrows and flintlock rifles.

"Two of the team members turned out to be exceptionally good shots. They were very good overall, though, and they were easy to teach. Like most athletes, they had a good sense of timing," he said.

"They were very impressed by the museum as a whole because it was a hands-on museum. In Russia everything is out of reach or under glass."

The Russiam team members didn't place in the competitions, but as Milton explained, for a team that has not competed outside of Russia in over 15 years, they showed a considerable consistency in placing in the middle of the events.

"They are not as well educated about the sport as the U.S., France or Italy is. One reason they came to this event was to learn about the sport. For having no history, they did exceptionally well," he said.

"I shouldn't say they were happy with their results, but neither were they terribly disappointed. They paddle differently than the top paddlers. They seem to paddle in a wide swoop like the way you paddle an open canoe or a row-boat.

"They picked up penalties to start with because they kept touching the poles, but by the time the races started, they had learned and weren't touching the poles as much," he said.

"Overall," Milton explained, "our cultural differences are not as great as we are led to believe. The only differences are minor and come from being raised in a different environment under a different set of rules. They're not any different than our neighbors might be."

THE OLD STONE TAVERN near Aurora, W.Va., provided the perfect setting for an 18th century meal that was served to members of the Russian team during their recent visit to the U.S. to participate in the '89 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships. Paul and Melanie Meyers, Pittsburgh, Pa., hosted the dinner at the Tavern which they are remodeling to be a living museum. Barbara and Milton Proudfoot were the host family to the Russian team for their visit to Garrett County. The team was served a meal of baked turkey, ham and rabbit, (above photo) all cooked on an open hearth, and then demonstrations on tomahawk throwing, shooting bow and arrows and flintlock rifles and knife throwing was given. Above right and below, team members work on putting together a 17th century wooden puzzle.

Regulations

applications. The Department has also placed additional restrictions on the uses of the lake and buffer strip permitted of new developments and has established a definition for "usable buffer strip" for dock allocation purposes. Commercial use of the lake and buffer strip has also been further defined.

Copies of the changes are available upon request from the Lake Management Office. A handout has also been developed which incorporates both the new and existing regulations for boating on the lake. Copies of that document are also available through the Management Office.

Over the next several weeks, new buoys will be placed to designate the new restricted areas. "Please note the location of these areas when boating on the lake," stated Eric Schwaab, lake manager. "Buoys will not be placed in most areas to designate 100 feet from shore. These buoys will be placed only in sample areas such as at the State Park boat ramp to help lake users to judge 100 feet."

Schwaab said that, although the Department recognizes that these new restrictions will represent an inconvenience for many lake users, the end result should be "a safer and more enjoyable recreational experience for everyone."

"The Department would like to thank all of those who participated in the review process. As always, your input helped us to develop a use plan which we believe will balance the many conflicting demands for use of the lake surface. In particular, the Department wishes to thank the members of the Deep Creek Lake Advisory and Review Committee whose countless hours of work helped us to reach this point."

For further information, persons may contact the Lake Management Office, Route 2, Box 69C, Swanton, Md. 21561; (301) 387-4111.

Aurora Man Gets 20 Years In Circuit Court

An Aurora, W.Va., man will serve 20 years in the Department of Corrections as a result of a trial held June 22 in Garrett County Circuit Court.

Joseph E. Sidebottom, 31, was sentenced by Chief Judge Fred A. Thayer. He received 10 years for breaking into a cabin, five years for felony theft, one year for possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and two years for each of two counts of misdemeanor breaking and entering.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered for Sidebottom during a May 11 trial, when he pled guilty to the charges. The charges stemmed from a December 16, 1988, incident on the Stockslager Road, Deep Creek Lake.

Charges of burglary and conspiracy were not prosecuted. Sidebottom's attorney was James F. Braskey.

In a separate case, the judge sentenced Dennis M. Wolfe, 18, Hagerstown, to one year in the Garrett County Jail for a charge of escape.

The sentence was then suspended, and Wolfe was placed on one year supervised probation.

The charge was filed following a January 11, 1989, incident at the Backbone Mountain Youth Center.

Wolfe was represented by John R. Toston, public defender.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for Eric W. Friend, 24, Swanton, after he pled guilty to a charge of third degree sexual offense. His bail was revoked.

The charge involved an incident which occurred last August or September involving a five-year-old female. A child abuse charge was not prosecuted.

Friend's attorney was Robert C. Hesson.

Dutch Treat Barbershop Quartet To Perform At Friendsville Fest

Dutch Treat, a barbershop quartet, will launch the 1989 Friendsville Festival Day program on August 5.

The Dutch Treat quartet was organized in 1981 by four members of the Uniontown Barbershop Chorus. All four fellows agreed they would like to share the Barbershop craft with the public and sing for entertainment rather than enter into competition. Even though there have been changes in two of the personnel over the years, the quartet has continued to perform in Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, and Virginia.

The quartet is registered with the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA).

The quartet represents a total membership of 50 years with the Society. Because of living in a widespread area, the members travel some 10,000 miles a year for rehearsals.

Members are Gerry Provance, Perryopolis, Sid Guest, Scottdale, Ken Miller, Salisbury, and Kevin O'Brien, Uniontown.

The theme of the day is "A Star Spangled Gala" and concludes Friendsville's celebration of the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution. Festivities begin with a noon parade and end with 10 p.m. fireworks. In between will be a variety of activities, entertainment, exhibits, and food.

The event is sponsored by the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department, and co-sponsored by Town and Community Women, Inc. For further information, persons may contact Pat Bowser at (301) 746-5576 or Terry Spear at (301) 746-5291.

Funds Approved For Programs For Disabled

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced Board of Public Works approval of $106-million in contracts to continue providing a variety of services to about 11,000 developmentally disabled individuals throughout the state. Appalachian Crossroads, of Garrett County, will receive $921,956.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works also is comprised of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Lucille Maurer. The board is authorized by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions, and other procurement actions.

"It is vitally important that we continue providing these much needed services to our developmentally disabled citizens and their families," Governor Schaefer said. "We are committed to meeting the needs of all of our citizens requiring assistance, and this is one way of meeting that goal."

The contracts approved Friday will continue a number of services to the developmentally disabled including community residential placements, vocational programs, supported employment, summer recreation programs, family support services, and sheltered workshops.

Developmentally disabled individuals are those who have a severe chronic mental and/or physical disability other than mental illness that occurs before age 22 and is likely to continue indefinitely. These people cannot live independently without external professional support.

Those meeting the definition of developmentally disabled include those with mental retardation, cerebral palsy, autism, deafness, epilepsy, multiple sclerosis, head injury, and blindness.

BPW Supporting Issuance Of Special Stamp

At the National Business and Professional Women's Convention in July 1988, a resolution was unanimously adopted citing the one million women veterans in the United States and over 220,000 active duty military women. Because these women are a significant and integral part of the working women's network, and in its continuing salute to women of the military, BPW/USA urged the issuance of a commemorative U.S. postage stamp.

"The real effort in this stamp campaign must come from BPW members, friends, and those many other community organizations to which we all belong," stated a BPW spokesman.

"The way this stamp can become a reality is for all of us to write on a postal card or letterhead. The form is not important, we just need for letters to be sent in by the hundreds. The words need not be anything more than 'I believe that a commemorate stamp for U.S. women of the military should be issued.' Sign your name and address and sent it to: Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee, c/o Stamp Information Branch, U.S. Postal Headquarters, Washington, D.C. 20260-6352."

Bills Passed To Better Protect Children At Risk

During its 1989 legislative session, the Maryland General Assembly passed several laws giving the Department of Human Resources more legal recourse in protecting children from physical and sexual abuse and neglect. Among other measures, these laws offer protection to children from those most likely to harm them.

"The General Assembly took a tremendous step by passing these laws, which will help clarify what constitutes abuse and the department's responsibilities in protecting children," said Acting Secretary Carolyn W. Colvin. "The parameters are more defined regarding what the agency can do by law," she said.

The following is a list of those bills passed by the General Assembly:

Senate Bill 211 requires criminal background checks from state police and FBI files for potential adoptive parents, adult relatives with whom DHR places a child, family day care providers and others residing in that home. Effective July 1, 1989.

House Bill 232 defines "abuse" as being either actual injury or risk of injury that would signiificantly harm a child's health or welfare. "Neglect" is defined as failure by a responsible adult to provide a child with proper care and attention. By changing the standard from the intent of the adult to the harming of a child through abuse or neglect, it will be possible to provide assistance to the child before serious harm occurs. Effective July 1, 1989.

House Bill 640 broadens the definition of family day care to include in-home care for developmentally disabled persons under the age of 21, as well as the children under the age of 13. It also increases to eight the number of children allowed in a family day care home, while continuing to require that no more than two of the children are under the age of two. The bill strengthens the investigative tools of different agencies by requiring them to form an investigative unit. In addition, the legislation allows religious institutions to seek a letter of compliance rather than a license, and clarifies that child care provided during a religious activity is not day care. Effective July 1, 1989.

House Bill 1210 repeals the exemption of health practitioners from reporting instances of abuse or neglect committed by pedophiles. This will provide a measure of protection for the child while forcing pedophiles to face the consequences of his/her actions. Effective July 1, 1989.

In addition to legislative measures taken to protect children, the Maryland General Assembly passed Senate Bill 440 outlining the procedure for appointing the Director of the Baltimore City Department of Social Services and removed the Director, Deputy Director and Assistant Director positions out of the state employee merit system. Candidates for the Director's position will be submitted by the Mayor and chosen by the DHR Secretary. A director's removal from the position will be at the Secretary's discretion with the Mayor's concurrence.

Wildlife Advisory Commission Seeks Citizen Input

Hoping for increased attendance by Marylanders who are interested in the state's wildlife, the Department of Natural Resources' (DNR) Wildlife Advisory Commission has announced its meeting schedule for the rest of the year.

"Advance notice should allow people to plan ahead and join our meetings as often as they can. We welcome new observers and new input," said John W. Barton, Cumberland, Commission Chairman.

The next Wildlife Advisory Commission meeting, which is slated for Western Maryland residents, will be held at 7 p.m. on July 20 in the Conference Room at the Appalachian Environmental Laboratory, Frostburg State University.

The Commission is a nine-member citizen panel that meets monthly to hear and discuss important issues as presented by DNR's Forest, Park and Wildlife Service staff. Commissioners offer ideas and suggestions, ask for further review, and/or endorse state government initiatives about wild animals. Meeting subjects so far this year have ranged from waterfowl to deer to bears. Commissioners often examine complex situations that arise between people and wildlife resource use.

Historically, the Wildlife Advisory Commission is one of the oldest natural resource advisory groups in the state. It began in Maryland in the early part of this century, was called the "Fish and Wildlife Commission," and helped to steer regulatory decisions about game species only. In 1972, when DNR was created, the current Commission was authorized. Its role is to provide advice about hunting and the preservation of wildlife to state officials. It is composed of interested citizen volunteers who serve under appointment of the Governor.

Board members review foster care cases and act as advocates to make sure appropriate steps are being taken by local Departments of Social Services to return foster children to their parents or to find other permanent homes for them.

The term for Selection Committee Members is two years and members can serve for a maximum of two consecutive terms. Initial training is provided and committee meetings are held approximately twice a year. Task Force To Study School Health Problem

Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) Secretary Adele Wilzack has appointed a 24-member task force to study the changing health problems that affect Maryland's public school student population.

"The need to provide coordination of health services to students has escalated and we need to focus on that," Wilzack said.

Chaired by Marilyn Goldwater, Director, (DHMH) Office of Federal Relations, the task force's charge is to develop a comprehensive policy to improve the delivery of school health services.

"Today's changing health problems and concerns are reflected in our student population," Goldwater said. "Social changes and technological advances now place schools in a position of providing specialized care and services for medically fragile children."

The panel members include physicians, educators, two lawyers, school health professionals and two legislators, Paula C. Hollinger and Donna M. Felling.

The key issues the task force will address are:

1. The status of school health services in Maryland.
2. The goals needed to improve and expand on the school health program.
3. The role of the school nurse.

The final report is to be submitted by January 1, 1990.

Commissioners

commissioners stated they felt such a position should be a full-time position in order to best serve the constitutents of Garrett County.

The position will be advertised in the near future, and will allow applications to be accepted from qualified candidates possessing medical or non-medical degrees. An appointed panel with local representation would be involved in the recruitment process.

Dr. Jane Fiscus will continue to serve as acting health officer for Garrett County until such time as the position is filled.

Another topic broached by the commissioners was their concern about consistent care in the area of Mental Health and the filling of the recent vacancies that have occurred in that area. Dr. Stafford commented that DHMH is diligently pursuing the filling of vacancies within the Mental Health Department, which in his opinion will provide consistent and quality care to the citizens of the county. He noted that all Mental Health care clients can still be serviced within the framework that currently exists at the local Health Department.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ACADEMIC Fitness Award was presented to numerous fifth grade students at Accident Elementary School before the closing of the school year. The criteria for this award is to attain a B-plus average from third grade through the first semester of fifth grade and score at least in the 80th percentile on a standardized achievement test battery. Pictured above, front row, left to right, are Paul Sebold, Tim Sines, Jason Savage, Jason Herman, and Nick Wachter. In addition to the certificate and letter, they received an award pin.

so many people enjoyed the athletic competition and saw our beautiful countryside," said Don Storck, executive director of Whitewater Championships, Inc., the non-profit group which organized the event. "Everyone saw world class races that went off without a hitch."

The 600 athletes competed in the whitewater championships as a prelude to the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain, which will include slalom canoeing and kayaking for the first time in 20 years.

The undisputed star of the competition was Marylander Jon Lugbill, who won an unprecedented fifth gold medal in the one-man canoe. Fellow Maryland residents David Hearn and Jed Prentice took the silver medal and fourth place, respectively. The three also won the gold medal when they competed together in the men's slalom canoe race.

Dana Chladek, Bethesda, won the silver medal in the women's individual kayak competition. Former Marylander Cathy Hearn won the bronze. Chladek and Hearn also took home silver medals as members of the U.S. women's kayak team, along with teammate Jennifer Stone.

Corporate sponsors contributed significantly to the event's success. The Marriott Corporation and Pepsi-Cola were the primary corporate sponsors, with 13 other sponsors also providing money or in-kind services for the event. Prime Computer and GTE Corporation provided computer scoring equipment for the competition.

In addition to the athletic events, ambassadors from 11 nations attended a gala dinner hosted by Governor William Donald Schaefer on June 24 at the Lane Center on the campus of Frostburg State University. Earlier that day, Senator John Bambacus, president of Whitewater Championships, Inc., and the driving force behind the event, toured the whitewater site with the governor and introduced him to the members of the U.S. team.

Sutcliffe Family Meets Spanish Slalom Team

It all started with a rope tied to a dock for the Sutcliffe family.

What appeared at first glance to be a rope tied to a dock turned out to be a practice course for Spain's slalom team, here to compete in the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships.

"This is the summer of all summers," said Penny, daughter of Mary and Herb Sutcliffe, and a senior at the University of Maryland. The Sutcliffes have a home on Lake Shore Drive and the Spanish team stayed in a condominium at Red Run, "just around the corner" from the Sutcliffe home.

As the team practiced on their impromptu slalom course, the Sutcliffes watched and quickly extended an invitation for the team to come to a real American dinner of barbequed chicken, corn on the cob and salad.

Herb quickly showed the team how to eat corn on the cob. "Everything was going fine. We had figured out how to communicate with sign language and Dad showed them how to eat the corn on the cob. But he showed them while he was standing up, so the team ate their's standing up also," said Penny.

The misunderstanding was soon corrected and an invitation to go water skiing on the lake the next day was quickly given.

"Only two were brave enough to try, but Xavier, the youngest member of the team, got up on the skis and put up the hand sign for hang loose. It was great that he knew a California surfing signal. I guess some things are international," said Penny.

"They didn't do too well in the slalom competitions, but were in good spirits anyway. They mentioned a desire to see Washington, D.C., and since I live in Calverton, I offered them a place to stay," she said.

The team soon arrived at her home in Calverton. Penny and her roommates had decided to let the team take the beds, while they would sleep on the floor. "They said they didn't feel right, that in Spain they don't make their hostess sleep on the floor, but we insisted," Penny said.

VISITING THE CAPITAL — Members of Spain's whitewater slalom team recently visited the White House in Washington, D.C. Above, Coach Jean Michele, left, tells team members a little about the nations capital. Penny Sutcliffe, daughter of Herb and Mary Sutcliffe, met team members when they were practicing on Deep Creek Lake near the Sutcliffe's family home. Penny invited the team to stay with her and her roommates at her home near Washington.

The team expressed a wish to buy some American blue jeans, as they apparently have to pay between $70 and $80 a pair in Spain. The team also wanted to see the White House.

"They all played around on the Mall and took lots of pictures. They seemed to enjoy the trip to the mall to buy clothes as much as the trip to the capital," said Penny.

Going to the city also provided a chance for Penny and her roommates to find out what the Spanish team members thought about America. "The only girl on the team, Maria, really liked the clothes, and one of the guys, Oscar, liked the cars. But they all couldn't understand why Americans are all so fat," said Penny.

After the day in the city, the team had to leave for Spain. Penny and her roommates, after saying goodbye, decided to surprise the team by giving them a farewell at the airport.

"They were really surprised when they saw us at the airport, but happy. We took more pictures, and gave them all a hug," she said.

"We were sorry to see them go, but it was a great learning experience. I found myself being able to understand some of the things they said, and I have never studied Spanish," said Penny. "I learned that you can't let a language barrier stop you from getting to know someone. I also learned to be open to new things."

Schaefer Visiting Math/Science Summer Academy

Governor William Donald Schaefer is scheduled to visit the Governor's Academy for Mathematics, Science and Technology at the University of Maryland Baltimore County (UMBC) in Catonsville today, July 6.

The academy, established this summer by the Maryland Department of Education, is an initiative by the governor to increase the level of teacher capabilities in mathematics and science at the elementary, middle school and high school levels.

Governor Schaefer is scheduled to visit several classes in progress and to talk with teachers about their study areas. He will also inspect a mass spectrometer used in technical research activities at UMBC.

Governor Schaefer said, "We are concerned about the declining number of students who are studying advanced science and mathematics in Maryland schools. This summer academy is an excellent way to start reversing that trend."

Teachers selected for the Governor's Academy for Mathematics, Science and Technology are expected to take back to their classrooms new teaching methods and enthusiasm for these subjects and to share with colleagues and students what they have learned.

The Maryland State Department of Education is considering a plan to involve students in future summer academies in an effort to stimulate broader interest in science and mathematics.

Fifty-six teachers drawn from throughout Maryland are attending the first academy this summer. The program offered by the Department of Education is designed to explore current trends in math and science and familiarize teachers with the role of these fields in various career paths.

The teachers attending the summer institute participate in classroom work, field trips, and special lectures by guest speakers and researchers.

Planned field trips include visits to the Baltimore Museum, the Calvert Cliffs Nuclear Power Plant, Nova Pharmaceuticals, Inc., the Maryland Science Center, and the National Aquarium.

The academy, which opened June 25, will continue through July 21.

The Garrett County Extension Homemakers would like to welcome all vacationers to the area. There are many fun things to do in the area and some are educational as well.

The Extension Service Program offers many demonstrations throughout the year and the summer months offer a wide variety of subjects. For instance, July's topic deals with "Money in Your Children's Hand." In September you can learn about "Estate Planning." Have a safe and happy summer and attend a club meeting. You will not only get valuable information but make new friends. Call the Extension office for more details.

It is hard to think that all this warmth and sunshine will end and we will be digging out the extra blankets and quilts soon. Some of us would rather look at them, because they are "too pretty to use." This is the best month to do so. You may stop by the Extension office and view the one made by the Maryland Extension Homemakers. While you are there buy a ticket to win it. They are $1 each or six for $5. The winner will be announced September 1.

Anyone interested in quilts will want to join the Meadow Glade Club this month on July 13. The group will be going to the "Summerfest and Quilt Show" at the Grantsville Fire Hall. The club will hold its monthly meeting in the Penn Alps dining hall. Anyone wishing to go should call Loretta Wotring, 334-3837.

The New Germany Homemakers Club has changed its meeting date to the first Wednesday of each month. The July 5th meeting will be held at the home of Evelyn Michael.

The County Council Welcomed the Swallow Falls Club back to the organization. The executive board will meet again in August. Each club should send at least one representative to these meetings.

The Bittinger Homemakers will be celebrating 60 years of club membership this year. The group has made plans to go to Allegany County and ride the "Allegany Central" at the Western Maryland Railroad Station. The train will leave Cumberland and travel to Frostburg where they will have dinner and return to Cumberland approximately 2½ hours later. Train fare is $8.50 and $5.00 for children. Contact Beulah Moon at 245-4163 if you would like to join them on August 22 for this celebration.

ONE OF THE MORE INTERESTING DISPLAY BOOTHS at the 1989 World's Whitewater Canoe/Kayak Championships held the last two weeks of June, was that of Garrett Community College. The display was built and designed by Michael Logsdon, academic director of arts and sciences, to demonstrate whitewater. The display, pictured above, drew athletes and spectators alike to view whitewater up close. A ping-pong ball was placed at the top of the miniature stream (left) and viewers could watch the ball work its way around rocks and through eddies. Clyde Hetrick, president of GCC's student government and one of the workers at the booth, said that "It's been quite an education. I've met members of the teams and other people. I've really enjoyed being here." Hetrick estimated that 50 percent of those stopping to view the display showed an interest in the college and the information that was available about the college.

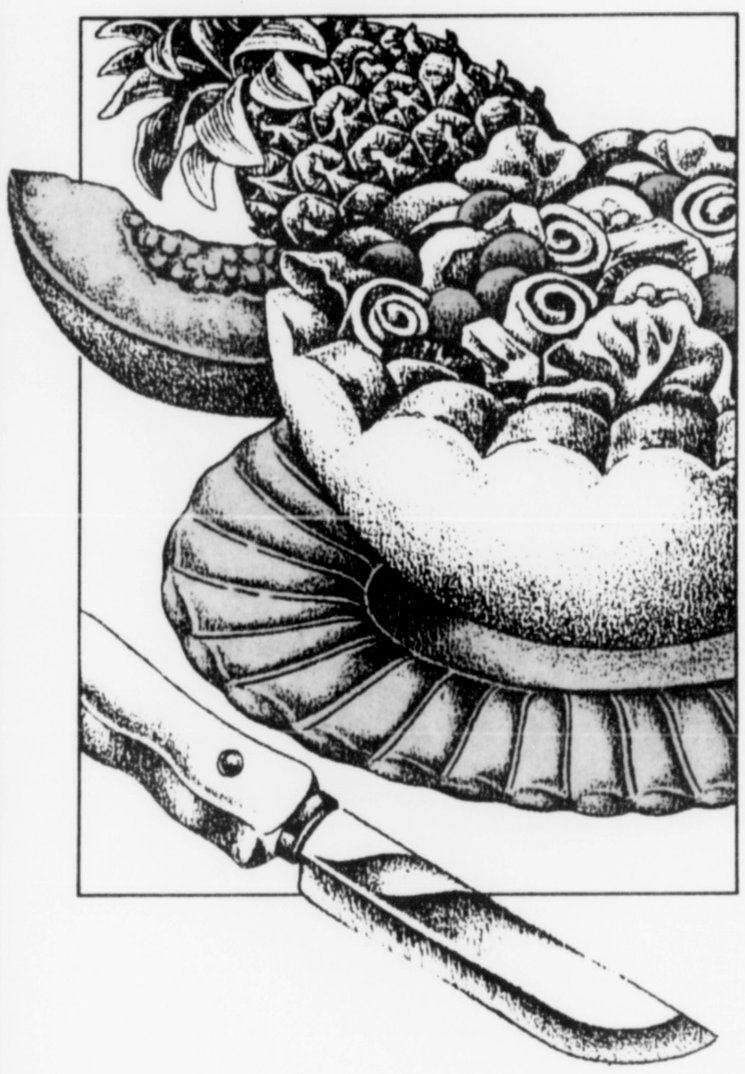
Good Food and how to prepare it!



Chilling Summer Treats

As summer stretches out before us, it's good to have some ice cold ideas for dealing with the heat. Forget the high-fat of ice cream bars and the empty calories of sugary popsicles and soft drinks. What you really need is chilled or frozen fruit.

Here are some treats that are doubly good for you - the sound nutrition of wholesome fruit at a temperature that will help take the sizzle out of summer heatwaves. Many fruits, including strawberries and cantaloupes, are good sources of vitamin C, and the yellow-orange fruits, including peaches, nectarines and apricots, are also high in beta-carotine, a form of vitamin A. Both are nutrients that research sponsored by the American Institute for Cancer Research has linked to lower cancer risk. Fresh fruit is also an important source of dietary fiber

Summer heat often means reduced appetites, but shouldn't mean poor nutrition. Keep your refrigerator and freezer will stocked with sweet, light chilled and frozen fruit treats and keep your cool during the sultry summer heat.

Watering the Plants

It is one of those things we simply know. Plants must have water to survive. So, we provide regularly for their need.

Religious education is based on the same principle. The spiritual needs of a child are just as urgent and just as continual as its need for nourishment, shelter, love. As the body grows, so must the soul.

Is your family taking full advantage of the religious training the churches and synagogues of our community offer? Are you cultivating through weekly worship that spiritual vitality in your home which will encourage your children's moral and spiritual growth . . .

If not, why not begin today?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHEN THE LORD GOES BEFORE YOU

July 9, 1989

Background Scripture: Judges 4 through 5.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 1.

One gets the very distinct impression that leaders were scarce among the Israelites during the period of the Judges. When I read this book it appears that the people wanted to be left alone so that they could pursue their own interests. There were only two circumstances under which they seemed to desire leadership: (1) when they needed someone to adjudicate disputes between them and their neighbors, and (2) when they were threatened by their enemies.

So Judges 5 opens with Deborah sitting under her palm tree acting as a magistrate in disputes between various citizens. Why a woman in an era when men almost totally dominated public affairs? Why this particular woman Deborah? From what we know of these times—and for thousands of years following—it seems safe to say that men normally would have allowed no woman to exercise authority in the public domain. If Deborah was acknowledged as Israel's only temporal ruler, it could have been because the people were certain that God had picked Deborah for her leadership role. He had endowed her with the rare gift of prophecy. As such, she seemed to be so much closer to God and his ways than anyone else in the kingdom. When she delivered her judicial judgements, it was as if God himself were speaking to the people of Israel. So, when she sends for Barak, she tells him: "The Lord, the God of Israel commands you" (4:6).

THE RELUCTANT LEADER

Barak has already been assured by Deborah that God will give their enemies into their hands. But rather than act on the assurance given him, Barak seeks reassurance. Told to gather his troops at Mount Tabor, Barak wants to be assured that God will go with him. Since Deborah is God's representative, he bargains with her: "If you will go with me, I will go; but if you will not go with me, I will not go."

You and I might think that Barak was quite justified in getting this extra assurance from Deborah, but it appears that Deborah regards his request as a breach of faith. This breach of faith is not serious enough to spoil God's plans, but it will have one negative consequence for Barak: "the road on which you are going will not lead to your glory, for the Lord will sell Sisera into the hands of a woman" (4:9). In other words, because he did not trust God's assurance, he would not receive the glory for this great victory over Sisera. This prophecy was fulfilled in 4:17-24 when Jael, the wife of Heber, kills Sisera while he is sleeping.

900 CHARIOTS

When Deborah agrees to go with Barak, they both go off to the battlefield at Kedesh. Victory seems impossible because Sisera, the opposing general, commands an army with 900 chariots. The Israelites, who had not yet learned to work with iron, had no chariots. But the choice of Kedesh was an inspired one, for here in the marshy land the chariots would get bogged down and lose much of their effectiveness.

So, in a moment of great need, God called two people to work together to accomplish something that seemed utterly beyond possibility. Deborah, a woman gifted by God, is able to utilize the talents of Barak, a man who is able, but reluctant. And, although their task seemed quite impossible, because they were willing to heed God's call and work together, his will was done through them.

When the Lord goes before us, we are called to follow.

Juvenile Services Agency Now A State Department

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that, effective July 1, the Maryland Juvenile Services Agency, formerly an agency of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, became the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services (DJS).

With this transition, Ms. Linda D'Amario Rossi is named Secretary for Juvenile Services and will serve as a member of the Governor's Cabinet. Ms. D'Amario Rossi had served as Director of Juvenile Services since May of 1987.

"This move and the emphasis that it places on services to troubled youth in our state has the well being of all of our citizens at heart," Governor Schaefer said. "Based on the successful reform efforts that have taken place in Juvenile Services during Secretary D'Amario Rossi's tenure, I am confident that this new department is the right step, and a major step, for children, youth, and our communities."

The Department of Juvenile Services is mandated by state law to provide children and youth charged with or adjudicated for delinquent behavior with direct services within their homes, in day treatment programs, and in various types of residential care facilities, both secure and non-secure, 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

In tandem with the Governor's overall policy for a drug free state, the new Department is also required to develop and provide within each of its facilities drug and alcohol abuse assessment or treatment services and to provide drug and alcohol prevention counseling or treatment through community based services.

In addition to administering education, vocational training, and youth development programs for its detained and committed populations, the Department currently provides crisis intervention services, including delinquency prevention, youth suicide prevention, and some drug and alcohol services as well as aid to some organizations which help runaway youth.

The elevation to departmental status enhances Juvenile Services' interchange with federal, state, and local counterparts and flags Maryland's youth and the programs which serve them as priority for the State. The new Department currently ranks tenth largest of the departments in the Governor's Cabinet in size of budget and sixth in size of staff complement. Juvenile Services serves approximately 39,000 youths annually.

Departmental status was approved by the Maryland State Legislature this past spring with passage of House Bill No. 559, an Administration bill introduced by the Speaker of the House. Establishment of the Department was supported by both the Senate and the House of Delegates. Governor Schaefer signed the bill into law on May 25, 1989.

"Elevation to departmental status sends a clear message that Maryland places a high priority on services which address the needs of this population," said Secretary D'Amario Rossi, referring to the youths her department serves.

She and her staff have steered Juvenile Services from the institutionalization of non-violent youth offenders and have focused on the placement and the provision of full services to non-violent juvenile offenders in community based or home settings.

Small, community based facilities and supervised home care, all part of Juvenile Services' program of reform, allow youths to form and maintain vital relationships with adults and peers as well as directly address the preparation of youths to lead successful lives once they leave Juvenile Services' care and supervision. These issues have been proven to be handled much less effectively within institutional settings.

The Maryland Department of Juvenile Services funds prevention programs such as the Youth Services Bureaus, and operates treatment and rehabilitation programs in both residential and non-residential settings throughout the State of Maryland.

VA Home Loan Rate Lowered

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced a reduction in its maximum home loan interest rate from 10.5 percent to 10 percent, effective June 5.

In announcing the change, VA Secretary Edward J. Derwinski said, "Our action reflects continued investor confidence in the economy as well as current financial market conditions in which investors are willing to accept lower yields on long-term investments."

The lower rate, the first change made by VA since it was elevated to a Cabinet-level department on March 15, 1989, means that payments on a typical VA home loan of $75,000 will be $335 less annually.

The last change in the VA interest rate occurred on December 19, 1988, when it went up from 10 percent to 10.5 percent.

Also effective June 5, the VA decreased by one-half percentage point the maximum rates for Graduated Payment Mortgages to 10.25 percent, home improvement loans to 11.5 percent, manufactured home loans to 12.5 percent, manufactured home lot-only loans to 12 percent, and manufactured home and lot loans to 12 percent.

VA home loans may be used to purchase, improve, or refinance a house or condominium, and to purchase or refinance a manufactured home.

His neatly kept home has a large yard which Mr. Schrock mows with a push mower. He does his own laundry and cooks his own meals.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY DINNER SPEAKER — Albert L. Feldstein was the main speaker at the Garrett County Historical Society's annual dinner, held June 22, at the Bittinger Fire Hall. Feldstein chose a selected number of slides, made from post cards, featuring scenes in Garrett County. Several were also selected from Allegany County which had a close relationship to Garrett County's history. Each slide was accompanied by a narrative as it was presented by the speaker. Pictured left to right above are: Rev. John Grant, Mrs. Jean Grant, DeCorsey Bolden, Feldstein, and Mrs. Feldstein.

Free Pressure Canner Gauge Testing Offered

Canning season is here and those who can want to be sure all preserved foods are safe to eat with a minimum of loss of nutrition. According to the Garrett Cooperative Extension Service, a correct reading of one's pressure canner gauge is of utmost importance.

To have gauges tested, persons are invited to bring their canner lids with the gauges to the Extension Service Office in Oakland. A call before (334-1990) will let one know if the gauge can be tested right away or if it has to be left at the office until the home economic agent is in.

Nursing Homes May Be Fined For Violations

Effective July 1, the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DHMH) has been given the authority to fine nursing home facilities that have ongoing patterns of serious violations.

In addition, Maryland physicians who run medical laboratories in their offices now need permits to operate them.

Also, people who administer cholesterol tests at health fairs, shopping malls, pharmacies, office building lobbies, and food establishments must obtain a permit.

These were among several bills introduced by DHMH, passed by the General Assembly, and signed by Governor William Donald Schaefer following the 1989 session.

DHMH Secretary Adele Wilzack said if the Office of Licensing and Certification Programs discovers a serious or life threatening problem at a nursing home facility, a penalty of not more than $5,000 per day or a total of $50,000 can be levied. "But the penalty will be withdrawn if the nursing home facility has shown us that the deficiencies have been corrected," she said.

Jack DeBoy, Chief of the Division of Laboratory Licensure, Certification and Training said that both laboratory testing bills were needed.

"We had all kinds of people doing cholesterol testing and the results sometimes were inaccurate," he said. "And because of the loophole in Maryland's laboratory law, physicians office laboratories were escaping regulation."

Now, both physician laboratories and people doing cholesterol testing need permits.

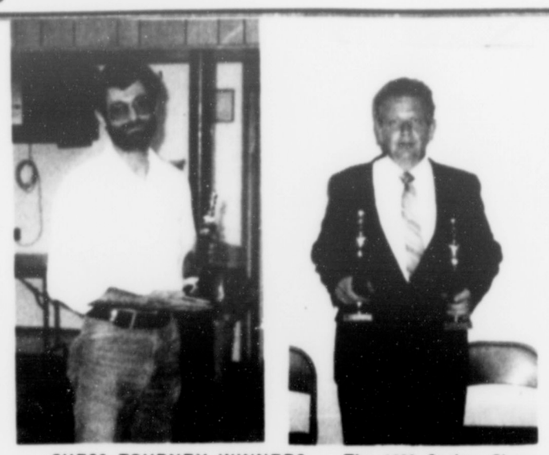
FSU Readies For World Congress Of Health, PE

While the Frostburg State University campus has barely had a chance to settle down and re-organize from the just-ended Whitewater activities on its Western Maryland campus, it is all set to go again for another global event — the International Council for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, July 16-21.

The event, with over 300 participants and 20 nations represented, will bring together a wide spectrum of health, physical education, recreation and dance disciplines exchanging information in formats ranging from lectures and demonstrations to an elaborate opening ceremony, July 17, at 5:30 p.m. in the Physical Education Center which is free and open to the public.

Olympic stars from the 1988 Seoul, Korea event, Lynette Love, a gold medalist in Tae Kwon Do, and Debra Holloway, a silver medalist in Tae Kwon Do, will bring some of their winning techniques to the FSU arena both during opening ceremonies and at a special clinic, July 18, at 9 p.m.

Opening ceremonies, under the direction of Dr. Betty Reid, Maryland physical education specialist, will feature many local school groups as well as other performing groups staging numerous, but brief, precise numbers that highlight many of the vast disciplines of today's physical education field. Productions such as the Beall High Belles Drill Team, the Ridgeley Primary/Middle School fourth graders performing with streamers and the Grantsville Elementary School doing special warm-up drills will be one segment of an entertaining opening. Also on tap during the week of the World Congress's 32nd Anniversary conference will be a keynote panel discussion on Youth in Sport, led by Dr. Daniel Gould of the University of South Carolina, a panel on AIDS with Allegany County Health Director Dr. Jane Fiscus, and a session on global aging. For more information and registration details, persons may contact Dr. Harold Cordts at FSU, 689-4461.



CHESS TOURNEY WINNERS — The 1989 Spring Chess Tournament, sponsored by the En Passant Chess Association, was held recently at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Oakland, and featured two divisions of competition. Jim Seeders, Oakland, pictured right, was the Division II winner, with a record of three and one-half and two and one-half, while En Passant Chess Association President Robert A. Swinson and his son, James G. Swinson, tied for second place with 3-3 records. The Association meets every Monday from 7 to 10:30 p.m. at St. Peter's Church. New members are welcome and more information may be obtained by calling 334-8310.

ICF PRESIDENT VISITS LOCAL FARMS — The president of the International Canoe Federation, Sergio Orsi, of Italy, was in Garrett County throughout the recent World Whitewater Championships, held on the Savage River, however his interests here were not confined to whitewater racing. It happens that Orsi is a professor of agronomy at the University of Florence and he expressed an interest in seeing some Garrett County farms, particularly those involved in organic farming. Mike Kozier, of the Garrett County office of the U.S. Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service was informed of Orsi's desire and proceeded to conduct him and Otto Bonn, of Hungary, vice president of the ICF, on a tour of several local farms. In the photo above left, Orsi, left, and Bonn, right, speak with Bill Knepp, who operates a beef farm in Red House. Above right, they visit with Ken Bachtel, who runs a dairy farm in the Gnegy Church area. They also visited the Jonas Yoder farm in Pleasant Valley where there is dairy and organic farming. Below, Kozier presents to each of the visitors a Garrett Soil Conservation District hat, a copy of the Garrett County soils survey, donated by the Soil Conservation Service, and a Garrett County pin donated by the county commissioners.

Western Maryland Ag Field Day Slated Sept. 7

Interested in learning how to get more value out of your agricultural production dollar while reducing your use of purchased off-farm inputs? How about exploring opportunities to diversify sources of farm income? If so, plan to attend the Western Maryland Ag Field Day on September 7.

"This year's Ag Field Day offers a variety of current information designed to help farmers and the larger rural community improve the efficiency of farm production and enhance the agricultural environment," said Dr. Dave Sammons, acting head of the Western Maryland Research and Education Center, near Hagerstown, where the Field Day will be held.

"Our theme – 'Protecting the Environment, Enhancing our Natural Resources' — addresses these related issues and is reflected in the topics chosen by several of our wagon tour speakers," Sammons said.

Wagon tour topics of this year's Ag Field Day include:

*Low-Input Cropping Systems
*Biological Control of Thistle
*On-Farm Nutrient Management in Western Maryland
*Pest Management Alternatives in Alfalfa Production
*On-Farm Forestry and Wildlife Management
*Update on Fruit Production Research and Opportunities in Western Maryland

The wagon tours run from 9 to 11:30 a.m., with the last tour leaving at 10:30 a.m. The field day also offers farm equipment demonstrations, corn and soybean variety showcases, and displays of agricultural equipment, farm services and the University of Maryland agricultural programs.

A new addition to the Field day, the Mid-Atlantic Fruit Variety Showcase/Tour, is from 2:30 to 6 p.m. The traditional $1 hog roast starts at noon; the luncheon speaker is Dr. Archibald Park, Assistant Secretary for Animal Health and Consumer Services, representing Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr.

All events are open to the public and Sammons urges all interested area residents to attend. Luncheon reservations are due by August 31 and can be made by calling (301) 791-2298.

To find the Western Maryland Research and Education Center, exit Interstate 70 at Md. 65 near Hagerstown. Proceed 7 miles south on Md. 65, then turn left on Keedysville Road. The Center entrance is .9 miles down Keedysville Road on the left.

The Western Maryland Ag Field Day is sponsored by the University of Maryland's Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension Service, and the Washington County Ag Demonstrators.

Nitrogen On Corn

I have had several calls on whether or not corn needs another application of nitrogen. In my opinion, it would be wise and cost effective to give corn an application. For the next few weeks corn will be making its greatest growth and will be needing a lot of nitrogen. There is no question that a lot of applied nitrogen was lost to leaching during the extremely wet period.

Between Cuttings of Alfalfa

Due to the late harvest of alfalfa, many of the annual grasses and broadleaf weeds have germinated. A herbicide application may be warranted. All of the herbicides registered for alfalfa should be applied within 5 days following harvest. Gramoxone is probably the most widely used material for between cutting applications. Poast is also labeled for between cutting applications, but will only control grass species. Neither material provides residual control. Sinbar and Velpar are also labeled as between cutting treatments. They do provide residual control. Be careful of rotational restrictions. Velpar has a 12 month restriction for corn, and Sinbar has a 24 month restriction. For stands less than a year old, Poast and Butyrac are labeled.

REAL ESTATE

DEEP CREEK REALTY

KEEP IN TOUCH!

You've just listed your home "For Sale." As your agent is leaving, you shake hands, then say to the agent "Keep in touch!"

Little do you know what that phrase "Keep in touch!" means to an active, dedicated real estate agent. Keeping in touch is what your agent does best — but not just with you. Finding the right buyer for your home involves continual contact with a myriad of people, letting them know about your home and encouraging them to refer buying prospects.

The activity of your agent in a single week can be a sight to behold. Interacting with a wide variety of individuals, your agent is able to stimulate broad exposure for your home, an element critical to locating buyers. Those contacts made will include bankers, surveyors, courthouse personnel, mortgage loan officers, local insurance people, tax collectors, other real estate agents, local merchants, and lawyers.

Since each of those groups have a wide circle of contacts themselves, your agent quickly gains the attention of many who can and will refer buyers for your home.

Placing advertisements in the newspaper and a sign in front of your home are important; however, the behind-the-scenes activity carried on by your agent supplements and reinforces the process of locating buyers.

Look for dedication, commitment, and total involvement in a real estate agent. Buyers will follow!

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303 or drop by our office in the McHenry Plaza.

State Police Prepared To Enforce New Laws Concerning Drunk Driving

Maryland State Police are preparing to enforce several new laws which became effective July 1, 1989, including one which places alcohol restrictions on the licenses of drivers under 21 years of age.

The 1989 session of the Maryland General Assembly enacted legislation which enhances the alcohol restriction law prohibiting an alcohol concentration in excess of 0.02% for underaged drivers.

"We feel that it will have a very positive impact on the enforcement picture," said First Sergeant William K. Archer. Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service radio broadcast, First Sergeant Archer detailed the new drunk driving legislation referred to as "administrative per se" bills.

Beginning January 1, 1990, police officers will be able to confiscate the license of a driver who either refuses to submit to a test or who submits and shows a test result of 0.10 or more.

"If a driver refuses to take the test, (the) driver's license is going to be confiscated on the spot," First Sergeant Archer warned. A person whose license is confiscated will be given a temporary license by the police officer which is valid for a period of 45 days. The violator will have 10 days from the date the license was confiscated to request an administrative hearing on the license suspension.

"We think it is a very significant step toward reducing the tragedy of the drunk driver on Maryland highways," stated First Sergeant Archer, who serves as the Maryland State Police legislative coordinator.

Maryland State Police are also warning the motoring public of a new law which prohibits the operation of a vehicle that has been modified in a manner that causes the height of the vehicle's bumper to exceed certain minimum heights. Another prohibits the operation of a motor vehicle equipped with a power booster system which combines liquid nitrous oxide with gasoline. The chemical kits raised concern among law enforcement and fire service personnel who feared potentially explosive dangers on the highway.

Several administration bills addressing Maryland's drug problems become law, including the drug kingpin act, the youth protection act and a bill enabling the forefeitures of property in certain drug related crimes.

"The Maryland law enforcement community is very happy that these bills were able to obtain passage," said Archer. "We believe they will help significantly to combat the drug problem in Maryland."

RECEIVES W.O.W. AWARD — Jennifer Panther, daughter of Tom and Darla Panther, Mtn. Lake Park, received the Woodmen of the World history award during the fifth grade graduation exercises at Dennett Road School on June 2. The Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society annually recognizes students in grades fifth, eighth and eleventh who exhibit proficiency in American history. Rosetta Rodeheaver, secretary of Lodge 11, presented the award.

Grantsville Area BPW Club Hears Pastor Yelovich

Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women's Club met at the Holiday Inn in Grantsville for their monthly business meeting on June 19. Guests present were: Mary Ellen Beitzel, Jan Thomas, Maryann Walsh, and Sherry Wiley.

Guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. Stephen Yelovich, Accident, who spoke on the new Garrett Community College Foundation. Pastor Yelovich expounded on the formation and purpose of the Foundation, expansion plans of the college, and merit scholarship programs. He also reported that a telethon would be held in September.

Plans were finalized for Grantsville Days. The club planned to participate with a float in the parade and a food booth.

An open house for Project 2012, the newly-renovated space at 2012 Massachusetts Ave., Washington, D.C., which will become the national headquarters for BPW, was discussed. Several members showed an interest in attending this open house on July 8. The Grantsville Area BPW Club purchased a silver brick which will be placed in the front driveway.

Bowie Crofton BPW Club will publish a cookbook with total profit benefiting the 2,012 project. All members were urged to participate in this undertaking. Recipes should be submitted by July 15.

A gift certificate of appreciation was presented to Sharon Lowery, Public Relations chairperson.

President Amy Harman extended an invitation, on behalf of the Garrett County BPW Club, to attend their July picnic to be held at the Will O' the Wisp on July 13. Reservations should be given to Betty Jo Swauger or Barbara Flinn of the Garrett County Club.

President Harman also informed the club that at the July 17 meeting several employees from the State Highway Administration will present instructions to the club on its participation in the "Adopt-A-Highway" project. The highway "adopted" by the club is U.S. Rt. 219 at Hilltop to the state line.

A brief report on the state convention, by the delegates attending, closed the meeting.

Those interested in becoming a member of the Grantsville Area BPW should contact Ruth DiPaolo, membership chairperson at 245-4198.

C&P To Reduce Rates By $16.5 Million Annually

Customers who are served by The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland will be receiving a bill imprint informing them of a reduction of $.52 per line per month in the charge for basic telephone service. The bill imprint will be included on their July telephone bills, and the reduction will be effective immediately.

C&P had filed a tariff with the Public Service Commission on June 12 requesting authorization for the statewide reduction. The tariff will also reduce the rate which C&P charges long distance carriers for access to its network by an amount equal to $.05 per line per month.

The reductions represent the second half of an agreement approved by the Maryland Public Service Commission in 1987 in connection with the Tax Reform Act of 1986. C&P had previously reduced rates by the same amounts in July of 1987.

More Than 2,300 "Saved By The Belt" In Md.

The Maryland Committee for Safety Belt Use has identified over 2,300 motorists in Maryland who have been "Saved by the Belt" since Maryland enacted a safety belt law in July, 1986.

A 25-year-old Maryland State Trooper and a 19-year-old Howard County woman are the latest recipients of the committee's "Saved by the Belt" certificate. Trooper Shirley Dixon and Kristine Gontrum survived a two car head-on collision earlier this year in the Linthicum section of Anne Arundel County.

"I would not be here if it hadn't been for my safety belt," Trooper Dixon told reporters at a meeting of the Metropolitan Baltimore Public Safety Media Relations Council. "There is no doubt in my mind that the safety belt saved my life," Trooper Dixon added, referring to the collision which totally destroyed her marked patrol car.

The crash occurred on May 14, 1989, after a car driven by Kristine Gontrum of Columbia crossed the center line and struck Trooper Dixon's patrol car head-on. Gontrum has swerved to avoid striking another vehicle on Hammonds Ferry Road at the time of the collision.

"All I remember is unbuckling my safety belt and climbing out the passenger side of the car," said Gontrum. "Moments later, the engine burst into flames. I am lucky to be alive."

The Metropolitan Baltimore Public Safety Media Relations Council held its June meeting at the Maryland State Police headquarters compound in Pikesville. The Maryland Committee for Safety Belt Use presented Trooper Dixon and Kristine Gontrum with "Saved by the Belt" certificates.

"The safety belt is credited with saving two more lives here in Maryland," said Barbara Beckett, executive director of the Maryland Committee for Safety Belt Use. In an address before the media relations panel, Beckett said the accident should serve as a reminder to always buckle up.

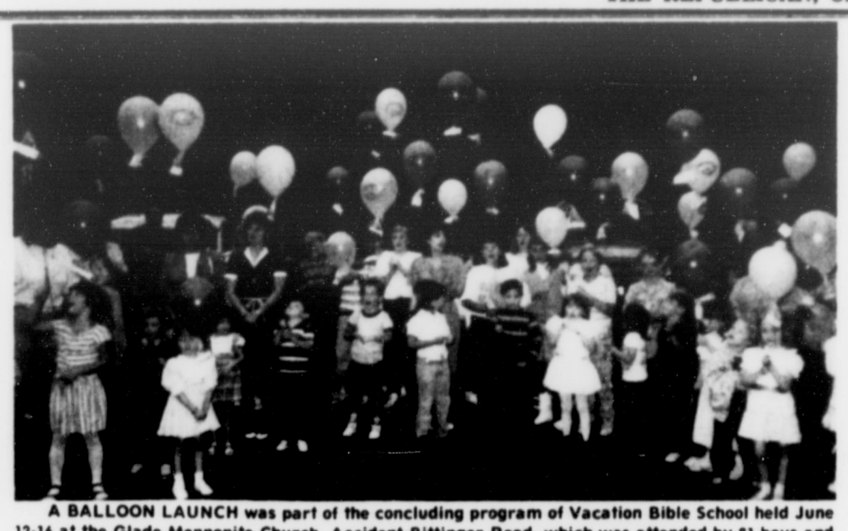
Health Dept. Staff, Retirees Honor Dr. Pope

A farewell dinner honoring Dr. William W. Pope, former Garrett County Health officer, was held Wednesday, June 28, at the Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. Over 40 health department employees and retirees attended.

Guest speaker for the evening was Wayne Hamilton, who served in the capacity of county commissioner when Dr. Pope came to the county 18 years ago. Hamilton remarked on the range of health department programs initiated and the increase in quality of services under Dr. Pope's leadership. Many community projects, such as the increase in medical services and particularly the increase in physicians to the area as well as the addition of speciality services, were instigated by Dr. Pope. He was also instrumental in the inception of Hospice and the rescue squads throughout the county.

In Dr. Pope's closing statement, he urged the staff to continue their "cooperation and dedication" to the citizens of Garrett County in providing "the same high quality health care as in the past."



A BALLOON LAUNCH was part of the concluding program of Vacation Bible School held June 12-16 at the Glade Mennonite Church, Accident-Bittinger Road, which was attended by 81 boys and girls. Each balloon carried a Christian message, along with the name and address of the owner of the balloon.

Processing For Preservation Funds To Be Quicker

A new Maryland law which went into effect July 1 allows the state to cut in half the time for processing loan and grant requests for historical preservation.

The new legislation will reduce application processing time for the Maryland Historical Trust loan and grant programs from its present 38 months down to 17 months. The Maryland Historical Trust is an agency of the Department of Housing and Community Development.

"In addition to benefiting historic preservation, this law will boost economic development and neighborhood improvement efforts," DHCD Secretary Jacqueline H. Rogers said.

The accelerated process is especially important because it significantly improves and accelerates the delivery of assistance to applicants. Some rapidly deteriorating sites could be saved which might otherwise become too expensive or beyond our ability to preserve.

'The Jetsons' found a niche on Saturdays for 14 years

By John Haakenson

From 1960 to 1966, The Flintstones made network history: Fred, Wilma and the gang invaded prime-time television and became the first animated characters to succeed with audiences in those hours.

Encouraged by the success of their Stone Age creation, Flintstones producers Joseph Barbera and William Hanna (Hanna-Barbera) tried again in 1962, introducing The Jetsons to Sunday nights on ABC.

This time, night-time viewers were not so receptive. A prime-time ratings failure, only 24 episodes of The Jetsons were produced for evening broadcast. But there was a happy ending for George, Jane, Judy and Elroy; moving to Saturday mornings in 1963, the show became a reborn children's favorite, appearing for more than 14 years on all three networks.

The Jetsons, of course, were a space-age family living in the 21st century. An employee of Spacely Space Sprockets, George Jetson was a computer "digital index operator" who lived with his red-headed wife, Jane, in the Skypad Apartments (which were raised and lowered hydraulically to take advantage of the best weather).

The apartment was equipped with the latest technology, including a kitchen with a Food-A-Rack-A-Cycle, a push-button automat that delivered anything in order.

Judy, the daughter, was a typical teeny-bopper: She was infatuated with the singing idol, Jet Screamer, and a devotee of the Solar Swivel, the latest dance craze.

Elroy, the mischievous son, was preoccupied with his amateur intergalactic radio set and was sent off to school each morning in a pneumatic tube.

Also appearing on The Jetsons were Rosie the robot, Astro the pet dog, Cosmo C. Spacely (George's boss) and Cosmo's wife, Stella.

The Jetsons' plots were typical of situation comedies of the day. As in series like The Donna Reed Show, the Jetsons were beset by the everyday concerns and frustrations common to family life.

The voices of the two main characters, George and Jane, were provided by veteran movie actors George O'Hanlon and Penny Singleton. O'Hanlon starred in Warner Bros. comedy shorts, and Singleton is probably best remembered for playing Blondie Bumstead in the Blondie movie series.

Although The Jetsons did not meet with the phenomenal prime-time success of its predecessor, The Flintstones, it nevertheless provided imaginative and entertaining animation—for kids and adults.

TV Q&A

Joe Penny became an actor at a friend's suggestion

Joe Penny

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I've become a real fan of Joe Penny since watching re-runs of his earlier series Rip Tide. What information can you share about the real Joe, such as age, place of birth, residence, marital status, etc. —D. Hunt, Montrose, Colo.

A: Penny was born on May 29, 1956, in England. His father was in the service and the family moved constantly during Joe's early years, finally settling in Los Angeles. When he was 18, at the suggestion of a friend, he began studying acting. His first real break came in 1977 when he made his TV debut in the premiere episode of The Nancy Drew Mysteries. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 180 pounds. He has blue eyes and dark brown hair. He is single and makes his home in Toluca Lake, Calif., when not on location filming his current series, Jake and the Fatman, in Hawaii.

Q: Would you please share some information regarding the actor who plays Bubba Skinner on In the Heat of the Night? I can't remember his off-stage name. —Elaina Samuels, Palmer, Alaska

A: Bubba Skinner is played by Alan Autry. He was born in Shreveport, La., on July 31. His family later moved to California where he attended Riverdale High School. After graduating from the University of Pacific, he was drafted by the Green Bay Packers and played professional football for three seasons. Director Robert Altman, a football fan, met Autry and encouraged him to try acting when his playing days ended. His first film was Remember My Name with Alfre Woodard. Other films include Amazing Grace and Chuck, O.C. & Stiggs, At Close Range, North Dallas Forty and Popeye. Divorced, he is the father of a daughter, Lauren Brown. Autry lives in Van Nuys, Calif. Write him c/o NBC Audience Services, 3000 W. Alameda Ave., Burbank, Calif. 91523.

Q: In the old Lone Ranger series everyone knows Clayton Moore played the Lone Ranger. For a time though he was replaced by two other Lone Rangers. One was John Hart. Is this the same John Hart who is now the newscaster? Also who was the other replacement and why was Moore ever replaced by these two anyway? —Ron Shuck, Zillah, Wash.

A: Moore portrayed the Lone Ranger from 1949-52. He then went on to appear in movie serials including Son of Geronimo, and a number of low-budget action films, including Jungle Drums of Africa (1953) and The Black Dakotas (1954). John Hart appeared in the series during Moore's absence. Moore resumed his role in 1954 and kept his mask in place until the series was canceled in 1957. John Hart, the newscaster, was never the Lone Ranger.

Journalist to explore timely topic of democracy

By Sheila Gillilan

Journalist Patrick Watson takes a unique journey to over 13 countries to learn the nature of democracy. The first of this 10-part series airs on Tuesday, July 11, when The Struggle for Democracy airs on PBS.

The first installment of this remarkable search, titled "Genesis," starts in Greece with the story of Athens, where democracy [illegible] forth, flourished briefly and then disappeared. While traveling through the marketplaces and monuments—both ancient and modern—of the city, Watson looks at the economic conditions that made democracy possible there. He traces how those conditions later reappeared, making democracy possible for Western Europe.

As his voyage continues through the other nine parts of the series, Watson also interviews international leaders, writers and scholars in order to understand the evolution of democracy, to explore its more troubling aspects and questions, and to determine whether or not this form of government has a future. But despite not answer the question of what is democracy? "There are a lot of different notions out there," Watson says, "but I think they're all talking about the same thing, finally—power. About who has the power in the end, not the state, not some strong man, but the people."

Jean Simmons plays eccentric Miss Havisham in the six-hour miniseries based on Charles Dickens' Great Expectations, Sunday through Tuesday on The Disney Channel.

A&E observes France's bicentennial

By Anne Wheeler

July marks not only America's Independence Day, but also France's celebration of the French Revolution Bicentennial. The Arts & Entertainment Network salutes the French Bicentennial by providing live coverage of the Bastille Day festivities from Paris in Paris Live! The French Revolution Bicentennial on Friday, July 14. London Weekend Television, Great Britain's Channel Four and A&E work together to beam the all-day celebrations from around France. Highlights include coverage of the morning parade through Paris and greetings from U.S. President George Bush and British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Premium cable turns the summer heat up with some hot films including Bull Durham and A Fish Called Wanda.

In Bull Durham, Kevin Costner stars as Crash Davis, a minor league catcher who, after 12 years on the field, has been relegated to the role of educating a rookie pitcher with a "million dollar arm and a five cent brain." He shares the assignment with Annie Savoy (Susan Sarandon), the Durham Bulls' most passionate fan. Tim Robbins stars as "Nuke," the rookie in the comedy which airs throughout the month Showtime and The Movie Channel.

On HBO and Cinemax, A Fish Called Wanda stars John Cleese, Jamie Lee Curtis, Kevin Kline and Michael Palin.

That Magical Moment

Paul Kozak, who performs his rock 'n' roll comedy magic act in The Prince's Trust Gala, Wednesday, July 12, on SuperStation TBS, said he was a little nervous talking with Princess Diana at an informal cocktail party after taping his portion of the special. "What do you say to a princess, I mean, you know, 'kiss any frogs lately?' I mean it's not like we're all from the same neighborhood," he mused.

A Bit of Witchcraft

When Robert A. Iger, President of ABC Entertainment, introduced Corinne Bohrer, who stars as a witch in that network's new fall comedy Free Spirit, he asked her if she could really do witchcraft. "What wish would you like me to grant?" she asked. "I would like you to make me Number One in network television," Iger said. Corinne waved her hand, and the stage was suddenly enveloped in smoke. "Poof," the actress said, "you're Brandon Tartikoff."

Josh and Reva finally find marital bliss

Actress hoping for happiness

By Mary Ann Townsend

She's been married to every man in the Lewis family, except her one true love—but that's about to change as Reva Shayne marries Josh Lewis in what is undoubtedly daytime's wedding of the year this week on Guiding Light.

Reva, played by energetic actress Kim Zimmer, has been through the ringer with two, nearly three unsuccessful marriages and a life filled with longing for Josh (Robert Newman), whom she has known since they were 9 years old.

But producers plan to pay off the loyal audience by letting Reva and Josh marry in peace during festivities to last throughout the week on the hour-long show July 14 through 17.

"It's going to be a terrific wedding, and very, very emotional and reminiscent," actress Zimmer said shortly after receiving the wedding script in mid-June. "It's going to go off without a hitch too, which will be nice to know, the fans will like to know that.

"They've had to wait, you know, six years to have this wedding and I think it's only fair that it happens without incident—I have a lot to say in that, too," she added.

The wedding will take place at Cross Creek, the couple's favorite romantic, rustic spot in the country near Tulsa, the town where they grew up. Only close family and friends from long ago will be there so that no chaos ensues.

Their lives have already been chaotic enough for the past six years. Zimmer joined the Guiding Light cast in 1983. Already her character had run off and married Josh's brother, Billy, despite her strong feelings for Josh. Then, after Zimmer arrived to play Reva, Josh's father, H.B. blackmailed the character to stay away from Josh. But, while H.B. thought Reva was too wild for Josh, she wasn't too wild for old H.B., so after a fight with Josh, H.B. took Reva to Hawaii for a quickie wedding.

To say the least, many more complications have kept the star-crossed lovers from marital bliss together, but finally their day is coming.

Zimmer has some definite ideas about where Reva should go from here.

"I don't want to see her sitting up in her beautiful mansion on the hill being Josh's wife. I hope that now that they've married us off we can get back to some serious business of partying. I don't want to cry for a while. I'm cried out. I'd like to have some fun—have a good solid month go by without any tragedies," she said.

And look for Reva to take up singing. Zimmer, who has her own Manhattan night club act in addition to her work on Guiding Light, is hoping to be doing some singing on the show, as well.

Christopher Daniel Barnes: Ross on NBC's 'Day By Day'

By Shelia Gillilan
BIRTHPLACE: Portland, Maine
BIRTHDATE: Nov. 7, 1972
HEIGHT: 5'10"
WEIGHT: 125 pounds
HAIR: Brown
EYES: Brown
RESIDENCE: New York City

Christopher Daniel Barnes has had to make what might be known as a career stretch between his last television series and his present one. He went from playing the half-human son of an alien in the series Starman to playing the earthly son of a couple who run a day care center on NBC's Day By Day.

Barnes portrays Ross Harper on the show. Ross is a teenager who is going through the usual growing pains of being young, but he has also had to make the supreme sacrifice of giving up his living room, "the hub of his social development," to a horde of noisy preschoolers who attend his parents' in-home day care center.

Barnes himself has had other kinds of growing pains to contend with in his teenage years, those that are involved in the acting world. Barnes began his career when he was 8 years old and living with his family in New York. He had no trouble initially breaking into the business because his first audition led to his first job, which was an appearance on the cover of Working Woman magazine.

From there he began to appear in commercials. He soon landed a regular spot on the soap opera As the World Turns, where he played the bad boy Paul Steinbeck. He stayed in that role for two years.

In addition to his appearances on television series, Barnes has also been featured in movies both on the small and large screens. He appeared in the television film Picking Up the Pieces, which starred Margot Kidder and Dan Aykroyd, and in the motion picture American Dreamer, with JoBeth Williams and Tom Conti.

In his spare time, Barnes enjoys reading history and music—he plays the guitar and the saxophone.
